50 But when Jē'sus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: [11]believe [y]only, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Pē'tēr, and Jāmes, and Jŏhn, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead, [z]but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, [aa]arise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

56 And her parents were astonished: but [bb]he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER 9.

1 Christ sendeth his apostles to preach: 17 feedeth five thousand: 22 foretelleth his passion. 28 The transfiguration. 37 He healeth the lunatic: 46 commendeth humility.

1 [1]Then [a]he called his twelve disciples together, [b]and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And [c]he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 And [d]he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.

4 And [e]whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And [f]whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

7 ¶ [2]Now Hĕr'od the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that Jŏhn was risen from the dead;

8 And of some, that E-lī'as had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Hĕr'od said, Jŏhn have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ [3]And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bĕth-sā'ĭ-dà.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, [g]Give ye them to eat. And they said, [h]We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they [i]did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ [4]And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering said, Jŏhn the Băp'tĭst; but some say, E-lī'as; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? [j]Pē'tēr answering said, The Chrīst of God.

21 And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing;

22 [5]Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ And [k]he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 For [l]what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 For [m]whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own

11. It is to be observed that Jesus changed the order of procedure in the miracles. First he allowed them to precede faith, that faith might be created; but now faith must precede the miracle, for he has been in the world and the world knows of him.

Ch. 9. A. D. 31, 32.

1. In vs. 1-6 the 12 apostles are sent forth on their mission; parallel to Mat. 10:1-15 and Mark 6:7-11.

2. In vs. 7-9 Herod hears of the works of Christ and is troubled thereat and desires to see him.

3. In vs. 10-17 the apostles return, Jesus goes with them to Bethsaida and feeds the 5,000; parallel to Mat. 14:13-21 and Mark 6:32-44 and John 6:1-14.

4. In vs. 18-27 is Peter's confession of Christ, our Lord's first definite announcement of his death and warnings arising out of it; parallel to Mat. 16:13-28.

5. In vs. 22-27 Christ foretells his death and exhorts to self-denial; parallel to Mat. 16:21-28, Mark 8: 31-38.

y. And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper. (II Chr. 20:20.) Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. (Mk. 9:23.)

z. These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep (11). Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. (Jno. 11:11, 13.)

aa. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. (Luke 7:14.)

bb. And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat. (Mk. 5:43.)

a. And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease. (Mat. 10:1.)

b. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. (Jno. 14:12.) Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. (Acts 3:6.)

c. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. (Mat. 10:7, 8.)

d. Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. (Ps. 37:3.)

e. And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. (Mat. 10:11.)

f. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. (Mat. 10:14.)

g. And there came a man from Baal-shalisha, and brought the man of God bread of the first-fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full ears of corn in the husk thereof. And he said, Give unto the people, that they may eat. And his servitor said, What! should I set this before an hundred men? He said again, Give the people, that they may eat: for thus saith the Lord, They shall eat, and shall leave thereof. (II Ks. 4:42, 43.)

h. Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them? (Num. 11:22.)

i. The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing. (Ps. 145:15, 16.)

j. And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. (Mat. 16:16.) And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God. (Jno. 6:69.) The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. (Jno. 4:15.) Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? (I Jno. 5:5.)

k. And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. (Mat. 10:38.) And when he had called the people unto him, with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. (Mk. 8:34.)

l. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? (Mat. 16:26.)

m. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 10:33.)

glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.

27 But [n]I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ And [o]it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Pē'tēr and Jŏhn and Jāmeş, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, [p]the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Mō'şeş and E-lī'as:

31 Who appeared in [q]glory, and spake of his [r]decease which he should accomplish at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

32 But Pē'tēr and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Pē'tēr said unto Jē'şus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mō'şeş, and one for E-lī'as: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, [r]This is my beloved Son: [s]hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jē'şus was found alone. And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ [s]And [t]it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child.

39 And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not.

41 And Jē'şus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jē'şus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ [s]And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jē'şus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 [u]Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ¶ [10]Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jē'şus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him, 48 And said unto them, [v]Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: [w]for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ And [x]Jŏhn answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbad him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Jē'şus said unto him, Forbid him not: [y]for he that is not against us is for us.

51 ¶ [11]And it came to pass, when the time was come that [z]he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, 52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Sa-măr'ī-tanş, to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

54 And when his disciples Jāmeş and Jŏhn saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as [aa]E-lī'as did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

56 For the [bb]Son of man is not [12]come to destroy men's lives, but to [12]save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jē'şus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 And [cc]he said unto another, Follow me. But [13]he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jē'şus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, [dd]I will follow thee; but let me [13]first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house.

6. In vs. 28-36 is an account of the transfiguration and the discourse connected with it; parallel to Mat. 17:1-13 and Mark 9:2-13.

7. The topic of their discussion viewed as a great work to be accomplished.

8. In vs. 37-45 Christ heals the demoniac boy and makes a second announcement of his death and resurrection; parallel to Mat. 17:14-21 and Mark 9:14-29.

9. At the majesty of God displayed in the transfiguration and the wonderful grandeur of Christ constantly rising before them.

10. In vs. 46-48 is an account of the strife among the 12 as to who should be the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

11. That is, his days were rapidly approaching their fulfillment.

12. His miracles were not of wrath but mercy.

13. While both seem to have an objection, the spirit of the two was radically different; therefore Christ accepts the one and rejects the other.

n. Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom. (Mat. 16:28.)

o. Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom. (Mat. 16:28.)

p. And it came to pass, when Moses came down from mount Sinai with the two tables of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with him (29). And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses' face shone: and Moses put the veil upon his face again, until he went in to speak with him. (Ex. 34:29, 35.)

q. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. (Phil. 3:21.) When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. (Col. 3:4.)

r. And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 3:17.) For he received from God the Father honor and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (II Pet. 1:17.)

s. The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken. (Dt. 18:15.) For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you. (Acts 3:22.)

t. And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying. (Mat. 17:14.)

u. And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men. (Mat. 17:22.)

v. He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. (Mat. 10:40.) And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me. (Mat. 18:5.) Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me. (Mk. 9:37.)

w. But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted. (Mat. 23:11, 12.)

x. And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of Moses, one of his young men, answered and said, My lord Moses, forbid them. (Num. 11:28.) And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and we forbade him, because he followeth not us. (Mk. 9:38.)

y. He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. (Mat. 12:30.) Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. (I Cor. 12:3.)

z. So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God. (Mk. 16:19.) Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen. (Acts 1:2.)

aa. And Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty. (II Ks. 1:10.)

bb. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (Jno. 3:17.) And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. (Jno. 12:47.)

cc. And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. (Mat. 8:21.)

dd. And he left the oxen, and ran after Elijah, and said, Let me, I 62 And Jē'şus said unto him, [ee]No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Christ sendeth out at once seventy disciples: 17 admonisheth them to be humble: 25 teacheth the lawyer how to attain eternal life: 41 reprehendeth Martha, and commendeth Mary her sister.

1 [1]After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and [a]sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, [b]The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: [c]pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 Carry [d]neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

5 And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 And in [e]the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 Even [f]the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, that [g]it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sŏd'om, than for that city.

13 Woe unto thee, Cho-rā'zin! woe unto thee. Bĕth-sā'ĭ-dà! [h]for if the mighty works had been done in Tȳre and Sī'dŏn, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago [i]repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tȳre and Sī'dŏn at the judgment, than for you.

15 And thou, Ca-pĕr'na-ŭm, which art exalted [j]to heaven, [k]shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; [l]and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ [2]And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, [m]I [3]beheld Sā'tan [n]as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, [n]I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your [o]names are [4]written in heaven.

21 ¶ In that hour Jē'şus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 All things [p]are delivered to me of my Father: and no [q]man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, [r]Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see:

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ [5]And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and [6]tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he [7]answering said, [s]Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and

Ch. 10. A. D. 32.

1. In vs. 1-16 is an account of the commission of the 70, which is recorded only by Luke.

2. In vs. 17-24 is an account of the return of the 70.

3. The historic past is here presented to Christ as a symbol of Satan's overthrow in the great contest yet to come.

4. The Lamb's Book of Life.

5. In vs. 25-37 Christ instructs the lawyer regarding his duties in life by the parable of the good Samaritan.

6. Not maliciously but on purpose to test his knowledge of the law and depth of intellect.

7. How or in what spirit readest thou? In search after truth or proof of a doctrine?

pray thee, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he said unto him, Go back again: for what have I done to thee? (I Ks. 19:20.)

ee. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:14.) Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. (Heb. 10:38.)

Chapter 10.

a. And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits. (Mk. 6:7.)

b. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest. (Mat. 9:37, 38.)

c. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you. (II Thess. 3:1.)

d. Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses, Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves; for the workman is worthy of his meat. (Mat. 10:9, 10.)

e. And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. (Mat. 10:11.)

f. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. (Mat. 10:14.) But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. (Acts 13:51.)

g. Verily I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. (Mat. 10:15.) For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. (Heb. 10:26, 27.)

h. Not to many people of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee. (Ez. 3:6.)

i. So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. (Jon. 3:5.)

j. And they said, Go to, let us build us a city, and a tower whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth. (Gen. 11:4.) For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north. (Is. 14:13.)

k. When I shall bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I shall set glory in the land of the living. (Ez. 26:20.)

l. That all men should honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father which hath sent him. (Jno. 5:23.)

m. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (Jno. 12:31.) Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. (Jno. 16:11.) He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. (I Jno. 3:8.) And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. (Rev. 12:9.)

n. They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. (Mk. 16:18.) And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm. (Acts 28:5.)

o. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin—; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written. (Ex. 32:32.) Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous. (Ps. 69:28.) And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem. (Is. 4:3.) And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (Dan. 12:1.)

p. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.) The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. (Jno. 3:35.) As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. (Jno. 17:2.) Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth. (Phil. 2:9, 10.)

q. No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.) No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. (Jno. 6:44.)

r. But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. (Mat. 13:16.)

s. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. (Dt. 6:5.)

with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

29 But he, willing to [r]justify himself, said unto Jē'şus, And who is my [s]neighbour?

30 And Jē'şus answering said, A [9]certain man went down from Je-ru'sa-lĕm to Jĕr'ĭchō, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a [10]Lē'vīte, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain [11]Sa-măr'ĭ-tan, [u]as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out [12]two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, [13]was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jē'şus unto him, [14]Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain [15]village: and a certain woman named Mär'thà received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mā'rў, which also sat at Jē'şus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Mär'thà was [16]cumbered [v]about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jē'şus answered and said unto her, Mär'thà, Mär'thà, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But one thing is needful: and Mā'rў hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Christ teacheth to pray. 14 He, casting out a dumb devil, rebuketh the blasphemous Pharisees: 28 and sheweth who are blessed: 29 and preacheth to the people.

1 [1]And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as Jŏhn also taught his disciples.

2 [2]And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, [a]Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. [b]Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we [c]also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And [d]lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 [3]And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 [4]For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he [5]from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, [e]Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his [6]importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 [7]And [f]I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

11 If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will ye give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Hō'lў Spĭr'ĭt to them that ask him?

14 ¶ [8]And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Be-ĕl'ze-bŭb the chief of the devils.

16 And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 But [g]he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.

18 If Sā'tan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Be-ĕl'ze-bŭb.

19 And if I by Be-ĕl'ze-bŭb cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:

22 But [h]when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

24 [9]When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

r. Or, justified himself.

s. Or, neighbour unto him?

9. A Jew.

10. A teacher.

11. One the Jews had excommunicated; a by-word among them.

12. Wages for about two days' labor.

13. Compelling the lawyer to answer himself.

14. "Go," thus the lawyer is immediately placed upon the divine platform of love.

15. Bethany.

16. Burdened, disturbed, distracted.

Ch. 11. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-13 the disciples are taught how to pray.

2. In vs. 2-5 Christ teaches the forms of prayer.

3. In vs. 5-8 is the parable of the importunate borrower.

4. In vs. 6-13 Christ teaches the true spirit of prayer.

5. Representing God as being shut up, or behind a veil, from him who has in the past neglected to pray.

6. Shamelessness. Earnest persistency.

7. Vs. 9-13 is a passage taken from the Sermon on the Mount.

8. In vs. 14-23 is an account of Christ's healing the demoniac and the people's asking for a sign from heaven; parallel to Mat. 12:24-30 and Mark 3:22-30.

9. In vs. 24-26 is the parable of the unclean spirit; parallel to Mat. 12:43-45.

t. And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God. (Lu. 16:15.)

u. Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. (Jno. 4:9.)

v. But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord. (I Cor. 7:32.)

Chapter 11.

a. Doubtless thou art our Father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer: thy name is from everlasting. (Is. 63:16.)

b. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. (Is. 11:9.)

c. And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. (Eph. 4:32.)

d. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man. (Js. 1:13.)

e. And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Lu. 18:1.)

f. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us. (I Jno. 5:14.)

g. And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. (Mat. 12:25.) And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. (Mk. 3:24.) And needeth not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man. (Jno. 2:25.)

h. Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Is. 53:12.) And, having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it. (Col. 2:15.)

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.
26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and [i]the last state of that man is worse than the first.
27 ¶ And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.
28 But he said, Yea [10]rather, [j]blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.
29 ¶ [11]And [k]when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jō'nas the prophet.
30 For as Jō'nas was a sign unto the Nĭn'e-vītes, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.
31 The [l]queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sŏl'o-mon; and, behold, a [m]greater than Sŏl'o-mon is here.
32 The men of Nĭn'e-ve shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for [n]they repented at the preaching of Jō'nas; and, behold, a greater than Jō'nas is here.
33 No [o]man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.
34 The [p]light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.
35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.
36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.
37 ¶ [12]And as he spake, a certain Phăr'ĭ-see besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.
38 And when the Phăr'ĭ-see saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.
39 And [q]the Lord said [13]unto him, Now do ye Phăr'ĭ-seeş make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

10. While Christ accepts the blessing which the woman would confer upon his mother, yet he tells her there is an equal blessing for her.

11. In vs. 29-32 Christ repeats the illustrations in the Sermon on the Mount. See Mat. 5:15, 16.

12. In vs. 37-54, while dining with a Pharisee, Jesus utters woes on scribes, Pharisees and lawyers. One of the scribes, who has been waging a war on Christ for his disregard of the ceremonial washing, invites the Saviour to a dinner, also inviting other guests like-minded unto himself. Jesus accepts the challenge and omits the contested ablution.

13. The Pharisees are all amazed, whereupon Christ immediately unfolds to them their thoughts and rebukes their unbeliefs.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?
41 [r]But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.
42 But [s]woe unto you, Phăr'ĭ-seeş! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.
43 Woe unto you, Phăr'ĭ-seeş! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.
44 [t]Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'ĭ-seeş, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.
45 ¶ Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also.
46 And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! [u]for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.
47 Woe [v]unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.
48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.
49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, [w]I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:
50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;
51 From the blood of Ā'bĕl unto the blood of Zăch-a-rī'as, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.
52 [x]Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.
53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Phăr'ĭ-seeş began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things:
54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisy: 13 warneth the people to beware of covetousness. 22 We must not be over careful of earthly things. 36 We must

i. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. (Jno. 5:14.) For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost (4). If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. (Heb. 6:4, 6.) For if, after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning. (II Pet. 2:20.)

j. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 7:21.) But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blest in his deed. (Js. 1:25.)

k. Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee. But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. (Mat. 12:38, 39.)

l. And when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, concerning the name of the Lord, she came to prove him with hard questions. (I Ks. 10:1.)

m. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen. (Rom. 9:5.)

n. So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. (Jon. 3:5.)

o. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. (Mat. 5:15.)

p. The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. (Mat. 6:22.)

q. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. (Mat. 23:25.)

r. Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? (Is. 58:7.) Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. (Dan. 4:27.)

s. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. (Mat. 23:23.)

t. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. (Mat. 23:27.)

u. For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. (Mat. 23:4.)

v. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous. (Mat. 23:29.)

w. Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city. (Mat. 23:34.)

x. But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. (Mat. 23:13.)

be ready at a knock to open to our Lord.
41 Christ's ministers are to look for persecution.
1 [1]In the [a]mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, [b]Beware ye of the leaven of the Phăr'i-sees, which is hypocrisy.
2 For [c]there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.
3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in [2]darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in [2]closets shall be proclaimed upon the house tops.
4 [3]And [d]I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.
5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed [e]hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.
6 Are not five sparrows sold for two [f]farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?
7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.
8 Also I [g]say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:
9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.
10 And [h]whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Hō'lĭ Ghōst it shall not be forgiven.
11 And [i]when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:
12 For the [j]Hō'lĭ Ghōst shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.
13 ¶ [4]And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.
14 And he said unto him, [k]Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?
15 And he said unto [5]them, [l]Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

Ch. 12. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 12 is a sermon delivered by Christ to the multitude, warning them against hypocrisy of the scribes and Pharisees. As all will be revealed in the judgment day, he urges them to embrace the religion he brings them.

2. In secret, in private, stealthily.

3. In vs. 4-12 Christ tells the multitude not to fear the scribes and Pharisees who may persecute the body, but God who is able to judge and destroy souls.

4. In vs. 12-21 one of the covetous members of the company makes a request of the Master and gets his answer in the parable of the rich fool.

5. The multitude around him.

6. In what manner is not recorded, but so clearly expressed that even the fool understood it.

7. One whose aim never rises above his riches; one who sees nothing in his possessions but self-gratification.

8. That is, he does not possess the things which God values, viz., a pure and contrite heart, love to God and man which he might possess if he would, together with temporal riches as did Moses, David and Job, who were rich in this world's goods and also rich toward God.

9. Vs. 22-34 are addressed to his disciples.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:
17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.
19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, [m]thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.
20 But [n]God said unto him, Thou fool, this night [n]thy soul shall be required of thee: [o]then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?
21 So is he that layeth up [7]treasure for himself, [p]and is not rich [8]toward God.
22 ¶ [9]And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.
23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.
24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?
25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?
26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?
27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Sŏl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?
29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind.
30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.
31 ¶ But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and [q]all these things shall be added unto you.
32 Fear not, little flock; for [r]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.
33 Sell [s]that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure

a. Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. (Mat. 16:6.) And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread. (Mk. 8:16.)

b. Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. (Mat. 16:12.)

c. Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed, and hid, that shall not be known. (Mat. 10:26.) For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad. (Mk. 4:22.)

d. Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid. Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. (Is. 8:12, 13.) Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.)

e. I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. (Rev. 1:18.)

f. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. (Mat. 10:29.)

g. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 10:32.) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.)

h. If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it. (I Jno. 5:16.)

i. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.) Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer: For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist. (Lu. 21:14, 15.)

j. Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say. (Ex. 4:12.) Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. (I Pet. 5:7.)

k. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. (Jno. 18:36.)

l. The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days. (Prov. 28:16.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.)

m. Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. (Prov. 27:1.) If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for tomorrow we die. (I Cor. 15:32.) Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter. (Js. 5:5.)

n. They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave. (Job 21:13.) For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul? (Job 27:8.)

o. Surely every man walketh in a vain show: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them. (Ps. 39:6.) As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool. (Jer. 17:11.)

p. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal. (Mat. 6:20.) Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life. (I Tim. 6:19.) Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him? (Js. 2:5.)

q. What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.) For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. (I Tim. 4:8.)

r. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. (Mat. 11:25, 26.)

s. Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell what thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven;

in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [10]Let [t]your loins be girded about, and your lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed [u]are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 Be ye [v]therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶ Then Pē'tēr said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, [w]Who [11]then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And [x]that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But [y]he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ¶ [12]I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be [13]already kindled?

50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!

10. In vs. 35-48 Jesus again turns his attention to the multitude, and warns them of the second coming, and counsels them to be ready for the hour they know not.

11. Whosoever he is, blessed is he.

12. That is, the purpose of his first coming was to destroy sin and redeem them from its curse.

13. That is, his enemies had already kindled the fire of wrath against him.

Ch. 13. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-9 the multitudes are taught that they must repent or perish.

2. A fountain southeast of Jerusalem. History makes no mention of the fall of the tower; all that is known is here recorded.

3. In v. 69 is the parable of the fig tree.

4. Jehovah.

5. The Jew.

51 Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; [z]but rather division:

52 For [aa]from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 [bb]Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; but how is it that ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?

58 ¶ When [cc]thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as [dd]thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last [ee]mite.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galilæans. 6 The fruitless fig tree. 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 24 and exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate, 31 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

1 [1]There were present at that season some that told him [a]of the Găl-ĭ-læ'anş whose blood Pī'late had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jē'şus answering said unto them, Suppose [b]ye that these Găl-ĭ-læ'anş were sinners above all the Găl-ĭ-læ'anş, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in [2]Sĭ-lō'am fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Je-rū'sa-lĕm?

5 I tell you, Nay: but, except [c]ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ [3]He spake also this parable; [d]A [4]certain man had a fig [5]tree planted in his vineyard; and come and follow me. (Mat. 19:21.) And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need. (Acts 2:45.)

t. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. (Eph. 6:14.) Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:13.)

u. Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not. (Mat. 24:26.)

v. Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh. (Mat. 25:13.) Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. (Mk. 13:33.)

w. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. (Mat. 25:21.)

x. But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people. (Num. 15:30.) If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. (Jno. 15:22.)

y. And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the Lord; though he wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity. (Lev. 5:17.) Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecuter, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. (I Tim. 1:13.)

z. For the son dishonoreth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house. (Mic. 7:6.) So there was a division among the people because of him. (Jno. 7:43.) There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings. (Jno. 10:19.)

aa. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. (Mat. 10:35.)

bb. For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. (I Cor. 1:19.)

cc. Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbor hath put thee to shame. (Prov. 25:8.) Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. (Mat. 5:25.)

dd. For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him. (Ps. 32:6.) Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. (Is. 55:6.)

ee. And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing. (Mk. 12:42.) Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power. (II Thess. 1:9.)

a. After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed. (Acts 5:37.)

b. And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live. (Acts 28:4.)

c. Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God. Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. (Ez. 18:30.)

d. And he fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also made a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes. (Is. 5:2.) And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away. (Mat. 21:19.)

and he [c]came and sought [f]fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these [e]three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let [f]it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if [g]it bear fruit, well: and if [g]not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 [g]And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 ¶ And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Jē'sus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jē'sus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and [g]not on the sabbath day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, [h]being a daughter of Ā'brā-hăm, whom Sā'tan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ [10]Then [i]said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Je-rụ'sa-lĕm.

6. The owner, Jehovah.

7. The result of true moral actions.

8. Typifying those surrounded with every possible restraint, encouragement and support. Salvation depends upon that—"if" a person wills. All is voluntary; in short, man is a free moral agent.

9. In vs. 10-21 the woman infirm for 18 years is healed on the Sabbath.

10. Vs. 18-30 contain many miscellaneous teachings addressed to the multitude.

11. The Gentiles, the last to be called, have become first and the Jews, the first to be called, have become last, because of their refusal to accept the invitation.

12. The day that Christ answered the question recorded in v. 23.

Ch. 14. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-24 Jesus heals the man sick of dropsy and uses the occasion to rebuke the Pharisees for their strict hypocritical construction of the Sabbath laws.

23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 ¶ Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for [j]many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 [k]When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We [l]have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 [m]But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28 There [n]shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, [o]when ye shall see A'brā-hăm, and I'sąac, and Jā'cob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

29 And [p]they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

30 And, [q]behold, there are last which [11]shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 ¶ The same [12]day there came certain of the Phăr'ī-sees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Hĕr'od will kill thee.

32 And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I [r]shall be perfected.

33 Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Je-rụ'sa-lĕm.

34 O Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!

35 Behold, [s]your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall [t]not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, [u]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 14.

2 Christ healeth the dropsy on the sabbath: 7 teacheth humility. 15 The parable of the great supper.

1 [1]And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Phăr'ī-sees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.

e. Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (Rom. 2:4.) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. (II Pet. 3:9.)

f. Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God? (Joel 2:17.)

g. And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. (Mat. 12:10.)

h. And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of Abraham. (Lu. 19:9.)

i. Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field. (Mat. 13:31.)

j. But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness. (Rom. 9:31.) For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. (Rom. 10:3.)

k. For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him. (Ps. 32:6.) Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. (Is. 55:6.)

l. They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. (Tit. 1:16.)

m. And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. (Mat. 7:23.)

n. But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (Mat. 8:12.)

o. And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 8:11.)

p. And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth; and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 28:14.)

q. But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first. (Mat. 19:30.) So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen. (Mat. 20:16.) But many that are first shall be last; and the last first. (Mk. 10:31.)

r. For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. (Heb. 2:10.) Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered. (Heb. 5:8.)

s. And I will make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savor of your sweet odors. And I will bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it. (Lev. 26:31, 32.)

t. Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof: I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh. (Prov. 1:24-26.) Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come (21). I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. (Jno. 8:21, 24.)

u. Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee. (Ps. 118:28.) And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest! (Mat. 21:9.)

2 And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.
3 And Jē'şus answering spake unto the lawyers and Phăr'ī-seeş, saying, [a]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?
4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go;
5 And answered them, saying, [b]Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?
6 And they could not answer him again to these things.
7 ¶ [2]And he put forth a [3]parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,
8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him;
9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.
10 But [c]when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.
11 For [d]whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
12 ¶ Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.
13 But when thou makest a feast, call [e]the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:
14 And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed [f]at the resurrection of the just.
15 ¶ [4]And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, [g]Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.
16 Then [h]said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many:
17 And [i]sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.

2. In vs. 7-11 is the parable teaching humility.

3. A spiritual truth represented by natural symbols.

4. In vs. 15-24 is the account of the parable of the marriage feast.

5. That is, there was hardly a single one of the hierarchy who accepted the gospel invitation.

6. Christ.

7. The publicans and sinners will go into heaven accepted before the proud, self-righteous Pharisees.

8. Jesus now states the difficulties of professing Christ.

18 And they all with one [5]consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, [j]I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.
19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.
20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.
21 So that servant came, and shewed [6]his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go [k]out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the [7]poor, and the [7]maimed, and the [7]halt, and the [7]blind.
22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.
23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and [l]compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.
24 For I say unto you, [m]That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.
25 ¶ [8]And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 If [n]any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.
27 And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.
28 For [o]which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?
29 Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.
31 Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?
32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth [p]an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.
33 So likewise, whosoever [q]he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.
34 ¶ Salt [r]is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

a. And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. (Mat. 12:10.)

b. If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him. (Ex. 23:5.) Thou shalt not see thy brother's ass or his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again. (Dt. 22:4.) The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? (Lu. 13:15.)

c. The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom; and before honor is humility. (Prov. 15:33.) For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither, than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen. (Prov. 25:7.)

d. For thou wilt save the afflicted people; but wilt bring down high looks. (Ps. 18:27.) A man's pride shall bring him low: but honor shall uphold the humble in spirit. (Prov. 29:23.) Whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted. (Mat. 23:12.) But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Js. 4:6.)

e. Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the Lord is your strength (10). And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them. (Neh. 8:10, 12.)

f. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. (Dan. 12:2.) Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 25:34.) And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. (Acts 24:15.)

g. And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God. (Rev. 19:9.)

h. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son. (Mat. 22:2.)

i. She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine; she hath also furnished her table (2). Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled. (Prov. 9:2, 5.)

j. No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Mat. 6:24.)

k. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. (Acts 13:46.)

l. Wisdom crieth without; she uttereth her voice in the streets. (Prov. 1:20.) Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. (II Cor. 5:20.)

m. Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. (Mat. 21:43.)

n. If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers (6). Thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him. (Dt. 13:6, 8.)

o. Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field; and afterwards build thine house. (Prov. 24:27.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.)

p. Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee. (Job 22:21.) (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succored thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.) (II Cor. 6:2.)

q. Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. (Mat. 19:27, 28.)

r. Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savor, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. (Mat. 5:13.) Salt is 35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The parable of the lost sheep: 8 of the piece of silver: 11 and of the prodigal son.

1 [1]Then drew near unto him all the publicans and [a]sinners for to hear him.

2 And the Phăr'ĭ-sees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, [b]and eateth with them.

3 ¶ [2]And he spake this parable unto them, saying,

4 What [c]man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep [d]which was lost.

7 I say unto you, that likewise [3]joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, [e]more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

8 ¶ [4]Either what [5]woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the [6]house, and seek diligently till she find it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ [7]And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a [f]far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent [8]all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled [9]his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I [g]have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he [10]arose, and came to his father. But [h]when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth [i]the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

24 For [j]this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. [k]And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And [l]he [11]was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and [m]yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

32 [n]It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

CHAPTER 16.

1 The parable of the unjust steward. 14 Christ reproveth the hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus.

Ch. 15. A. D. 33.

1. In ch. 15 is an account of three parables to illustrate Christ's acceptance of publicans and sinners.

2. In vs. 3-7 is the parable of the lost sheep.

3. An assurance that the inhabitants of heaven are deeply interested in the doings of the earth.

4. In vs. 8-10 is the parable of the lost piece of money. Who was the self-forgotten and unconscious sinner?

5. That is, the church.

6. The world.

7. In vs. 11-32 is the parable of the prodigal son, representing the willful wandering sinner. It might also be called "the parable of the elder brother," for the brother of the prodigal gives us an example of how not to act toward returned sinners.

8. Exhausted the love of God in his heart.

9. Illustrating that the sinful man thinks only of satisfying his own animal nature.

10. Jesus here teaches not dead faith, but an active faith and a living, embracing purpose.

11. Representing the Pharisees of self-righteousness.

good; but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another. (Mk. 9:50.)

a. Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live? (Ez. 18:23.) This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. (I Tim. 1:15.)

b. Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them. (Acts 11:3.) For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Gal. 2:12.)

c. How think ye? If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray? (Mat. 18:12.)

d. Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. (I Pet. 2:10.)

e. There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness. (Prov. 30:12.)

f. Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. (Rom. 1:21.) For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another. (Tit. 3:3.)

g. And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Lu. 18:13.)

h. Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. (Is. 49:15.) For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. (Acts 2:39.) But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ (13). And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. (Eph. 2:13, 17.)

i. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment. (Mat. 22:11.) For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (Gal. 3:27.) And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints. (Rev. 19:8.)

j. And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins. (Eph. 2:1.) Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. (Eph. 5:14.) Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. (Col. 1:13.) But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead. (Mat. 8:22.) But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth. (I Tim. 5:6.)

k. And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. (Is. 35:10.)

l. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him. (Acts 11:2.)

m. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and the heat of the day. (Mat. 20:11, 12.)

n. And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him,

1 [1]And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an [g]account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said [2]within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than [b]the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, [c]Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 [3]He [d]that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the [e]true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 ¶ No [f]servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 [4]And the Phăr'ĭ-seeș also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

Ch. 16. A. D. 33.

1. In this ch. Christ teaches the parable of the unjust steward and of the rich man and Lazarus, a discourse on the right use of money.

2. Even the most worldly person begins to seriously reflect when he feels the approach of death.

3. In vs. 10-12 Christ states the moral of the parable just stated.

4. Vs. 14-31, teachings concerning the law; the parable of the rich man and Lazarus.

5. In vs. 16-18 Christ teaches that the law was in force until the coming of John, since then is the reign of both the law and the gospel, each of which condemns sin.

6. Alluding to Herod Antipas.

7. Not an individual but a class. Dives, the name sometimes applied, is the Latin for rich man. He is condemned not because of his riches as Isaac, Jacob, Moses and David were all rich men, and Moses and the prophets taught that riches were a blessing from God; but he was condemned for his infidelity, hard-hearted worldliness, and "shameful misuse of wealth."

8. Meaning God is my help. Illustrating the class for whom they have no sympathy.

9. Hades; here used as the place or region of disembodied wicked spirits.

10. The eye of the soul.

11. Parched with the flame of evil which it has itself kindled.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but [g]God knoweth your hearts: for [h]that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16 [5]The [i]law and the prophets were until Jŏhn: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 [j]And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 Whosoever putteth [6]away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.

19 ¶ There was a certain [7]rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named [8]Lăz'a-rus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and [k]was carried by the angels into [l]Ā'brăhăm's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23 And in [9]hell he lift up his [10]eyes, being in torments, and seeth Ā'bră-hăm afar off, and Lăz'a-rus in his bosom.

24 And he cried and said, Father Ā'bră-hăm, have mercy on me, and send Lăz'a-rus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [11]cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Ā'bră-hăm said, Son, [m]remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lăz'a-rus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And beside all this, between us and you there is a [n]great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may [o]testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

all ye people. And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust. (Rom. 15:9-12.)

a. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. (Mat. 12:36.) So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. (Rom. 14:12.) Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. (I Cor. 4:2.)

b. While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them. (Jno. 12:36.) For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light. (Eph. 5:8.) Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. (I Thess. 5:5.)

c. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. (Dan. 4:27.) Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. (Mat. 6:19.) But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you. (Lu. 11:41.)

d. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. (Mat. 25:21.)

e. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ. (Eph. 3:8.) I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see. (Rev. 3:18.)

f. No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Mat. 6:24.)

g. Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins. (Ps. 7:9.) I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10.) And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. (Rev. 2:23.) But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.) Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts. (Prov. 21:2.)

h. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.) Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God. (Js. 4:4.)

i. And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. For all the Prophets and the Law prophesied until John. (Mat. 11:12, 13.)

j. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure; yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed: But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end. (Ps. 102:26, 27.) The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever. (Is. 40:8.) But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the Gospel is preached unto you. (I Pet. 1:25.)

k. Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.) Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him? (Js. 2:5.)

l. And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 8:11.)

m. They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave. (Job 21:13.) But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. (Lu. 6:24.)

n. Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power. (II Thess. 1:9.)

o. And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation. (Acts 2:40.) And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritans. (Acts 8:25.) And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the 29 Ā'brā-hăm saith unto him, They have [p]Mō'şeş and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Ā'brā-hăm: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.
31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Mō'şeş and the prophets, [q]neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Christ teacheth to avoid occasions of offence. 3 One to forgive another. 6 The power of faith. 7 How we are bound to God, and not he to us. 11 He healeth ten lepers.

1 [1]Then said he unto [2]the disciples, [a]It is impossible but that offences will come: but [b]woe unto him, through whom they come!
2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.
3 ¶ Take heed to yourselves: [c]If thy brother trespass against thee, [d]rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive [e]him.
4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.
5 [3]And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.
6 And [f]the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.
7 But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?
8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, [g]and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?
9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.
10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are [h]unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.
11 ¶ [4]And it came to pass, as [i]he went to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, that he passed through the midst of Sa-mā'rĭ-ā and Găl'ĭ-lee.
12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:
13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jē'şus, Master, have mercy on us.
14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, [j]Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.
15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, 16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he [k]was a [5]Sa-măr'ĭ-tan.
17 And Jē'şus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?
18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.
19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.
20 ¶ [6]And when he was demanded of the Phăr'ĭ-sees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:
21 Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is [l]within you.
22 And he said unto the disciples, [7]The [m]days will come, when ye shall desire to see one [8]of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.
23 And they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: go [n]not after them, nor follow them.
24 For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall [o]also the Son of man be in his day.
25 But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.
26 And as it was in the days of Nō'e, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.
27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Nō'e entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.
28 Likewise [p]also as it was in the days of Lŏt; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded, 29 But the same day that Lŏt went out of Sŏd'om it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.
30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man [q]is revealed.

Ch. 17. A. D. 33.

1. In ch. 17 Christ teaches his disciples regarding forgiveness, faith, gratitude and the need of being prepared for death.

2. That is, just after the parable of ch. 16.

3. In vs. 5-10 Christ teaches the power of faith.

4. In vs. 11-19 is an account of cleansing of the 10 lepers, only one of whom expressed gratitude.

5. And a Gentile; proving that the power and blessings of faith were not limited to the sons of Abraham.

6. In vs. 20-37 Christ answers the Pharisees regarding the coming of the kingdom of God and the Son of Man.

7. After the ascension.

8. Of their trials.

Law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning till evening. (Acts 28:23.) For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. (Gal. 5:3.)

p. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. (Is. 8:20.)

q. But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus. (Jno. 12:10, 11.)

Chapter 17.

a. Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh! (Mat. 18:7.)

b. Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you. (II Thess. 1:6.)

c. Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. (Mat. 18:15.)

d. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbor, and not suffer sin upon him. (Lev. 19:17.) A reproof entereth more into a wise man than an hundred stripes into a fool. (Prov. 17:10.) Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him; Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins. (Js. 5:19, 20.)

e. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up. (I Cor. 13:4.) Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. (Col. 3:13.)

f. And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. (Mat. 17:20.)

g. Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. (Lu. 12:37.)

h. Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect? (Job 22:3.) O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my goodness extendeth not to thee. (Ps. 16:2.) They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one. (Rom. 3:12.) For though I preach the Gospel, I have nothing to glorify of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the Gospel! (I Cor. 9:16.)

i. And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem. (Lu. 9:51.) And he must needs go through Samaria. (Jno. 4:4.)

j. This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: He shall be brought unto the priest. (Lev. 14:2.) And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. (Mat. 8:4.)

k. And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon, and from Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the children of Israel: and they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof. (II Ks. 17:24.) Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? (Jno. 8:48.)

l. John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not. (Jno. 1:26.) For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.)

m. And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast. (Mat. 9:15.)

n. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4:1.)

o. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. (I Tim. 6:15.)

p. And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark: for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation. (Gen. 7:1.)

q. To you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels. (II Thess. 1:7.)

31 In that day, he [r]which shall be upon the house top, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.
32 Remember [s]Lot's wife.
33 Whosoever [t]shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.
34 I [u]tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.
35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.
36 Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.
37 And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER 18.

1 The importunate widow. 9 Of the Pharisee and the publican. 15 Children brought to Christ. 31 He foresheweth his death, 35 and restoreth a blind man to his sight.

1 [1]And he spake a parable [2]unto them to this end, that men ought [a]always to pray, and not to faint;
2 Saying, There was in a city a [3]judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:
3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.
4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;
5 Yet [b]because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.
6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust [4]judge saith.
7 And [c]shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?
8 I tell you [d]that he will avenge them [5]speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?
9 [6][c]And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:
10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Phăr'ī-see, and the other a publican.
11 The Phăr'ī-see stood and prayed thus with himself, [e]God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

Ch. 18. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-8 is the parable of the unjust judge. This ch., like ch. 17, is concerning the second coming of Christ.

2. His disciples.

3. God.

4. Appeared to be so because of their retributive punishment which he allowed to come upon them.

5. Though no man knoweth when, yet "speedily" when measured by the chronology of eternity.

6. In vs. 9-14 is a parable of the Pharisee and the publican; teaching humility in prayer.

7. Trustful, confident, faithful.

8. The innocent state before sin.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.
13 And the publican, standing [f]afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.
14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: [g]for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
15 And [h]they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.
16 But Jē'sus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is [7]the kingdom of God.
17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little [8]child shall in no wise enter therein.
18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
19 And Jē'sus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.
20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, [i]Honour thy father and thy mother.
21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.
22 Now when Jē'sus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: [j]sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.
23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.
24 And when Jē'sus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, [k]How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?
27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.
28 Then Pē'tēr said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.
29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [l]There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 Who shall not receive manifold more in

r. And let him that is on the house-top not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house. (Mk. 13:15.)
s. But his wife looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt. (Gen. 19:26.)
t. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. (Mat. 16:25.) He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. (Jno. 12:25.)
u. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. (I Thess. 4:17.)

a. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. (Ps. 65:2.) Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man. (Lu. 21:36.) Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. (Rom. 12:12.) Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints. (Eph. 6:18.) Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving. (Col. 4:2.)
b. I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. (Lu. 11:8.)
c. Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you. (II Thess. 1:6.) And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? (Rev. 6:10.)
d. For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. (Heb. 10:37.) But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. (II. Pet. 3:8, 9.)
e. And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you; yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. (Is. 1:15.) Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked. (Rev. 3:17.)
f. For innumerable evils have compassed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up: they are more than the hairs of mine head; therefore my heart faileth me. (Ps. 40:12.)
g. When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up; and he shall save the humble person. (Job 22:29.) But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Js. 4:6.)
h. Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. (Mat. 19:13.)
i. Honor thy father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise). (Eph. 6:2.) Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well-pleasing unto the Lord. (Col. 3:20.)
j. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. (Mat. 6:19.) Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life. (I Tim. 6:19.)
k. He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a branch. (Prov. 11:28.) But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. (I Tim. 6:9.)
l. Who said unto his father and to his mother, I have not seen him; neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: for they have observed thy word, and kept thy covenant. (Dt. 33:9.)

this present time, and [m]in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ Then [n]he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and all things that are [o]written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.

32 For [o]he shall be delivered unto the Gĕn'tīles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.

34 And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ [10]And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jĕr'ī-chō, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging:

36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they told him, that Jē'sus of Năz'a-rĕth passeth by.

38 And he cried, saying, Jē'sus, thou son of Dā'vid, have mercy on me.

39 And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou son of Dā'vid, have mercy on me.

40 And [p]Jē'sus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jē'sus said unto him, Receive thy sight: [q]thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And immediately [r]he received his sight, and followed him, [s]glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER 19.

1 Of Zacchæus a publican. 11 The ten pieces of money. 28 Christ rideth into Jerusalem with triumph: 41 weepeth over it: 45 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple.

1 [1]And Jē'sus entered and passed through [2][a]Jĕr'ī-chō.

2 And, behold, there was a man named Zăc-chæ'us, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jē'sus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycomore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jē'sus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zăc-chæ'us, make haste, and come down; for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, [b]That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zăc-chæ'us stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, [c]I restore him [3]fourfold.

9 And Jē'sus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as [d]he also is a son of Ā'bră-hăm.

10 For [e]the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 [4]And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 He [f]said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been [g]faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For [h]I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

9. His death, suffering and resurrection.

10. In vs. 35-43 Jesus heals the blind man near Jericho; parallel to Mat. 20:29-34 and Mark 10:46-52.

Ch. 19. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-28 is an account of the visit of Jesus to Zaccheus, the publican.

2. A city about 15 miles from Jerusalem.

3. The Roman law of forfeit.

4. Vs. 11-27, the parable of the pounds; though similar, a different parable from the 10 talents. This was delivered to the multitude; the parable of the 10 talents to the apostles alone.

m. Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. (Rev. 2:10.) To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcome, and am set down with my Father in his throne. (Rev. 3:21.)

n. And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them. (Mat. 20:17.)

o. And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor. (Mat. 27:2.) And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. (Lu. 23:1.) The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom he delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. (Acts 3:13.)

p. Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. (Heb. 2:17.)

q. And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole. (Lu. 17:19.)

r. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast. (Ps. 33:9.) Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. (Is. 35:5.)

s. Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name. (Ps. 103:1.) And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things today. (Lu. 5:26.) And they glorified God in me. (Gal. 1:24.)

Chapter 19.

a. In his days did Hiel the Bethelite build Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his first-born, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest son Segub, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by Joshua the son of Nun. (I Ks. 16:34.)

b. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners? (Mat. 9:11.) But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners? (Lu. 5:30.)

c. If a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep. (Ex. 22:1.) And he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity. (II Sam. 12:6.)

d. And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day? (Lu. 13:16.) And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also: And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised. (Rom. 4:11, 12.) Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham. (Gal. 3:7.)

e. For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost. (Mat. 18:11.) This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. (I Tim. 1:15.)

f. For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. (Mat. 25:14.) For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. (Mk. 13:34.)

g. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. (Mat. 25:21.) He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. (Lu. 16:10.)

h. Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed. (Mat. 25:24.) But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and 22 And he saith unto him, [i]Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. [j]Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say unto you, [k]That unto every one which [s]hath shall be given; and from him that hath [6]not, even that he [6]hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

29 And [l]it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bĕth'pha-ġe and Bĕth'ă-nў, at the mount called the mount of Ōl'īveṣ, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because [m]the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jē'ṣus: [n]and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jē'ṣus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Ōl'īveṣ, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38 Saying, [o]Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: [p]peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Phăr'ī-seeṣ from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

41 ¶ [7]And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and [q]wept over it.

42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall [r]cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 And [s]shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because [t]thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 [8]And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;

46 Saying unto them, [u]It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but [v]ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, 48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Christ's authority. 9 The parable of the vineyard. 19 Of giving tribute to Cæsar. 27 Christ convinceth the Sadducees that denied the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the son of David.

1 [1]And it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by [q]what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of Jōhn, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people

5. The inclination and receptive heart of the blessings of God.

6. He who has lost that receptive heart and desires for God's blessings shall have the opportunity taken away from him.

7. Vs. 41-44 contain the pathetic wail of Jesus over Jerusalem; recorded only by Luke.

8 Vs. 45 18, the second cleansing of the temple.

Ch. 20. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-20 the chief priests question the authority of Christ; his answer is given, also the parable of the wicked husbandmen.

whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Rev. 21:8.)

i. And David said unto him, Thy blood be upon thy head; for thy mouth hath testified against thee, saying, I have slain the Lord's anointed. (II Sam. 1:16.) Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I; yea, thine own lips testify against thee. (Job 15:6.) For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. (Mat. 12:37.)

j. His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed. (Mat. 25:26.)

k. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath. (Mat. 13:12.) For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath. (Mk. 4:25.)

l. And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples. (Mat. 21:1.) And when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples. (Mk. 11:1.)

m. Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass. (Zech. 9:9.) For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich. (II Cor. 8:9.)

n. Then they hasted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with trumpets, saying, Jehu is king. (II Ks. 9:13.)

o. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord: we have blessed you out of the house of the Lord. (Ps. 118:26.) Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. And verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. (Lu. 13:35.)

p. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. (Lu. 2:14.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.)

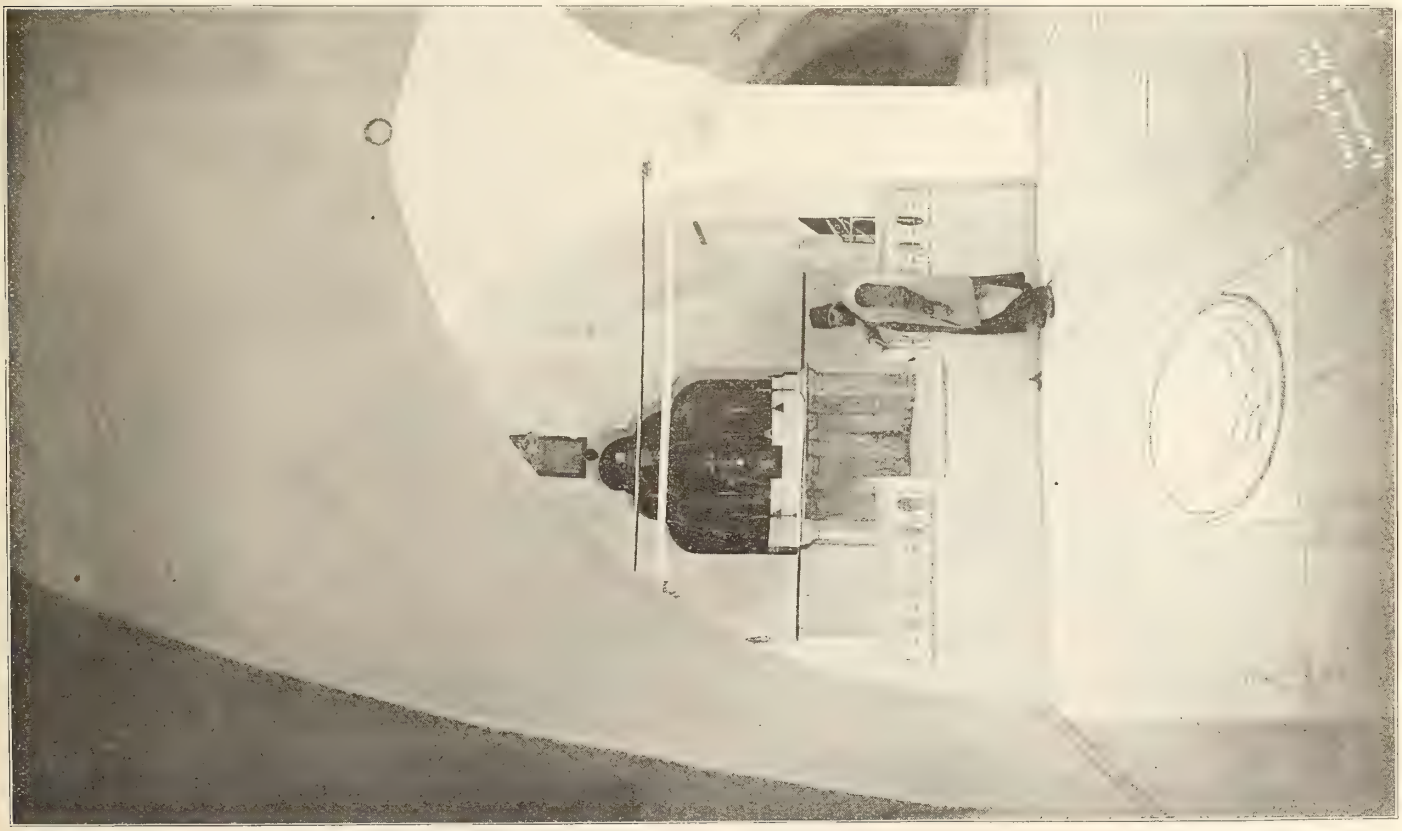
q. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? Mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together. (Hos. 11:8.) Jesus wept. (Jno. 11:35.)

r. And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee. And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust. (Is. 29:3, 4.) And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh. (Lu. 21:20.)

s. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest. (Mic. 3:12.)

t. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.) Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people (68). Through the tender mercy of our God, whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us. (Lu. 1:68, 78.)

u. Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever. (Ps. 93:5.) Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people. (Is. 56:7.)



v. Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the Lord. (Jer. 7:11.)

a. And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this? (Acts 4:7.) But he that did his neighbor wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? (Acts 7:27.)

TRADITIONAL STONE OF UNCTION.

HOUSE OF CAIAPHAS, WHERE CHRIST WAS CONFINED THE NIGHT BEFORE

will stone us: for they be persuaded that Jŏhn was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they [b]could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jē'şus said unto them, Neither [c]tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable; A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season [d]he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And [e]again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my [f]beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is [g]the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be our's.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, [i]God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, [h]The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 ¶ And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 [2]And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly:

2. In vs. 20-40 the Pharisees seek to entrap Jesus by their questions regarding tribute and the resurrection.

3. The ordinance of marriage shall cease in heaven, because there will be no deaths there; consequently, the purpose for which it was ordained having ceased, it has served its purpose.

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Çæ'şar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Çæ'şar's.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Çæ'şar the things which be Çæ'şar's, and unto God the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ Then came to him certain of the Săd'dūçees, [j]which deny that there is any resurrection: and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, [k]Mō'şeş wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jē'şus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they [l]which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:

36 Neither can [3]they die any more: for [m]they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, even Mō'şeş shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Ā'brā-hăm, and the God of Ī'şaac, and the God of Jā'cob.

38 For [n]he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for [o]all live unto him.

39 ¶ Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

b. They are of those that rebel against the light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof. (Job 24:13.) But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost. (II Cor. 4:3.) Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. (II Thess. 2:9, 10.)

c. He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands cannot perform their enterprise. He taketh the wise in their own craftiness; and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong. (Job 5:12, 13.)

d. And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising up betimes, and sending; because he had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place: but they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy. (II Chr. 36:15, 16.)

e. Yet many years didst thou forbear them, and testifiedst against them by thy Spirit in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands. (Neh. 9:30.)

f. Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Is. 7:14.)

g. Yet have I set my King upon my holy hill of Zion. (Ps. 2:6.) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature: For by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him. (Col. 1:15, 16.)

h. The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. (Ps. 118:22.) Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner. (I Pet. 2:7.)

i. God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged (4). God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world? (6). Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law. (Rom. 3:4, 6, 31.) God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein? (2). What then? shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid. (Rom. 6:2, 15.) What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet (7). Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful. (Rom. 7:7, 13.) Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. (I Cor. 6:15.)

j. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. (Acts 23:6.)

k. If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger: her husband's brother shall go in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and perform the duty of an husband's brother unto her. (Dt. 25:5.)

l. Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer. (II Thess. 1:5.) Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy. (Rev. 3:4.)

m. As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. (I Cor. 15:49.) Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.)

n. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. (Jno. 11:25.) For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. (Col. 3:3, 4.)

o. For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God. Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. (Rom. 6:10, 11.)

41 And he said unto them, [p]How say they that Christ is Dā'vid's son?

42 And Dā'vid himself saith in the book of Psalms, [q]The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 Dā'vid therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

45 ¶ [1]Then in the audience of all the people he said unto his disciples,

46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts;

47 Which [r]devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Christ commendeth the poor widow. 5 He foretelleth the destruction of the temple, and of Jerusalem. 34 He exhorteth them to be watchful.

1 [1]And he looked up, [a]and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two [2]mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, [b]that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all:

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 ¶ And as some spake of the [3]temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said,

6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which [c]there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?

8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.

9 But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not [4]by and by.

10 [5]Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:

11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.

12 But [d]before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and [e]into prisons, [f]being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.

13 And [g]it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 [h]Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

16 [i]And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

18 But there shall not an hair of your head perish.

19 In [j]your patience possess ye your souls.

20 And when [k]ye shall see Je-ru'sa-lĕm compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

21 Then let them which are in Jū-dæ'ā flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.

22 For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Je-ru'sa-lĕm shall be trodden down of the Gĕn'tīleş, [l]until the times of the Gĕn'tīleş be fulfilled.

25 ¶ [6]And [m]there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: [n]for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man [o]coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 [7]And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

1. In vs. 45-47 Christ rebukes and upbraids the scribes and the classes they represent; parallel to Mat. 23: 1-39 and Mark 12:38-40.

Ch. 21. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-4 Jesus draws the contrast between the contributions of the selfish rich and the faithful widow.

2. A mite is equivalent to one-fifth of a cent.

3. In vs. 5-36 Jesus foretells the destruction of Jerusalem and from it draws the lesson of warning to the people to prepare for his second coming.

4. After awhile.

5. In vs. 10-32 Jesus prophesies the destruction of Jerusalem and the dispersion of the Jews.

6. In vs. 25-27 are given the signs of the coming of the Son of Man.

7. Vs. 28-33, the parable of the fig tree.

p. What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. (Mat. 22:42.)

q. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.) For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thy foes thy footstool. (Acts 2:34, 35.) For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. (I Cor. 15:25.)

r. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. (Mat. 23:14.)

a. And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. (Mk. 12:41.)

b. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. (Prov. 3:9.) There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. (Prov. 11:24.) For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. (II. Cor. 8:12.)

c. Then will I cut off Israel out of the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight; and Israel shall be a proverb and a byword among all people. (I Ks. 9:7.) Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the Lord's. (Jer 5:10.) Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest. (Mic. 3:12.)

d. Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. (Rev. 2:10.)

e. They laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide. (Acts 4:3.) And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison. (Acts 5:18.) Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks. (Acts 16:24.)

f. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme. (I Pet. 2:13.)

g. And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God. (Phil. 1:28.) Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer. (II Thess. 1:5.)

h. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.)

i. For the son dishonoreth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house. (Mic. 7:6.)

j. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. (Mat. 10:22.) But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. (Mat. 24:13.) To them who by patient continuance in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, eternal life. (Rom. 2:7.) Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. (Js. 1:3.)

k. When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand). (Mat. 24:15.)

l. For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in. (Rom. 11:25.)

m. Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? (II Pet. 3:12.)

n. Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. (Mat. 24:29.)

o. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. (Acts 1:11.) Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him,

29 And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

33 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 ¶ And [p]take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For [q]as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch [r]ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and [s]to stand before the Son of man.

37 And [t]in the day time he was teaching in the temple; and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Ōl'īveṣ.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him [u]in the temple, for to hear him.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The Jews conspire against Christ. 7 The apostles prepare the passover. 19 Christ instituteth his holy supper. 39 He prayeth in the mount, and sweateth blood, 47 is betrayed with a kiss: 50 he healeth Malchus' ear, 54 and is thrice denied of Peter.

1 [1]Now [a]the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.

2 And [b]the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ¶ Then [c]entered Sā'tan into Jū'das surnamed Ĭs-căr'ĭ-ot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 And they were glad, and [d]covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ [2]Then [e]came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Pē'tĕr and Jŏhn, saying, Go, and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 And when the hour was come, he sat [3]down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:

16 For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, [f]until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:

18 For [g]I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ¶ [4]And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this [h]do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, [i]This cup is the [i]new [5]testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

Ch. 22. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-6 is an account of the conspiracy of the Jews and their compact with Judas to put Christ to death.

2. In vs. 7-13 Jesus prepares to keep the last passover; parallel to Mat. 26:17-19 and Mark 14:12-16.

3. That is, reclineth upon a couch.

4. In vs. 19, 20 is the institution of the Lord's Supper; parallel to Mat. 26:26 and Mark 14:22.

5. That is, new covenant, as signified by the Greek word.

and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen. (Rev. 1:7.)

p. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.) But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer. (I Pet. 4:7.) Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up. Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. (Mat. 24:42-44.) And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. (Mk. 4:19.)

q. For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. (I Thess. 5:2.) Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard; and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. (Rev. 3:3.)

r. Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh. (Mat. 25:13.) Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. (Mk. 13:33.)

s. Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous. (Ps. 1:5.) Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. (Eph. 6:13.) And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. (I Jno. 2:28.)

t. Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. (Jno. 8:1, 2.)

u. And I will shake all nations, and the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. (Hag. 2:7.) Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.)

a. Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified. (Mat. 26:2.) After two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death. (Mk. 14:1.)

b. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. (Ps. 1:2.) For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together. (Acts 4:27.)

c. Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests. (Mat. 26:14.) And supper being ended, (the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him) (2). And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly. (Jno. 13:2, 27.)

d. And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver. (Zech. 11:12.) For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:10.)

e. Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? (Mat. 26:17.) And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover? (Mk. 14:12.)

f. And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. (Lu. 14:15.) Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. (Acts 10:41.) And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God. (Rev. 19:9.)

g. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom. (Mat. 26:29.) Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God. (Mk. 14:25.)

h. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. (I Cor. 11:24.)

i. R. V.—After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. (I Cor. 11:25.) Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:6.) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.) For, finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. (Heb. 8:8.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah. (Jer. 31:31.)

j. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ. (I Cor. 10:16.)

21 ¶ [o]But, [k]behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 And truly the Son of man goeth, [l]as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 ¶ [7]And [m]there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25 And [n]he said unto them, The kings of the Gĕn'tīleş exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.

26 But [o]ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

28 Ye are they which have continued with me in [p]my temptations.

29 And [q]I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

30 That [r]ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Ĭs'ra-ĕl.

31 ¶ [8]And the Lord said, Sī'mon, Sī'mon, behold, Sā'tan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:

32 But I [s]have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and [t]when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.

34 And he said, I tell thee, Pē'tēr, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 [9]And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and [10]scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

37 For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.

6. In vs. 21-24 Jesus refers to his betrayer; parallel to Mat. 26:21-25 and Mark 14:18-21 and John 13:21-35.

7. In vs. 24-30 Jesus rebukes the spirit of strife among the 12.

8. In vs. 31-38 Christ warns Peter that he will betray him thrice.

9. Vs. 35-38 allude to the new and increased responsibilities of the apostles.

10. Bag, alluding to their former mission.

11. In vs. 39-46 is an account of the agony in Gethsemane; parallel to Mat. 26:30, 36-46 and Mark 14:26-32-42.

12. In vs. 47-53 Jesus is betrayed; parallel to Mat. 26:47-56 and Mark 14:43-52 and John 18:2-12.

13. Vs. 54-62. Peter's denial; parallel to Mat. 26:58-75 and Mark 14: 53-72 and John 18:13-27.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ [11]And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Ŏl'ĭveş; and his disciples also followed him.

40 And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41 And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and [u]kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

43 And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.

44 And [v]being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ [12]And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Jū'das, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jē'şus to kiss him.

48 But Jē'şus said unto him, Jū'das, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49 When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And [w]one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jē'şus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 Then Jē'şus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: [x]but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 ¶ [13]Then [y]took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Pē'tēr followed afar off.

55 And [z]when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Pē'tēr sat down among them.

k. Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me. (Ps. 41:9.) And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I? And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born. (Mat. 26:21-24.) I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but, that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me (18). When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, That one of you shall betray me. Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake (21, 22). Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon. (Jno. 13:18, 21, 22, 26.)

l. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.) For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done. (Acts 4:28.)

m. But they held their peace; for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest. (Mk. 9:34.)

n. But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (Js. 4:6.) Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. (I Pet. 5:3.)

o. And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great. (Lu. 9:48.)

p. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. (Heb. 4:15.)

q. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. (Lu. 12:32.) And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation. (II Cor. 1:7.) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.)

r. And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. (Lu. 14:15.) And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God. (Rev. 19:9.)

s. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine (9). And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are (11). I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. (Jno. 17:9, 11, 15.)

t. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee. (Ps. 51:13.) So when they had dined, Jesus sayeth to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. (Jno. 21:15.)

u. And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. (Mat. 26:39.) And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him. (Mk. 14:35.) The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. (Lu. 18:11.)

v. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. (Jno. 12:27.) Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared. (Heb. 5:7.)

w. Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. (Jno. 18:10.) (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds.) (II Cor. 10:4.)

x. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.)

y. And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. (Mat. 26:57.)

z. Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. (Mat. 26:69.)

THE RETURN FROM CALVARY.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And [aa]after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Pē'tēr said, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him: for he is a Găl-ĭ-læ'an.

60 And Pē'tēr said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Pē'tēr. [bb]And Pē'tēr remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Pē'tēr went out, and wept [cc]bitterly.

63 ¶ [14]And [dd]the men that held Jē'şus mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ [ee]And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying,

67 Art thou the Chrīst? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe:

68 And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.

69 [ff]Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am.

71 And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAPTER 23.

1 Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod. 8 Herod mocketh him. 13 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Jesus is given to be crucified. 34 He prayeth for his enemies. 39 Two evildoers are crucified with him. 46 His death. 50 His burial.

1 [1]And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pī'late.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow [a]perverting the nation, and [b]forbidding to give tribute to Çæ'şar, saying that he himself is Chrīst a King.

3 And Pī'late asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pī'late to the chief priests and to the people, [c]I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jew'rў, beginning from Găl'ĭ-lee to this place.

6 [2]When Pī'late heard of Găl'ĭ-lee, he asked whether the man were a Găl-ĭ-læ'an.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Hĕr'od's jurisdiction, he sent him to Hĕr'od, who himself also was at Je-rū'sa-lĕm at that time.

8 ¶ And when Hĕr'od saw Jē'şus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 [d]And Hĕr'od with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pī'late.

12 ¶ And the same day [e]Pī'late and Hĕr'od were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ [3]And [f]Pī'late, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, [g]have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Hĕr'od: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 I will therefore [4]chastise him, and release him.

17 [h](For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Ba-răb'bas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pī'late therefore, willing to release Jē'şus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the [5]third time,

11. Vs. 63-71. Christ condemned to death and shamefully treated.

Ch. 23. A. D. 33.

1. Vs. 1-5, Jesus before Pilate; parallel to Mat. 27:11-14 and Mark 15:1-5 and John 18:28-38.

2. Vs. 6-12 give an account of Jesus before Herod.

3. In vs. 13-23 Christ is again before Pilate, who seeks to release him; parallel to Mat. 27:15-23 and Mark 15:6-14 and John 18:39, 40.

4. Pilate hoped that the Jews would be appeased by administering this lesser punishment and thus save him from crucifixion.

5. Three times were the Jews requested to state what evil he had done.

aa. And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. (Mat. 26:71.)

bb. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly. (Mat. 26:75.)

cc. For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. (Is. 66:2.) For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death. (II Cor. 7:10.)

dd. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) As many were astonished at thee; his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men. (Is. 52:14.)

ee. The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his Anointed, saying. (Ps. 2:2.) Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round (12). For dogs have compassed me; the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet. (Ps. 22:12, 16.) The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ. (Acts 4:26.)

ff. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first. (I Thess. 4:16.) Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an High Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens. (Heb. 8:1.)

a. Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus. (Acts 17:7.) For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes. (Acts 24:5.)

b. Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee. (Mat. 17:27.) They say unto him, Cesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. (Mat. 22:21.)

c. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:21.) Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth. (I Pet. 2:22.)

d. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Is. 53:3.)

e. For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together. (Acts 4:27.) Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world is the enemy of God. (Js. 4:4.)

f. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified. (Mat. 27:23.) Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all. (Jno. 18:38.)

g. Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. (Dan. 6:4.)

h. Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would. (Mat. 27:15.) But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? (Jno. 18:39.)

Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 [h]And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And Pī'late gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he [i]released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jē'şus to their will.

26 And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Sī'mon, a Çў-rē'nī-an, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jē'şus.

27 ¶ [j]And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jē'şus turning unto them said, Daughters of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 For [j]if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 And there were also two other, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 [8]And when they were come to the place, which is called Căl'vă-rў, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶ Then said Jē'şus, Father, [k]forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Chrīst, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.

38 And [l]a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Chrīst, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

6. Vs. 23-25 Jesus is delivered to his persecutors to be crucified; parallel to Mat. 27:24-31 and Mark 15:15-20 and John 19:1-16.

7. The account given in vs. 27-31 is mentioned only by Luke.

8. In vs. 33-46 is a record of the transactions which occurred while Jesus was hanging on the cross; parallel to Mat. 27:35-50 and Mark 15:25-37 and John 19:18-30.

9. Even though a thief on the cross, Jesus had compassion on him.

10. That is, over Palestine.

11. In vs. 46-56 Jesus is taken from the cross, embalmed, and placed in the tomb; parallel to John 19:31-42 and Mark 15:38-47 and Mat. 27:51-61.

Ch. 24. A. D. 33.

1. Vs. 1-12 give an account of the first visit of the women to the sepulchre and the angel's announcement that Christ is risen.

42 And he said unto Jē'şus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy [m]kingdom.

43 And Jē'şus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To [9]day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there [10]was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and [n]the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 ¶ [11]And when Jē'şus had cried with a loud voice, he said, [o]Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Găl'ĭ-lee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ¶ And, behold, there was a man named Jō'şeph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them;) he was of Ār-ĭ-mā-thæ'ä, a city of the Jewş: [p]who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pī'late, and begged the body of Jē'şus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also, which came with him from Găl'ĭ-lee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and [q]prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day according to the commandment.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by two angels. 13 He himself appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emmaus: 36 He appeareth to the apostles, and reproveth their unbelief: 49 promiseth the Holy Ghost: 51 and so ascendeth into heaven.

1 [1]Now [a]upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jē'şus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much

i. He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the Lord. (Prov. 17:15.)

j. Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner. (Prov. 11:31.) And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the Lord; Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burned therein. (Ez. 20:47.) For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? (I Pet. 4:17.)

k. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Mat. 5:44.) And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. (Acts 7:60.) And labor, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it. (I Cor. 4:12.)

l. And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. (Jno. 19:19.)

m. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. (Heb. 1:3.) Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an High Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens. (Heb. 8:1.)

n. And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent. (Mat. 27:51.) But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same veil untaken away in the reading of the Old Testament; which veil is done away in Christ. (II Cor. 3:14.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.) Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil. (Heb. 6:19.)

o. Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth. (Ps. 31:5.) Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously. (I Pet. 2:23.)

p. And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him (25). And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem. (Lu. 2:25, 38.)

q. And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had brought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him. (Mk. 16:1.)

a. In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. (Mat. 28:1.) And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him. (Mk. 16:1.)

perplexed thereabout, behold, [b]two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Gă'lĭ-lee,

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mā'rў Măg-da-lē'ne, and Jo-ăn'nà, and Mā'rў the mother of Jāmeş, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they [c]believed them not.

12 Then arose Pē'tēr, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ¶ [2]And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Ĕm'ma-us, which was from Je-rų'sa-lĕm about threescore furlongs.

2. Vs. 13-35 he appears to the two going to Emmaus.

14 And they [d]talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, [e]Jē'şus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But [f]their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Clē'o-pas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Je-rų'sa-lĕm, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jē'şus of Năz'a-rĕth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Ĭs'ra-el: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre;

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

3. In vs. 36-53 Jesus appears to the disciples, blesses them, and ascends to heaven; parallel to Mat. 28:16-20 and Mark 16:14-19 and John 21:14-23.

24 And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

26 Ought not Chrĭst to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at [g]Mō'şeş and all [h]the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and [i]he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Je-rų'sa-lĕm, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Sī'mon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ [3]And as they thus spake, Jē'şus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb.

43 [j]And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Mō'şeş, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

b. And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. (Jno. 20:12.) And, while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel. (Acts 1:10.)

c. And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not. (Mk. 16:11.)

d. Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name. (Mal. 3:16.)

e. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. (Mat. 18:20.)

f. But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. (Jno. 21:4.)

g. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice. (Gen. 22:18.) The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.)

h. Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my flesh also shall rest in hope: For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:9, 10.) The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne. (Ps. 132:11.) Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Is. 7:14.) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah. In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land. In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The Lord our Righteousness. (Jer. 33:14-16.) Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old. (Mic. 7:20.) Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.) But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall. (Mal. 4:2.)

i. And he said, Let me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me. (Gen. 32:26.)

j. Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. (Acts 10:41.)

45 Then [k]opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name [l]among all nations, beginning at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

48 And [m]ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, until he be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶ And he led them out as far as to Bĕth'-ă-nў, and he lifted [4]up his hands, and blessed them.

51 And it [n]came to pass, while [4]he blessed them, he was parted [5]from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Je-ru'sa-lĕm with great joy:

53 And were continually [o]in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

4. Thus Christ is taken up into heaven with his arms outstretched conferring a blessing upon man. Likewise, he began his ministry when he announced the principles of it in the Sermon on the Mount with a blessing.

It is interesting to observe that the old dispensation was ushered in, at the announcement of the law at Sinai, with a curse; likewise it was closed with a curse, which hung over the world as a suspended sentence for 400 years, from the time of the departure of the last prophet till the coming of Christ, while the new dispensation was ushered in by a blessing, supplanting the curse of the old.

5. Luke is the only one of the evangelists who gives a description of the bodily ascension of Christ.

k. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul. (Acts 16:14.) For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.)

l. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.) All the ends of the world shall remember, and turn unto the Lord; and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee. (Ps. 22:27.) And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel; I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. (Is. 49:6.) And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. (Mic. 4:2.) For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

m. And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning. (Jno. 15:27.) Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection. (Acts 1:22.)

n. And it came to pass, as they still went on, and talked, that, behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. (II Ks. 2:11.) Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. (Eph. 4:8.)

o. And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, Praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved. (Acts 2:46, 47.) And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ. (Acts 5:42.)

PONTIUS PILATE.—M. Munkacsy.

SAINT JOHN

NOTE.—The writer of "the Gospel according to St. John" was the youngest of the 12; also the younger of the two sons of Zebedee, a fisherman, who resided at Bethsaida on the Sea of Galilee. He was one of the disciples of John the Baptist, before the coming of Christ. His greatest distinction was his admission to the bosom place with his Lord at the table, as "the disciple whom Jesus loved"; and for this reason the Master, while on the cross, committed his mother to John's keeping. His Gospel is specially characterized by being reflective in character rather than narrative. John wrote what he saw as an eye witness. He wrote with a courage that says, "I know whereof I speak because I saw it"; therefore he must be believed absolutely or impeached altogether. Of the ten miracles recorded by John only three are recorded elsewhere. Of the parables John records only one, that of the Good Shepherd, which is especially in keeping with the divine characteristic he wishes to display—viz., the divinity walking among men, ever struggling to brighten their darkened lives and elevate them to the love of God.

CHAPTER 1.

1 The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ. 15 The testimony of John. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

1 [1]In the [2]beginning was the [3]Word, and the [3]Word was with God, and the [3]Word was [4]God.
2 The same was in the [5]beginning with God.
3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.
4 In him was [6]life; and the life was the light of men.
5 And the light [7]shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.
6 ¶ There was a man sent from [8]God, whose name was Jŏhn.
7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.
8 He [a]was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.
9 [9]That [b]was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.
10 He was in the world, and [c]the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.
11 He [d]came unto his own, and his own received him not.
12 But [e]as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:
13 Which [f]were [10]born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, [g]but of God.
14 And the Word [h]was [11]made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and [i]we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only [12]begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.
15 ¶ Jŏhn bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.
16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

Ch. 1. A. D. 30.
1. In vs. 1-14, the word is made flesh.
2. The first in order of time; the beginning or commencement of that series of events with which the creation and history of the human race were associated; the beginning of creative existence.
3. God, the eternal Logos; the expression or manifestation of God.
4. In substance, in essence, in power was God.
5. Fix any definite location of time, and back of it "the word was with God."
6. Original, the germ of life, the essence of all life.
7. While this light was shining in all ages, John here particularly alludes to the incarnation of the word and the shining of the light in Christ.
8. To prepare the way for that light.
9. In vs. 9-18 is a tracing of the entrance of the Logos, or eternal word, into the world.
10. Alluding to regeneration, a word seldom used, but often implied.
11. That is, the eternal Logos which was God in v. 1 is now made flesh, God incarnate, Jesus Christ.
12. Thus Christ, the only begotten of the Father—who was in v. 1 called the Word, also called God—is now called the Son, to dwell among men.
13. In vs. 19-52 is recorded the three-fold testimony of John the Baptist that Jesus is the promised Messiah, and that he himself is not.
14. In vs. 20-28 is the first testimonial of John the Baptist to a delegation from the Sanhedrin, that Jesus is the Messiah.
15. As a symbol of that which is yet to come—the outward expression of an inward regeneration and acceptance into the new covenant, or a symbolical act of obedience to the command of God, as circumcision (the sign of the old covenant) has been superseded by the baptism of John in the new covenant, the covenant of grace.
16. In vs. 29-34 is an account of the second testimony of John the Baptist that Jesus is the Messiah—this testimony was given to the people.

17 For [j]the law was given by Mō'sĕs, but grace and truth came by Jē'sus Chrīst.
18 No [k]man hath seen God at any time; the [l]only begotten Son, which is in the [m]bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
19 ¶ [13]And this is the record of Jŏhn, when the Jews sent priests and Lē'vītes from Je-ru'-sa-lĕm to ask him, Who art thou?
20 [14]And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Chrīst.
21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou E-lī'as? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No.
22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?
23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said [n]the prophet E-sā'ias.
24 And they which were sent were of the Phăr'ī-sees.
25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Chrīst, nor E-lī'as, neither that prophet?
26 Jŏhn answered them, saying, I [15]baptize with water: [o]but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;
27 He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.
28 These things were done in Bĕth-ăb'ă-rà beyond Jor'dan, where Jŏhn was baptizing.
29 ¶ [16]The next day Jŏhn seeth Jē'sus coming unto him, and saith, Behold [p]the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.
30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.
31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Is'ra-el, therefore am I come baptizing with water.
32 And Jŏhn bare record, saying, I saw the

a. And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose. (Acts 13:25.)

b. And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel; I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. (Is. 49:6.)

c. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. (Ps. 33:6.) But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (I Cor. 8:6.)

d. But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us. (Lu. 19:14.)

e. For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:26.) Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. (I Jno. 3:1.)

f. Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:23.) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. (Js. 1:18.) If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him. (I Jno. 2:29.)

g. And the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live. (Dt. 30:6.) Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. (Jno. 3:5.) Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:23.)

h. Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh. (Rom. 1:3.) But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law. (Gal. 4:4.) But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men. (Phil. 2:7.) And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

i. And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 40:5.) For he received from God the Father honor and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (II Pet. 1:17.)

j. And he gave unto Moses, when he had made an end of communing with him upon mount Sinai, two tables of testimony, tables of stone, written with the finger of God. (Ex. 31:18.)

k. And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live. (Ex. 33:20.) Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father. (Jno. 6:46.)

l. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. (I Jno. 4:9.)

m. Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him. (Prov. 8:30.)

n. The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. (Is. 40:3.)

o. Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.)

p. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:7.) The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth. (Acts 8:32.) But with the precious blood of Christ, as a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:19.) And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, [q]the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Hō'lў Ghōst.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

35 ¶ [17]Again the next day after Jŏhn stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Jē'şus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jē'şus.

38 Then Jē'şus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Răb'bī, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard Jŏhn speak, and followed him, was Ăn'drew, Sī'mon Pē'tēr's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Sī'mon, and saith unto him, We have found the Mĕs-sī'as, which is, being interpreted, the [18]Chrīst.

42 And he brought him to Jē'şus. And when Jē'şus beheld him, he said, Thou art Sī-mon the son of Jō'nà: thou shalt be called Çē'phas, which is by interpretation, A stone.

43 ¶ The day [19]following Jē'şus would go forth into Găl'ī-lee, and findeth Phĭl'ĭp, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Phĭl'ĭp was of Bĕth-sā'ī-dà, the city of Ăn'drew and Pē'tēr.

45 Phĭl'ĭp findeth Na-thăn'a-el, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Mō'şes [r]in the law, and the [s]prophets, did write, Jē'şus of Năz'a-rĕth, the son of Jō'şeph.

46 And Na-thăn'a-el said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Năz'a-rĕth? Phĭl'ĭp saith unto him, Come and see.

47 Jē'şus saw Na-thăn'a-el coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Ĭs'ra-el-īte indeed, in whom is no guile!

48 Na-thăn'a-el saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jē'şus answered and said unto him, Before that Phĭl'ĭp called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.

17. In vs. 35-40 is an account of the third testimony of John the Baptist that Jesus is the Messiah—given to two of his disciples.

18. The fact that John interprets the meaning of the word Messias, indicates that he was writing for Gentiles, as the term was well understood by all the Jews.

19. The forty-fourth day after his baptism.

Ch. 2. A. D. 30.

1. In vs. 1-12 is an account of the marriage feast at Cana.

2. At the time of Christ, the word "woman" embraced within it the same tender affection and respectful thought as the term "mother" to-day. The expression, "what have I to do with thee" means "what to me and to thee." Jesus had already demonstrated at the hour of his temptation that miracles were not to be performed for self interests and his hour had not yet come. When the Father gave him the knowledge that the transition period of his life from the human to the Christ had ended, then he would be given the ability and divine permission to perform the miracle for the glory of God, not for selfish glory or gratification, which could not be done till the mother retired to her proper place, as her attitude seemed to imply a feast. But when she retired and left all with them that God might be glorified, then he performed the miracle.

3. In vs. 13-25 Jesus goes to the passover at Jerusalem and there purifies the temple.

49 Na-thăn'a-el answered and saith unto him, Răb'bī, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Ĭs'ra-el.

50 Jē'şus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the [t]Son of man.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Christ turneth water into wine, 12 departeth into Capernaum, and to Jerusalem. 19 He foretelleth his death and resurrection.

1 [1]And the third day there was a marriage in Cā'nà of Găl'ī-lee; and the mother of Jē'şus was there:

2 And both Jē'şus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jē'şus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jē'şus saith unto her, [2]Woman, [a]what [b]have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jē'şus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of [c]miracles did Jē'şus in Cā'nà of Găl'ī-lee, [d]and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 ¶ [3]After this he went down to Ca-pēr'na-ŭm, he, and his mother, and [e]his brethren, and horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. (Rev. 5:6.)

q. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.) While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. (Acts 10:44.)

r. I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. (Dt. 18:18.)

s. In that day shall the branch of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel. (Is. 4:2.) Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Is. 7:14.) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. (Is. 9:6, 7.) O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! (9). He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young. (Is. 40:9, 11.) I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy (24). And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:24, 26.) And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Behold the man whose name is The BRANCH; and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the Lord. (Zech. 6:12.) But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall. (Mal. 4:2.)

t. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. (Dan. 7:13.)

a. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son! (Jno. 19:26.)

b. And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah? so let him curse, because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so? (II Sam. 16:10.) And David said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah, that ye should this day be adversaries unto me? shall there any man be put to death this day in Israel? for do not I know that I am this day king over Israel? (II Sam. 19:22.)

c. The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. (Jno. 3:2.) This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee. (Jno. 4:54.) And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased (2). Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world (14). Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled (26). They said therefore unto him, What sign showest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work? (Jno. 6:2, 14, 26, 30.) And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man were true. (Jno. 10:41.) Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. (Jno. 11:47.) And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book. (Jno. 20:30.)

d. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. (Jno. 1:14.) Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God? (Jno. 11:40.)

e. While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him. (Mat. 12:46.)

his disciples: and they continued there not many days.

13 ¶ And [f]the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jē'sus went up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm,

14 And [g]found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not [h]my Father's house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it [4]was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 ¶ Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jē'sus answered and said unto them, [i]Destroy [5]this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake [j]of the [6]temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, [k]his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jē'sus had said.

23 ¶ Now when he was in Je-ru'sa-lĕm at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jē'sus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, 25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for [l]he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration. 14 Of faith in his death. 18 Condemnation for unbelief.

1 [1]There was a man of the Phăr'ĭ-sees, named [2]Nĭc-o-dē'mus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 The same came to Jē'sus by night, and said unto him, Răb'bī, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for [a]no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except [b]God be with him.

3 Jē'sus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [c]Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nĭc-o-dē'mus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jē'sus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water [3]and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The [d]wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nĭc-o-dē'mus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 [4]Jē'sus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Ĭs'ra-el, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And [e]no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 ¶ [5]And [f]as Mō'sēs lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be [6]lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 ¶ For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18 ¶ [7]He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

1. Only five, one of which was John himself. Therefore he was a witness to the cleansing.

2. Christ gives them not only a sign but a test also. Although perhaps alluding to the temple of his body, yet nothing was impossible for him, and he could easily have re-erected the temple before them, which they thought to be his meaning, as they expressed themselves in v. 20.

3. The Jewish temple was the material type of the temple of Christ's body.

Ch. 3. A. D. 30.

1. In vs. 1-21 is an account of Christ's discourse with Nicodemus.

2. A member of the Sanhedrin.

3. As an external sign or symbol of the spirit's induction into the kingdom of Christ, a symbolical act of obedience to the command of God.

4. In vs. 10-13 Jesus asserts his own absolute authority and knowledge which has previously been acknowledged by Nicodemus.

5. In vs. 14-17 Christ teaches the universal atonement.

6. As the children of Israel were bitten by the serpent, so man has been bitten by sin; as Moses lifted up the brazen serpent upon the pole, so Christ must be raised upon the cross; as Moses had been commanded to make the brazen serpent in the form of the fiery serpent, so Christ was in the form of sinful flesh; as the one bitten by the serpent could look upon the brazen image and be healed, so sinful man may look upon Christ and be healed of his sins.

7. In vs. 18-21 Christ teaches the responsibility of unbelief.

f. And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance for ever. (Ex. 12:14.) Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God: for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. (Dt. 16:1.) After this there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. (Jno. 5:1.) And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh. (Jno. 6:4.) And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves. (Jno. 11:55.)

g. And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves. (Mat. 21:12.) And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought. (Lu. 19:45.)

h. Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever. (Ps. 93:5.) But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:9, 10.)

i. And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days. (Mat. 26:61.) And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. (Mat. 27:40.) We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. (Mk. 14:58.) And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah! thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days. (Mk. 15:29.)

j. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Cor. 3:16.) What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? (I Cor. 6:19.) For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. (Col. 2:9.) A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man. (Heb. 8:2.)

k. And they remembered his words. (Lu. 24:8.) But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (Jno. 14:26.)

l. But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him; for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Sam. 16:7.)

a. Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them (16). If this man were not of God, he could do nothing. (Jno. 9:16, 33.)

b. How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. (Acts 10:38.)

c. Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. (Jno. 1:13.) (For we walk by faith, not by sight.) (II Cor. 5:7.) For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.) And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins. (Eph. 2:1.) Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. (Tit. 3:5.) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. (Js. 1:18.) Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:23.) Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God (I Jno. 3:9.)

d. As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all. (Ecc. 11:5.) For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. (I Cor. 2:11.)

e. Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell? (Prov. 30:4.)

f. And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole; and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived. (Num. 21:9.)

19 And this is the condemnation, [g]that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

21 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 ¶ [s]After these things came Jē'şus and his disciples into the land of Jū-dæ'á; and there he tarried with them, and baptized.

23 ¶ And Jŏhn also [h]was baptizing in Æ'nŏn near to Sā'lim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Jŏhn was not yet cast into prison.

25 ¶ Then there arose a question between some of Jŏhn's disciples and the Jews about purifying.

26 And they came unto Jŏhn, and said unto him, Răb'bī, he that was with thee beyond Jor'dan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Jŏhn answered and said, [i]A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye [9]yourselves bare me witness, that I said, I am not the Chrīst, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but [j]the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my [k]joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must [l]increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from above is above all: [m]he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: [n]he that cometh from heaven is above all.

32 And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath received his testimony hath [o]set to his seal that God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit [p]by measure unto him.

35 The [q]Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.

8. In vs. 22-36 is an account of Christ's leaving the passover at Jerusalem and journeying through the northeastern section of Judea, where John the Baptist is still preaching his coming.

9. Peter and John, who were original disciples of John the Baptist.

10. That is, accept him as God incarnate, which acceptance carries with it life everlasting.

Ch. 4. A. D. 30.

1. In vs. 1-42 is an account of Christ and the woman of Samaria.

2. That is, Christ, the Master, who baptized with the Holy Ghost, baptized not through the outward symbol of water, save through the hands of others.

3. This well still exists and is about two miles from Shechem in the plain of Mukhnah and measures 75 ft. deep and 9 ft. in diameter, and is dug in solid rock.

4. Will never.

36 He [r]that [10]believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the [s]wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and revealeth himself unto her. 27 His disciples marvel. 39 Many Samaritans believe on him. 43 He healeth the ruler's son.

1 [1]When therefore the Lord knew how the Phăr'ī-seeş had heard that Jē'şus made and baptized more disciples than Jŏhn,

2 (Though Jē'şus himself [2]baptized not, but his disciples,)

3 He left Jū-dæ'à, and departed again into Găl'ī-lee.

4 And he must needs go through Sa-mā'rĭ-à.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Sa-mā'rĭ-à, which is called Sȳ'char, near to the parcel of ground [a]that Jā'cob gave to his son Jō'şeph.

6 Now Jā'cob's [3]well was there. Jē'şus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Sa-mā'rĭ-à to draw water: Jē'şus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)

9 Then saith the woman of Sa-mā'rĭ-à unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Sa-mā'rĭ-à? for [b]the Jews have no dealings with the Să'mär'ĭ-tans.

10 Jē'şus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest [c]the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee [d]living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jā'cob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jē'şus answered and said unto her Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 But [e]whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him [4]shall never thirst; but

g. Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! (Is. 5:20.) In him was life; and the life was the light of men. (Jno. 1:4.)

h. And Melchizedek king of Salem brought forth bread and wine: and he was the priest of the most high God. (Gen. 14:18.) And Jacob came to Shalem a city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan-aram; and pitched his tent before the city. (Gen. 33:18.)

i. And no man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. (Heb. 5:4.) Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

j. I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved. (Song 5:1.)

k. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. (Jno. 15:11.) Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full. (Jno. 16:24.) Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. (Phil. 2:2.) And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full. (I Jno. 1:4.) Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full. (II Jno. 12.)

l. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. (Is. 9:7.)

m. The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven. (I Cor. 15:47.)

n. For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. (Jno. 6:33.)

o. Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts. (II Cor. 1:22.) He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. (I Jno. 5:10.)

p. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. (Jno. 1:16.) For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell. (Col. 1:19.)

r. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.)

s. For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. (Gal. 3:10.)

Chapter 4.

a. Moreover I have given to thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Amorite with my sword and with my bow. (Gen. 48:22.) And the bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground which Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem, for an hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph. (Josh. 24:32.)

b. And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon, and from Cuthah, and from Ava, and from Hamath, and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the children of Israel: and they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof. (II Ks. 17:24.) And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shown me that I should not call any man common or unclean. (Acts 10:28.)

c. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things? (Rom. 8:32.)

d. Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. (Is. 12:3.) For my people have committed two evils: they have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. (Jer. 2:13.) In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. (Zech. 13:1.)

e. And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. (Jno. 6:35.)

the water that I shall give him [f]shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 The [g]woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jē'ṣus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jē'ṣus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, [h]I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in [i]Je-ru'sa-lĕm is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jē'ṣus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when [j]ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Je-ru'sa-lĕm, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for [k]salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that [l]Mĕs-sī'as cometh, which is called Chrīst: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jē'ṣus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee [s]am he.

27 ¶ And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Chrīst?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

5. Christ has gradually led the woman up to the point where he can reveal to her his identity—he is the Messiah.

6. In vs. 43-54 is an account of Christ in Galilee and the healing of the nobleman's son.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?

34 Jē'ṣus saith unto them, [m]My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; [n]for they are white already to harvest.

36 And [o]he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: [p]other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 ¶ And [q]many of the Sa-măr'ĭ-tans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Sa-măr'ĭ-tans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And [r]many more believed because of his own word;

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Chrīst, the [s]Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ [t]Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Găl'ĭ-lee.

44 For [t]Jē'ṣus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Găl'ĭ-lee, the Găl-ĭ-læ'ans received him, [u]having seen all the things that he did at Je-ru'sa-lĕm at the feast: [v]for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Jē'ṣus came again into Cā'nā of Găl'ĭ-lee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Ca-pēr'na-ŭm.

47 When he heard that Jē'ṣus was come out of Jū-dæ'a into Găl'ĭ-lee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jē'ṣus unto him, Except [w]ye see signs and [w]wonders, ye will not believe.

f. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. (Jno. 7:38.)

g. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. (I Jno. 5:10.)

h. And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people. (Lu. 7:16.) Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. (Jno. 7:40.)

i. But unto the place which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come. (Dt. 12:5.)

j. For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1.11.) I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting. (I Tim. 2:8.)

k. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. (Is 2:3.) Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises. (Rom. 9:4.)

l. The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken. (Dt. 18:15.)

m. Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips, I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food. (Job 23:12.) For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. (Jno. 6:38.)

n. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few. (Mat. 9:37.)

o. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. (Dan. 12:3.)

p. Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the Gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into. (I Pet. 1:12.)

q. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.)

r. Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my Spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. (Is. 42:1.)

s. And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. (I Jno. 2:2.) For therefore we both labor and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. (I Tim. 4:10.) For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. (Lu. 2:11.) Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins. (Acts 5:31.) God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. (Acts 13:33.)

t. He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man. (Mat. 13:37.)

u. The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. (Jno. 3:2.)

v. Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the Lord empty. (Dt. 16:16.)

w. I thought it good to show the signs and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me. (Dan. 4:2.) He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. (Dan. 6:27.) For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect. (Mat. 24:24.) For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall show signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. (Mk. 13:22.) And I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapor of smoke (19). Ye men of Israel, hear these words, Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know (22). And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles. (Acts 2:19, 22, 43.) By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy 49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jē'ṣus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jē'ṣus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, the servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh [7]hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jē'ṣus said unto him, Thy son [8]liveth: and [z]himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second [8]miracle that Jē'ṣus did, when he was come out of Jū-dæ'à into Găl'ĭ-lee.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Jesus on the sabbath day cureth him that was diseased eight and thirty years. 10 The Jews persecute him for it. 17 He answereth for himself, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 32 of John, 36 of his works, 39 and of the scriptures, who he is.

1 [1]After [a]this there was a feast of the Jews; and Jē'ṣus went up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

2 Now there is at Je-ru'sa-lĕm by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hē'brew tongue Be-thĕs'dà, having five porches.

3 [2]In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 [3]For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jē'ṣus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, [b]Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jē'ṣus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: [c]it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jē'ṣus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jē'ṣus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [d]sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jē'ṣus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jē'ṣus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

17 ¶ [4]But Jē'ṣus answered them, [e]My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, [f]making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jē'ṣus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [g]The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 For [h]the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; [i]even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but [j]hath committed all [5]judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should [k]honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 [c]Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when [l]the dead shall

7. One p. m., at the same hour the son was healed.

8. The first miracle being at the wedding at Canaan—turning the water into wine.

Ch. 5. A. D. 31.

1. Ch. 5 is devoted to the account of Christ's healing the impotent man at Bethesda and of the animosity which it produced in the hearts of the Jews.

2. Infirm.

3. It is claimed by the Biblical scholars that verse 4 is not from the pen of John. While John acknowledged the popular belief in the power of the pool to heal disease, yet he does not give it as his own opinion nor assert it as a fact—he simply states it as a current belief.

4. In vs. 17-47 John records his first great discourse of Jesus delivered to the hostile Jews.

5. In no place is the Father spoken of as the judge. The Son (as the Son of man and Son of God) is the judge.

6. In vs. 24-29 are stated the two-fold powers delegated to the Son, viz., first, quickening with spiritual life the believing soul; second, the resurrection of the body.

child Jesus. (Acts 4:30.) And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. (Rom. 15:9.) Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds. (II Cor. 12:12.) Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders. (II Thess. 2:9.) God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will? (Heb. 2:4.)

x. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house. (Acts 16:34.)

a. Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God: for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. (Dt. 16:1.)

b. He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy. (Ps. 72:13.) Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high, Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth! (Ps. 113:5, 6.)

c. [The fourth commandment.] Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it. (Ex. 20:8-11.) Thus saith the Lord; Take heed to your selves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem. (Jer. 17:21.) But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day. (Mat. 12:2.) And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace. (Mk. 3:4.)

d. Then goeth he and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation. (Mat. 12:45.) She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more. (Jno. 8:11.)

e. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. (Jno. 9:4.) Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. (Jno. 14:10.)

f. Awake, O sword, against my Shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts; smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered, and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. (Zech. 13:7.) I and my Father are one. (Jno. 10:30.) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. (Phil. 2:6.)

g. Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. (Jno. 8:28.) I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. (Jno. 9:4.)

h. And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 3:17.) The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. (Jno. 3:35.)

i. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. (Lu. 7:14.) And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise. (Lu. 8:54.)

j. All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. (Mat. 11:27.) As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. (Jno. 17:2.)

k. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also. (I Jno. 2:23.) And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odors, which are the prayers of saints. (Rev. 5:8.)

l. I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, [r]because [m]he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And [n]shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 [s]If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and [o]a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 ¶ Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 [q]I receive [p]not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not [q]the honour that cometh from God only?

45 [10]Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Mō'sēs, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Mō'sēs, ye would have believed me: [r]for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye [s]believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

7. In v. 27 is stated the reason why the Father has delegated the judgeship unto the Son.

8. In vs. 31-47 Christ states the three witnesses to his Sonship with God, viz.—(1) John the Baptist, vs. 31-35; (2) His works, v. 36; (3) The scriptures, vs. 37-40.

9. In vs. 41-44 Jesus states that the cause for the unbelief of the people regarding him is the desire for human honor, i. e., the Jews were zealous in seeking human honor and power, but as Christ came to honor and glorify God, the Father, the Jews rejected him, preferring a Messiah after the style of their own hearts.

10. In vs. 45-47 Christ declares to the Jews that he will not accuse them of their sins, as he has come to save them, but that the accuser is Moses, the one they profess to love, because Moses wrote the law and through the law they are condemned already.

Ch. 6. A. D. 32.

1. In vs. 1-14 is an account of the feeding of the 5,000; parallel to Mat. 14:13-22, Mark 6:32-44, Luke 9:10-17. This is one of the two miracles recorded by all the apostles, the other being Malchus' ear healed.

2. That is, the last ch.

3. In vs. 15-21 Jesus walks on the sea; parallel to Mat. 14:22-36 and Mark 6:45-56.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 16 Withdrawing himself, he walked on the sea to his disciples: 32 declareth himself to be the bread of life to believers. 66 Many disciples depart from him.

1 [1]After [a]these [2]things Jē'sus went over the sea of Găl'ĭ-lee, which is the sea of Ti-bē'rĭ-as.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jē'sus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 [b]And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ [c]When Jē'sus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Phĭl'ĭp, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Phĭl'ĭp answered him, [d]Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Ān'drew, Sī'mon Pē'tēr's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: [e]but what are they among so many?

10 And Jē'sus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jē'sus took the loaves; and when he had [f]given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jē'sus did, said, This is of a truth [g]that prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ [3]When Jē'sus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 And [h]when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, 17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Ca-pēr'na-ŭm. And it was now dark, and Jē'sus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.

m. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. (Dan. 7:13.)

n. In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. (I Cor. 15:52.)

o. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts. (II Pet. 1:19.)

p. Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ. (I Thess. 2:6.)

q. But he is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:29.)

r. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.)

s. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them (29). And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead. (Lu. 16:29, 31.)

Chapter 6.

a. And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals. (Mat. 14:15.)

b. In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's passover. (Lev. 23:5.) Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God: for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night. (Dt. 16:1.)

c. And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick. (Mat. 14:14.)

d. And Moses said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month. Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them? (Num. 11:21, 22.)

e. And his servitor said, What! should I set this before an hundred men? He said again, Give the people, that they may eat: for thus saith the Lord, They shall eat, and shall leave thereof. (II Ks. 4:43.)

f. And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee. (Ex. 23:25.) For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer. (I Tim. 4:5.)

g. I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. (Dt. 18:18.) Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Is. 7:14.) And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? (Mat. 11:3.) And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No. (Jno. 1:21.) Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. (Jno. 7:40.)

h. And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there 19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jē'ṣus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jē'ṣus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Ti-bē'rĭ-as nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jē'ṣus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Ca-pēr'na-ŭm, seeking for Jē'ṣus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Răb'bī, when camest thou hither?

26 [h]Jē'ṣus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour [5]not [i]for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: [j]for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Jē'ṣus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, [k]What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 Our [l]fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jē'ṣus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Mō'ṣeṣ gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 [c]And Jē'ṣus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger: and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, [m]that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, [n]that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jē'ṣus, the son of Jō'ṣeph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jē'ṣus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 [o]It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not [p]that any man hath seen the Father, save [q]he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 [r]Verily, verily, I say unto you, [r]He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and [s]the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore [t]strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jē'ṣus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

4. In vs. 26-59 is contained the second address of Jesus delivered to the hostile Jews; the character of which, as well as the character of his miracles, was determined by the temper of his enemies.

5. Labor not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life. (W.) Thus Jesus does not condemn labor for material things, but does seek to rivet the attention chiefly upon life everlasting.

6. In the remainder of the ch. Christ addresses himself to the people as divided into three classes—First, his persecutors, the Jews, who reject him and his teachings; second, a body of Christians who have been converted to him; third, the 12 apostles. He presents to them all alike the true bread of life.

7. In vs. 47-59 Jesus draws the comparison between himself and the manna in the wilderness. In vs. 47-50 he declares that what the manna was to the fathers in the wilderness, he is to all who accept him by faith. In vs. 51, 52, he declares his flesh to be the bread of life; as the Jewish fathers in faith ate the manna, so we must accept Christ, the true bread of life, by faith. In vs. 53-59, his blood is declared to be the symbol of life-giving principle. He that eateth his flesh and drinketh his blood shall live by him.

alone. (Mat. 14:23.) And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. (Mk. 6:47.)

i. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (Jno. 4:14.) For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. (Rom. 6:23.)

j. And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 3:17.) And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. (Jno. 5:37.) Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know. (Acts 2:22.)

k. And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. (Mk. 8:11.) For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom. (I Cor. 1:22.)

l. And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat. (Ex. 16:15.) And the manna was as coriander seed, and the color thereof as the color of bdellium. (Num. 11:7.) And did all eat the same spiritual meat. (I Cor. 10:3.)

m. And I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand. (Jno. 10:28.) That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none. (Jno. 18:9.) For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. (Col. 3:3.)

n. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst, but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. (Jno. 4:14.)

o. And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children. (Is. 54:13.) And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (Jer. 31:34.) This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them. (Heb. 10:16.)

p. No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.) And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. (Jno. 5:37.)

q. All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father, neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. (Mat. 11:27.) All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. (Lu. 10:22.) But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me. (Jno. 7:29.) For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.)

r. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.)

s. Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice an offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me (5). By the which will we are sanctified to the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. (Heb. 10:5, 10.)

t. So there was a division among the people because of him. (Jno. 7:43.) There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings. (Jno. 10:19.)

54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.
55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.
56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, [u]dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.
58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.
59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Ca-pĕr'na-ŭm.
60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying; who can hear it?
61 When Jē'şus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?
62 What [v]and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?
63 It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, [w]they are spirit, and they are life.
64 But there are some of you that believe not. [x]For Jē'şus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.
65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.
66 ¶ From that time many of his disciples [y]went back, and walked no more with him.
67 Then said Jē'şus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?
68 Then Sī'mon Pē'tĕr answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.
69 And we believe and are sure that thou art that Chrīst, the Son of the living God.
70 Jē'şus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?
71 He spake of Jū'das Īs-căr'ī-ot the son of Sī'mon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldness of his kinsmen: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

1 [1]After these things Jē'şus walked in Găl'ī-lee: for he would not walk in Jew'rў, because the Jews sought to kill him.

Ch. 7. A. D. 32.

1. Ch. 7 is an account of Christ at the Feast of Tabernacles.

2. His brothers, sons of Joseph and Mary. Their names were Judas, Joseph, James and Simeon. James became in later life "James the just," author of the Epistle of James; and Judas became Jude, author of the epistle which bears his name.

3. In vs. 11-36 is an account of Christ's first discourse at the Feast of Tabernacles.

4. The Jews had been questioning Jesus, asking him how he had learned to teach others when he himself was unlearned. Vs. 16-24 contain his answer.

2 Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.
3 [a]His [2]brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Jū-dæ'ā, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.
4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.
5 For neither did his brethren believe in him.
6 Then Jē'şus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.
7 [b]The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.
8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.
9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Găl'ī-lee.
10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.
11 [3]Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?
12 And [c]there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some [d]said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.
13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.
14 ¶ Now about the midst of the feast Jē'şus went up into the temple, and taught.
15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?
16 [4]Jē'şus answered them, and said, My [e]doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
17 [f]If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.
18 He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.
19 Did [g]not Mō'şeş give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?
20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?
21 Jē'şus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.
22 Mō'şeş therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Mō'şeş, [h]but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.
23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Mō'şeş should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have

u. But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. (I Cor. 6:17.) And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us. (I Jno. 3:24.) Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I Jno. 4:15, 16.)

v. And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven. (Jno. 3:13.) And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. (Acts 1:9.) Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. (Eph. 4:8.)

w. This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me. (Ps. 119:50.) For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.)

x. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men. (Jno. 2:24.) For he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean. (Jno. 13:11.)

y. And Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God. (Lu. 9:62.) Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. (Heb. 10:38.) They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. (I Jno. 2:19.)

Chapter 7.

a. While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him. (Mat. 12:46.) These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren. (Acts 1:14.)

b. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. (Jno. 15:19.)

c. Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them. (Jno. 9:16.)

d. But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet. (Mat. 21:46.) And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people. (Lu. 7:16.)

e. For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. (Jno. 12:49.) He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me. (Jno. 14:24.)

f. Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth. (Hos. 6:3.) Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word. (Jno. 8:43.)

g. This is he that was in the church in the wilderness with the Angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the lively oracles to give unto us. (Acts 7:38.)

h. This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man-child among you shall be circumcised. (Gen. 17:10.)

made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?

24 [i]Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Je-ru'sa-lĕm, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?

26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very [5]Chrīst?

27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Chrīst cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Jē'şus in the temple as he taught, saying, [j]Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me [k]is true, whom ye know not.

29 But [l]I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 [6]Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Chrīst cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Phăr'ī-seeş heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Phăr'ī-seeş and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jē'şus unto them, [m]Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jewş among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the [n]dispersed among the Gĕn'tīleş, and teach the Gĕn'tīleş?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 [7]In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jē'şus stood and cried, saying, [o]If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his [8]belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 (But [p]this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Hō'lў [9]Ghōst was not yet given; because that Jē'şus was not yet [q]glorified.)

40 ¶ Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.

41 Others said, This is the Chrīst. But some said, Shall Chrīst come out of Găl'ī-lee?

42 Hath [r]not the scripture said, That Chrīst cometh of the seed of Dā'vid, and out of the town of Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, where Dā'vid was?

5. That is, the people began to think that even the rulers had been compelled to believe him to be the Christ, hence no longer sought his life.

6. In vs. 30-37 the Judaists became enraged at his teachings and sought to lay hands on him; but, his hour not yet having come, they were unnerved and over-awed by power they knew not whence.

7. In vs. 37-53 is an account of Christ's second discourse at the Feast of Tabernacles.

8. The inner man, his soul. (Prov. 20:27)—"The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord, searching all the inward parts."

9. That is, as Christ had not yet returned to the Father, he had not yet sent the active ministry of the Holy Ghost into the world.

10. In vs. 45-53 the chief priests and Pharisees manifest consternation and confusion over the officers' inability to take him.

Ch. 8. A. D. 32.

1. The place where Jesus usually retired at night during the passion week and the only mention John makes of the term.

2 In vs. 2-11 is an account of where the scribes and Pharisees sought to entrap Christ by bringing unto him a woman accused of adultery, the punishment for which was death, and asking him what should be done with her.

43 So there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶ [10]Then came the officers to the chief priests and Phăr'ī-seeş; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Phăr'ī-seeş, Are ye also deceived?

48 Have any of the rulers or of the Phăr'ī-seeş believed on him?

49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.

50 Nĭc-o-dē'mus saith unto them, (he that came to Jē'şus by night, being one of them,)

51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Găl'ī-lee? Search, and look: for out [s]of Găl'ī-lee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went into his own house.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Christ delivereth the woman taken in adultery. 12 He preacheth himself the light of the world, 33 and answereth the Jews.

1 Jē'şus went unto the mount [1]of Ŏl'īveş.

2 [2]And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Phăr'ī-seeş brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 Now [a]Mō'şeş in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jē'şus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, [b]He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jē'şus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jē'şus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

i. These things also belong to the wise. It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment. (Prov. 24:23.) Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. (Jno. 8:15.)

j. Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. (Jno. 8:14.)

k. There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. (Jno. 5:32.) God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged. (Rom. 3:4.)

l. All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. (Mat. 11:27.) As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. (Jno. 10:15.)

m. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you. (1 Jno. 13:33.)

n. And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. (Is. 11:12.) James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting. (Jas. 1:1.)

o. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. (Is. 55:1.) And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. (Rev. 22:17.)

p. For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Is. 44:3.) And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 2:28.)

q. These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. (Jno. 12:16.)

r. The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne. (Ps. 132:11.) And thou, Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. (Mat. 2:6.)

s. And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (I Ks. 17:1.) And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. (Jno. 1:46.)

a. And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbor's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death. (Lev. 20:10.)

b. The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you. (Dt. 17:7.) Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things. (Rom. 2:1.)

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jē'ṣus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12 ¶ [3]Then spake Jē'ṣus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Phăr'ī-seeṣ therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jē'ṣus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh; I [4]judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and [c]the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jē'ṣus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jē'ṣus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

21 [5]Then said Jē'ṣus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jewṣ, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, [d]Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jē'ṣus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jē'ṣus unto them, When ye [e]have lifted up the Son of man, [f]then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but [g]as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And [h]he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31 Then said Jē'ṣus to those Jewṣ which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32 And ye shall know the truth, and [i]the truth shall make you free.

33 ¶ They answered him, We be Ā'bră-hăm's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Jē'ṣus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

36 [j]If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 [6]I know that ye are Ā'bră-hăm's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, Ā'brăhăm [k]is our father. Jē'ṣus saith unto them, [l]If ye were Ā'bră-hăm's children, ye would do the works of Ā'bră-hăm.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Ā'bră-hăm.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God.

42 Jē'ṣus said unto them, [m]If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I [n]proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

47 He [o]that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Jewṣ, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a [7]Sămăr'ĭ-tan, and hast a devil?

49 Jē'ṣus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 And [p]I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

3. In vs. 12-59 is the third discourse delivered by Christ at the Feast of Tabernacles and also an account of the attempt made to stone him.

4. That is, their own lives form the judgments wherewith they are judged.

5. In vs. 2 -24 are stated the fatal effects of rejecting Christ.

6. In vs. 37-47 the character of the persecuting Jew is set in contrast to the character of Christ.

7. The most diabolical epithet they could utter was to call him a Samaritan.

c. And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. (Jno. 5:37.) For he received from God the Father honor and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (II Pet. 1:17.)

d. He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. (Jno. 3:31.)

e. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up. (Jno. 3:14.) Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. (Jno. 12:13.)

f. I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise. (Rom. 1:14.)

g. Verily, verily, I say unto thee We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen: and ye receive not our witness. (Jno. 3:11.)

h. Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. (Jno. 14:10.)

i. For sin shall not have dominion over you; for ye are not under the law, but under grace (14). Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness. (Rom. 6:14 18.) For the law of the Spirit of life in Jesus Christ hath made me free from the law of sin and death. (Rom. 8:2.) So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. (Js. 2:12.)

j. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered? (Is. 49:24.) Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. (II Cor. 3:17.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.) And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. (Rev. 5:9.)

k. And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father; for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. (Mat. 3:9.)

l. For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh. (Rom. 2:28.) Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called. (Rom. 9:7.)

m. We love him, because he first loved us. (I Jno. 4:19.) Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. (I Jno. 5:1.)

n. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.)

o. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error. (I Jno. 4:6.)

p. I receive not honor from men. (Jno. 5:41.) He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. (Jno. 7:18.)

51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [q]If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. [r]Ā'bră-hăm is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Ā'brăhăm, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?

54 Jē'şus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: [s]it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:

55 Yet [t]ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.

56 Your father Ā'bră-hăm [u]rejoiced to see my day: [v]and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Ā'bră-hăm?

58 Jē'şus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Ā'bră-hăm was, [w]I am.

59 Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jē'şus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The man that was born blind restored to sight. 13 The Pharisees excommunicate him: 35 but he is received of Jesus. 39 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

1 [1]And as Jē'şus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who [a]did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Jē'şus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 [b]I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, [c]I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

Ch. 9. A. D. 32

1. In ch. 9 Jesus restores the sight of a man born blind, which aroused much animosity among the Jews, the effect of which is stated in this ch.

2. In vs. 13-17 the Pharisees examine the man whose sight has been restored.

3. In vs. 18-23 the parents of the man are examined.

7 And said unto him, Go, [d]wash in the pool of Sĭ-lō'am, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) [e]He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jē'şus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Sĭlō'am, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 ¶ [2]They brought to the Phăr'ĭ-sees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath day when Jē'şus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Phăr'ĭ-sees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Phăr'ĭ-sees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? [f]And there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, [g]He is a prophet.

18 [3]But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because [h]they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he

q. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life. (Jno. 5:24.)

r. Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever? (Zech. 1:5.) These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.)

s. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. (Jno. 16:14.) The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. (Acts 3:13.)

t. Then cried Jesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. (Jno. 7:28.)

u. And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice. (Gen. 22:18.) And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. (Gal. 3:8.)

v. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.)

a. And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live. (Acts 28:4.)

b. Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. (Jno. 4:34.) Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. (Jno. 11:9.) Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. (Jno. 12:35.) I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. (Jno. 17:4.)

c. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not (5). That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. (Jno. 1:5, 9.) And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. (Jno. 3:19.) Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (Jno. 8:12.)

d. But the gate of the fountain repaired Shallum the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of part of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the locks thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Siloah by the king's garden, and unto the stairs that go down from the city of David. (Neh. 3:15.) Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son. (Is. 8:6.)

e. Then went he down and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean. (II Ks. 5:14.)

f. And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people (12). So there was a division among the people because of him. (Jno. 7:12, 43.) There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings. (Jno. 10:19.)

g. The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken. (Dt. 18:15.) The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. (Jno. 4:19.) Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world. (Jno. 6:14.)

h. Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they was Chrīst, he [i]should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is [4]of age; ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, [j]Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they [5]reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Mō'ṣeṣ' disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, [k]Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that [l]God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35 Jē'ṣus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on [m]the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?

37 And Jē'ṣus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

39 ¶ [6]And Jē'ṣus said, For judgment I am come into this world, [n]that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.

40 And some of the Phăr'ī-seeṣ which were with him heard these words, [o]and said unto him, Are we blind also?

41 Jē'ṣus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have [7]no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd.
24 He proveth by his works that he is the Son of God: 39 escapeth the Jews.

1 [1]Verily, verily, I say unto you, [a]He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the [b]door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him [c]the [2]porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a [d]stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This [3]parable spake Jē'ṣus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jē'ṣus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the [c]door of the sheep.

8 All [f]that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The [g]thief [4]cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

11 [h]I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and [i]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

4. Not having succeeded in getting the testimony they desire, so they could condemn Christ, they make a second examination of the man whose sight had been restored. (Vs. 24-34.)

5. Vilify.

6. That is, to seal the purpose of men.

7. As the blind are blameless for not seeing, so the spiritual blind, being without opportunity to see the light, are blameless.

Ch. 10. A. D. 32.

1. In vs. 1-21 is the discourse on the good shepherd.

2. The door-keeper.

3. A parable, because of spiritual truth presented through natural symbols.

4. That is, the religious impostor.

should be put out of the synagogue. (Jno. 12:42.) And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them. (Acts 5:13.)

i. They shall put you out of the synagogues; yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. (Jno. 16:2.)

j. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me? (Jno. 7:19.)

k. Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things? (Jno. 3:10.)

l. Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him? (Job 27:9.) There they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men. (Job 35:12.) They cried, but there was none to save them; even unto the Lord, but he answered them not. (Ps. 18:41.) The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. (Ps. 34:15.) If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me. (Ps. 66:18.) Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.) The Lord is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. (Prov. 15:29.) He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination. (Prov. 28:9.)

m. Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God. (Mat. 14:33.) And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. (Mat. 16:16.)

n. Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not; and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand. (Mat. 13:13.) To the one we are the savor of death unto death; and to the other the savor of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things? (II Cor. 2:16.)

o. And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness. (Rom. 2:19.)

a. His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. (Is. 56:10.) I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied. (Jer. 23:21.)

b. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.)

c. For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries. (I Cor. 16:9.)

d. That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive. (Eph. 4:14.)

e. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. (Eph. 2:18.) Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus. (Heb. 10:19.)

f. Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the Lord. (Jer. 23:1.) My people hath been lost sheep; their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting-place. (Jer. 50:6.)

g. For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. (Acts 20:29.) But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.)

h. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young. (Is. 40:11.) And I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. (Ez. 34:23.) For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment. (Ez. 34:11-16.) Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant. (Heb. 13:20.) And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. (I Pet. 5:4.) For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Rev. 7:17.)

i. For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor feed that that standeth still; but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces. (Zech. 11:16.)

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.
14 I am the good shepherd, and [j]know my sheep, and [k]am known of mine.
15 As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.
16 And [l]other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and [m]there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.
17 Therefore doth my Father [5]love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take [6]it again.
18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.
19 ¶ There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.
20 And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?
21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?
22 ¶ [7]And it was at Je-ru'sa-lĕm the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.
23 And Jē'sus walked in the temple in Sŏl'-o-mon's porch.
24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Chrīst, tell us plainly.
25 Jē'sus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.
26 But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.
27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:
28 And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.
29 My [n]Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.
30 [o]I and my Father are one.
31 Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him.
32 Jē'sus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?
33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest [p]thyself God.
34 Jē'sus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?
35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken;
36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and [q]sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?
37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.
38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.
39 Therefore they sought again to take him: but he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away again beyond Jor'dan into the place where Jŏhn at first baptized; and there he abode.
41 And many resorted unto him, and said, Jŏhn did no miracle: but all things that Jŏhn spake of this man were true.
42 And [r]many believed on him there.

5. The Son was given because of the Father's great love for man.

6. Christ not only conquers death, but honors resurrection by becoming its first-fruits.

7. In vs. 22-39 is an account of Jesus' attending the feast of dedication at Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 11.

1 Christ raiseth Lazarus. 45 Many Jews believe. 49 Caiaphas prophesieth. 54 Jesus hid himself.

Ch. 11. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 11 is devoted to an account of the raising of Lazarus from the dead and the consequences of it.

1 [1]Now a certain man was sick, named Lăz'-a-rus, of Bĕth'ă-nў, the town of [a]Mā'rў and her sister Mär'thà.
2 (It [b]was that Mā'rў which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lăz'a-rus was sick.)
3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.
4 When Jē'sus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.
5 Now Jē'sus loved Mär'thà, and her sister, and Lăz'a-rus.
6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Jū-dæ'à again.
8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?
9 Jē'sus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.
10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lăz'a-rus [c]sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.
12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.
13 Howbeit Jē'sus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.
14 Then said Jē'sus unto them plainly, Lăz'-a-rus is dead.

j. Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his: And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. (II Tim. 2:19.)

k. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him. (Eph. 1:17.) That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death. (Phil. 3:10.)

l. The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, besides those that are gathered unto him. (Is. 56:8.)

m. And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all. (Ezk. 37:22.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.)

n. I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word. (Jno. 17:6.)

o. And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. (Jno. 17:11.) For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one. (I Jno. 5:7.)

p. Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. (Jno. 5:18.)

q. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (Jno. 3:17.) Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me. (Jno. 8:42.)

r. As he spake these words many believed on him. (Jno. 8:30.) Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. (Jno. 11:45.)

a. Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. (Lu. 10:38.)

b. There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat. (Mat. 26:7.) And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment. (Lu. 7:37.)

c. And the Lord said unto Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; and this people will rise up, and go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land whither they go to be among them, and will forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them. (Dt. 31:16.) And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. (Dan. 12:2.) He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. (Mat. 9:24.) And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. (Acts 7:60.) Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed. (I Cor. 15:51.)

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.
16 Then said Thŏm'as, which is called Dĭd'-ў-mus, unto his fellowdisciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.
17 Then when Jē'şus came, he found that he had lain in the grave [2]four days already.
18 Now Bĕth'ă-nў was nigh unto Je-rų'salĕm, about fifteen [3]furlongs off:
19 And many of the Jews came to Mär'thà and Mā'rў, to comfort them concerning their brother.
20 Then Mär'thà, as soon as she heard that Jē'şus was coming, went and met him: but [c]Mā'rў sat still in the house.
21 Then said Mär'thà unto Jē'şus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
22 But I know, that even now, [d]whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.
23 Jē'şus saith unto her, Thy brother shall [e]rise again.
24 Mär'thà saith unto him, [f]I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.
25 Jē'şus said unto her, I am [g]the resurrection, and the [h]life: [i]he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:
26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?
27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: [j]I believe that thou art the Chrīst, the Son of God, which should come into the world.
28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mā'rў her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.
29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.
30 Now Jē'şus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Mär'thà met him.
31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mā'rў, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.
32 Then when Mā'rў was come where Jē'şus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
33 When Jē'şus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, 34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.
35 Jē'şus wept.
36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!
37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?
38 Jē'şus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.
39 Jē'şus said, Take ye away the stone. Mär'thà, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.
40 Jē'şus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?
41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jē'şus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.
42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.
43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lăz'a-rus, [k]come forth.
44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jē'şus said unto them, Loose him, and let him go.
45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mā'rў, and had seen the things which Jē'şus did, believed on him.
46 But some of them went their ways to the Phăr'ĭ-sees, and told them what things Jē'şus had done.
47 ¶ [4]Then [l]gathered the chief priests and the Phăr'ĭ-sees a council, and said, [m]What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.
48 If we let him thus alone, [n]all men will believe on him: and the Rō'mans shall come and take away both our place and nation.
49 And one of them, named [o]Cā'ia-phās, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,
50 Nor [p]consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.
51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jē'şus should die for that nation;
52 And not for that nation only, [q]but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.
53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.
54 Jē'şus therefore walked no more openly

2. That is, by counting in the day he was called forth by Christ.

3. About two miles.

4. The raising of Lazarus from the dead produced great commotion among the people, as a result of which members of Sanhedrin have been summoned to take action against Jesus. The account is given in vs. 47-57.

d. Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. (Jno. 9:31.)
e. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. (Dan. 12:2.) For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him. (I Thess. 4:14.)
f. And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just. (Lu. 14:14.) And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. (Jno. 5:29.)
g. For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will. (Jno. 5:21.) And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day. (Jno. 6:39, 40.)
h. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. (Jno. 1:4.) Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.) When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. (Col. 3:4.) And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. (I Jno. 5:11.)
i. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. (Jno. 3:36.) He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. (I Jno. 5:10.)
j. And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. (Mat. 16:16.) And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God. (Jno. 6:69.)
k. The Lord killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up. (I Sam. 2:6.) For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast. (Ps. 33:9.) And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. (Lu. 7:14.) And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise. (Lu. 8:54.) But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up. (Acts 9:40.)
l. The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his Anointed, saying. (Ps. 2:2.) Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas. (Mat. 26:3.) After two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death. (Mk. 14:1.)
m. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him. (Jno. 12:19.)
n. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:26.)
o. Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. (Jno. 18:14.)
p. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar. (Jno. 19:12.)
q. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. (Jno. 10:16.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called E'phrā-ĭm, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm before the passover, [r]to purify themselves.

56 Then sought they for Jē'sus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Phăr'ī-sees had given [s]a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet. 9 The people flock to see Lazarus. 10 The high priests consult to kill him. 12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem. 20 Greeks desire to see Jesus. 23 He foretelleth his death. 37 The Jews are blinded.

1 Then [1]Jē'sus six days before the passover came to Bĕth'ă-nў, where Lăz'a-rus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper; and Măr'thà served: but Lăz'a-rus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then took [a]Mā'rў a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of [2]Jē'sus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Jū'das Īs-căr'ī-ot, Sī'mon's son, which [3]should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [b]had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jē'sus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For [c]the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jē'sus' sake only, but that they might see Lăz'a-rus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ [d]But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lăz'a-rus also to death;

11 Because [e]that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jē'sus.

12 ¶ [4]On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jē'sus was coming to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, 13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, [f]Ho-săn'nà: Blessed is the King of Īs'ra-el that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And Jē'sus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, 15 Fear not, [g]daughter of Sī'ŏn: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things [h]understood not his disciples at the first: [i]but when Jē'sus was glorified, [j]then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lăz'a-rus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Phăr'ī-sees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ [5]And there were certain Greeks among them, [k]that came up to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Phīl'ĭp, which was of Bĕth-să'ī-dà of Găl'ī-lee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jē'sus.

22 Phīl'ĭp cometh and telleth Ān'drew: and again Ān'drew and Phīl'ĭp tell Jē'sus.

23 ¶ And Jē'sus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 He that loveth [6]his life shall lose it; and he that hateth [7]his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and [l]where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: [m]but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. [n]Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jē'sus answered and said, [o]This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

5. Every man is commanded to appear against him.

Ch. 12. A. D. 33.

1. Vs. 2-11 contain an account of the supper and anointing of Jesus at Bethany.

2. And poured it upon his head. (Mat. 26:7)—"There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment and poured it on his head as he sat at meat."

3. Would.

4. In vs. 12-50 is an account of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and transactions there; parallel to Mat. 21:1-17, Mark 11:1-11, Luke 19:29-44.

5. Vs. 20-36 contain Christ's address to the Greeks, John being the only apostle who records this address.

6. That is, who embraces the selfish side only of this life.

7. That is, who abhors or denounces the selfish loves of the world.

there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Jesus Christ. (Gal. 3:28.)

r. And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes. (Ex. 19:10.)

Chapter 12.

a. Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. (Lu. 10:38, 39.) (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.) (Jno. 11:2.)

b. When he speaketh fair, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart. (Prov. 26:25.) For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor. (Jno. 13:29.)

c. For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land. (Dt. 15:11.) For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always. (Mat. 26:11.)

d. For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood. (Prov. 1:16.) And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead. (Lu. 16:31.)

e. For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy. (Mk. 15:10.) Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. (Jno. 11:45.)

f. Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things. And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen, and Amen. (Ps. 72:18, 19.) Save now, I beseech thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee, send now prosperity. (Ps. 118:25.)

g. Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. (Is. 62:11.) Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass. (Zech. 9:9.)

h. And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken. (Lu. 18:34.)

i. (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) (Jno. 7:39.) Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. (Heb. 1:3.)

j. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (Jno. 14:26.)

k. Moreover concerning a stranger, that is not of thy people Israel, but cometh out of a far country for thy name's sake. (I Ks. 8:41.)

l. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. (I Thess. 4:17.)

m. When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness. (Lu. 22:53.)

n. For he received from God the Father honor and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (II Pet. 1:17.)

o. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me. (Jno. 11:42.)

31 Now is the [s]judgment of this world: now shall [r]the [p]prince of this world be cast out.
32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw [q]all men unto me.
33 This he said, signifying what death he should die.
34 The people answered him, We [r]have heard out of the law that Chrīst abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?
35 Then Jē'ṣus said unto them, Yet a little while [s]is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for [t]he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.
36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jē'ṣus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.
37 ¶ [10]But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:
38 That the saying of [11]E-ṣā'ias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?
39 Therefore they could [12]not believe, because that E-ṣā'ias said again, 40 He hath [13]blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.
41 These things said E-ṣā'ias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.
42 ¶ Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Phăr'ī-seeṣ they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:
43 For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.
44 ¶ [14]Jē'ṣus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.
45 And he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.
46 I am [u]come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.
47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for [v]I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.
48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [w]the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.
49 For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.
50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Jesus washeth the disciples' feet. 18 He foretelleth that Judas should betray him: 36 and forewarneth Peter of his denial.

1 [1]Now [2]before the feast of the passover, when Jē'ṣus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.
2 And supper [3]being ended, the devil having now put into the heart of Jū'das Īs-căr'ī-ot, Sī'mon's son, to betray him;
3 Jē'ṣus knowing [a]that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God;
4 [b]He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself.
5 After that he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.
6 Then cometh he to Sī'mon Pē'tēr: and Pē'tēr saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?
7 Jē'ṣus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.
8 Pē'tēr saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jē'ṣus answered him, [c]If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.
9 Sī'mon Pē'tēr saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.
10 Jē'ṣus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all.
11 For he knew [4]who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.
12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?
13 Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.
14 If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; [d]ye also ought to wash one another's feet.
15 For [e]I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.
16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The serv-

7. That is, now; the period of passion week; the cross becomes a throne of judgment.

9. Satan.

10. In vs. 37-43 is a general summary of Jews' unbelief and rejection of Christ.

11. That is, Isaiah.

12. That is, they could not now believe because they had so obstinately refused to believe for so long a time.

13. That is, they had arbitrarily made their choice—they became more obstinate in their determination not to accept him.

14. Vs. 44-50 contain a summary or winding up of the testimony of Jesus delivered to the Jews.

Ch. 13. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 13 is a record of some of the events which transpired at the last supper. In vs. 1-20 is the account of Jesus' washing the feet of the disciples, thus teaching them humility.

2. That is, Thursday of passion week.

3. In vs. 25-28 we learn that the supper was not ended at this time, but was in progress. Luke states that as soon as they had taken their position on the couches, the strife arose between them as to precedency, which was the occasion of Christ's washing their feet, as a rebuke to their strife.

4. Who was about to or would betray him.

p. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.) Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me. (Jno. 14:30.)
q. But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. (Heb. 2:9.)
r. He shall build an house for my name; and I will stablish the throne of his kingdom for ever. (II Sam. 7:13.) The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. (Ps. 110:4.) For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire. (Is. 9:5.) And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children, for ever: and my servant David shall be their prince for ever. (Ez. 37:25.) Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriac, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. (Dan. 2:4.)
s. I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant to the people, for a light of the Gentiles. (Is. 42:6.) That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. (Jno. 1:9.)
t. But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes. (I Jno. 2:11.)
u. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. (Jno. 3:19.) Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (Jno. 8:12.)
v. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (Jno. 3:17.)
w. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which ye shall speak in my name, I will require it of him. (Dt. 18:19.)

a. The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. (Jno. 3:35.) For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him. (I Cor. 15:27.) Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him. (Heb. 2:8.)
b. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth. (Lu. 22:27.) But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men. And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. (Phil. 2:7, 8.)
c. Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ez. 36:25.) Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. (Jno. 3:5.) That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.) Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.)
d. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. (Rom. 12:10.) Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility; for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. (I Pet. 5:5.)
e. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 2:5.) For even hereunto were ye called; because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps. (I Pet.

ant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 [5]When Jē'şus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that [f]one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now [g]there was leaning on Jē'şus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jē'şus loved.

24 Sī'mon Pē'tēr therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Jē'şus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jē'şus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Jū'das Is-căr'ī-ot, the son of Sī'mon.

27 [h]And after the sop Sā'tan entered into him. Then said Jē'şus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, [i]because Jū'das had the bag, that Jē'şus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ [6]Therefore, when he was gone out, Jē'şus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 [j]A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also [k]love one another.

5. In vs. 21-35 Christ tells the disciples that one of the number will betray him; parallel to Mat. 26:21-28, Mark 14:19-21, and Luke 22:21-23.

6. Thus the foulest of deeds seeks the blackness of night.

7. That is, if they love, as in v. 34.

Ch. 14. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 14 contains the discourse while waiting at the table after the supper. Jesus takes this opportunity of comforting his disciples, thus endeavoring to strengthen them and prepare them for the ordeal which is fast approaching.

2. That is, there are many compartments in the heavenly home, some occupied by angels and archangels, but there is room still, and Christ goes to prepare it for them.

35 By this shall [7]all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love [l]one to another.

36 ¶ Sī'mon Pē'tēr said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jē'şus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; [m]but thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Pē'tēr said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jē'şus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life, and one with the Father: 13 assureth their prayers in his name to be effectual: 15 requesteth love and obedience, 16 promiseth the Holy Ghost the Comforter, 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

1 [1]Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my [a]Father's house [2]are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [b]I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, [c]I will come again, and receive you unto myself; [d]that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thŏm'as saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jē'şus saith unto him, I am [e]the way, [f]the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 If [g]ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Phĭl'ĭp saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jē'şus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Phĭl'ip? [h]he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you [i]I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that

2:21.) He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked. (I Jno. 2:6.)

f. And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. (Acts 1:7.) They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. (I Jno. 2:19.)

g. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son! (Jno. 19:26.)

h. Set thou a wicked man over him; and let Satan stand at his right hand. (Ps. 109:6.) Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil? (Jno. 6:70.)

i. This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein. (Jno. 12:6.)

j. Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:18.) Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently. (I Pet. 1:22.)

k. Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people: but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:18.) But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another. (I Thess. 4:9.) Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently. (I Pet. 1:22.) Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. (I Jno. 4:7.) Let brotherly love continue. (Heb. 13:1.) For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Gal. 5:14.) But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. (Mat. 5:44.)

l. And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart. (Acts 2:46.)

m. Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shown me. (II Pet. 1:14.)

Chapter 14.

a. For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. (II Cor. 5:1.)

b. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you. (Jno. 13:33.)

c. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. (Acts 1:11.)

d. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. (I Thess. 4:17.)

e. The Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing. (Heb. 9:8.)

f. For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (Jno. 1:17.) And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (Jno. 8:32.)

g. Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also. (Jno. 8:19.)

h. Who is the image of the invisible God. (Col. 1:15.) Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, etc. (Heb. 1:3.)

i. Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ [3]If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and [i]he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

17 Even the Spirit of truth; whom [k]the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, [l]and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.

19 Yet a [4]little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye [m]see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 He [n]that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will [5]manifest myself to him.

22 Jū'das saith unto him, not Ĭs-căr'ĭ-ot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jē'şus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, [o]and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the Hō'lў Ghōst, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for [p]my Father is greater than I.

29 And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

3. In vs. 15-31 Christ tells the disciples that he will send the comforter to them to take his place.

4. That is, not many hours.

5. That is, the witness of the spirit with our spirit that we are born of Christ.

Ch. 15. A. D. 33.

1. This ch. is a continuation of the discourse at the table after supper. In vs. 1-8 Christ teaches the spiritual unity of himself and people under the parable of the vine.

2. They might ask what they would and it should be done unto them because the indwelling of his word in them would bring about that harmony of their desires with the divine will.

3. In vs. 12-17 Christ gives to his disciples the great commandment of love based upon the example he has set them.

4. In the remaining portion of the ch. the disciples are taught that, if the world hates them, they must remember that it hated him, and that the servant is not greater than his master.

5. Meaning the unregenerate, selfish nature or disposition of man.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The mutual love between Christ and his members, under the parable of the vine. 18 A comfort in the hatred and persecution of the world. 26 The office of the Holy Ghost, and of the apostles.

1 [1]I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

6 If a [a]man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask [2]what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 Herein [b]is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 [3]This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 Ye [c]have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 [4]If [d]the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If [e]ye were of the [5]world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you,

Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. (Jno. 5:19.)

j. For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. (Rom. 8:15.)

k. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. (Rom. 8:7.) But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. (I Cor. 2:14.)

l. But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. (I Jno. 2:27.)

m. A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me; because I go to the Father. (Jno. 16:16.)

n. But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him. (I Jno. 2:5.)

o. He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. (Ps. 91:1.) And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I Jno. 4:16.) Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. (Rev. 3:20.)

p. Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my Spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. (Is. 42:1.) Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. (Jno. 5:18.) I and my Father are one. (Jno. 10:30.)

a. For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come, If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. (Heb. 6:4-6.)

b. Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God. (Phil. 1:11.)

c. Herein is love, not that we love God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (I Jno. 4:10.)

d. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you. (I Jno. 3:13.)

e. They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them. (I Jno. 4:5.)

The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep your's also.

21 But all these things will they do unto you for my [f]name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but [g]now they have no cloke for their sin.

23 He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they [h]both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

26 But [h]when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me:

27 And [i]ye also shall bear witness, because [j]ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples against tribulation by the promise of the Holy Ghost, and by his resurrection and ascension: 23 assureth prayers made in his name to be acceptable to his Father. 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

1 These [1]things have I spoken unto you that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 [2]Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter [3]will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

Ch. 16. A. D. 33.

1. That is, the warnings and encouragements just given.

2. In vs. 7-15 Christ presents to them the struggle of the Spirit in the world.

3. That is, by and through his death he shall purchase the privilege of sending the Comforter.

4. That is, the truth—or truth of God.

5. The day of the resurrection.

6. This promise should never be quoted except when coupled with the terms, i. e., "In my name."

9 Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 Of [a]judgment, because [b]the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he [c]will guide you into [4]all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will [d]shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jē'sus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and [e]your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that [5]day ye shall ask me nothing. [f]Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye [6]shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day ye shall ask in my name:

f. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. (Mat. 10:22.) Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. (Mat. 24:9.) But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten; and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. (Mk. 13:9.) But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake (12). And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. (Lu. 21:12, 17.) But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. (Acts 4:17.) If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. (I Pet. 4:14.)

g. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. (Rom. 1:20.) Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin. (Js. 4:17.)

h. Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear. (Acts 2:33.)

i. But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. (Acts 1:8.) This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. (Acts 2:32.) And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all. (Acts 4:33.) The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed. (I Pet. 5:1.)

j. Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word. (Lu. 1:2.) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

Chapter 16.

a. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. (Acts 26:18.)

b. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.) Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (Jno. 12:31.) And, having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it. (Col. 2:15.)

c. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (Jno. 14:26.) But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things. (I Jno. 2:20.)

d. Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils. (I Tim. 4:1.)

e. And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat? (Lu. 24:41.) Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. (I Pet. 1:8.)

f. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. (Jno. 14:13.) Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. (Jno. 15:16.)

and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 For [g]the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 [7]His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb.

30 Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God.

31 Jē'şus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I have spoken unto you, that [h]in me ye might have peace. [i]In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; [j]I have overcome the world.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorify him, 6 to preserve his apostles, 11 in unity, 17 and truth. 20 to glorify them, and all other believers with him in heaven.

1 These [1]words spake Jē'şus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, [2]Father, the hour [3]is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 As [a]thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many [b]as thou hast given him.

3 And [c]this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jē'şus Chrīst whom thou hast sent.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [d]which I had with thee before the world was.

6 [4]I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world:

7. Vs. 29-33 is an account of the last remarks of the disciples and the answer of Jesus thereto.

Ch. 17. A. D. 33.

1. That is, the words of comfort to the disciples.

2. The name of God in its present import was unknown to the world before revealed by the Son.

3. His work is to be accomplished in the hour of consummation, the hour of sealing it all—the hour of hours is now here.

4. In vs. 6-19 Christ presents his disciples before God and enters a petition for them.

5. The beginning of the first petition for the apostles. It should be observed that the original petition began with "Father" (v. 1); and now, when he asks for the holy, sacred preservation of the apostles, he says "Holy Father;" and in v. 25, where there is allusion to retribution in the world, he says "Righteous Father."

6. Guarded them.

7. To set apart and dedicate to a special office.

8. Thus the authority of all was co-ordinate, because they were to take up the work he had begun and carry it on to completion.

9. In vs. 20-26 Christ broadens his intercessions with the Father to include everybody.

thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: [c]I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine

10 And all [f]mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy [5]Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, [6]I [g]kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and [h]none of them is lost, [i]but the son of perdition; [j]that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou [k]shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 [7]Sanctify [l]them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

18 As thou [8]hast sent me into the world, even so have I also [8]sent them into the world.

19 And [m]for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 [9]Neither pray I for these alone, but for them [n]also which shall believe on me through their word;

21 That [o]they all may be one; as [p]thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also

g. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. (Jno. 14:21.)

i. For the man was above forty years old on whom this miracle of healing was shown. (Acts 4:22.) Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. (II Tim. 3:12.) For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. (Heb. 12:6.) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. (Rev. 3:19.)

j. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered? (Is. 49:24.) Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. (Rom. 8:37.) For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him. (I Cor. 15:27.) As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6:10.) For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. (I Jno. 5:4.)

a. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. (Dan. 7:14.)

b. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. (Jno. 6:37.)

c. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. (Is. 53:11.)

d. I and my Father are one. (Jno. 10:30.) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. (Phil. 2:6.) Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature. (Col. 1:15.) In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.)

e. And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. (I Jno. 5:19.)

f. Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified. (Rom. 8:30.)

g. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. (Jno. 6:39.) And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand. (Jno. 10:28.) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me. (Heb. 2:13.)

h. That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none. (Jno. 18:9.) They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. (I Jno. 2:19.)

i. I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but, that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me. (Jno. 13:18.)

j. Let his days be few; and let another take his office. (Ps. 109:8.) For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and, His bishopric let another take. (Acts 1:20.)

k. Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:4.) But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil. (II Thess. 3:3.) And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. (I Jno. 5:19.)

l. And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith. (Acts 15:9.) That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.)

m. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption. (I Cor 1:30.) For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness. (I Thess. 4:7.) By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. (Heb. 10:10.)

n. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. (Acts 2:41.) Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand. (Acts 4:4.)

o. So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Rom. 12:5.) Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. (I Cor. 1:10.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.)

p. But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works; that may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; [q]that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be [r]made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 Father, [s]I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold [t]my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous [u]Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast [v]loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Judas betrayeth Jesus. 10 Peter smiteth off Malchus' ear. 15 Peter's denial. 28 Jesus' arraignment before Pilate.

1 [1]When Jē'ṣus had spoken these words, he went [2]forth with his disciples over the brook Cē'drŏn, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Jū'das also, which betrayed him, knew the place: [a]for Jē'ṣus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 [b]Jū'das then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Phăr'ī-sees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jē'ṣus therefore, [3]knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jē'ṣus of Năz'a-rĕth. Jē'ṣus saith unto them, I am he. And Jū'das also, which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jē'ṣus of Năz'a-rĕth.

8 Jē'ṣus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, Of [c]them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 Then [d]Sī'mon Pē'tĕr having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Măl'chus.

11 Then said Jē'ṣus unto Pē'tĕr, Put up thy sword into the sheath: [e]the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jē'ṣus, and bound him, 13 [4]And [f]led him away to [5]Ăn'nas first; for he was father in law to Cā'ia-phās, which was the high priest that same year.

14 Now [g]Cā'ia-phās was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ [6]And Sī'mon Pē'tĕr followed Jē'ṣus, and so did [7]another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jē'ṣus into the palace of the high priest.

16 But Pē'tĕr stood at the door without. Then went out that [7]other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that [8]kept the door, and brought in Pē'tĕr.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Pē'tĕr, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Pē'tĕr stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 ¶ The high priest then asked Jē'ṣus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jē'ṣus answered him, [h]I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by [i]struck Jē'ṣus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jē'ṣus answered him, [j]If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 Now Ăn'nas had sent him bound unto Cā'ia-phās the high priest.

25 [9]And Sī'mon Pē'tĕr stood and warmed himself. [k]They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Pē'tĕr cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Pē'tĕr then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.

28 ¶ Then led they Jē'ṣus from Cā'ia-phās unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and [l]they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the [m]passover.

29 Pī'late then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pī'late unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, [n]It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 That the [o]saying of Jē'sus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 Then Pī'late entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jē'sus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

34 Jē'sus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pī'late answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?

36 Jē'sus [p]answered, [q]My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pī'late therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jē'sus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should [r]bear witness unto the truth. Every one that [s]is of the truth heareth my voice.

38 Pī'late saith unto him, What is [10]truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all.

39 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

40 Then [t]cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Ba-răb'bas. Now Ba-răb'bas was a robber.

10. Thus Pilate puts to Christ a question man cannot answer, endeavoring thereby to ask of the Master that which would compel him to say, "I know not."

Ch. 19. A. D. 33.

1. Vs. 1-16 give the account of Jesus before Pilate, Pilate's third effort to release him, the scourging and other severities and insults, the Jews' insistent clamor for his life; and Pilate's finally delivering him for crucifixion. Parallel to Mat. 27: 24-31 and Mk. 15:15-20 and Luke 23: 23-25.

9. In vs. 17-30 Jesus crucified and on the cross; parallel to Mat. 27: 35-50 and Mk. 15:24-37 and Luke 23: 33-46.

3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pī'late therefore went forth [3]again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, [b]that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jē'sus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pī'late saith unto them, Behold [4]the man!

6 When [c]the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pī'late saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he [d]made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶ When Pī'late therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jē'sus, Whence art thou? [e]But Jē'sus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pī'late unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Jē'sus answered, [f]Thou couldest have no [5]power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pī'late sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Çæ'sar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Çæ'sar.

13 ¶ When Pī'late therefore heard that saying, he brought Jē'sus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hē'brew, Găb'ba-thà.

14 And [g]it was the [6]preparation of the [7]passover, and about the [8]sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pī'late saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, [h]We have no king but Çæ'sar.

16 Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jē'sus, and led him away.

17 [9]And he bearing his cross [i]went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hē'brew Gŏl'go-thà:

18 Where [j]they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jē'sus in the midst.

And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God. (Rev. 3:14.)

q. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. (Dan. 7:14.)

r. Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people. (Is. 55:4.) t. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you. (Acts 3:14.)

Chapter 19.

a. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again. (Mat. 20:19.) And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified. (Mk. 15:15.) And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again. (Lu. 18:33.)

b. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all. (Jno. 18:38.) For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:21.)

c. The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. (Acts 3:13.)

d. Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy. (Mat. 26:65.)

e. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:7.)

f. When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness. (Lu. 22:53.)

g. Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate. (Mat. 27:62.)

h. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.)

i. Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate. Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach. (Heb. 13:12, 13.)

j. Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors;

19 ¶ And Pī'late wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JĒ'SUS OF NĂZ'A-RĒTH THE KING OF THE JEWS.
20 This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jē'sus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hē'brew, and Greek, and Lăt'in.
21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pī'late, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.
22 Pī'late answered, What I have written I have written.
23 ¶ Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jē'sus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.
24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.
25 ¶ [10]Now there stood by the cross of Jē'sus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mā'rў the wife of Clē'o-phas, and Mā'rў Măg-da-lē'ne.
26 When Jē'sus therefore saw his mother, and [k]the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, [11]Woman, behold thy son!
27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.
28 ¶ [12]After this, [13]Jē'sus knowing that [l]all things were now accomplished, [m]that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.
29 Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a spunge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.
30 When Jē'sus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, [n]It is [14]finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up [o]the ghost.
31 [15]The Jews therefore, [p]because it was the preparation, [q]that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an [r]high day,) besought Pī'late that their legs [16]might be broken, and that they might be taken away.
32 Then [17]came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.
33 But when they came to Jē'sus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:
34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith [s]came there out blood and water.
35 And [t]he [18]that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.
36 For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not [19]be broken.
37 And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.
38 ¶ [20]And after this Jō'seph of Ăr-ĭ-mă-thæ'a, being a disciple of Jē'sus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pī'late that he might take away the body of Jē'sus: and Pī'late gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jē'sus.
39 And there came also [21]Nĭc-o-dē'mus, which at the first came to Jē'sus by night, and brought [u]a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred [22]pound weight.
40 Then took they the body of Jē'sus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.
41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new [v]sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.
42 There laid they Jē'sus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Sī'mon Pē'tēr, and to the [2]other disciple, whom Jē'sus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.
3 Pē'tēr [b]therefore went forth, and that other [2]disciple, and came to the sepulchre.
4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Pē'tēr, and came first to the sepulchre.
5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.
6 Then cometh Sī'mon Pē'tēr following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,

16. That is, with an iron mallet they would break the legs just above the ankle before taking them from the cross—a Roman custom, seemingly for the purpose of increasing the pain of the last agonizing moments of the one on the cross.

17. The soldier guard broke the legs of the two thieves first, and, finding Jesus dead, "they brake not his legs."

18. John.

19. Jesus was the Lamb of God slain for the sins of the world. With the sacrificial lamb no bones should be broken; therefore, as Christ was the sacrificial lamb slain for the world, he was not slain by the Hebrew law (which would have crushed his body by stoning), but by the Roman law. Also for this reason the Roman guards did not break his legs.

and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Is. 53:12.) The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? (Dan. 2:26.) Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. (Gal. 3:13.)

k. Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. (Jno. 13:23.) Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea (7). This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true. (Jno. 21:7, 24.)

l. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his Anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. n. The Lord is well pleased for his righteousness' sake; he will magnify the law, and make it honorable. (Is. 42:21.) Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.) I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. (Jno. 17:4.) For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. (Rom. 10:4.) And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God; From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. (Heb. 10:11-14.)

q. His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is hanged is accursed of God;) that thy land be not defiled, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. (Dt. 21:23.)

r. In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even. (Ex. 12:18.)

s. This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth (6). And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one. (I Jno. 5:6, 8.)

t. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name. (Jno. 20:31.)

u. And they buried him in his own sepulchres, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and divers kinds of spices prepared by the apothecaries' art; and they made a very great burning for him. (II Chr. 16:14.)

v. And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid. (Luke 23:53.)

Chapter 20.

a. In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. (Mat. 28:1.)

b. Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass. (Luke 24:12.)

not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the [c]scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ¶ [3]But [d]Mā'rў stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, 12 And seeth two angels in [4]white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jē'şus had lain.

13 And they said unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 And [e]when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jē'şus standing, and knew not that it was Jē'şus.

15 Jē'şus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jē'şus saith unto her, Mā'rў. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Răb-bō'nī; which is to say, Master.

17 Jē'şus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to [f]my brethren, and say unto them, [g]I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to [h]my God, and your God.

18 Mā'rў Măg-da-lē'ne came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ¶ [5]Then [i]the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jē'şus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he [j]shewed unto them his hands and his side. [k]Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Jē'şus to them again, Peace be unto you: as [l]my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

3. In vs. 11-18 is Christ's first appearance after death to Mary Magdalene.

4. An emblem of purity and holiness.

5. In vs. 19-23 Jesus appears to the apostles in Thomas' absence; parallel to Mk. 16:14-18 and Luke 24: 36-49.

6. In vs. 24-29 Jesus again appears to his disciples with Thomas present.

7. This absence of Thomas, at so critical and dreadful an hour, has caused some critics to think that Thomas was wavering, inasmuch as he thought that Christ's enemies had succeeded in taking his life and that now all would come to nought.

8. The Greek word means miracles.

Ch. 21. A. D. 33.

1. Manifested. In vs. 1-24 is an account of Jesus' appearance at the Sea of Tiberias.

22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Hō'lў Ghōst.

23 Whose [m]soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ [6]But Thŏm'as, one of the twelve, called [n]Dĭd'ў-mus, was not [7]with them when Jē'şus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thŏm'as with them: then came Jē'şus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace [o]be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thŏm'as, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and [p]reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thŏm'as answered and said unto him, [q]My Lord and my God.

29 Jē'şus saith unto him, Thŏm'as, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed [r]are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ¶ And [s]many other [8]signs truly did Jē'şus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

31 But [t]these are written, that ye might believe that Jē'şus is the Chrīst, the Son of God; [u]and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Christ appearing again to his disciples, 15 earnestly commandeth Peter to feed his lambs and sheep: 18 foretelleth him of his death: 22 rebuketh his curiosity touching John.

1 [1]After these things Jē'şus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Ti-bē'rĭ-as; and on this wise shewed he himself.

2 There were together Sī'mon Pē'tĕr, and Thŏm'as called Dĭd'ў-mus, and [a]Na-thăn'a-el of

c. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.) And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David. (Acts 13:34.)

d. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted. (Mk. 16:5.)

e. The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth? (Song 3:3.) Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils. (Mk. 16:9.)

f. I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee. (Ps. 22:22.) For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren. (Rom. 8:29.) For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren. (Heb. 2:11.)

g. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father. (Jno. 16:28.)

h. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him. (Eph. 1:17.)

i. Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. (Mk. 16:14.) And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve. (I Cor. 15:5.)

j. That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

k. And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. (Jno. 16:22.)

l. The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.) And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:18, 19.) As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. (Jno. 17:18.)

m. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. (Mat. 18:18.)

n. Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him. (Jno. 11:16.)

o. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men. (Mic. 5:5.) And having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven. (Col. 1:20.)

p. Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him. For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust. (Ps. 103:13, 14.) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

q. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. (Ps. 91:2.) And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my saviour. (Luke 1:46, 47.) Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen. (I Tim. 1:17.)

r. (For we walk by faith, not by sight.) (II Cor. 5:7.) Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. (I Pet. 1:8.)

t. That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed. (Luke 1:4.) For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. (Rom. 15:4.)

u. That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:15, 16.) Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls. (I Pet. 1:9.)

Chapter 21.

a. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found Cā'nà in Găl'ĭ-lee, and the sons of Zĕb'e-dee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Sī'mon Pē'tĕr saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jē'şus stood on the shore: but the disciples [b]knew not that it was Jē'şus.

5 Then [c]Jē'şus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, [d]Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 [2]Therefore [c]that disciple whom Jē'şus loved saith unto Pē'tĕr, It is the Lord. Now when Sī'mon Pē'tĕr heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and [f]did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 [3]As soon then as they were come to land, they [g]saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jē'şus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Sī'mon Pē'tĕr went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jē'şus saith unto them, [h]Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jē'şus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the [4]third time that Jē'şus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 ¶ [5]So when they had dined, Jē'şus saith to Sī'mon Pē'tĕr, Sī'mon, son of Jō'nas, lovest thou [i]me more [c]than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou [j]knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed [k]my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time, Sī'mon, son of Jō'nas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. [l]He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He saith unto him the [m]third time, Sī'mon, son of Jō'nas, lovest thou me? Pē'tĕr [i]was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, [n]thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jē'şus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 Verily, [o]verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying [p]by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Pē'tĕr, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jē'şus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Pē'tĕr seeing him saith to Jē'şus, Lord, and [q]what shall this man do?

22 Jē'şus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry [r]till I come, what is [s]that to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jē'şus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

25 And there are also many other things which Jē'şus did, the which, if they should be written every one, [t]I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

2. Because of the striking similarity to a former miracle performed, John now declares it to be Jesus.

3. Vs. 9-14 give an account of the miraculous breakfast as an emblem of the eternal banquet prepared by the Lamb.

4. The third time to the disciples but the seventh appearance (1) to Mary Magdalene; (2) to the women who came from the tomb; (3) to the two disciples going to Emmaus; (4) to Peter; (5) to the disciples in the absence of Thomas; (6) to the 11 disciples; and (7) v. 14.

5. In vs. 15-23, after the miraculous breakfast Peter is restored to his former relationship and his martyrdom intimated.

6. More than the rest of these disciples dost thou love me? Perhaps this question was put to Peter because he had—before his denial—asserted his love so much more positively than the others.

7. Peter recognizes the relation between the three-fold confession and his three denials, and is therefore grieved not at the confessions but at his former weakness and denial of his Master.

born of whom Moses in the Law, and the Prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth the son of Joseph. (Jno. 1:45.)

b. And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. (Jno. 20:14.)

c. And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat? (Luke 24:41.)

d. Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught (4). And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake. (Luke 5:4, 6.)

e. Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. (Jno. 13:23.)

f. Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned. (Song 8:7.)

g. And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head: and he did eat and drink, and laid him down again. (I Ks. 19:6.)

h. Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. (Acts 10:41.)

i. Peter was grieved and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended. (Mat. 26:33.)

j. Remember me, O Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore. (II Ks. 20:3.)

k. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.)

l. Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant. (Heb. 13:20.) Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind (2). And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. (I Pet. 5:2, 4.)

m. Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice. (Jno. 13:38.)

n. Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God. (Jno. 16:30.) But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. (I Thess. 2:4.)

o. Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards. (Jno. 13:36.)

p. Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shown me. (II Pet. 1:14.)

q. When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel? (Acts 1:6.)

r. When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory. (Mat. 25:31.)

s. The secret things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law. (Dt. 29:29.)

t. Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. (Amos 7:10.)

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

NOTE.—The Book of the Acts of the Apostles is to the Gospels what the fruit is to the tree, the grain to the stalk. In the Gospels the life—embracing the teachings and miracles—of Christ is carefully brought out to develop the principles of his government. The Acts trace the growth and development of the church founded upon the teachings of Christ, as a result of them.

The Book of Acts was written by Luke, by profession a physician, also author of the third Gospel. A few years back it was the effort of some of the German schools to discredit the authorship and trustworthiness of the Acts, but after much labor their efforts, directed largely by Dewette and Baur, were recognized—even by themselves—to be futile. In the past 30 years archaeological research has very conclusively proven the latter half of the book to be absolutely accurate. Therefore, there being no good reason why the author would be historically correct in a large portion of his work and unreliable in the remaining part, the book has finally come to be accepted in its entirety.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Christ commandeth his apostles to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost. 9 After his ascension 12 they return, and choose Matthias apostle in the place of Judas.

1 The former [1]treatise have I made, O [2a]Theŏph'ĭ-lŭs, of all that Jē'şus began both to do and teach,

2 Until [b]the day in which he was [3]taken up, after that he through the Hō'lў Ghōst [c]had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them [4]forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 [5]And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Je-rų'sa-lĕm, but wait for the promise of the Father, [d]which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 For [e]Jŏhn truly baptized with water; [f]but ye shall be baptized with the [6]Hō'lў Ghōst not many days hence.

6 [7]When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time [g]restore again the kingdom to Ĭs'-ra-el?

7 And he said unto them, [h]It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Hō'lў Ghōst is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Je-rų'sa-lĕm, and in all Jū-dæ'ā, and in Sa-mā'rĭ-ā, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 [8]And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them [i]in white apparel;

11 Which also said, Ye men of Găl'ĭ-lee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jē'şus, which is taken up from you into heaven, [j]shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

Ch. 1. A. D. 33.

1. St. Luke's Gospel.

2. In vs. 1-11 is an account of Christ's last days upon earth and his ascension.

3. The ascension.

4. The 40 days from the resurrection to the ascension, during which period he was making his appearance to his disciples and friends.

5. In vs. 4-26 is an account of the preparation for Pentecost.

6. Under the law of Moses it was the type, the shadow, the dispensation of the ritual; the spirit had not yet come. But in the new dispensation the spirit is predominant; hence baptized with the Holy Ghost.

7. In vs. 6-8 is the promise of power to the disciples.

8. In vs. 9-14 is an account of the Ascension.

9. That is, during the 10 days before the feast of Pentecost.

10. For the promised baptism of the Holy Ghost.

11. Of prayer and supplication.

12. Vs. 16-22 give an account of Peter's first speech, addressed to the 120.

13. The time when Jesus was baptized—officially announced from heaven and introduced to his own disciples.

14. The word Lord in the New Testament means son.

12 Then returned they unto Je-rų'sa-lĕm from the mount [k]called Ōl'ĭ-vĕt, which is from Je-rų'sa-lĕm a sabbath day's journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Pē'-tĕr, and Jāmeş, and Jŏhn, and Ăn'drew, Phĭl'-ĭp, and Thŏm'as, Bär-thŏl'ō-mew, and Măt'thew, Jāmeş the son of Ăl-phæ'us, and Sī'mon Ze-lō'tēs, and Jū'das the brother of Jāmes.

14 These all continued [9]with one accord in prayer [10]and supplication, with the women, and Mā'rў the mother of Jē'şus, and with [l]his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those [11]days Pē'tĕr stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were about an hundred and twenty,)

16 [12]Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, [m]which the Hō'lў Ghōst by the mouth of Dā'vid spake before concerning Jū'das, [n]which was guide to them that took Jē'şus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18 Now this man purchased a field with the [o]reward of iniquity; and [p]falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Je-rų'sa-lĕm; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, A-çĕl'da-mà, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his bishoprick let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jē'şus went in and out among us, 22 Beginning from the baptism of [13]Jŏhn, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained [q]to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Jō'şeph called Bär'sa-băs, who was surnamed Jŭs'tus, and Măt-thī'as.

24 And they prayed, and said, [14]Thou, Lord, [r]which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, a. It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus. (Luke 1:3.)

b. And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.)

c. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:19.) And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature. (Mk. 16:15.) Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. (Jno. 20:21.)

d. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever. (Jno. 14:16.)

e. Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. (Acts 11:16.)

f. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.)

g. And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, The faithful city. (Is. 1:26.)

h. The secret things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law. (Dt. 29:29.)

i. He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius. (Acts 10:3.)

j. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. (Dan. 7:13.)

k. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south. (Zech. 14:4.)

l. Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? (Mat. 13:55.)

m. Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me. (Ps. 41:9.)

n. Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. (Jno. 18:3.)

o. Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness. (II Pet. 2:15.)

p. But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee. (Ps. 55:23.)

q. How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him. (Heb. 2:3.)

r. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men. (Jno. 2:24.)

25 That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Jū'das by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their [s]lots; and the lot fell upon Măt-thī'as; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER 2.

1 The apostles, filled with the Holy Ghost, speak divers languages. 14 Peter sheweth that they spake by the power of the Holy Ghost. 41 They work many miracles.

1 [1]And when [a]the day of [2]Pĕn'te-cŏst was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it [b]filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them [3]cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And they were all filled [c]with the Hō'lў [4]Ghōst, and began [d]to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Je-rų'sa-lĕm Jews, devout men, out of [5]every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Găl-ĭ-læ'ans?

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?

9 Pär'thĭ-ans, and Mēdes, and Ē'lăm-ītes, and the dwellers in Mēs-o-po-tā'mĭ-å, and in Jū-dæ'å, [e]and Căp-pa-dō'çĭ-å, in Pŏn'tus, and Ā'şĭå,

10 Phrўg'ĭ-å, and Pam-phўl'ĭ-å, in Ē'gўpt, and in the parts of Lĭb'ў-å about Çў-rē'ne, and strangers of Rōme, Jews and [f]proselytes, 11 Crētes and A-rā'bĭ-ans, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others [g]mocking said, These men are full of new wine.

14 ¶ [6]But Pē'tĕr, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Jū-dæ'å, and all ye that dwell at Je-rų'sa-lĕm, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

16 [7]But this [8]is that which was spoken by the prophet Jō'el;

17 [h]And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, [i]I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; [j]and they shall prophesy:

19 And I will shew wonders in [9]heaven above, and signs in the [10]earth beneath; blood, and [11]fire, and [12]vapour of smoke:

20 [k]The sun shall be [13]turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

21 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 [14]Ye men of Ĭs'ra-el, hear these words; Jē'şus of Năz'a-rĕth, a man approved of God among you [l]by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, [m]being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God [n]hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dā'vid speaketh concerning him, [o]I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine [p]Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak

Ch. 2. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-13 is an account of the Pentecost, i. e., the descent of the Holy Spirit and the disciples speaking with many tongues to the astonishment of the multitudes.

2. From the Greek word meaning 50, i. e., 50 days from the resurrection.

3. That is, undivided.

4. Which was the great fact of the Pentecost—the great purpose of the New Testament dispensation.

5. That is, the descendants from the 16 grandsons of Noah as from whom all nations descended.

6. In vs. 14-40 is recorded the second speech of Peter, delivered at Pentecost.

7. In vs 16-21, Peter gives his first answer to the question of v. 12.

8. These manifestations are the fulfillment of the prophecy that Christ should usher in the dispensation of the Spirit.

9. That is, the angel's announcement to the shepherds, the Spirit's descent at the baptism of Jesus, and the voice from heaven saying, "This is my beloved Son."

10. The miracles and resurrection.

11. At the Pentecost.

12. At the moment of darkness and quaking of the earth during the crucifixion.

13. At the Saviour's death.

14. In vs. 22-33 is recorded Peter's second answer to the question of v. 12.

s. And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the Lord, and the other lot for the scape-goat. (Lev. 16:8.)

Chapter 2.

a. Seven weeks shalt thou number unto thee: begin to number the seven weeks from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn. And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a free-will offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee. (Dt. 16:9, 10.)

b. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness. (Acts 4:31.)

c. Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel (8). And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness. (Acts 4:8, 31.) And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. (Acts 9:17.) Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him (9). And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost. (Acts 13:9, 52.) For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. (Mat. 10:20.)

d. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues. (Mk. 16:17.)

e. Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia. (I Pet. 1:1.)

f. And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the Lord, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof. (Ex. 12:48.) Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:6, 7.)

g. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. (I Cor. 2:14.)

h. And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 2:28.)

i. And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost. (Acts 10:45.)

j. And finding disciples, he tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem. (Acts 21:4.)

k. Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. (Mat. 24:29.)

l. God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will? (Heb. 2:4.)

m. And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms, concerning me. (Luke 24:44.) For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done. (Acts 4:28.)

n. And kill the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. (Acts 3:15.) Him God raised up the third day, and showed him openly. (Acts 10:40.) But God raised him from the dead. (Acts 13:30.) But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you. (Rom. 8:11.) And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power. (I Cor. 6:14.) Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you. (II Cor. 4:14.) Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. (Col. 2:12.)

o. I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. (Ps. 16:8.)

p. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou unto you [q]of the patriarch Dā'vid, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of [r]the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Chrīst to sit on his throne;

31 He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Chrīst, [s]that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 This Jē'şus hath God raised up, whereof [t]we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore [15]being [u]by the right hand of God exalted, and [v]having received of the Father the promise of the Hō'lў Ghōst, he hath [w]shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For Dā'vid is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my [x]Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Īs'ra-el know assuredly, that God hath made [y]that same Jē'şus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Chrīst.

37 ¶ Now when they heard this, they [z]were pricked in their heart, and said unto Pē'tēr and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Pē'tēr said unto them, [16]Repent, [aa]and be [17]baptized every one of you in the name of Jē'şus Chrīst for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

39 For [bb]the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 ¶ Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 And [cc]they continued stedfastly in the apostles' [18]doctrine and [19]fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and [dd]many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had [ee]all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and [ff]parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and [gg]breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

15. The result of the other things.

16. That is, change your mind, your will and purpose toward God.

17. The symbol of acceptance into the body of God's people.

18. Apostles' instructions or preachings.

19. The apostles' creed.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Peter, preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored, 13 withal reprehending them for crucifying Jesus, 19 exhorteth them by repentance and faith to seek remission of their sins, and salvation in the same Jesus.

1 Now [1]Pē'tēr and Jŏhn went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the [2]ninth hour.

2 And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who seeing Pē'tēr and [3]Jŏhn about to go into the temple asked an alms.

4 And Pē'tēr, fastening his eyes upon him with Jŏhn, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Pē'tēr said, [a]Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jē'şus Christ of Năz'a-rĕth rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ancle bones received strength.

8 And he [b]leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed held Pē'tēr and Jŏhn, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Sŏl'o-mon's, greatly wondering.

12 ¶ [4]And when Pē'tēr saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Īs'ra-el, why mar-

Ch. 3. A. D. 33.

1. In ch. 3 is a record of Peter's healing a lame man at the temple gate; also his address delivered to the wondering multitude.

2. At three o'clock.

3. It should be observed that John, the junior apostle, never speaks in the Book of Acts but waits in reverence for Peter.

4. In vs. 12-26 is a record of Peter's third speech, which was delivered in Solomon's porch, and gives to the people an explanation of the meaning to them of the miracle he had just performed.

suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.) And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God. (Luke 1:35.)

q. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption. (Acts 13:36, 37.)

r. Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh. (Rom. 1:3.)

s. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.) Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Acts 13:35.)

t. But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. (Acts 1:8.)

u. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. (Phil. 2:9.) But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God. (Heb. 10:12.)

v. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. (Jno. 15:26.) And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me. (Acts 1:4.)

w. Wherefore he saith, When he ascended upon high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men. (Eph. 4:8.)

x. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.) The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Mat. 22:44.) For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. (I Cor. 15:25.) But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool? (Heb. 1:13.)

y. Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins. (Acts 5:31.)

z. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications; and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. (Zech. 12:10.)

aa. And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. (Luke 24:47.)

bb. That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed. (Rom. 9:8.)

cc. Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching. (Heb. 10:25.)

dd. And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues. (Mk. 16:17.)

ee. And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. (Acts 4:32.)

ff. Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? (Is. 58:7.)

gg. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight. (Acts 20:7.)

Chapter 3.

a. As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. (I Pet. 4:10.)

b. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. (Is. 35:6.)

vel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or [c]holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 [d]The God of Ā'brā-hăm, and of Ī'şaac, and of Jā'cob, the God of our fathers, [e]hath glorified his Son Jē'şus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pī'late, when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied the Holy One and [f]the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 And killed the [g]Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his name through [5]faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance [h]ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things, which God before had shewed [i]by the mouth of all his prophets, that Chrīst should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ [6]Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

20 And he shall send Jē'şus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 [7]Whom [j]the heaven must receive until the times of [8]restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.

22 For [9]Mō'şeş truly said unto the fathers, [k]A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, [l]like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, that [m]every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Săm'u-el and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of [10]these days.

25 Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Ā'brā'hăm, [n]And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 Unto [o]you first God, having raised up his Son Jē'şus, sent him to bless you in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

5. The connecting link between God the Father, and man; thus becoming the avenue through which the divine energy enters in upon them.

6. Renounce the way of evil doing and the love of sin, turn to Christ and confer upon him the same essential part of affections and being which we have heretofore conferred upon sin.

7. The period between the ascension and the second coming of Christ.

8. Rectifying the effects of sin.

9. Thus Peter claims that Moses, whom they claimed to honor, commanded them to listen to Christ.

10. The dispensation of Christ.

CHAPTER 4.

Ch. 4. A. D.

1. In vs. 1-13 is an account of Peter and John before the Sanhedrin.

2. In prison.

3. The only mention of these two men in sacred or profane history is recorded in this verse.

4. In vs. 8-12 is recorded the fourth speech of Peter which was delivered before the Sanhedrin.

1 The rulers of the Jews, offended with Peter's sermon, 4 imprison him and John 13 They command him and John to preach no more in the name of Jesus, 23 whereupon the church fleeth to prayer. 31 And God testified that he heard their prayer.

1 [1]And as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Săd'du-çeeş, came upon them,

2 Being [a]grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jē'şus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in [2]hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And Ān'nas the high priest, and Cā'ia-phās, and Jŏhn, [3]and Āl-ĕx-ān'dēr, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, [b]By what power, or by what name have ye done this?

8 [4]Then [c]Pē'tēr, filled with the Hō'lў Ghōst, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Īs'ra-el,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Īs'ra-el, that by the name of Jē'şus Chrīst of Năz'a-rĕth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 [d]This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither [e]is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶ Now when they saw the boldness of Pē'tēr and Jŏhn, and [f]perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled;

c. Not that we are sufficient of ourselves ,o think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.)

d. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree. (Acts 5:30.)

e. These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee. (Jno. 17:1.)

f. Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which showed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers. (Acts 7:52.)

g. And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him. (Heb. 5:9.) And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. (I Jno. 5:11.)

h. Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. (Luke 23:34.) And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. (Jno. 16:3.) Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. (I Cor. 2:8.)

i. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. (Is. 50:6.) But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him: and with his stripes we are healed. (Is. 53:5.) And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:26.)

j. Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such a High Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens; (Heb. 8:1.)

k. The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken. (Deut. 18:15.) I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold. (Acts 7:32.)

l. Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house. For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honor than the house. (Heb. 3:2, 3.)

m. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward; How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him. (Heb. 2:2, 3.)

n. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.) And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. (Gal. 3:8.)

o. And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. (Luke 24:47.)

a. When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel. (Neh. 2:10.)

b. And he said, Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and said, Surely this thing is known. (Ex. 2:14.) And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? (Mat. 21:23.)

c. And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say. (Luke 12:11, 12.)

d. The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. (Ps. 118:22.) Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. (Is. 28:16.) Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes? (Mat. 21:42.)

e. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for he shall save his people from their sins. (Mat. 1:21.) Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. (Rom. 3:24.) For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus. (I Tim. 2:5.)

f. But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to con-and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jē'şus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 Saying, [g]What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Je-rū'sa-lĕm; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jē'şus.

19 But Pē'tĕr and Jŏhn answered and said unto them, [h]Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 For [i]we cannot but speak the things which we [j]have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because [k]of the people: for all men glorified God for [l]that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ [5]And being let go, they [m]went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they [n]lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou [o]art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant Dā'vid hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Chrīst.

27 For of a truth against [p]thy holy child Jē'şus, [q]whom thou hast anointed, both Hĕr'od, and Pŏn'tĭ-us Pī'late, with the Gĕn'tīles, and the people of Īs'ra-el, were gathered together, 28 For to [r]do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

5. In the address just delivered to the Sanhedrin Peter declares the separation of the old dead church of Judah and the new, living church of Christ. In vs. 23-31 that separation is declared to be effected.

Ch. 5. A. D. 33.

1. In vs. 1-11 is given a history of the willful deception on the part of Ananias and Sapphira, and its awful results.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, [s]that with all boldness they may speak thy word, 30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jē'şus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, [t]the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the Hō'lў Ghōst, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed [u]were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 And with [v]great power gave the apostles [w]witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jē'şus: and [x]great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither [y]was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: [z]and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Jō'şeş, who by the apostles was surnamed Bär'na-bās, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Lē'vīte, and of the country of Çў'prus, 37 Having [aa]land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER 5.

1 After Ananias and Sapphira his wife at Peter's rebuke had fallen down dead, 17 the apostles are again imprisoned, 19 but delivered by an angel bidding them to preach openly to all.

1 [1]But a certain man named Ān-a-nī'as, with Săp-phī'rā his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept [a]back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 But [b]Pē'tĕr said, Ān-a-nī'as, why hath Sā'tan [c]filled thine heart to lie to the Hō'lў Ghōst, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

found the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:27.)

g. Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. (Jno. 11:47.)

h. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. (Acts 5:29.)

i. This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses. (Acts 2:32.)

j. For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. (Acts 22:15.) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

k. And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people. (Luke 22:2.)

l. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up; and immediately his feet and ancle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. (Acts 3:7, 8.)

m. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together praying. (Acts 12:12.)

n. Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. (Ps. 103:1.)

o. Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power, and stretched-out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee. (Jer. 32:17.)

p. For such an High Priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens. (Heb. 7:26.)

q. The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.) Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? (Jno. 10:36.)

r. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.)

s. Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins. (Is. 58:1.)

t. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. (Acts 2:2.)

u. Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like minded one toward another according to Christ Jesus. (Rom. 15:5.)

v. For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake. (I Thess. 1:5.)

w. Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection. (Acts 1:22.)

x. Praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved. (Acts 2:47.)

y. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world. (Js. 1:27.)

z. And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. (Acts 6:1.)

aa. And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. (Mat. 19:29.)

Chapter 5.

a. For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:10.)

b. When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it; for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee. (Dt. 23:21.)

c. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (Jno. 8:44.)

5 And Ăn-a-nī'as hearing these words [z]fell [a]down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, [b]wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Pē'tēr answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Pē'tēr said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [c]to [d]tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then [z]fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard [e]these things.

12 ¶ And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were [f]all with one accord in Sŏl'o-mon's porch.

13 And [g]of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that [h]at the least the shadow of Pē'tēr passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Je-rū'sa-lĕm, bringing [i]sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Săd'du-çees,) and were filled with indignation, 18 And [k]laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But [l]the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the [j]temple to the people [m]all the words of this [q]life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the [n]council together, and all the senate of the children of Īs'ra-el, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and [o]the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would [p]grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [q]for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 [r]And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them, 28 Saying, [s]Did not we [t]straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Je-rū'sa-lĕm with your doctrine, [u]and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

29 ¶ Then Pē'tēr and the other apostles answered and said, [v]We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers raised up Jē'sus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be [w]a Prince and [x]a Saviour, for to give [y]repentance to Īs'ra-el, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And [z]we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the [a]Hō'lў Ghōst, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 ¶ When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Phăr'ī-see, named Ga-mā'lī-el, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Īs'ra-el, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theū'das, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Jū'das of Găl'ī-lee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow

2. Struck down by the Holy Spirit, which was but the expression of the Holy Spirit condemnation of sin.

3. To try, to put to the test.

4. The apostles.

5. In the very midst of strife, corruption and religious persecution.

6. The Christian's life -a life not known to the world before.

7. Sanhedrin.

8. What it might become, what influence it might develop.

9. In vs. 27-42 is an account of the second appearance of Peter and John before the Sanhedrin, their dismissal, and continued preaching.

10. Strictly.

11. That is, to give the privilege or power, a living opportunity of repentance.

d. Even those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, died by the plague before the Lord. (Num. 14:37.)

e. Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury. (Jno. 19:40.)

f. Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. (Mat. 4:7.)

g. God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will? (Heb. 2:4.)

h. These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. (Jno. 9:22.)

i. For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. (Mat. 9:21.)

j. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. (Mar. 16:17, 18.)

k. But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. (Lu. 21:12.)

l. The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.)

m. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. (Lu. 1:11.) But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. (7). The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. (Lu. 12:7, 23.) But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost (20). Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife. (Mat. 1:20, 24.) And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him (13). But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt. (Mat. 2:13, 19.)

n. And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them. (Lu. 22:4.)

o. But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet. (Mat. 21:26.)

p. And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. (Acts 4:18.)

q. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. (Acts 2:23.)

r. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ. (Gal. 1:10.)

s. And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. (Acts 3:15.)

t. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for he shall save his people from their sins. (Mat. 1:21.)

u. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. (Jno. 15:26.)

v. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our Spirit, that we are the children of God. (Rom. 8:16.) God also bearing them witness, it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, [w]and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jē′şus, and let them go.

41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the council, [x]rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jē′şus Chrīst.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The apostles, desirous to have the poor regarded, 3 appoint the office of deaconship to seven chosen men.

1 And in those days, [a]when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the [b]Grē′çianş against the Hē′brewş, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of [1]the disciples unto them, and said, [c]It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, [d]look ye out among you [2]seven men of honest [3]report, full of the Hō′lў Ghōst and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we [e]will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stē′phen, a man full of faith and of the Hō′lў Ghōst, and Phĭl′ĭp, and Prŏch′o-rus, and Ni-cā′nor, and Tī′mon, and Pär′me-năs, and Nĭc′o-lās a proselyte of Ăn′tĭ-ŏch:

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when [f]they had prayed, [g]they laid their hands on them.

7 And [h]the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Je-ru′sa-lĕm greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Stē′phen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ¶ [4]Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the [5]Lĭb′ĕr-tĭneş, and Çў-rē′nĭ-anş, and Āl-ĕx-ăn′drī-anş, and of them of Çi-lĭ′çiă and of Ā′şiă, disputing with Stē′phen.

Ch. 6. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 6 is an account of the first organization of the church to take care of its poor, sick, and afflicted which come under its charge.

2. In vs. 1-8 is given the account of the selection of the assistants (or deacons) of the church, there being the sacred number 7.

3. Honorable, upright reputation.

4. In vs. 9-15 is an account of the tremendous zeal and wisdom of Stephen and his arraignment before the council.

5. The Roman Jews.

6. Five synagogues against one man. What greater proof of the presence of God did they want?

7. Stealthily, covertly.

8. Defaming, reviling, speaking imprecariously of, imputing evil to the character of God.

Ch. 7. A. D. 33.

1. Ch. 7 is devoted to an account of the defense and martyrdom of Stephen.

2. The country between the Euphrates and Tigris.

3. While the first call to Abraham, given in Gen. 12:1-4, was while he dwelt in Charran, still there is an allusion to an earlier call which is perhaps meant here. Gen. 11:31, also Gen. 15:7 "And he said unto him, I am Jehovah that brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, to give thee this land to inherit it." This would imply a previous call.

4. Called Haran in Gen. and Carrhae in Rom.

5. Agreement, compact.

10 And [i]they were not able to [6]resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then [j]they [7]suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak [8]blasphemous words against Mō′şeş, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 For [k]we have heard him say, that this Jē′şus of Năz′a-rĕth shall [l]destroy this place, and shall change the [m]customs which Mō′şeş delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of [n]an angel.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Stephen sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the fathers 20 before Moses was born: 37 that Moses himself witnessed of Christ. 54 He is stoned to death.

1 [1]Then said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Ā′bră-hăm, when he was in [2]Mĕs-o-po-tā′mĭ-ā, before he dwelt in [3]Chăr′ran,

3 And said unto him, [a]Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chăl-dæ′anş, and dwelt in [4]Chăr′ran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he [b]promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and [c]serve me in this place.

8 And [d]he gave him the [5]covenant of circum-both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will. (Heb. 2:4.)

w. But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. (Mk. 13:9.)

x. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. (Mat. 5:12.)

a. There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth. (Ps. 72:16.)

b. And he spoke boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him. (Acts 9:29.)

c. And Moses' father-in-law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good. (Ex. 18:17.) No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier. (II Tim. 2:4.)

d. Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you. (Dt. 1:13.) Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil. (I Tim. 3:7.)

e. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42.)

f. And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen. (Acts 1:24.)

g. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. (Acts 8:17.) Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. (I Tim. 4:14.) Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands. (II Tim. 1:6.)

h. Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth. (Col. 1:6.)

i. Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say. (Ex. 4:12.) No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord. (Is. 54:17.) For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist. (Lu. 21:15.)

j. Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death. (Mat. 26:59.)

k. While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all. (Acts 25:8.)

l. And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:26.)

m. In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away. (Heb. 8:13.) But Christ being come an High Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. (Heb. 9:11, 12.)

n. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. (Mat. 28:3.)

Chapter 7.

a. Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee. (Gen. 12:1.)

b. And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the Lord, who appeared unto him. (Gen. 12:7.)

c. And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain. (Ex. 3:12.)

d. And God said unto Abraham, Thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations. (Gen. 17:9.)

cision: [c]and so Ā′brā-hăm begat Ī′ṣaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; [f]and Ī′ṣaac begat Jā′cob; and Jā′cob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 [e]And the [g]patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Jō′ṣeph into Ē′ġўpt: [h]but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, [i]and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Phā′raōh king of Ē′ġўpt; and he made him governor over Ē′ġўpt and all his house.

11 Now there came a dearth over all the land of Ē′ġўpt and Chā′năan and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when Jā′cob heard that there was corn in Ē′ġўpt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 And at the second time Jō′ṣeph was made known to his brethren; and Jō′ṣeph's kindred was made known unto Phā′raōh.

14 [j]Then sent Jō′ṣeph, and called his father Jā′cob to him, and all his kindred, [k]threescore and fifteen souls.

15 So Jā′cob went down into Ē′ġўpt, and [l]died, he, and our fathers, 16 And [m]were carried over into Sў′chem, and laid in [n]the sepulchre that Ā′brā-hăm bought for a sum of money of the sons of Ēm′mor the father of Sў′chem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Ā′brā-hăm, the people grew and multiplied in Ē′ġўpt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Jō′ṣeph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 [o]In [o]which time Mō′ṣeṣ was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, Phā′raōh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Mō′ṣeṣ was learned in all the wisdom of the E-ġўp′tians, and was [p]mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And [q]when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Īs′ra-el.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the E-ġўp′tian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the E-ġўp′tian yesterday?

29 [r]Then fled Mō′ṣeṣ at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Mā′dī-an, where he [s]begat two sons.

30 And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount [s]Sī′nā [t]an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Mō′ṣeṣ saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 32 Saying, [u]I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Ā′brā-hăm, and the God of Ī′ṣaac, and the God of Jā′cob. Then Mō′ṣeṣ trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then [v]said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Ē′ġўpt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Ē′ġўpt.

35 This Mō′ṣeṣ whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer [w]by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 [x]He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Ē′ġўpt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37 ¶ This is that Mō′ṣeṣ, which said unto the children of Īs′ra-el, [y]A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38 This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with [z]the angel which spake to him in the mount Sī′nā, and with our fathers: [aa]who received the [9]lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but

6. In vs. 9-19 Stephen carries his listeners back to the transition from Canaan to Egypt under Joseph and shows that—though there then existed no "Holy Place," no "Moses," no "Customs" still the Abrahamic church did exist in Egypt; which, if admitted, must condemn their position.

7. In vs. 20-43 Stephen is accused of blaspheming Moses, upon whom he now proceeds to build his entire fabric of faith and profession, thus proving their charge utterly without foundation.

8. The summit of the mountain range Horeb.

9. Living oracles.

c. For Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him. (Gen. 21:2.) Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren. (Mat. 1:2.)

f. And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac was threescore years old when she bare them. (Gen. 25:26.)

g. And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him. (Gen. 37:4.)

h. And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Egyptian. (Gen. 39:2.)

i. And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth. (Gen. 42:6.)

j. Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all Egypt: come down unto me, tarry not. (Gen. 45:9.)

k. And the sons of Joseph, which were born him in Egypt, were two souls: all the souls of the house of Jacob, which came into Egypt, were threescore and ten. (Gen. 46:27.)

l. And when Jacob had made an end of commanding his sons, he gathered up his feet into the bed, and yielded up the ghost, and was gathered unto his people. (Gen. 49:33.) And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation. (Ex. 1:6.)

m. And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you. (Ex. 13:19.) And the bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground which Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem, for an hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph. (Josh. 24:32.)

n. And Abraham hearkened unto Ephron; and Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant. (Gen. 23:16.)

o. And the woman conceived, and bare a son: and when she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months. (Ex. 2:2.)

p. And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people. (Luke 24:19.)

q. And it came to pass in those days, when Moses was grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: and he spied an Egyptian smiting an Hebrew, one of his brethren. (Ex. 2:11.)

r. Now when Pharaoh heard this thing, he sought to slay Moses. But Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian: and he sat down by a well. (Ex. 2:15.)

s. And Miriam and Aaron spake against Moses because of the Ethiopian woman whom he had married: for he had married an Ethiopian woman. (Num. 12:1.)

t. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.)

u. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Mat. 22:37.)

v. And the captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so. (Josh. 5:15.)

w. And when we cried unto the Lord, he heard our voice, and sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt; and, behold, we are in Kadesh, a city in the uttermost of thy border. (Num. 20:16.)

x. And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt. (Ex. 12:41.)

y. The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken. (Dt. 18:15.)

z. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. (Is. 63:9.) Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator. (Gal. 3:19.)

aa. Now these are the judgments which thou shalt set before them. (Ex. 21:1.) For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (Jno. 1:17.)

thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Ē'gў̆pt, 40 Saying unto [bb]Aâr'on, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Mō'sęs, which brought us out of the land of Ē'gў̆pt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then [cc]God turned, and gave them up to worship [dd]the [10]host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Ĭs'ra-el, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Mō'lŏch, and the star of your god Rĕm'phan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Băb'ў̆-lon.

44 [11]Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Mō'sęs, [ee]that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 Which [ff]also our fathers that came after brought in with Jē'sus into the possession of the Gĕn'tīlęs, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of Dā'vid;

46 Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jā'cob.

47 But Sŏl'o-mon built him an house.

48 Howbeit [12]the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, 49 Heaven [gg]is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 ¶ Ye [hh]stiffnecked [ii]and [13]uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Hō'lў̆ Ghōst: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 Which [jj]of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before the coming of the [kk]Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 ¶ When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, being full of the Hō'lў̆ Ghōst, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jē'sus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, [ll]I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, 58 And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name [14]was Saul.

59 And they stoned Stē'phen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jē'sus, receive [mm]my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, [15]lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he [16]fell [nn]asleep.

CHAPTER 8.

1 The church being planted in Samaria by Philip, 14 Peter and John come to confirm and enlarge it. 26 The angel sendeth Philip to baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

1 And [1]Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church [2]which was at Je-ru'sa-lēm; and [a]they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Jū-dæ'a and Sa-mā'rĭ-a, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stē'phen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, [b]he made [3]havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore [c]they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 [d]Then [4]Phĭl'ĭp went down to the city of [5]Sa-mā'rĭ-a, and preached Chrīst unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Phĭl'ĭp spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For [e]unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, called Sī'mon, which beforetime in the same city [f]used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Sa-mā'rĭ-a, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom [g]they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Phĭl'ĭp preaching the things [h]concerning the kingdom of God, and

10. Lit. the armies of heaven, but here meaning sun and stars.

11. In vs. 44-50 Stephen answers the charge that he is blaspheming the temple.

12. Nevertheless.

13. As circumcision was the outward symbol or sign of cutting off the sensual desires and unrighteous feelings, therefore, to be uncircumcised in heart was to be morally corrupt.

14. The first mention of that terrible persecutor of the Christian's faith but who was yet to become its most zealous and illustrious defender.

15. The same cry petitioning the mercy of heaven upon his persecutors which Christ prayed from the cross. Be it remembered both prayers were uttered while in the agonies of death.

16. Representing a peaceful death in Christ amidst the raving storm of sin around him.

Ch. 8. A. D. 34.

1. In v. 1 is an account of Stephen's funeral and the dispersion of the disciples.

2. The first church mentioned of any city.

3. Carrying the idea of ravages of a wild beast.

4. In vs. 5-40 Philip, one of the seven selected to look after the interests of the church and minister to the needs of the poor, goes to Samaria as an evangelist.

5. Situated near the center of Palestine; was the seat of the temple of Baal, and especially noted for its idolatry.

bb. And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aaron, and said unto him, Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. (Ex. 32:1.)

cc. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. (II Thess. 2:11.)

dd. And hath gone and served other gods, and worshipped them, either the sun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded. (Dt. 17:3.)

ee. And look that thou make them after their pattern, which was shown thee in the mount. (Ex. 25:40.)

ff. And it came to pass, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over Jordan, and the priests bearing the ark of the covenant before the people. (Josh. 3:14.)

gg. Thus saith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest? For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. (Is. 66:1, 2.)

hh. Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass. (Is. 48:4.)

ii. Thus saith the Lord God; No stranger, uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel. (Ez. 44:9.)

jj. But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused his prophets, until the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, till there was no remedy. (II Chr. 36:16.)

kk. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you. (Acts 3:14.)

ll. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him. (Mat. 3:16.)

mm. Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth. (Ps. 31:5.)

nn. But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. (I Thess. 4:13.)

Chapter 8.

a. Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only. (Acts 11:19.)

b. For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. (I Cor. 15:9.) For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it. (Gal. 1:13.)

c. But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come. (Mat. 10:23.)

d. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch. (Acts 6:5.)

e. And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease. (Mat. 10:1.) And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name. (Luke 10:17.)

f. And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus. (Acts 13:6.)

g. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient. (Rom. 1:28.)

h. To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God. (Acts 1:3.)

the name of Jē'sus Chrīst, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Sī'mon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Phĭl'ĭp, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Je-rū'sa-lĕm heard that Sa-mā'rĭ-à had received the word of God, they sent unto them Pē'tĕr and Jōhn:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that [i]they might receive the Hō'lў Ghōst:

16 (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only [j]they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jē'sus.)

17 Then [k]laid they their hands on them, and they received the Hō'lў Ghōst.

18 And when Sī'mon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Hō'lў Ghōst was given, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Hō'lў Ghōst.

20 But Pē'tĕr said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because [l]thou hast thought that [m]the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy [n]heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 [o]Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [p]if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the [q]gall of [r]bitterness, and in the [s]bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Sī'mon, and said, Pray ye [t]to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Sa-măr'ĭ-tanṣ.

26 And the [u]angel of the Lord spake unto Phĭl'ĭp, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Je-rū'sa-lĕm unto Gā'zà, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, [v]a man of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-à, an eunuch of great authority under Căn'da-cē, queen of the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-anṣ, who had the charge of all her treasure, and [s]had come to Je-rū'sa-lĕm for to worship,

6. Turn from thy wickedness.

7. In the depravity and rebellion against God.

8. Bind; typifying hemmed in or bound down; held in control by habits of iniquity as by a fetter.

9. Came to the lone evangelist in Samaria, combating a world of idolatry.

10. Isaiah.

11. I. The outward or external symbol of an inward regeneration or cleansing. II. A symbolical act of obedience to the command of God.

12. The Ashod of the Old Testament, about 18 miles north of Gaza and a strong city of the Philistines.

13. The Roman capital of Palestine.

Ch. 9. A. D. 35-38.

1. In vs. 1-25 is an account of the journey of Saul to Damascus, his call and conversion by Jehovah.

2. Letters of authority from the priest.

28 [w]Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read E-ṣā'ĭas the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit [x]said unto Phĭl'ĭp, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Phĭl'ĭp ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet E-ṣā'ĭas, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Phĭl'ĭp that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture he read was this, [y]He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Phĭl'ĭp, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Phĭl'ĭp opened his mouth, and [z]began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jē'sus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch said, See, here is water; [a]what doth hinder me to be [b]baptized?

37 And Phĭl'ĭp said, [c]If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, [d]I believe that Jē'sus Chrīst is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Phĭl'ĭp and the eunuch; and he [b]baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, [e]the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phĭl'ĭp, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Phĭl'ĭp was found at [f]A-zō'tus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to [g]Çæs-a-rē'à.

i. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. (Acts 2:38.)

j. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:19.)

k. Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. (Acts 6:6.) Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment. (Heb. 6:2.)

l. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. (Mat. 10:8.)

m. Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, what was I, that I could withstand God? (Acts 11:17.)

n. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? (Jer. 17:9.) Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. (II Tim. 3:5.)

o. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. (Dan. 4:27.) In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth. (II Tim. 2:25.)

p. Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. (Heb. 11:25.)

q. Lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled. (Heb. 12:15.)

r. Lest there be among you a root that beareth gall and wormwood. (Deut. 29:18.)

s. Loose the bands of wickedness, undo the heavy burdens, and let the oppressed go free, and break every yoke? (Isa. 58:6.)

t. Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly. (Heb. 13:18.) Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee. (Ps. 122:6.)

u. Arise, and go toward the south, and flee thou into the land of Judah, and tell Uzziah the king of Judah, Thus saith the Lord unto thee, O Uzziah, Thou hast not been worthy of the honour by thy trespass before the Lord God: therefore the wrath is gone out from the Lord upon thee, and the plague is begun. (II Chron. 26:18.) Arise, and get thee down to the house of the potter, and there I will cause thee to hear my words. (Jer. 18:2.) Arise, and get thee down to the house of the king of Judah, and there speak this word there. (Jer. 34:2.) Arise, and go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. (Jonah 3:2.) Arise, and go down to the house of the potter, and there I will cause thee to hear my words. (Jer. 18:2.) Arise, and go down to the house of the king of Judah, and there speak this word there. (Jer. 34:2.) Arise, and go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. (Jonah 3:2.)

v. Behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of Ethiopia, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet. (Acts 8:27-28.) Behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of Ethiopia, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet. (Acts 8:27-28.)

w. Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet. (Acts 8:28.)

x. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. (Acts 8:29.) And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house. (Acts 11:12.) Say that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. (Acts 20:23.) Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, Today if ye will hear his voice). (Heb. 3:7.)

y. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken. (Is. 53:7, 8.)

z. And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. (Luke 24:27.) For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ. (Acts 18:28.)

a. Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? (Acts 10:47.)

b. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:19.) He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved: but he that believeth not shall be damned. (Mk. 16:16.)

c. And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. (Mat. 16:16.) She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world. (Jno. 11:27.) For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. (Rom. 10:10.)

d. And it shall come to pass, as soon as I am gone from thee, that the Spirit of the Lord shall carry thee whither I know not; and so when I come and tell Ahab, and he cannot find thee, he shall slay me: but I thy servant fear the Lord from my youth. (I Ks. 18:12.) Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord from his place. (Ez. 3:12.)

Chapter 9.

a. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

MOSQUE OF OMAR.

PANORAMA OF DAMASCUS, SHOWING GRAND MOSQUE.

to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto [3]Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

3 And [b]as he journeyed, he came near Da-măs'cus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he [4]fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why [c]persecutest [5]thou me?

5 And he said, [d]Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Je'sus whom thou persecutest: [e]it is hard for thee to kick against the [6]pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished said, [7]Lord, [f]what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And [g]the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Da-măs'cus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ [8]And there was a certain disciple at Damăs'cus, named Ăn-a-nī'as; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ăn-a-nī'as. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called [9]Straight, and enquire in the house of Jū'das for one called Saul, of Tär'sus: for, behold, he prayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ăn-a-nī'as coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ăn-a-nī'as answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Je-ru'sa-lĕm:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call [h]on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for [i]he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before [j]the Gĕn'tīles, and [k]kings, and the children of Is'ra-el.

16 For [l]I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 And [m]Ăn-a-nī'as went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jē'sus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [n]be filled with the Hō'lў Ghōst.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 [10]And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. [o]Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damăs'cus.

20 And straightway he preached Chrīst in the synagogues, [p]that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said; Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and [r]confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damăs'cus, proving that this is very Chrīst.

23 ¶ And after that many [11]days were fulfilled, [s]the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket.

26 And [t]when Saul was come to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Bär'na-băs took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Da-măs'cus in the name of Jē'sus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

29 And he spake [u]boldly in the name of the Lord Jē'sus, and disputed against the [v]Grē'çians: [w]but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Çæs-a-rē'a, and sent him forth to Tär'sus.

31 Then had the churches rest throughout all Jū-dæ'a and Găl'ī-lee and Sa-mā'rī-a, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Hō'lў Ghōst, were multiplied.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, as Pē'tēr passed

3. To be tried and punished.

4. All that were with him were for a moment struck to the earth by the awfulness of the glorious light of God.

5. As represented by his followers.

6. Goads, sharp points.

7. The manly, courageous, energetic character of Saul asserts itself without the loss of a moment when he feels upon him the hand of God. Without hesitation he is as ready to take up the cause with all the zeal of his being as he was heretofore to persecute it.

8. In vs. 10-18 Saul is baptized by Ananias.

9. So called from dividing the city into two parts.

10. In vs. 19-30 is an account of Saul at Damascus, Jerusalem and Tarsus, his first appearance as a disciple of Christ.

11. According to Gal. 1:17, 18 the time here meant from Saul's conversion to his going to Jerusalem, was three years. "Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia and returned again unto Damascus. Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem."

b. And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time. (I Cor. 15:8.)

c. And the king shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Mat. 25:40.) For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. (I Cor. 12:12.) For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. (Eph. 5:30.)

d. Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. (I Tim. 1:13.)

e. But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God. (Acts 5:39.)

f. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do? (Acts 2:37.)

g. And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves. (Dan. 10:7.)

h. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. (Acts 7:59.) And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord. (Acts 22:16.) Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart. (II Tim. 2:22.)

i. As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. (Acts 13:2.) And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles. (Acts 22:21.) Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God. (Rom. 1:1.) For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within? (I Cor. 5:12.)

j. By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name. (Rom. 1:5.) For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office. (Rom. 11:13.)

k. Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself. (Acts 26:1.)

l. Say that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. (Acts 20:23.) And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. (Acts 21:11.) Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool,) I am more: in labors more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft. (II Cor. 11:23.)

m. And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. (Acts 22:11.)

n. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.)

o. But showed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance. (Acts 26:20.)

p. And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. (Acts 8:37.)

r. For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ. (Acts 18:28.)

s. And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. (Acts 23:12.)

t. Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus. (Gal. 1:17.)

u. And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the Gospel. (Eph. 6:19.)

v. And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. (Acts 6:1.)

w. In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren. (II Cor. 11:26.)

throughout all [x]quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lȳd'dà.

33 And there he found a certain man named Æ'ne-ăs, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Pē'tēr said unto him, Æ'ne-ăs, Jē'sus Chrīst maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lȳd'dà and Sā'ron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 ¶ Now there was at Jŏp'pà a certain disciple named Tăb'ĭ-thà, which by interpretation is called Dor'cas: this woman was full [y]of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lȳd'dà was nigh to Jŏp'pà, and the disciples had heard that Pē'tēr was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Pē'tēr arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dor'cas made, while she was with them.

40 But Pē'tēr [z]put them all forth, and kneeled [aa]down, and prayed; and turning him to the body [bb]said, Tăb'ĭ-thà, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Pē'tēr, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Jŏp'pà; [cc]and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in [dd]Jŏp'pà with one Sī'mon a tanner.

CHAPTER 10.

1 Cornelius, a devout man, 5 being commanded by an angel, sendeth for Peter: 15, 20 who is taught not to despise the Gentiles. 44 The Holy Ghost falleth on the company, 48 and they are baptized.

1 There [1]was a certain man in Cæs-a-rē'à called Cor-nē'lius, a [2]centurion of the band called the Ĭ-tăl'ĭan band,

2 A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 He [a]saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an [b]angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cor-nē'lius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a [c]memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Jŏp'pà, and call for one Sī'mon, whose surname is Pē'tēr:

6 He lodgeth with one Sī'mon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [d]he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cor-nē'lius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these [3]things unto them, he sent them to Jŏp'pà.

9 ¶ On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Pē'tēr went up upon the house top to pray about [e]the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Pē'tēr; kill, and eat.

14 But Pē'tēr said, Not so, Lord; [f]for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, [g]What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Pē'tēr doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cor-nē'lius had made enquiry for Sī'mon's house, and stood before the gate, 18 And called, and asked whether Sī'mon, which was surnamed Pē'tēr, were lodged there.

19 ¶ While Pē'tēr [h]thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise [i]therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

Ch. 10. A. D. 41.

1. In vs. 1-33 is an account of the accession and baptism of Cornelius and party—the first-fruits of the Gentiles.

2. Captain of a hundred men.

3. The story of the visions sent to Peter and Cornelius.

---

x. Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John. (Acts 8:14.)

y. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates. (Prov. 31:31.) But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works. (I Tim. 2:10.)

z. But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose. (Mat. 9:25.)

aa. And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this child's soul come into him again. (I Ks. 17:21.)

bb. And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise. (Mk. 5:41.)

cc. Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. (Jno. 11:45.)

dd. And Mejarkon, and Rakkon, with the border before Japho. (Josh. 19:46.) And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou shalt need, and we will bring it to thee in floats by sea to Joppa, and thou shalt carry it up to Jerusalem. (II Chr. 2:16.) But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the Lord, and went down to Joppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the Lord. (Jon. 1:3.)

Chapter 10.

a. And he showed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter. (Acts 11:13.)

b. And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. (Is. 34:7.) For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. (Ps. 91:11.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.)

c. Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. (Ps. 141:2.) But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. (Heb. 13:16.) And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. (Rev. 8:3.)

d. Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved. (Acts 11:14.)

e. Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice. (Ps. 55:17.)

f. Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you. (Lev. 11:4.) Ye shall therefore put difference between clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean. (Lev. 20:25.) Then said I, Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up, even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.* (Ez. 4:14.)

g. Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. (Mat. 15:11.) I know, and am pursuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean (14). For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Rom. 14:14, 17.) Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake. (I Cor. 10:25.) For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving. (I Tim. 4:4.)

h. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (Jno. 16:13.) And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house. (Acts 11:12.)

i. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature. (Mk. 16:15.) And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that 21 Then Pē'tēr went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cor-nē'lius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek; what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cor-nē'lius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of [j]good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Pē'tēr went away with them, and certain brethren from Jŏp'pā accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Cæs-a-rē'ā. And Cor-nē'lius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Pē'tēr was coming in, Cor-nē'lius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Pē'tēr took him up, saying, [k]Stand up; I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how that it [l]is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but [m]God hath shewed [4]me that I should not call any man common or [5]unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?

30 And Cor-nē'lius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and, behold, [n]a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And said, Cor-nē'lius, [o]thy prayer is heard, [p]and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Jŏp'pā, and call hither Sī'mon, whose surname is Pē'tēr; he is lodged in the house of one Sī'mon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

4. In the vision

5. Although the sheet in the vision was represented as having only animals on it, he knew they were to represent men.

6. In vs. 34-48 is an account of the uncircumcised converts being baptized by the Holy Ghost.

7. According to the light of the nation in Christian lands by faith in Christ and obedience to his teachings. Among the heathens incorrectitude of life, under the law written upon their hearts.

8. The word of Christ.

9. The quick, meaning the living.

34 ¶ [6]Then Pē'tēr opened his mouth, and said, [q]Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35 But [7]in every nation he that feareth [7]him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The [8]word which God sent unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, preaching [8]peace by Jē'sus Chrīst: ([t]he is Lord of all:)

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Jū-dæ'ā, and began from Găl'ĭ-lee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How [u]God anointed Jē'sus of Năz'a-rĕth with the Hō'lў Ghōst and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Je-rū'sa-lĕm; whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 Not [v]to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he [w]commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that [x]it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of [9]quick [y]and dead.

43 To him [z]give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44 ¶ While Pē'tēr yet spake these words, the Hō'lў Ghōst fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Pē'tēr, because that on the Gĕn'tīles also was poured out the gift of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Pē'tēr, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Hō'lў Ghōst as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the Gospel, and believe. (Acts 15:7.)

j. And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there. (Acts 22:12.)

k. Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out, and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein. (Acts 14:14, 15.) And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. (Rev. 19:10.)

l. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Gal. 2:12.)

m. That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel. (Eph. 3:6.)

n. And, while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel. (Acts 1:10.)

o. Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. (Dan. 10:12.)

p. For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have shown toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.)

q. For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth not persons, nor taketh reward. (Dt. 10:17.) Wherefore now let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed, and do it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of gifts. (II Chr. 19:7.) How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands. (Job 34:19.) For there is no respect of persons with God. (Rom. 2:11.) But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me. (Gal. 2:6.) But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done; and there is no respect of persons. (Col. 3:25.) And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. (I Pet. 1:17.)

r. (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.) (Rom. 2:13.) For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. (I Cor. 12:13.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.) That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel. (Eph. 3:6.)

s. I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the Lord; and I will heal him. (Is. 57:19.) And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh. (Eph. 2:17.)

t. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. (Rom. 10:12.) Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him. (I Pet. 3:22.)

u. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. (Lu. 4:18.) Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity: therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. (Heb. 1:9.)

v. Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. (Jno. 14:17.)

w. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:19.)

x. For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son. (Jno. 5:22.)

y. For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living. (Rom. 14:9.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.)

z. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he

CHAPTER 11.

1 Peter, accused for going in to the Gentiles, 5 maketh his defence. 19 The gospel being spread into Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, Barnabas is sent to confirm them.

1 And [1]the apostles and brethren that were in Jū-dæ'à heard that the Gĕn'tīleş [2]had also received the word of God.

2 And when Pē'tēr was come up to Je-rū'salĕm, [a]they that were of the circumcision [3]contended with him,

3 Saying, [b]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Pē'tēr rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,

5 [c]I was in the city of Jŏp'pà praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Pē'tēr; slay and eat.

8 But I said, [d]Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Çæs-a-rē'à unto me.

12 And [e]the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Jŏp'pà, and call for Sī'mon, whose surname is Pē'tēr;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Hō'lў Ghōst fell on them, [f]as on [4]us at the [5]beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, Jŏhn [g]indeed baptized with water; but [h]ye shall be baptized with the Hō'lў Ghōst.

Ch. 11. A. D. 41-43.

1. In vs. 1-18 Peter gives his defense for baptizing the uncircumcised Gentiles.

2. The news of Peter's work had preceded him to Jerusalem.

3. Disputed, took him to task.

4. The apostles.

5. The day of Pentecost.

6 Sent as a committee to investigate and report whether the Gentiles were accepted and baptized without circumcision.

7. The first account of the followers of Christ's having conferred upon them the title of his name.

17 Forasmuch [i]then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst; what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then [j]hath God also to the Gĕn'tīleş granted repentance unto life.

19 ¶ Now [k]they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stē'phen travelled as far as Phe-nī'çe, and Çў'prus, and Ăn'tī-ŏch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jewş only.

20 And some of them were men of Çў'prus and Çў-rē'ne, which, when they were come to Ăn'tī-ŏch, spake unto the [l]Grē'çianş, preaching the Lord Jē'şus.

21 And [m]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

22 ¶ Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Je-rū'salĕm: and they sent forth [6]Bär'na-băs, that he should go as far as Ăn'tī-ŏch.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto [n]the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Hō'lў Ghōst and of faith: [o]and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Bär'na-băs to Tär'sus, for [p]to seek Şaul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Ăn'tī-ŏch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And [q]the disciples were called [7]Chrīs'tianş first in Ăn'tī-ŏch.

27 ¶ And in these days came prophets from Je-rū'sa-lĕm unto Ăn'tī-ŏch.

28 And there stood up one of them named Ăg'ă-bŭs, and signified by the spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Clạu'dī-ŭs Çæ'şar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [r]relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Jū-dæ'à:

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the [s]elders by the hands of Bär'na-băs and Şaul.

shall bear their iniquities. (Is. 53:11.) In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. (Zech. 13:1.)

Chapter 11.

a. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Gal. 3:12.)

b. And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shown me that I should not call any man common or unclean. (Acts 10:28.)

c. On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house-top to pray about the sixth hour. (Acts 10:9.)

d. Then said I, Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up, even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. (Ez. 4:14.)

e. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (Jno. 16:13.)

f. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.)

g. I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. (Mat. 3:11.)

h. For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Is. 44:3.)

i. And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith. (Acts 15:8, 9.)

j. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. (Rom. 10:12.)

k. And Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. (Acts 8:1.)

l. And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. (Acts 6:1.)

m. And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him. (Lu. 1:66.)

n. Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name. (Dt. 10:20.)

o. And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women. (Acts 5:14.)

p. Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus. (Acts 9:30.)

q. And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus (19). And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple (26). And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them. (Acts 9:19, 26, 38.) Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe (20). Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God (22). And there they abode long time with the disciples. (Acts 14:20, 22, 28.) And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. (Jno. 2:2.)

r. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem. (Rom. 15:26.) Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. (I Cor. 16:1.)

s. The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an pride, he is stricken by an angel, and dieth miserably. 24 After his death, the word of God prospereth.

1 [1]Now about that time Hĕr'od the king stretched forth his hands to [a]vex certain of the church.

2 And he killed Jāmeş the brother of Jŏhn with the [2]sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Pē'tĕr also. (Then were [b]the days of [3]unleavened bread.)

4 And [c]when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Pē'tĕr therefore was kept in prison: but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Hĕr'od would have brought him forth, the same night Pē'tĕr was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, [d]the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Pē'tĕr on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and [e]wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second [4]ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; [f]which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Pē'tĕr was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that [g]the Lord hath sent his angel, and [h]hath delivered me out of the hand of Hĕr'od, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, [i]he came to the house of Mā'rў the mother of Jŏhn, whose surname was Märk; where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Pē'tĕr knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to [5]hearken, named Rhō'dā.

14 And when she knew Pē'tĕr's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Pē'tĕr stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, [j]It is his angel.

Ch. 12. A. D. 44.

1. In vs. 1-19 is an account of the persecution of the church by Herod-Agrippa; 1st, the martyrdom of James; 2nd, the imprisonment and miraculous deliverance of Peter.

2. Beheaded, which was done with a sword.

3. The passover.

4. A different form of the word guard.

5. That is to listen and thereby see who was there.

6. An inflammation and putrefaction of the bowels resulting in death in about four days.

Ch. 13. A. D. 45.

1. Simeon, the negro, supposed to be the man who bore the Saviour's cross. Some authorities claim that "Niger" was an epithet of contempt rather than an indication of color.

16 But Pē'tĕr continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto Jāmeş, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Pē'tĕr.

19 And when Hĕr'od had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Jū-dæ'ā to Çæs-a-rē'ā, and there abode.

20 ¶ And Hĕr'od was highly displeased with them of Tўre and Sī'dŏn: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blăs'tus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because their [k]country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day Hĕr'od, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, [l]It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord [m]smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of [6]worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 ¶ But [n]the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Bär'na-băs and Saul returned from Je-rų'sa-lĕm, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and [o]took with them Jŏhn, whose surname was Märk.

elder, and a witness of the suffering of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed. (I Pet. 5:1.)

Chapter 12.

a. But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues. (Mat. 10:17.)

b. And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord throughout your generation; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance for ever. (Ex. 12:14.)

c. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. (Jno. 21:18.)

d. But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said. (Acts 5:19.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.)

e. When the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream. (Ps. 126:1.)

f. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely. (Acts 16:23.)

g. The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.)

h. He shall deliver thee in six troubles; yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee. (Job 5:19.) Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy; To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine. (Ps. 33:18, 19.) Ye that love the Lord hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints; he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked. (Ps. 97:10.)

i. And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them. (Acts 4:23.)

j. The Angel which redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and let them grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth. (Gen. 48:16.)

k. My servants shall bring them down from Lebanon unto the sea; and I will convey them by sea in floats unto the place that thou shalt appoint me, and will cause them to be discharged there, and thou shalt receive them: and thou shalt accomplish my desire, in giving food for my household (9). And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thousand measures of wheat for food to his household, and twenty measures of pure oil: thus gave Solomon to Hiram year by year. (I Ks. 5:9, 11.) Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm. (Ez. 27:17.)

l. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lust; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage. (Jude 16.)

m. And it came to pass about ten days after, that the Lord smote Nabal, that he died. (I Sam. 25:38.) And David spake unto the Lord, when he saw the angel that smote the people, and said, Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly: but these sheep, what have they done? Let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house. (II Sam. 24:17.)

n. So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. (Is. 55:11.)

o. And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark. (Acts 15:37.)

a. Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch. (Acts 11:22.)

b. Thus shalt thou separate the Levites from among the children of Israel: and the Levites shall be mine. (Num. 8:14.) But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace. (Gal. 1:15.) And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we and Saul for the work [c]whereunto I have called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 ¶ So they, being sent forth by the Hō'lў Ghōst, departed unto Se-leū'çī-à; and from thence they sailed to Çў'prus.

5 And when they were at Săl'a-mis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also [2]John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone through the isle unto Pā'phos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Băr-jē'sus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sēr'ġĭ-us Paul'us, a prudent man; who called for Băr'na-bas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But [d]Ēl'ў-măs the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Hō'lў Ghōst, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, [e]thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, [f]the hand of the Lord [3]is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Pā'phos, they came to Pēr'gà in Pam'-phўl'ĭ-à: and John [g]departing from them returned to Je-rū'sa-lĕm.

14 ¶ But when they departed from Pēr'gà, they came to Ăn'tĭ-ōch in Pi-sĭd'ĭ-à, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15 And [h]after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 [4]Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, Men of Ĭs'ra-el, and ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Ĭs'ra-el chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Ē'ġўpt, and with an high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chā'năan, he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Săm'u-el the prophet.

21 And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Çĭs, a man of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min, by the space of forty years.

22 And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them Dā'vid to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found Dā'vid the son of Jĕs'se, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 Of [i]this man's seed hath God according to [j]his promise raised unto Ĭs'ra-el [k]a Saviour, Jē'sus:

24 When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Ĭs'ra-el.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Men and brethren, children of the stock of Ā'brā-hăm, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and their rulers, [l]because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pī'late that he should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him from the dead:

31 And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Găl'ĭ-lee to Je-rū'sa-lĕm, who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, 33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jē'sus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, [m]Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure [n]mercies of Dā'vid.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [o]Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

36 For Dā'vid, [p]after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep,

4. In vs. 16-37 Paul shows that Christ is the fulfillment of the Old Testament.

should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision. (Gal. 2:9.)

c. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest. (Mat. 9:38.) And how shall they preach except they be sent? As it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! (Rom. 10:15.) Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ. (Eph. 3:7, 8.) And no man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. (Heb. 5:4.)

d. Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. (II Tim. 3:8.)

e. The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one. (Mat. 13:38.) Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (Jno. 8:44.) He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. (I Jno. 3:8.)

f. Behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the horses, upon the asses, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the sheep: there shall be a very grievous murrain. (Ex. 9:3.) And when they came down to him, Elisha prayed unto the Lord, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness according to the word of Elisha. (II Ks. 6:18.)

g. But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. (Acts 15:38.)

h. And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. (Lu. 4:16.)

i. Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh. (Rom. 1:3.)

j. And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will set up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. (II Sam. 7:12.)

k. And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. (Rom. 11:26.)

l. Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. (I Cor. 2:8.)

m. I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. (Ps. 2:7.) So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an High Priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, today have I begotten thee. (Heb. 5:5.)

n. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Is. 55:3.)

o. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.)

p. So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart; and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands. (Ps. 78:72.)

MOBBING OF ST. PAUL.

and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 ¶ Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that [q]through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 And [r]by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Mō'şeş.

40 Beware [s]therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in [s]the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 And when the Jews were [6]gone out of the synagogue, the Ğĕn'tīleş besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Bär'na-bās: who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in [t]the grace of God.

44 ¶ And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Bär'na-bās waxed bold, and said, [u]It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but [v]seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Ğĕn'tīleş.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, [w]I have set thee to be a light of the Ğĕn'tīleş, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Ğĕn'tīleş heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: [x]and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised [y]persecution against Paul and Bär'na-bās, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But [z]they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto I-cō'nĭ-um.

52 And the disciples [aa]were filled with joy, and with the Hō'lў Ghōst.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted. 8 At Lystra Paul healeth a cripplĕ, 19 and is stoned. 26 At Antioch, the disciples report what God had done.

1 [1]And it came to pass in I-cō'nĭ-um, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great [a]multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Ğĕn'tīleş, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which [b]gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Ğĕn'tīles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, to use [c]them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 [2]They were ware of it, and [d]fled unto Lўs'trā and Dēr'be, cities of Lўc-a-ō'nĭ-ā, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶ And there sat a certain man at Lўs'trā, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lўc-a-ō'nĭ-ā, [e]The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Bär'na-bās, Jū'pĭ-tēr; and Paul, Mēr-cū'rĭ-us, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jū'pĭ-tēr, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands

5. After this warning, beware lest you neglect your opportunity.

6. Thus indicating that the Jews in anger left the meeting before it was adjourned.

Ch. 14. A. D. 45, 46.

1. In vs. 1-5 is an account of Paul's preachings at Iconium.

2. In vs. 6-18 is an account of Paul and Barnabas at Lystra. While there, Paul healed a cripple, which causes the people to exclaim, "The gods are among us!" Therefore they desire to offer a sacrifice unto him, but he dissuades them from doing so, they turn against him and stone him, leaving him for dead.

q. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (Jer. 31:34.) Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. (Col. 1:14.)

r. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. (Is. 53:11.) Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him; but the just shall live by his faith. (Hab. 2:4.) Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin (20). Therefore we concluded that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law. (Rom. 3:20, 28.)

s. Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder; for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. (Is. 29:14.)

t. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.) Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled. (Heb. 12:15.)

u. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. (Rom. 1:16.)

v. Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them, and I will make of thee a great nation. (Ex. 32:10.) They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their vanities: and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation. (Dt. 32:21.) Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. (Mat. 21:43.) But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses said, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. (Rom. 10:19.)

w. I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant to the people, for a light of the Gentiles. (Is. 42:6.) And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. (Is. 49:6.)

x. Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. (II Tim. 2:19.)

y. Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me. (II Tim. 3:11.)

z. And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet, for a testimony against them. (Lu. 9:5.)

aa. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad; for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. (Mat. 5:12.) Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. (I Pet. 1:8.)

Chapter 14.

a. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. (Is. 11:11.)

b. Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ. (Mat. 16:20.)

c. Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me. (II Tim. 3:11.)

d. But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come. (Mat. 10:23.)

e. Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god. (Acts 28:6.)

unto the gates, and *f*would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Bär'na-bas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? *g*We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from *h*these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

16 Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 Nevertheless *i*he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and *j*fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 ¶ [3]And *k*there came thither certain Jews from An'tĭ-ŏch and I-cō'nĭ-um, who persuaded the people, and, having stoned [4]Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing *l*he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose [5]up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Bär'na-bas to Dēr'be.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lȳs'trà, and to I-cō'nĭ-um, and An'tĭ-ŏch, 22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must *m*through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pi-sĭd'ĭ-à, they came to Pam-phȳl'ĭ-à.

25 And when they had preached the word in Pēr'gà, they went down into Ăt-tā'lĭ-à:

26 And thence sailed to [6]An'tĭ-ŏch, from whence *n*they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had *o*opened the door of faith unto the Gĕn'tīleş.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

5. Came to life; he had been beaten into insensibility which the mob mistook for death.

6. Paul and Barnabas, having now come back to Antioch, have completed the first missionary journey.

Ch. 15. A. D. 51, 52.

1. In vs. 1-35 is a record of the council at Jerusalem which has met to decide the advisability of forcing circumcision on the Gentile converts.

2. Paul's third visit to Jerusalem after his conversion. While there this time occurred the events recorded in Gal. 2.1 10.

3. In vs. 7-11 Peter addresses the council.

4. In this verse Peter declares the central thought of religion to be the purifying of the heart, which he says Christ is now doing for his followers without circumcision therefore why have circumcision at all?

5. Why do you wish to test or to try the forbearance of God, by making exactions and requirements which he does not?

6. In vs. 13-21 is the record of the speech of James.

CHAPTER 15.

1 Dissension ariseth touching circumcision. 6 The apostles consult about it, 22 and send their determination by letter to the churches. 36 Paul and Barnabas fall at strife, and depart asunder.

1 [1]And *a*certain men which came down from Jū-dæ'à taught the brethren, and said, *b*Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Mō'şeş, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Bär'na-bas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Bär'na-bas, and certain other of them, should go up to Je-rū'sa-lĕm unto the apostles and elders about this question.

3 And *c*being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phe-nī'çe and Sa-mā'rĭ-à, declaring the *d*conversion of the Gĕn'tīleş: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to [2]Je-rū'sa-lĕm, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Phăr'ĭ-sees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Mō'şeş.

6 ¶ And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 [3]And when there had been much disputing, Pē'tēr rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gĕn'tīleş by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God, *e*which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, *f*giving them the Hō'lȳ Ghōst, even as he did unto us;

9 And put no difference between us and them, [4]purifying *g*their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why [5]tempt ye God, *h*to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But *i*we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst we shall be saved, even as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Bär'na-bas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gĕn'tīleş by them.

13 ¶ [6]And after they had held their peace,

f. Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odors unto him. (Dan. 2:46.)

g. Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. (Js. 5:17.) And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. (Rev. 19:10.)

h. And turn ye not aside: for then should ye go after vain things, which cannot profit nor deliver; for they are vain. (I Sam. 12:21.)

i. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. (Rom. 1:20.)

j. If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them; Then I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. (Lev. 26:3, 4.) Who giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the fields. (Job 5:10.)

k. See ch. 13:45.

l. For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life. (II Cor. 1:8.)

m. And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. (Mat. 10:38.) And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Rom. 8:17.)

n. Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. (Acts 13:1, 2.)

o. Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord. (II Cor. 2:12.)

a. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Gal. 2:12.)

b. Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. (Gal. 5:2.) Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision. (Phil. 3:2.)

c. Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company. (Rom. 15:24.)

d. See ch. 14:27.

e. And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart, and with a willing mind; for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for ever. (I Chr. 28:9.) I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. (Jer. 17:10. Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

f. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. (Acts 10:44.)

g. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. (Acts 10:43.) Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours. (I Cor. 1:2.)

h. For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. (Mat. 23:4.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.)

i. Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. (Rom. 3:24.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace.

[j]Jāmeş answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me:

14 Sīm'e-on hath declared how God at the first did visit the Ġĕn'tīleş, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the [k]words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After [l]this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of Dā'vid, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Ġĕn'tīleş, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my [7]sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Ġĕn'tīleş are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain [m]from pollutions of idols, and [n]from [8]fornication, and from [9]things strangled, [o]and from blood.

21 For Mō'şeş of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.

22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Ān'tĭ-ŏch with Paul and Bär'na-bās; namely, Jū'das surnamed [p]Bär'sabās, and Sī'las, chief men among the brethren:

23 And they wrote [10]letters by them after this manner; The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Ġĕn'tīleş in Ān'tĭ-ŏch and Sўr'ĭ-ā and Çi-lĭ'çiā:

24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain [q]which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Bär'na-bās and Paul,

26 [r]Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst.

27 We have sent therefore Jū'das and Sī'las, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the [s]Hō'lў Ghōst,

9. That is, which had the blood in them.

10. The first mention in the New Testament of using writing as a means of assisting the early apostles and disciples in spreading the Gospel.

11. In vs. 36-41 is an account of the contention between Paul and Barnabas, and their separation, over John Mark, who had been somewhat wavering in his devotion to the cause. Paul selects Silas and starts on his second missionary journey, while Barnabas took Mark and sailed to Cyprus.

and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 That [t]ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and [u]from blood, [s]and from things [9]strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Ān'tĭ-ŏch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 And Jū'das and Sī'las, being [v]prophets also themselves, [w]exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let [x]go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles

34 Notwithstanding it pleased Sī'las to abide there still.

35 [y]Paul also and Bär'na-bās continued in Ān'tĭ-ŏch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 ¶ [11]And some days after Paul said unto Bär'na-bās, Let us go again and visit our brethren [z]in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Bär'na-bās determined to take with them [aa]John, whose surname was Märk.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pam-phўl'ĭ-ā, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Bär'na-bās took Märk, and sailed unto Çў'prus;

40 And Paul chose Sī'las, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Sўr'ĭ-ā and Çi-lĭ'çiā, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Paul having circumcised Timothy, 7 and being called by the Spirit from one country to another, 14 converteth Lydia. 16 He casteth out a spirit of divination. 19 He and Silas are whipped and imprisoned. 26 The prison doors are opened.

1 Then [1]came he to [a]Dĕr'be and Lўs'trā:

(Eph. 1:7.) For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. (Eph. 2:8.)

j. But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go show these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place. (Acts 12:17.)

k. And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious. (Is. 11:10.)

l. In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old: That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, saith the Lord that doeth this. (Amos 9:11, 12.)

m. Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments. (Gen. 35:2.)

n. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind. (I Cor. 6:9.) Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. (Col. 3:5.) For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication. (I Thess. 4:3.)

o. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.) It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood. (Lev. 3:17.)

p. And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. (Acts 1:23.)

q. I would they were even cut off which trouble you. (Gal. 5:12.) For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision. (Tit. 1:10.)

r. But the Jews stirred up the devout and honorable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts. (Acts 13:50.) And why stand we in jeopardy every hour? (I Cor. 15:30.) Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool,) I am more: in labors more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft. (II Cor. 11:23.)

s. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (Jno. 16:13.)

t. As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication. (Acts 21:25.)

u. For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off. (Lev. 17:14.)

v. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:28.)

w. Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God. (Acts 14:22.)

x. Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren. (I Cor. 16:11.) By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace. (Heb. 11:31.)

y. Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. (Acts 13:1.)

z. And it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed. (Acts 14:1.)

aa. And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John to their minister. (Acts 13:5.) Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments: if he come unto you, receive him). (Col. 4:10.) Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry. (II Tim. 4:11.)

Chapter 16.

a. They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about. (Acts 14:6.)

and, behold, a certain disciple was there, [b]named Ti-mō'the-ŭs, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jew'ess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

2 Which [c]was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lȳs'trȧ and I-cō'nĭ-um.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and [d]took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, [e]that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

5 And so [f]were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrȳg'ĭ-ȧ and the region of Ga-lā'tĭȧ, and were forbidden of the Hō'lȳ Ghōst to preach the word in Ā'sĭȧ,

7 After they were come to Mȳs'ĭȧ, they assayed to go into Bi-thȳn'ĭ-ȧ: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mȳs'ĭȧ came down to Trō'ăs.

9 And a [2]vision [g]appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man [3]of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the [2]vision, immediately we endeavoured to go [h]into [3]Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from [4]Trō'ăs, we came with a straight course to Săm-o-thrā'çĭȧ, and the next day to Ne-ăp'o-lis;

12 And from thence to [5]Phi-lĭp'pī, which is the chief city of that part of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ, and a colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 [6]And on the [i]sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 ¶ And a certain woman named Lȳd'ĭ-ȧ, a seller of purple, of the city of [j]Thȳ-a-tī'rȧ, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, [k]If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 ¶ And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a [l]certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters [m]much gain by soothsaying:

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many days. But Paul, [n]being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jē'sus Chrīst to come out of her. [o]And he came out the same hour.

19 ¶ And [p]when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Sī'las, and drew them into the marketplace unto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, 21 And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Rō'mans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and [q]commanded to beat them.

23 And [r]when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely:

24 Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the [s]stocks.

25 ¶ And at midnight Paul and Sī'las prayed, and [t]sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And [u]suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately [v]all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, [w]Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Sī'las, 30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved?

2. From the original Greek word supposed to be a vision, not of sleep but of his waking hours.

3. An angel calling Paul to Macedonia.

4. From this place Paul goes forward and for the first time lands on European soil.

5. The first or most important city of Macedonia.

6. In vs. 13-40 is an account of the founding of the church of Philippi, the first church of Europe.

b. So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season. (Acts 19:22.) Timotheus my work-fellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you. (Rom. 16:21.) For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church. (I Cor. 4:17.)

c. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 3:15.)

d. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law. (I Cor. 9:20.)

e. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things. (Acts 15:28.)

f. And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches. (Acts 15:41.) If he continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the Gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister. (Col. 1:23.)

g. And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream. (Num. 12:6.)

h. I made haste, and delayed not to keep thy commandments. (Ps. 119:60.) Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. (Ecc. 9:10.)

i. And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath. (Acts 13:42.)

j. And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass. (Rev. 2:18.)

k. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6:10.)

l. Then said Saul unto his servants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and enquire of her. And his servant said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor. (I Sam. 28:7.)

m. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silver smith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen. (Acts 19:24.)

n. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him (25). And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him. (Mk. 1:25, 34.)

o. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues. (Mk. 16:17.)

p. Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth. Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods which are made with hands. (Acts 19:25, 26.) Whose end is destruction, whose god is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. (Phil. 3:19.)

q. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread. (I Cor. 11:23.)

r. But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. (Lu. 21:12.) Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory. (Eph. 3:13.)

s. Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord. (Jer. 20:2.)

t. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. (Mat. 5:10, 11.)

u. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness. (Acts 4:31.)

v. But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said. (Acts 5:19.)

w. Thou shalt not kill. (Ex. 20:13.) Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. (I Jno. 3:15.)

31 And they said, [x]Believe on the Lord Jē'-sus Chrīst, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, [y]and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying, Let those men go.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, being Rō'mans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily; [z]but let them come themselves and fetch us out.

38 And the serjeants told these words unto the magistrates: and they feared, when they heard that they were Rō'mans.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the city.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lȳd'ī-a: and when they had seen the brethren, they [aa]comforted them, and departed.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica and Berea. 13 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, 15 he cometh to Athens, and preacheth, 34 whereby many are converted unto Christ.

1 [1]Now when they had passed through Ām-phip'o-lis and Ap-ol-lō'nī-a, they came to [2]Thēs-sa-lo-nī'cā, where was a synagogue of the Jews:

2 And Paul, as his manner was, [a]went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening [3]and alleging, [b]that Chrīst must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jē'sus, whom I preach unto you, is Chrīst.

4 And some of them believed, and [4]consorted with Paul and [c]Sī'las; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 ¶ But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain [5]lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a [6]company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jā'son, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jā'son and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, [d]These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

Ch. 17. A. D. 53, 54.

1. In vs. 1-9 is an account of the founding of the church of Thessalonica, the second in Europe.

2. Originally called Therma, through which the army of Xerxes passed in his invasion of Greece. It was given the name of Thessalonica by a sister of Alexander the Great, whose husband rebuilt the city.

3. Arguing and presenting the proposition.

4. Cast in their lot jointly.

5. Vagabonds, members of mobs.

6. A mob.

7. A pledge as a bail or bond.

8. In vs. 10-14 is an account of the founding of the church at Berea, the third in Europe.

9. The Bereans are more noble and honorable in their treatment of the claims of Christ than the Jews, who rejected him without investigation.

10. As a result or in consequence of.

11. In vs. 15-34 Paul offers the Gospel to Athens, who has persistently striven to satisfy herself with the beauty and voluptuousness of art, and heeds not the apostle's warnings.

12. Those who make the happiness of earthly existence the chief aim in life.

13. Those who absolutely disregard and disdain happiness and act solely from the standpoint of duty.

14. The court or temple on Mars' Hill.

15. In vs. 22-31 is an account of Paul's address at the Areopagus on Mars' Hill.

16. Temples and altars.

7 Whom Jā'son hath received: and these all [c]do contrary to the decrees of Cæ'sar, saying that there is another king, one Jē'sus.

8 And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken [7]security of Jā'son, and of the other, they let them go.

10 ¶ [8]And [f]the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Sī'las by night unto Be-rē'a: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These [9]were more noble than those in Thēs-sa-lo-nī'cā, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched [g]the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 [10]Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thēs-sa-lo-nī'cā had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at [h]Be-rē'a, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And [i]then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Sī'las and Ti-mō'the-us abode there still.

15 [11]And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Ath'ens: and receiving a [j]commandment unto Sī'las and Ti-mō'the-us for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 ¶ Now while Paul waited for them at Ath'ens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the [12]Ep-i-cū-rē'ans, and of the [13]Stō'icks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jē'sus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto [14]Ar-ē-op'a-gus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Ath-ē'nī-ans and strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)

22 ¶ [15]Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Ath'ens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your [16]devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 God [k]that made the world and all things

x. Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else. (Is. 45:22.) He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. (Jno. 3:36.)

y. By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.)

z. And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noon-day. (Ps. 37:6.)

aa. And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-laborer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith: That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto. (I Thess. 3:2, 3.)

Chapter 17.

a. And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. (Lu. 4:16.) And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God. (Acts 9:20.)

b. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? (26). And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day. (Lu. 24:26, 46.)

c. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth (27). And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them (32). And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God. (Acts 15:27, 32, 40.)

d. And it came to pass, when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israel? (I Ks. 18:17.)

e. They spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever. (Dan. 3:9.)

f. Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket. (Acts 9:25.)

g. Seek ye out of the book of the Lord, and read; no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them. (Is. 34:16.) Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. (Jno. 5:39.)

h. Who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men. (I Thess. 2:15.)

i. But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come. (Mat. 10:23.)

j. And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ. (Acts 18:5.)

k. And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein. (Acts 14:15.)

therein, seeing that he is [l]Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, [m]as though he needed any thing, seeing [n]he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and [o]the bounds of their habitation;

27 That [p]they should seek the Lord, if haply they might [q]feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For [r]in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And [s]the times of this ignorance God [17]winked at; but [t]now [18]commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which [u]he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul [19]departed from among them.

34 Howbeit [v]certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dī-ŏ-nўs'-ius the Ăr-ĕ-ŏp'a-gīte, and a woman named Dăm'-a-rĭs, and others with them.

CHAPTER 18.

3 Paul laboureth with his hands, and preacheth at Corinth to the Gentiles. 9 The Lord encourageth him in a vision.

1 [1]After these things Paul departed from Ăth'ĕns, and came to Cŏr'inth;

2 And found a certain Jew named Āq'uĭ-là, born in Pŏn'tus, lately come from Ĭt'a-lў, with his wife Prĭs-çĭl'là; (because that Clau'dĭ-us had commanded all Jews to depart from Rōme:) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and [a]wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And when Sī'las and Tĭ-mō'the-ŭs were come from Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à, [2]Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jē'sus was Chrīst.

6 And [b]when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, [c]he shook his raiment, and said unto them, [d]Your blood be [3]upon your own heads; I [e]am clean: from [f]henceforth I will go unto the Gĕn'tīles.

7 ¶ And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Jŭs'tus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 And Crĭs'pus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Co-rĭn'thĭ-anş hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 Then [g]spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For [h]I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: [i]for I have much people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Găl'lĭ-ō was the deputy of A-chā'ĭà, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Găl'lĭ-ō said unto the Jews, [j]If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment seat.

l. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. (Mat. 11:25.) Only the Lord had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day. (Dt. 10:15.) The heaven, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth hath he given to the children of men. (Ps. 115:16.)

m. I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me. (Ps. 50:8.)

n. And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation? (Num. 16:22.) Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein. (Is. 42:5.) The burden of the word of the Lord for Israel, saith the Lord, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him. (Zech. 12:1.) For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. (Rom. 11:36.)

o. When the Most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Israel. (Dt. 32:8.)

p. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. (Rom. 1:20.)

q. But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heaven, and heaven of heavens, cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded! (I Ks. 8:27.) Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord: do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord. (Jer. 23:24.)

r. And he is before all things, and by him all things consist. (Col. 1:17.) Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. v. Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. (Rom. 11:5.)

Chapter 18.

a. And labor, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it. (I Cor. 4:12.) For ye remember, brethren, our labor and travail: for laboring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. (I Thess. 2:9.)

b. Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you. (I Pet. 4:4.)

c. Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord. And the people did according to this promise. (Neh. 5:13.)

d. For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death: he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him. (Lev. 20:9.) Then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. (Ez. 33:4.)

e. When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. (Ez. 3:18.) Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. (Ez. 33:9.)

f. Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it. (Acts 28:28.)

g. Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins. (Is. 58:1.)

h. Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Is. 41:10.) Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. (Mat. 28:20.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

before the judgment seat. And Găl'lĭ-ō cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ [1]And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Sȳr'ĭ-a, and with him Prĭs-çĭl'la and Aq'uĭ-la; having shorn [k]his head in Çĕn'chrĕ-a: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, [l]I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Je-ru'sa-lĕm: but I will return again unto you, [m]if God will. And he sailed from Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs.

22 And when he had landed at Çæs-a-rē'a, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went [3]down to An'tĭ-ŏch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of [n]Ga-lā'tĭa and Phrȳg'ĭ-a in order, strengthening [o]all the disciples.

24 ¶ And a [p]certain Jew named A-pŏl'los, born at Al-ĕx-an'drĭ-a, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aq'uĭ-la and Prĭs-çĭl'la had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into A-chā'ĭa, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace:

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jē'sus was Christ.

CHAPTER 19.

6 The Holy Ghost is given by Paul's hands. 9 His doctrine is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Jews, exorcists, 16 are beaten by the devil. 24 Demetrius raiseth an uproar against Paul.

1 [1]And it came to pass, that, while A-pŏl'los was at Cŏr'ĭnth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs: and finding certain disciples,

5. Paul's second missionary journey, covering about three years, is now brought to a close.

Ch. 19. A. D. 56-59.

1. Ch. 19 is devoted to an account of the great work of Paul at Ephesus. In vs. 1-7 Paul rebaptizes the disciples in the name of the Lord Jesus, whereupon the Holy Ghost came upon them.

2. In vs. 8-12 is the record of miracles confirming the preaching to Jews and Gentiles.

4. That is, those who claimed to have delegated unto them the power to cast demons out of man.

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Hō'lȳ Ghōst since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Hō'lȳ Ghōst.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, [a]John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Chrīst Jē'sus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized [b]in the name of the Lord Jē'sus.

6 And when Paul had [c]laid his hands upon them, the Hō'lȳ Ghōst came on them; and [d]they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 [2]And he [e]went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things [f]concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But [g]when [3]divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tȳ-răn'nus.

10 And [h]this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Ā'sĭa heard the word of the Lord Jē'sus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 And [i]God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 ¶ Then certain of the vagabond Jews, [4]exorcists, [j]took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jē'sus, saying, We adjure you by Jē'sus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sçē'vȧ, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jē'sus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs; and [k]fear

And the Nazarite shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings. (Num. 6:18.) And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon was strong. (Num. 21:24.) And unto the Jews I became a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law. (I Cor. 9:20.)

l. After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome. (Acts 19:21.)

m. But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power. (I Cor. 4:19.) And this will we do, if God permit. (Heb. 6:3.) For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that. (Js. 4:15.)

n. And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia. (Gal. 1:2.) And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus. (Gal. 4:14.)

o. Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. (Is. 35:3.) And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-laborer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith (2). To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. (I Thess. 3:2, 13.)

p. Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. (I Cor. 1:12.) And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another. (I Cor. 4:6.) Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. (Tit. 3:13.)

Chapter 19.

a. For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. (Acts 1:5.)

b. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (Gal. 3:27.)

c. Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. (Acts 6:6.) Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands. (II Tim. 1:6.)

d. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.)

e. And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures. (Acts 17:2.)

f. To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God. (Acts 1:3.) And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the Law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning till evening. (Acts 28:23.)

g. This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. (II Tim. 1:15.) And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of. (II Pet. 2:2.)

h. Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears. (Acts 20:31.)

i. And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. (Mk. 16:20.)

j. And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and we forbade him, because he followeth not us. (Mk. 9:38.)

k. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea. (Lu. 1:65.)

fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Je'sus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and [l]confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many of them also which [m]used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So [n]mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

21 ¶ After [o]these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à and A-chā'ĭà, to go to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, saying, After I have been there, [p]I must also see Rōme.

22 So he sent into Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à two of them that ministered unto him, Ti-mō'the-ŭs and E-răs'tŭs; but he himself stayed in Ā'sĭà for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.

24 For a certain man named De-mē'trĭ-us, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Di-ăn'à, brought [q]no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft [r]we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at [s]Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs, but almost throughout all Ā'sĭà, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they [s]be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our [s]craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Di-ăn'à should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Ā'sĭà and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Di-ăn'à of the E-phē'sĭans.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gā'ius and Ăr-ĭs-tär'chus, men of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of [t]Ā'sĭà, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Ăl-ĕx-ăn'dĕr out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And [u]Ăl-ĕx-ăn'dĕr beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Di-ăn'à of the E-phē'sĭans.

35 And when the [v]townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the E-phē'sĭans is a worshipper of the great goddess Di-ăn'à, and of the image which fell down from Jū'pĭ-tĕr?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if De-mē'trĭ-us, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And [v]when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

1 And after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and [1]departed for to go into [2]Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à.

2 [3]And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there [4]abode three [5]months. And [a]when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Sўr'ĭ-à, he purposed to return through Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à.

4 And there accompanied him into Ā'sĭà Sŏp'a-tĕr of Be-rē'à; and of the Thĕs-sa-lō'nĭans, Ār-ĭs-tär'chus and Se-cŭn'dus; and Gā'ius of Dĕr'be, and [b]Ti-mō'the-ŭs; and of Ā'sĭà, Tўch'ĭ-cŭs and Trŏph'ĭ-mŭs.

5 These going before tarried for us at Trō'ăs.

As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one. (I Cor. 8:4.) Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device. (Acts 17:29.) And there ye shall serve gods, the work of men's hands, wood and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell. (Dt. 4:28.) And the rest of the men, which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk. the days of [6]unleavened bread, and came unto them to Trō'ăs in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 [7]And upon [c]the first day of the week, when the disciples came together [d]to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights [e]in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eū'tў-chus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and [f]fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Ās'sŏs, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Ās'sŏs, we took him in, and came to Mĭt-ў-lē'ne.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chī'os; and the next day we arrived at Sā'mos, and tarried at Tro-gў'lĭ-um; and the next day we came to Mī-lē'tus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ēph'ĕ-sŭs, because he would not spend the time in Ā'sĭà: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Je-rū'sa-lĕm [g]the day of Pĕn'te-cŏst.

17 ¶ And from Mī-lē'tus he sent to Ēph'ĕ-sŭs, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Ā'sĭà, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews:

22 And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Je-rū'sa-lĕm, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that the Hō'lў Ghōst witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But [h]none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, [i]so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jē'sus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to [9]record this day, that I am [j]pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all [k]the counsel of God.

28 ¶ [l]Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the [m]Hō'lў Ghōst hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, [n]which he hath purchased [o]with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing [p]shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also [q]of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and [r]to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you [s]an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I [t]have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Yea, ye yourselves know, [t]that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jē'sus, how he said, [u]It is more blessed to give than to receive.

which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek). (Acts 16:1.)

c. The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre. (Jno. 20:1.) Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. (I Cor. 16:2.) I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet. (Rev. 1:10.)

d. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42.) The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? (I Cor. 10:16.)

e. And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James. (Acts 1:13.)

f. And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this child's soul come into him again. (I Ks. 17:21.)

g. And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. (Acts 2:1.) But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost. (I Cor. 16:8.)

h. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? (35). Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. (Rom. 8:35, 37.)

i. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. (II Tim. 4:7.)

j. Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man. (II Cor. 7:2.)

k. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him. (Lu. 7:30.) Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (Jno. 15:15.)

l. Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee. (I Tim. 4:16.)

m. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:28.)

n. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.)

o. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.)

p. Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. (Mat. 7:15.)

q. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us. (I Jno. 2:19.)

r. Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein. (Heb. 13:9.)

s. The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints. (Eph. 1:18.) To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. (Acts 26:18.) Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. (Eph. 1:14.) Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light. (Col. 1:12.) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.) To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you. (I Pet. 1:4.)

t. And labor, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it. (I Cor. 4:12.) For ye remember, brethren, our labor and travail: for laboring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. (I Thess. 2:9.)

u. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. (Mat. 10:8.)

v. Behold, here I am: witness against me before the Lord, and 36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him, 38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER 21.

1 Paul will not be dissuaded from going to Jerusalem. 9 Philip's daughters prophetesses. 17 Paul cometh to Jerusalem; 27 he is apprehended there, 31 is rescued, and permitted to speak to the people.

1 And it came to pass, that after we were [1]gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Cō'ŏs, and the day [2]following unto Rhŏdes, and from thence unto Pătʹa-rà:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phe-nĭʹçià, we went aboard, and set [3]forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Çȳʹprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Sȳr'ĭ-à, and landed at Tȳre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Je-rụʹsa-lĕm.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tȳre, we came to Ptōl-e-māʹis, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Çæs-a-rēʹà: and we entered into the house of Phĭl'ĭp [a]the evangelist, which was one of the [4]seven; and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.

10 And as we tarried there [5]many days, there came down from Jū-dæʹà a certain prophet, named Ăg'ă-bŭs.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Hō'lȳ Ghōst, So shall the Jews at Je-rụʹsa-lĕm bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gĕnʹtīles.

12 And when [6]we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Je-rụʹsa-lĕm.

13 Then Paul answered, What [b]mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for [c]I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Je-rụʹsa-lĕm for the name of the Lord Jēʹsus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, [d]The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to [7]Je-rụʹsa-lĕm.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Çæs-a-rēʹà, and brought with them one Mnāʹson of Çȳʹprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 [8]And [e]when we were come to Je-rụʹsalĕm, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us [f]unto [9]Jāmes; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared [g]particularly what things God had wrought among the Gĕnʹtīles [h]by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all [i]zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that [j]thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gĕnʹtīles to forsake Mō'sĕs, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may [k]shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and [l]keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gĕnʹtīles which believe, [m]we have [10]written and concluded that they

7. The fifth trip since his conversion, thus completing his third missionary journey.

8. In vs. 17-40 Paul reports concerning his third missionary journey; and, while in the temple, is attacked by a mob which almost kills him, creating so much disorder that the Roman commander quells the disturbance and takes Paul from them, permitting him to go to the stairs of the platform and address the people.

be more his anointed: whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith? and I will restore it you. (I Sam. 12:3.) Have we not power to eat and to drink? (I Cor. 9:4.) Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely? I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service. And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia. Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory they may be found even as we. (II Cor. 11:7-12.)

Chapter 21.

a. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers. (Eph. 4:11.) Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me. (II Tim. 4:9.)

b. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. (Acts 20:24.)

c. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? (Rom. 8:35.)

d. He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done. (Matt. 26:42.) Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. (Luke 22:42.)

e. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them. (Acts 15:4.)

f. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me. (Acts 15:13.) But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother. (Gal. 1:19.) James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting. (Jas. 1:1.)

g. For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed. (Rom. 15:18.)

h. For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry. (Acts 1:17.) But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. (Acts 20:24.)

i. I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day. (Acts 22:3.) For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. (Rom. 10:2.) Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:4.)

j. For we have heard him say, That this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us. (Acts 6:14.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.)

k. Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall separate themselves to vow a vow of a Nazarite, to separate themselves unto the Lord (2). And this is the law of the Nazarite, when the days of his separation are fulfilled: he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation (13). And the Nazarite shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is unto the sacrifice of the peace offerings. (Num. 6:2, 13, 18.) And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow. (Acts 18:18.)

l. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law. (I Cor. 9:20.)

m. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat. (Gen. 9:4.) I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators. (I Cor. 5:9.) For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication. (I Thess. 4:3.)

observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then [11]Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into [m]the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of A'sia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid [o]hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Is'ra-el, help: This is the man, [p]that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city Troph'i-mus an E-phē'sian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Je-ru'sa-lĕm was in an uproar.

32 [q]Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 Art not thou that E-gŷp'tian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, [r]I am a man which am a Jew of Tär'sus, a city in Çi-lī'çiȧ, a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, [s]suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hē'brew tongue, saying,

11 Paul now marches to the place where he will be arrested and will remain in bonds several years.

Ch. 22. A. D. 60.

1. In vs. 1-21 is an account of Paul's first defense, delivered from the stairs. The audience became so enraged that he was removed into the fort and ordered to be scourged, but when the commander learned that Paul was a Roman he ordered him to be released and tried by the Sanhedrin.

CHAPTER 22.

1 Paul declareth how he was converted to the faith, 17 and called to his apostleship. 22 At the mention of the Gentiles, the people exclaim on him.

1 [1]Men, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hē'brew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tär'sus, a city in Çi-lī'çiȧ, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Ga-mā'lī-el, and taught [a]according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and [b]was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And [c]I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and [d]all the estate of the elders: [e]from whom also I received letters unto [f]the brethren, and went to Da-măs'cus, to bring them which were there bound unto Je-ru'sa-lĕm, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Da-măs'cus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jē'sus of Năz'a-rĕth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And [g]they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Da-măs'cus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Da-măs'cus.

12 And one An-a-nī'as, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers [h]hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know [i]his will, and see that [j]Just One, and [k]shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For [l]thou shalt be his witness unto all men of [m]what thou hast seen and heard.

n. Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult. (Acts 24:18.)

o. For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. (Acts 26:21.)

p. For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes: Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law. (Acts 24:5, 6.)

q. This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman. (Acts 23:27.)

r. And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul. (Acts 9:11.)

s. But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear. (I Pet. 3:15.) Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf. (I Pet. 4:16.)

Chapter 22.

a. Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. (Acts 26:5.)

b. And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers. (Gal. 1:14.)

c. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

d. And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into the council, saying. (Lu. 22:66.)

e. And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. (Acts 9:2.)

f. For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh. (Rom. 9:3.)

g. For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me. (Dan. 10:17.)

h. I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen. (Acts 26:16.) For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ. (Gal. 1:12.)

i. Am I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord. (I Cor. 9:1.) And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time. (I Cor. 15:8.)

j. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you. (Acts 3:14.) For such an High Priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens. (Heb. 7:26.)

k. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread. (I Cor. 11:23.) For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ. (Gal. 1:12.)

l. And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome. (Acts 23:11.)

m. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and 16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be [b]baptized, [n]and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And [o]it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, [p]and get thee quickly out of Je-ru'sa-lĕm: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, [q]they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 And when the blood of thy [3]martyr Stē'phen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: [r]for I will send thee far hence unto the Gĕn'tīles.

22 And they gave him [4]audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that [s]he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 24 The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by [6]scourging; that he might [6]know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, [t]Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Rō'man, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Rō'man.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Rō'man? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Rō'man, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

3. Originally meaning witness.

4. His Hebrew speech impelled them to give him audience.

5. To get ready to stone him. They are so enraged that they forget he is safe from their attacks, being a Roman.

6. That is, by torture forced from him acknowledgment of his crime.

Ch. 23. A. D. 60.

1. In vs. 1-10 Paul so adroitly delivers his speech of defense that the members of the Sanhedrin are divided in opinion, creating such disorder that they have to be dismissed.

2. Alluding to the body politic or commonwealth of Israel.

3. Which was fulfilled, as he was assassinated during the Jewish war.

4. An epithet, meaning hypocrite.

5. A dispute among themselves.

6. Fought.

7. In vs. 10-35 Paul is rescued and sent to Cæsarea.

8. For safe keeping against the enraged council.

9. That is, they had covenanted together that they would not eat, drink or sleep until they had brought about the death of Paul.

CHAPTER 23.

1 As Paul pleadeth his cause, 2 Ananias commandeth them to smite him. 7 Dissension among his accusers. 11 God encourageth him. 14 The Jews' laying wait for Paul 20 is declared unto the chief captain. 27 He sendeth him to Felix the governor.

1 [1]And Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, [a]I have lived in all good [2]conscience before God until this day.

2 And the high priest Ān-a-nī'as commanded them that stood by him [b]to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall [3]smite thee, thou whited [4]wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and [c]commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were Săd'du-çeeş, and the other Phăr'ī-seeş, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Phăr'ī-see, the son of a Phăr'ī-see: [d]of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a [5]dissension between the Phăr'ī-seeş and the Săd'du-çeeş: and the multitude was divided.

8 For the Săd'du-çeeş say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Phăr'ī-seeş confess both.

9 And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Phăr'ī-seeş' part arose, and [6]strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, [e]let us not fight against God.

10 [7]And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him [8]into the castle.

11 And [f]the night following the Lord stood by him and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Je-ru'sa-lĕm, so must thou bear witness also at Rōme.

12 And when it was day, [g]certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves [h]under a [9]curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

heard. (Acts 1:20.) But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee. (Acts 26:16.)

n. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. (Acts 2:38.) Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.)

o. I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth,) such an one caught up to the third heaven. (II Cor. 12:2.)

p. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. (Mat. 10:14.)

q. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

r. As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. (Acts 13:2.) Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee. (Acts 26:17.)

s. And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer. (Acts 25:24.)

t. But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned being Romans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily: but let them come themselves and fetch us out. (Acts 16:37.)

a. For I know nothing by myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord. (I Cor. 4:4.) For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. (II. Cor. 1:12.)

b. Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the Lord. (Jer. 20:2.) And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? (Jno. 18:22.)

c. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in mete-yard, in weight, or in measure. (Lev. 19:35.) Doth our law judge any man before it hear him and know what he doeth? (Jno. 7:51.)

d. For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain. (Acts 28:20.)

e. But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God. (Acts 5:39.)

f. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. (Ps. 46:1.) For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from those that condemn his soul. (Ps. 109:31.) Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Is. 41:10.) When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. (Is. 43:2.) Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace. (Acts 18:9.)

g. Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces. Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us. (Is. 8:9, 10.) What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:31.)

h. Then king Solomon sware by the Lord, saying, God do so to me, and more also, if Adonijah have not spoken this word against his own life. (I Ks. 2:23.) Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew. (Mat. 26:74.)

ST. PAUL BEFORE KING AGRIPPA.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.
14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great [9]curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.
15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or [10]ever he come near, are ready to kill him.
16 And [i]when Paul's [11]sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.
17 Then [j]Paul called [12]one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.
18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.
19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?
20 And he said, [k]The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into the council, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.
21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there [l]lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.
22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.
23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cæs-a-rē'a, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the [13]third hour of the night;
24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Fē'lix the governor.
25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:
26 Clau'dī-us Lȳs'ias unto the most excellent governor Fē'lix sendeth greeting.

3. That is, a Greek orator or counselor before the court.

4 That is, charged this man with sedition, heresy, and sacrilege.

5. A pest.

27 This [m]man was taken of the Jews, and should [14]have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Rō'man.
28 And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:
29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions [n]of their law, [o]but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.
30 And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and [p]gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.
31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to An-tĭp'a-trĭs.
32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:
33 Who, when they came to [q]Cæs-a-rē'a, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.
34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of [r]Çi-lĭ'çiă;
35 [s]I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in [t]Hĕr'od's judgment hall.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Paul, being accused, 10 answereth for his life and doctrine. 24 He preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife.

1 [1]And after [a]five [2]days [b]An-a-nī'as the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tĕr-tŭl'lus, who informed the governor against Paul.
2 And when he was called forth, Tĕr-tŭl'lus [3]began to accuse him, saying, Seeing [c]that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,
3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Fē'lĭx, with all thankfulness.
4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.
5 [d]For we have found [4]this man a [5]pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Năz'a-rēnes:
6 Who also hath gone about to profane the

i. He taketh the wise in their own craftiness: and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong. (Job 5:13.) There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord. (Prov. 21:30.)
j. A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished. (Prov. 22:3.) Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. (Mat. 10:16.) See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise. (Eph. 5:15.)
k. And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia. (Acts 20:3.) Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him, And desired favor against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him. (Acts 25:2, 3.)
l. He lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him into his net. (Ps. 10:9.) The wicked plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth (12). The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him. (Ps. 37:12, 32.) For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood. (Prov. 1:16.) For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall. (Prov. 4:16.) Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood; their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths. (Is. 59:7.)
m. Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done. (Acts 21:33.) But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands. (Acts 24:7.)
n. But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters. (Acts 18:15.) But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. (Acts 25:19.)
o. And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. (Acts 26:31.) Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me. (Acts 28:18.)
p. And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and the next day, sitting on the judgment seat, commanded Paul to be brought. (Acts 25:6.)
q. But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea. (Acts 8:40.)
r. But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people. (Acts 21:39.)
s. And after five days Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul. (Acts 24:1.) To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him. (Acts 25:16.)
t. Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. (Mat. 27:27.)
a. And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him. (Acts 21:27.)
b. And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth (2). And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell (30). I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment hall. (Acts 23: 2, 30, 35.) Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him. (Acts 25:2.)
c. They speak vanity every one with his neighbor: with flattering lips, and with a double heart, do they speak. (Ps. 12:2.) The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords. (Ps. 55:21.) These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage. (Jude 16.)
d. And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying that he himself is Christ a King. (Lu. 23:2.) And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river-side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted temple: whom we took, and would [c]have judged according to our law.

7 But [f]the chief captain Lȳs'ias came upon us, and with great [g]violence took him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the governor had [i]beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 [s]Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm for to worship.

12 And [g]they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 [s]But this I confess unto thee, that after [h]the way which they call heresy, so worship I the [i]God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [j]the law and in the prophets:

15 And [k]have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, [l]that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And [m]herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 [10]Now after many years [n]I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 Whereupon [o]certain Jews from Ā'sĭa found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

19 Who [p]ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council, 21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the [q]resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

22 And when Fē'lĭx heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lȳs'ias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and let him have liberty, and [r]that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 And after certain days, when Fē'lĭx came with his wife Drū-sĭl'lā, which was a Jew'ess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Chrĭst.

25 And as he reasoned of [11]righteousness, [12]temperance, and [13]judgment to come, Fē'lĭx trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that [s]money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 But after two [14]years Por'çĭ-us Fĕs'tus came into Fē'lĭx' room: and Fē'lĭx, [t]willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER 25.

2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus. 11 Paul appealeth unto Cæsar. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

1 [1]Now when Fĕs'tus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Çæs-a-rē'ā to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

2 Then [a]the high [2]priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired [3]favour against him, that he would send for him to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, laying wait [b]in the way to kill him.

4 But Fĕs'tus answered, that Paul should be kept at Çæs-a-rē'ā, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, [c]if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Çæs-a-rē'ā; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Je-ru'sa-lĕm stood round thither. (Acts 16:13.) Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles; that, whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation (12). For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men. (I Pet. 2:12, 15.)

e. Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death. (Jno. 18:31.)

m. And Paul earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day. (Acts 23:1.)

n. For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost. (Acts 20:16.) But now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints. (Rom. 15:25.) Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do. (Gal. 2:10.)

o. For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. (Acts 26:21.)

p. To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him. (Acts 25:16.)

q. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. (Acts 23:6.)

about, [d]and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against [e]the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cæ'sar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Fēs'tus, [f]willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cæ'sar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. [g]I appeal unto Cæ'sar.

12 Then Fēs'tus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cæ'sar? unto Cæ'sar shalt thou go.

13 [4]And after certain days king A-grĭp'pa and Bĕr-nī'çe came unto Çæs-a-rē'a to salute Fēs'tus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Fēs'tus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, [h]There is a certain man left in bonds by Fē'lix:

15 About whom, when I was at Je-ru'sa-lĕm, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Rō'mans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But [i]had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jē'sus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of [5]Au-gŭs'tus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cæ'sar.

1. In this ch. Paul delivers his fourth defense, which is before King Agrippa, who pronounces Paul innocent, although he concludes that Paul's appeal to Caesar must be carried out; hence Paul is remanded to prison.

22 Then A-grĭp'pa said unto Fēs'tus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when A-grĭp'pa was come, and Bĕr-nī'çe, with [j]great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Fēs'tus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Fēs'tus said, King A-grĭp'pa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and also here, crying that he ought [k]not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Au-gŭs'tus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king A-grĭp'pa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER 26.

2 Paul, before Agrippa, declareth his life, 12 and how he was converted. 24 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereunto he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippa almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company pronounced him to be innocent.

1 [1]Then A-grĭp'pa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king A-grĭp'pa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Je-ru'sa-lĕm, know all the Jews;

5 Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after [a]the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Phăr'i-see.

6 And now I stand and am judged for the hope of [b]the promise made of God unto our fathers:

---

d. Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty. (Ps. 27:12.) False witnesses did rise up: they laid to my charge things that I knew not. (Ps. 35:11.) And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing. (Mk. 15:3.) Who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men. (I Thess. 2:15.)

e. And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law. (Acts 6:13.)

f. Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow. (Dt. 27:19.) And said to the judges, Take heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the judgment. (II Chr. 19:6.) And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.) (Acts 12:3.) For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ. (Gal. 1:10.) But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors. (Js. 2:9.)

g. Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands. (Prov. 14:1.) Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good. (Ecc. 9:18.) Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. (Mat. 10:16.) See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise. (Eph. 5:15.)

h. But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix' room; and Felix, willing to show the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound. (Acts 24:27.)

i. But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters. (Acts 18:15.) Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. (Acts 23:29.)

For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. (I Cor. 1:18.)

j. Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; all is vanity. (Ecc. 1:2.) For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away. (I Pet. 1:24.)

k. And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth; for it is not fit that he should live. (Acts 22:22.)

Chapter 26.

a. I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day. (Acts 22:3.)

b. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice. (Gen 22:18.) Then Sarah denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh. (Gen. 18:15.) The Lord hath sworn in truth unto David; he will not turn from it; Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne. (Ps. 132:11.) Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. (Is. 7:14.) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace, (Is. 9:6.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. (Jer. 23:5.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah. (Jer. 33:14.) And I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed

7 Unto which promise [c]our twelve tribes, instantly serving God [d]day and night, hope [e]to come. For which hope's sake, king A-grĭp'pȧ, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise [f]the dead?

9 I [g]verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jē'sus of Năz'a-rĕth.

10 Which [h]thing I also did in Je-rū'sa-lĕm: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority [i]from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 And [j]I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them [2]to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 Whereupon as I went to Da-măs'cus with authority and commission from the chief priests, 13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hē'brew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jē'sus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;

17 Delivering thee from the [3]people, and from the Gĕn'tiles, unto whom now I send thee,

18 [k]To open their eyes, and [l]to turn them from darkness to light, and [m]from the power of Sā'tan unto God, [n]that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are [o]sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king A-grĭp'pȧ, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But [p]showed first unto them of Da-măs'cus, and at Je-rū'sa-lĕm, and throughout all the coasts of Jū-dæ'ȧ, and then to the Gĕn'tiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which [q]the prophets and [r]Mō'ses did say should come:

23 That [s]Chrīst should suffer, and that [t]he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should [u]shew light unto the people, and to the Gĕn'tiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Fĕs'tus said with a loud voice, Paul, [v]thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble [4]Fĕs'tus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King A-grĭp'pȧ, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then A-grĭp'pȧ said unto Paul, [w]Almost thou persuadest me to be a Chrĭs'tian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bēr-nī'çe, and they that sat with them:

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, [x]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said A-grĭp'pȧ unto Fĕs'tus, This man might have been set at liberty, [y]if he had not appealed unto Çæ'sar.

CHAPTER 27.

1 Paul shipping toward Rome, 10 foretelleth of the danger of the voyage, 11 but is not believed. 14 They are tossed to and fro with tempest, 41 and suffer shipwreck, 22, 34, 44 yet all come safe to land.

1 [1]And when [z]it was determined that we should sail into Ĭt'a-lў, they delivered Paul and them, and he shall be their shepherd. (Ez. 34:23.) Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:1.)

c. James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting. (Js. 1:1.)

d. And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day. (Lu. 2:37.) Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith? (I Thess. 3:10.)

e. If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead. (Phil. 3:11.)

f. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. (Dan. 12:2.)

g. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. (Jno. 16:2.)

h. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

i. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished. (Acts 22:5.)

j. And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee. (Acts 22:19.)

k. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. (Is. 35:5.)

l. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? (II Cor. 6:14.) Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. (Eph. 4:18.) For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light: (Eph. 5:8.) Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son: (Col. 1:13.)

m. He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. (I Jno. 3:8.)

n. To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins. (Lu. 1:77.)

o. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. (Acts 20:32.)

p. And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God. (Acts 9:20.)

q. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. (Rom. 3:21.)

r. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me. (Jno. 5:46.)

s. But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. (Ps. 22:6.) Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted (4). He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:4, 7.)

t. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept. (I Cor. 15:20.) And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful Witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (Rev. 1:5.)

u. I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant to the people, for a light of the Gentiles. (Is. 42:6.)

v. And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him? (Jno. 10:20.) We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ: we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are honorable, but we are despised. (I Cor. 4:10.)

w. For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly. (Mk. 6:20.)

x. Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. (Acts 23:29.) But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him. (Acts 25:25.)

y. For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar. (Acts 25:11.)

Chapter 27.

a. Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, certain other prisoners unto one named Jū'lius, a centurion of Au-gŭs'tus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Ăd-ra-mȳt'tĭ-um, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Ā'şiȧ; one [b]Ăr-ĭs-tär'chus, a Măç-e-dō'nĭ-an of Thĕs-sa-lo-nī'cȧ, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sī'dŏn. And Jū'lius [c]courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Çȳ'prus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Çi-lĭ'çiȧ and Pam-phȳl'ĭ-ȧ, we came to Mȳ'rȧ, a city of Lȳ'çiȧ.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Ăl-ĕx-ăn'drĭ-ȧ sailing into Ĭt'a-lȳ; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnī'dus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under [d]Crēte, over against Săl-mō'ne;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of La-sē'ȧ.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, [e]because the [2]fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed [3]the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to [f]Phe-nī'çe, and there to winter; which is an haven of Crēte, and lieth toward the south west and north west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crēte.

14 But not long after there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called [g]Eū-rŏc'lȳ-don.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her [4]drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clȧu'dȧ, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day [h]we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crēte, and to have [5]gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 For [i]there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom [j]I serve, 24 Saying, [k]Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Çæ'şar: and, lo, God hath [l]given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for [m]I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit [n]we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 [6]But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Ā-drĭ'ȧ, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 [7]And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This

6. In vs. 27-32 the sailors attempt to desert and leave the vessel to the storm.

7. In vs. 33-38 for the third time Paul takes command and brings order out of chaos.

Hast thou appealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go (12). But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him. (Acts 25:12, 25.)

b. And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre. (Acts 19:29.) With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here. (Col. 4:9.)

c. And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with the soldier that kept him. (Acts 28:16.)

d. One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies. (Tit. 1:12.)

e. And ye shall have on the tenth day of this seventh month an holy convocation; and ye shall afflict your souls; ye shall not do any work therein. (Num. 29:7.)

f. Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen traveled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only. (Acts 11:19.)

g. For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof. They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul is melted because of trouble. They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end. (Ps. 107:25-27.)

h. Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. (Jon. 1:5.)

i. The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant. (Ps. 25:14.) Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. (Amos 3:7.)

j. Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. (Dan. 6:16.) For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers. (Rom. 1:9.) I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day. (II Tim. 1:3.)

k. Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness (10). Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel. (Is. 41:10, 14.) When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. (Is. 43:2.)

l. And it came to pass, from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the Lord blessed the Egyptian's house for Joseph's sake; and the blessing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field (5). The keeper of the prison looked not to any thing that was under his hand; because the Lord was with him, and that which he did, the Lord made it to prosper. (Gen. 39:5, 23.) Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept; lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job. (Job 42:8.)

m. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.) And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper. (II Chr. 20:20.) For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day. (II Tim. 1:12.)

n. And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita. (Acts 28:1.)

day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for [o]there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and [p]gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen [q]souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 [s]And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers' counsel [r]was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, [s]willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they [t]escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER 28.

1 Paul after his shipwreck is kindly entertained of the barbarians. 5 The viper on his hand hurteth him not. 8 He healeth many diseases in the island. 11 They depart towards Rome. 30 He preacheth there two years.

1 [1]And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called [2]Mĕl'i-tà.

2 And the barbarous people shewed [a]us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a [3]viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous [4]beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, [b]No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and [c]felt no harm.

6 Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or [5]fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and [d]said that he was a god.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Pŭb'lĭ-us; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8 And it came to pass, that the father of Pŭb'lĭ-us lay sick of a fever and of a [6]bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and [e]prayed, and laid [f]his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So [e]when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many [g]honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 [7]And after three months we departed in a ship of Ăl-ĕx-ăn'drĭ-à, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Căs'tŏr and Pŏl'lux.

12 And landing at Sўr'a-cūse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a [8]compass, and came to Rhē'gĭ-um: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Pū-tē'o-lī:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rōme.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard [9]of us, they came to meet us as far as [10]Ăp'pĭ-ī fō'rŭm, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

o. And Solomon said, If he will show himself a worthy man, there shall not an hair of him fall to the earth: but if wickedness shall be found in him, he shall die. (I Ks. 1:52.) But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. (Mat. 10:30.) But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. (Lu. 12:7.) But there shall not an hair of your head perish. (Lu. 21:18.)

a. I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise. (Rom. 1:14.) Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all. (Col. 3:11.) Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:1, 2.)

b. And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. (Lu. 13:2, 3.) And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? (Jno. 9:2.)

c. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder; the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet. (Ps. 91:13.) They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. (Mk. 16:18.) Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. (Lu. 10:19.)

d. To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God. (Acts 8:10.) And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. (Acts 14:11.)

e. And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the Lord, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this child's soul come into him again. (I Ks. 17:21.) Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord (14). Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Js. 5:14, 16.)

f. While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. (Mat. 9:18.) And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk and healed them. (Mk. 6:5.) They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. (Mk. 16:18.) And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul. (Acts 19:11.) To another is given by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit (9). And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healing, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:9, 28.)

g. For ye remember, brethren, our labor and travail: for laboring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you,

MT. OF OLIVES AND GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE FROM ST. STEPHEN'S GATE.

16 And when we came to Rōme, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but [h]Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him.

17 [11]And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was [i]I delivered prisoner from Je-ru'sa-lĕm into the hands of the Rō'mans.

18 Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jews spake against it, [j]I was constrained to appeal unto Çæ'sar; not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that [k]for the hope of Is'ra-el I am bound with [l]this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Jū-dæ'a concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee.

22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, ye know that every where [m]it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; [n]to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jē'sus, both out of the law of Mō'sĕs, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.

11. In vs. 17-29 Paul presents the Gospel to the Jews.

24 And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Hō'lў Ghōst by E-sā'ias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 Saying, [o]Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For [p]the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent [q]unto the Gĕn'tīles, and that they will hear it.

12. No one; the Jews fearing to interfere, and the Romans not desiring to.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,

j. For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar. (Acts 25:11.)

k. And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. (Acts 26:6, 7.)

l. And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds. (Acts 26:29.) For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles. (Eph. 3:1.) For which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak. (Eph. 6:20.)

m. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel: and for a sign which shall be spoken against. (Lu. 2:34.) For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes. (Acts 24:5.) Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles; that, whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation. (I Pet. 2:12.)

n. And beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. (Lu. 24:27.)

o. And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. (Is. 6:9.) Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not. (Jer. 5:21.)

p. They have not known nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand. (Is. 44:18.)

q. Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. (Mat. 21:43.)

r. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness. (Acts 4:31.) So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in all other places. (Phil. 1:13.)

ROMANS

NOTE.—The Epistle to the Romans was written by Paul while at Corinth in Greece, in the early spring of 58 A. D. Its general subject is the doctrine of the Gospel. It is divided into three sections: (1) The legal relation of man to God as a violator of his holy law, whether merely written on the hearts as in the case of the heathen, or by external revelation as with the chosen people; (2) it next treats of that legal relation as wholly reversed through faith in Christ; (3) the new life which comes as a result of this change of relation.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Paul commendeth his calling to the Romans, 9 and his desire to come to them. 18 God is angry with all manner of sin.

1 Paul, a servant of Jē'sus Chrīst, called to be an apostle, [1]separated [a]unto the [b]gospel of God,

2 (Which [c]he [2]had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)

3 Concerning his Son Jē'sus Chrīst our Lord, which was made of the seed of Dā'vid according to the flesh;

4 And declared to be the Son of God with power, according [d]to the spirit of [e]holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

5 By whom we have received [3]grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, [f]for his name:

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jē'sus Chrīst:

7 To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: [4]Grace [g]to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst.

8 First, [h]I thank my God through Jē'sus Chrīst for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9 For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers;

10 Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God to come unto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that [i]oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but was [j]let hitherto,) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gĕn'tīles.

14 [k]I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Bär-bā'rĭ-anş; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rōme also.

16 For [l]I am not ashamed of the gospel of Chrīst: for [m]it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that [5]believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For [n]therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith [6]to faith: as it is written, [o]The just shall live by faith.

18 [7]For [p]the wrath of God is [8]revealed from heaven against all [9]ungodliness and [10]unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness;

19 Because [q]that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For [r]the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and [11]Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but [s]became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 Professing [t]themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23 And changed the glory of the uncorruptible [u]God into an image made like to corrupti-

2. Paul here asserts the Christianity of Christ to be a continuation of the old Israelitism.

3. Free pardon.

4. May you be graciously pardoned and kept by the Father.

5 Paul here asserts the limit, which is only those who refuse to believe.

6. The righteousness of God is revealed by faith to the faithful.

7. The apostle now tells why the righteousness of God is needed by all men.

8. That is, visited.

9. Living without any conscious reference or relation to God.

10. Positive, willful wickedness or rebellion against God.

11. The syllable "head" in the term "God-head" sustains the same relation to the entire word as does "hood" in "manhood."

Ref. Romans. Chapter 1.

a. But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. (Acts 9:15.)

b. Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God. (Mk. 1:14.) And the soldiers led him away into the hall called Pretorium; and they called together the whole band. (Mk. 15:16.) Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely? (II Cor. 11:7.) For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? (I Pet. 4:17.) Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord. (II Cor. 2:12.)

c. In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Tit. 1:2.)

d. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.)

e. How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed with the devil: for God was with him. (Acts 10:38.) God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again, as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. (Acts 13:33.) Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead. (Acts 17:31.)

f. That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should show light unto the people, and to the Gentiles. (Acts 26:23.)

g. For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake. (Acts 9:16.)

h. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:3.) Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 1:2.) Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ. (Gal. 1:3.) Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. (Eph. 1:2.) To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. (Col. 1:2.) To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. (II Tim. 1:2.) The Lord make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. (Num. 6:25.)

i. I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:4.) Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints. (Eph. 1:15.) I thank my God upon every remembrance of you. (Phil. 1:3.) For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe. (I Thess. 2:13.) But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth. (II Thess. 2:13.) I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day. (II Tim. 1:3.)

i. But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you. (Rom. 15:23.)

j. After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not. (Acts 16:7.) Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Satan hindered us. (I Thess. 2:18.)

k. For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. (I Cor. 9:16.)

l. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God. (II Tim. 1:8.)

m. For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. (I. Cor. 1:18.)

n. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. (Rom. 3:21.)

o. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. (Jno. 3:36.)

p. And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent. (Acts 17:30.)

q. Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. (Acts 14:17.)

r. The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handywork. (Ps. 19:1.)

s. And they rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not do like them. (II Ks. 17:15.)

t. Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. (Jer. 10:14.)

u. To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? (Is. 40:18.)

ble man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 Wherefore [v]God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:

25 Who changed [w]the truth of God [x]into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient;

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; [12]whisperers,

30 [13]Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenantbreakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER 2.

1 They that sin, though they condemn it in others, cannot excuse themselves, 6 and much less escape the judgment of God. 14 The Gentiles cannot escape, 17 nor yet the Jews, 25 whom their circumcision shall not profit, if they keep not the law.

1 [1]Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that [2]judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according [a]to truth against them which commit [3]such things.

3 And [b]thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou [c]the riches of his goodness and forbearance and [d]longsuffering; [e]not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But after thy [4]hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 Who [f]will render to every man according to his [5]deeds:

7 To them [g]who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and [h]immortality, eternal life:

8 But [i]unto them that are [j]contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, [6]indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the [k]Jew first, and also of the Gĕn'tīle;

10 But [l]glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gĕn'tīle:

11 For there is no [m]respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law;

13 (For [n]not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gĕn'tīles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law [7]unto themselves:

15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their [8]conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another;)

16 [9]In the day when God shall judge the

(Jer. 16:19.)

Chapter 2.

a. Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you. (II Thess. 1:6.)

b. Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered. (Prov. 11:21.)

c. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory. (Rom. 9:23.) How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. (II Cor. 8:2.) But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:19.) To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. (Col. 1:27.) Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour. (Tit. 3:6.)

d. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.)

e. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance (9). And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you. (II Pet. 3: 9, 15.)

f. For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.)

g. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God. (Rev. 2:7.)

h. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption (42). Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption (50). For this incorruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. (I Cor. 15:42, 50, 53.) But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel. (II Tim. 1:10.)

i. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.) That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. (II. Thess. 2:12.)

j. But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel. (Phil. 1:17.) For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults. (II Cor. 12:20.) Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies. (Gal. 5:20.) Let nothing be done through strife or vain-glory; but in lowliness of mind, let each esteem other better than themselves. (Phil. 2:3.) But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth (14). For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work. (Js. 3:14, 16.)

k. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the Gospel of God? (I Pet. 4:17.)

l. That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:7.)

m. How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands. (Job. 34:19.)

n. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. (Js. 1:22.)

secrets of men [o]by Jē'şus Chrīst according to my gospel.

17 [10]Behold, thou art called a Jew, and restest [p]in the law, and makest thy boast of God,

18 And [q]knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;

19 And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness, 20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, [r]dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law [11]dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is [12]blasphemed among the Ġĕn'tīleş through you, as it is written.

25 For [s]circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore [13]if [t]the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, [u]judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28 For [v]he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew, [w]which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the [14]heart, [x]in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER 3.

1 The Jews' prerogative: 3 which they have not lost: 9 howbeit the law convinceth them also of sin: 20 therefore no flesh is justified by the law, 28 but all, without difference, by faith only.

1 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly, because that [a]unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if [b]some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God [c]forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, [d]That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our [e]unrighteousness [1]commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? ([f]I speak as a man)

6 God forbid: for then [g]how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9 [2]What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Ġĕn'tīleş, that they are all under sin;

10 As it is written, [h]There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none that [3]understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13 Their [i]throat is an open [4]sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; [j]the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose [k]mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood:

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 There [l]is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

20 Therefore by the deeds [5]of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for [m]by the [6]law is the knowledge of sin.

21 [7]But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and [n]the prophets;

---

10. In vs. 17-24 the apostle declares the case of the Jew with the written law to be parallel to the Gentile with the unwritten law.

11. By disobedience and failure to discharge their duty.

12. Therefore, instead of honoring God, they have dishonored him by reviling and implicating him.

13. That is, because of their past lives.

14. Circumcision was the patriarchal symbol of purification or inward regeneration or acceptance of the divine covenant; but in the new dispensation this has been supplanted by the ordinance of baptism, therefore circumcision is no longer required.

Ch. 3. A. D. 60.

1. Thus the Jews make their unrighteousness the means of bringing to man the righteousness of God, hence it has accomplished a great thing, which—if it were true—would make it impossible for Christ to judge the world of sin.

2. In vs. 9-20 the apostle declares all are condemned under the law.

3. That is, that are righteous.

4. That is, what proceeds out of their mouth is a curse like the pestilential breath of an open grave.

5. Fulfilling the law.

6. That is, justified or hardened.

7. In vs. 21-31 the apostle declares justification by faith through the atonement made by Christ.

o. For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son. (Jno. 5:22.)

p. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? none evil can come upon us. (Mic. 3:11.)

q. And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day? (Dt. 4:8.)

r. Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. (Mal. 3:8.)

s. For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. (Gal. 5:3.)

t. Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons. (Acts 10:34.)

u. The men of Nineve shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. (Mat. 12:41.)

v. And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. (Mat. 3:9.)

w. But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. (I Pet. 3:4.)

x. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:6.)

Chapter 3.

a. And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day? (Dt. 4:8.)

b. For unto us was the Gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. (Heb. 4:2.)

c. Will thou also disannul my judgment? will thou condemn me, that thou mayest be righteous? (Job 40:8.)

d. Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. (Ps. 51:4.)

e. But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. (Rom. 5:8.) But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses. (II Cor. 6:4.) For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter. (II Cor. 7:11.) For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor. (Gal. 2:18.)

f. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. (Rom. 6:19.) Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also? (I Cor. 9:8.) If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink: for tomorrow we die. (I Cor. 15:32.) Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannuleth, or addeth thereto. (Gal. 3:15.)

g. Shall even he that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is most just? (Job 34:17.)

h. The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt; they have done abominable works; there is none that doeth good. (Ps. 14:1.)

i. For there is no faithfulness in their mouth: their inward part is very wickedness; their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue. (Ps. 5:9.)

j. They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders' poison is under their lips. Selah. (Ps. 140:3.)

k. His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud; under his tongue is mischief and vanity. (Ps. 10:7.)

l. The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes. (Ps. 36:1.)

m. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. (Rom. 7:7.)

n. Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched dili-

CHURCH OF THE HOLY SEPULCHRE.

JERUSALEM VIA DOLOROSA.

22 Even the righteousness of God which is [o]by faith of Jē'şus Chrīst unto all and upon all them that believe: for [p]there is no difference:
23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;
24 Being justified freely [q]by his grace through [r]the redemption that is in Chrīst Jē'şus:
25 Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith [s]in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;
26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jē'şus.
27 Where [t]is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.
28 Therefore we conclude [u]that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.
29 Is he [v]the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gĕn'tīles? Yes, of the Gĕn'tīles also:
30 Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.
31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER 4.

1 Abraham justified by faith, which was imputed to him for righteousness. 13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise.

1 [1]What shall we say then that Ā'brā-hăm our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?
2 For if Ā'brā-hăm were justified [2]by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.
3 For [3]what saith the scripture? Ā'brā-hăm [a]believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.
4 Now [b]to him that worketh [4]is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

Ch. 4. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 4 the apostle states that justification by faith was the foundation of the religion of the Father as well as the religion of Christ.

2. If justified by works he would have foundation for boasting, but—as he was not—he must have been justified by faith.

3. That is, from the Scriptures he proves Abraham's justification to have been by faith.

4. As a hired man.

5. In vs. 9-12 the apostle declares Abraham was justified by faith only; but, being justified 25 years before he was circumcised, he was justified as a Gentile.

6. As a machine; therefore, if man is a machine, there is no transgression; and—conversely—if he has no transgression, he is a mere machine.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth [c]the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.
6 Even as Dā'vid also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God [d]imputeth righteousness without works,
7 Saying, [e]Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.
8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.
9 [5]Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Ā'brā-hăm for righteousness.
10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.
11 And [f]he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that [g]he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:
12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Ā'brā-hăm, which he had being yet uncircumcised.
13 For the promise, that he should be the [h]heir of the world, was not to Ā'brā-hăm, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.
14 For [i]if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:
15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no [6]law is, there is no transgression.
16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be [j]by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Ā'brā-hăm; [k]who is the father of us all,
17 (As it is written, I have made thee a gently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you. (I Pet. 1:10.)

o. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. (Rom. 4:5.) And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. (Acts 3:16.) Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified (16). I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:16, 20.) But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. (Gal. 3:22.) In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him. (Eph. 3:12.)

p. Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all. (Col. 3:11.) For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. (Rom. 10:12.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.)

q. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. (Eph. 2:8.) Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt (4). Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end a promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all. (Rom. 4:4, 16.)

r. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. (Col. 1:14.) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.) But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption. (I Cor. 1:30.)

s. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. (I Cor. 5:7.) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (14). So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:14, 28.) But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:19.) And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful Witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (Rev. 1:5.)

t. That no flesh should glory in his presence. (I Cor. 1:29.) Not of works, lest any man should boast. (Eph. 2:9.)

u. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. (Gal. 2:16.)

v. Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles? (Rom. 9:24.) For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. (Rom. 10:12.) And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. (Rom. 15:9.) There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.) Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons. (Acts 10:34.)

a. And he believed in the Lord; and he counted it to him for righteousness. (Gen. 15:6.) Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness. (Gal. 3:6.) And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God. (Js. 2:23.)

b. And if by grace, then is it no more of works; otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace; otherwise work is no more work. (Rom. 11:6.)

c. And Joshua said unto all the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers dwelt in the other side of the flood in old time, even Terah the father of Abraham, and the father of Nahor: and they served other gods. (Josh. 24:2.)

d. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:6.) But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption. (I Cor. 1:30.)

e. Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile. (Ps. 32:1, 2.)

f. This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man-child among you shall be circumcised. (Gen. 17:10.)

g. And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of Abraham. (Lu. 19:9.)

h. In thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.) And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (Gal. 3:29.)

i. For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise. (Gal. 3:18.)

j. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. (Eph. 2:8.)

k. That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed. (Rom. 9:8.)

father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the [7]dead, and calleth [l]those things which be not as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, [m]So shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sā'rah's womb:

20 He [8]staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now [n]it was not written for [9]his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe [o]on him that raised up Jē'şus our Lord from the dead;

25 Who [p]was [10]delivered for our offences, and [q]was raised [11]again for our justification.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God 2 and joy in our hope. 12 As sin and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righteousness and life by Jesus Christ. 20 Where sin abounded, grace did superabound.

1 Therefore [1]being justified by faith, we have [r]peace [2]with God through our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst:

2 [b]By whom also we [c]have access by faith into this grace [d]wherein we stand, and [e]rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but [f]we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 And patience, [3]experience; and experience, hope:

5 And [g]hope maketh [4]not ashamed; [h]because the love of God is shed [i]abroad in our hearts by the Hō'lў Ghōst which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, in due time Chrīst died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a [5]righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good [6]man some would even dare to die.

8 But [j]God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Chrīst died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified [k]by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if, when we were enemies, we [l]were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as [m]by one man sin entered [7]into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

13 (For until the law sin was in the world: but [n]sin is not [8]imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Ād'ăm to Mō'şeş, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Ād'ăm's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jē'şus Chrīst, hath abounded [o]unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17 For if by one man's offence death reigned

4. That is, our hope in Christ will never disappoint or bring us to shame.

5. A just man.

6. Not only just, but distinguished for goodness.

7. The human world; as by Satan sin entered the physical world before the day of Adam.

8. As sin was imputed during the patriarchal age before the law of Moses, there must then have been a law which was the law of God on the heart.

l. And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are. (I Cor. 1:28.) Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. (I Pet. 2:10.)

m. And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto them, So shall thy seed be. (Gen. 15:5.)

n. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. (I Cor. 10:11.) All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instuction in righteousness. (II Tim. 3:16.) For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. (Rom. 15:4.) For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen? (I Cor. 9:9.)

o. Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God. (I Pet. 1:21.)

p. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. (Is. 53:5.) So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:28.) For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly (6). But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. (Rom. 5:6, 8.) I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

q. And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins. (I Cor. 15:17.) Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God. (I Pet. 1:21.)

a. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. (Is. 32:17.) These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world. (Jno. 16:33.) For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Eph. 2:14.)

b. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. (Jno. 10:9.) Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.) In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him. (Eph. 3:12.)

c. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. (Eph. 2:18.) In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him. (Eph. 3:12.) Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, (Heb. 10:19.) For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. (I Pet. 3:18.)

d. Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand. (I Cor. 15:1.)

e. But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. (Heb. 3:6.)

f. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. (Mat. 5:11.)

g. According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death. (Phil. 1:20.) Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be ashamed of my hope. (Ps. 119:116.) And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labor: and this was my portion of all my labor. (Ecc. 2:10.) As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. (Rom. 9:33.) That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us. (Heb. 6:18.)

h. Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts. (II Cor. 1:22.) And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. (Gal. 4:6.)

i. Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear. (Acts 2:33.) And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost. (Acts 10:45.) Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour. (Tit. 3:6.) And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. (Gal. 4:6.)

j. Greater love hath no man that this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. (Jno. 15:13.)

k. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

l. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation: To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. (II Cor. 5:18, 19.)

m. Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die. (Ez. 18:4.) For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. (I Cor. 15:21.)

n. Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law. (I Jno. 3:4.)

o. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied:

by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jē'ṣus Chrīst.)

18 Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon [p]all men unto justification [9]of life.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover [q]the [10]law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did [r]much more abound:

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jē'ṣus Chrīst our Lord.

CHAPTER 6.

1 We may not live in sin. 12 Let not sin reign any more, 23 for death is the wages of sin.

1 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to [a]sin, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not, that [b]so many of us as were baptized into [1]Jē'ṣus Chrīst were [c]baptized into his death?

4 Therefore we are [d]buried with him by baptism [2]into death: that like as [e]Chrīst was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, [f]even so we also should walk in [g]newness [3]of life.

5 For [h]if we have been [4]planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of [5]his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that [i]our old man is crucified with him, that the [j]body of sin might be [6]destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For he that is dead [7]is freed from sin.

8 Now [k]if we be dead [8]with Chrīst, we believe that we shall also live [9]with him:

9 Knowing that [l]Chrīst being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead [m]indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jē'ṣus Chrīst our Lord.

12 [10]Let [n]not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your members as instruments of [11]unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For [o]sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, [p]because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know [q]ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18 Being [r]then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

9. That is, the justification results in salvation (of soul) unless forfeited by sin.

10. That is, entered as a subordinate or afterthought, as a consequence of sin.

Ch. 6. A. D. 60.

1. I. The outward symbol of an inward cleansing and consecration; II. A symbolical act of obedience to the command of God.

2. Resurrection.

3. Grown into him; germinating together.

4. That is, since Christ's death and resurrection are inseparable in their efficacy, our union with him in the one carries with it the privilege of the other.

5. Unregenerate, sinful self.

6. In Christ's death.

7. Set free.

8. That is, if we are dead to sin as Christ was dead to the external world.

9. In harmony with him.

10. In vs. 12-23 Paul draws the contrast between the service of sin and a life with God.

11. If anger arises in the heart, do not give it the tongue to curse nor hand to strike, and it will soon cease to rise in thee.

by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. (Is. 53:11.)

p. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. (Jno. 12:32.) But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. (Heb. 2:9.)

q. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. (Jno. 15:22.) Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator. (Gal. 3:19.)

r. Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. (Lu. 7:47.) But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. (I Cor. 15:10.) Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do. (I Tim. 1:4.)

Chapter 6.

a. But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. (Gal. 6:14.) Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well. (I Pet. 2:14.)

b. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. (Col. 3:3.)

d. Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who had raised him from the dead. (Col. 2:12.)

e. And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power. (I Cor. 6:14.)

f. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.) For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3:10.) Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees. (Heb. 12:12.)

g. But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter. (Rom. 7:6.) Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.) For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3:10.)

h. That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death. (Phil. 3:10.)

i. I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

j. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ. (Col. 2:11.)

k. Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also. (Jno. 14:19.) It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him. (II Tim. 2:11.)

l. I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. (Rev. 1:18.)

m. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God (4). But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter. (Rom. 7:4, 6.) For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God. (Gal. 2:19.) Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances? (Col. 2:20.) For ye are dead, and your life in hid with Christ in God. (Col. 3:3.) Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed. (I Pet. 2:24.)

n. That ye put off, concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts. (Eph. 4:22.)

o. He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us; he will subdue our iniquities; and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. (Mic. 7:19.) But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law. (Gal. 5:18.)

p. To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law. (I Cor. 9:21.)

q. God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying. (Rom. 11:2.) Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Cor. 3:16.) Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life! (2, 3). Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind (9). Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. What! know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh (15, 16). What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? (I Cor. 6:2, 3, 9, 15, 16, 19.) Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar? (13). Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. (I Cor. 9:13, 24.)

r. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of 19 I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For the [s]wages [12]of sin is death; but the [t]gift of God is eternal life through Jē'sus Chrīst our Lord.

CHAPTER 7.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth. 4 But we are dead to the law. 7 Yet is not the law sin, 12 but holy, just, good, 16 as I acknowledge, who am grieved because I cannot keep it.

1 Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2 For [a]the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then [b]if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become [c]dead to the law by the body of Chrīst; that ye should be [d]married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the [1]flesh, the [2]motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members [e]to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve [f]in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 [3]What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not [4]covet.

8 But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of [5]concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was [6]alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, [7]sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, which was [g]ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore [h]the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 [8]Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [i]sold under sin.

15 For that which I do [9]I allow not: for what [j]I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I [10]that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that [k]in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God after the [l]inward man:

23 But I see [m]another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

25 I thank God [n]through Jē'sus Chrīst our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

---

12. That is, the hire or wages the master of sin pays his servants is death.

Ch. 7. A. D. 60.

1. Before we were converted.

2. Passion of sin.

3. In vs. 7-25 the apostle declares the Christian to be free from the law, as he finds his pleasure in doing the will of Christ.

4. Shall not entertain the evil desires or inclinations of the heart.

5. That is, by the law all manner of sin was made conscious or visible.

6. Alive to sin.

7. Sin became conscious and revealed his true self.

8. In vs. 13-25 the apostles show that the law is not responsible for the punishment of man, but that it reveals sin, whereby comes death.

9. That is, because of sin, that which I would do I do not, for sin restrains the better nature.

10. Sin which impels him.

the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear. In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. (Lu. 1:74, 75.) Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Gal. 5:1.) As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. (I Pet. 2:16.)

s. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. (Gen. 2:17.) For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace (6). For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. (Rom. 8:6, 13.) For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. (Gal. 6:8.)

t. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.)

Chapter 7.

a. The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord. (I Cor. 7:39.)

b. But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery. (Mat. 5:32.)

c. Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed. (I Pet. 2:24.) For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God. (Gal. 2:19.)

d. And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in loving-kindness, and in mercies. (Hos. 2:19.) For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. (II Cor. 11:2.)

e. Then, when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. (Js. 1:15.)

f. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (Jno. 4:24.) Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:6.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3:10.)

h. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. (Ps. 19:8.) But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully. (I Tim. 1:8.)

i. And Ahab said to Elijah, Hast thou found me, O mine enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: because thou hast sold thyself to work evil in the sight of the Lord (20). But there was none like unto Ahab, which did sell himself to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord, whom Jezebel his wife stirred up. (I Ks. 21:20, 25.)

j. This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. (Gal. 5:16, 17.)

k. And the Lord smelled a sweet savor; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake: for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done. (Gen. 8:21.) Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. (Ps. 51:5.) The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? (Jer. 17:9.)

l. For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day. (II Cor. 4:16.) Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds. (Col. 3:9.)

m. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. (Gal. 5:17.) From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? (Js. 4:1.) Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul. (I Pet. 2:11.) I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. (Rom. 6:19.)

CHURCH OF NATIVITY.—Manger.

CHAPTER 8.

1 They that are in Christ are free from condemnation. 5, 13 What harm cometh of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit.

1 [1]There is therefore now no [2]condemnation to them which are in Chrīst Jē'şus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the law of [a]the Spirit of life in Chrīst Jē'şus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

3 For [b]what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and [3]for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the [4]law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit.

6 For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7 Because the carnal mind is enmity [5]against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in [c]the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not [d]the Spirit of Chrīst, he is none of his.

10 And if Chrīst be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jē'şus from the dead dwell in you, [e]he that raised up Chrīst from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do [6]mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

Ch. 8. A. D. 60.

1. In this ch. the apostle brings the whole argument of the other seven chs. into a summary which develops the completeness of life in Christ.

2. No condemnation because of justification.

3. On account of.

4. That is, the righteousness or right doing required by the law.

5. Through the pampered carnal desires of the flesh one may be unconsciously at enmity with Christ.

6. Kill or destroy them so far as they are at enmity with God.

7. The analyzed prayer of a heathen is always for temporal blessings.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons [g]of God.

15 For [f]ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Āb'bā, Father.

16 [h]The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

17 And if children, [i]then heirs; heirs [j]of God, and joint-heirs with Chrīst; if so be [k]that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon that [l]the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For [m]the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation [n]of the sons of God.

20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope,

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, which have [o]the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for [p]the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but hope that [q]is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [r]we know not what we [7]should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And [s]he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because

Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 15:57.) For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? (I Jno. 5:4, 5.)

Chapter 8.

a. And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit. (I Cor. 15:45.) Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:6.)

b. For there is verily a disannuling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof. (Heb. 7:18.)

c. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Cor. 3:16.) And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.)

d. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. (Jno. 3:34.) Searching what, or what manner of time, the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow. (I Pet. 1:11.)

e. And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power. (I Cor. 6:14.)

f. And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. (Heb. 2:15.)

g. Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered: and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. (Hos. 1:10.) Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. (Mat. 5:9.) But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.) And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. (II Cor. 6:18.) For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:26.) Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. (I Jno. 3:1.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

h. Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts. (II Cor. 1:22.)

i. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ. (Gal. 4:7.) And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. (Acts 20:32.) And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (Gal. 3:29.) That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel. (Eph. 3:6.) That, being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. (Tit. 3:7.) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation? (Heb. 1:14.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

j. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. (Acts 26:18.)

k. For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ (5). And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation. (II Cor. 1:5, 7.) That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death. (Phil. 3:10.) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.) But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. (I Pet. 4:13.)

l. For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. (II Cor. 4:17.)

m. Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (II Pet. 3:13.)

n. So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:7.) When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. (Col. 3:4.) That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ (7). Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:7, 13.) Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.)

o. Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit. (II Cor. 5:5.)

p. Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. (Lu. 20:36.)

q. Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. (Heb. 11:1.)

r. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able. (Mat. 20:22.)

s. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. (I Thess. 2:4.)

he maketh intercession for the saints [t]according to the will of God.

28 And we know that [s]all [u]things work together for good to them that love [g]God, to them [v]who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom [w]he did [10]foreknow, he also did [11]predestinate [x]to be conformed to the image of his Son, that [y]he might be the firstborn among many brethren.

30 Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also [z]called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and [aa]whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? [bb]It is God that justifieth.

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Chrīst that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love [12]of Chrīst? shall tribulation. or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, [cc]in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, [dd]shall be able to [12]separate us from the love of God, which is in Chrīst Jē'şus our Lord.

CHAPTER 9.

1 Paul is sorry for the Jews. 7 All the seed of Abraham were not the children of the promise. 25 The calling of the Gentiles and rejecting of the Jews were foretold.

1 I [1]say the truth in Chrīst, I [2]lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Hō'lȳ Ghōst,

2 That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3 For [a]I could wish that myself were accursed from Chrīst for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh:

4 Who [b]are [3]Īs'ra-el-ītes; [c]to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and [d]the [4]covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and [e]the [5]promises;

5 Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Chrīst came, [f]who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 [6]Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For [g]they are not all Īs'ra-el, which are of Īs'ra-el:

7 Neither, [h]because they are the seed of Ā'brā-hăm, are they all children: but, In [7]Ī'şaac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.•

9 For this is the word of promise, [j]At this time will I come, and Sā'rah shall have a son.

10 And not only this; but when [k]Re-bĕc'cā also had conceived by one, even by our father Ī'şaac;

11 (For the children being [l]not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth;)

12 It was said unto her, The elder shall [7]serve the younger.

13 As it is written, [m]Jā'cob have I loved, but Ē'sau have I hated.

14 [8]What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Mō'şeş, I [9]will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So [n]then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For the scripture saith unto Phā'raōh, Even [o]for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he

---

1. In this ch. the apostle shows that God acted impartially, and to the best interests of the human race, when he established free agency based on faith, even though such a system should result in the downfall of an unbelieving Israel.

2. Which the Jews had charged him with doing.

3. His people of v. 3.

4. Which made with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

5. Of the Messiah.

6. In vs. 6-13 the apostle shows that the promise was made to the seed by faith and not by birth.

7. Will serve.

8. In vs. 14-18 Paul shows that God had told Moses that he would reward faith and righteousness and punish persistent unbelief and wickedness.

9. The Jews desired God to accept them and reject all other nations, but he wills to accept all true believers in every nation.

t. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us. (I Jno. 5:14.)

u. But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. (Gen. 50:20.)

v. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. (II Tim. 1:9.)

w. And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me; yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight. (Ex. 33:12.) For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. (Ps. 1:6.)

x. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one. (Jno. 17:22.)

y. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. (Col. 1:18.)

z. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling. (Eph. 4:4.)

aa. And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God. (I Cor. 6:11.)

bb. He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. (Isa. 50:8.)

cc. For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. (I Jno. 5:4.)

dd. And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand. (Jno. 10:28.)

Chapter 9

a. Yet now if thou will forgive their sin ; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written. (Ex. 32:32.)

b. For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. (Dt. 7:6.)

c. Ye are the children of the Lord your God. Ye shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead. (Dt. 14:1.)

d. And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly. (Gen. 17:2.) Neither with you only do I make this covenant and this oath (Dt. 29:14.) That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. (Eph. 2:12.) To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant. (Lu. 1:72.) Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. (Acts 3:25.)

e. And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will. (Acts 13:22.)

f. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:6.) In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.) But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom. (Heb. 1:8.)

g. And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God. (Gal. 6:16.)

h. But he who was of the bond-woman was born after the flesh; but he of the free woman was by promise. (Gal. 4:23.)

i. And God said unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the law, and because of thy bond-woman; in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for in Isaac shall thy seed be called. (Gen. 21:12.)

j. And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life; and, lo, Sarah thy wife shall have a son. And Sarah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him. (Gen. 18:10.)

k. And Isaac entreated the Lord for his wife, because she was barren: and the Lord was entreated of him, and Rebekah his wife conceived. (Gen. 25:21.)

l. Accordingly as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1:4.)

m. If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have born him children, both the beloved and the hated; and if the first-born son be hers that was hated. (Dt. 21:15.) I have loved you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? said the Lord: yet I loved Jacob, And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness. (Mal. 1:2, 3.)

n. But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased. (Ps. 115:3.)

o. And in very deed for this cause have I raised thee up, for to show in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth. (Ex. 9:16.)

will have mercy, and whom he will he [p]hardeneth.

19 [10]Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For [q]who hath resisted his will?

20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? [r]Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the [s]potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make [t]one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering [u]the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction:

23 And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory,

24 [11]Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gĕn'tīles?

25 As he saith also in [12]Ō'sēe, [v]I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 [w]And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God.

27 E-sā'ias also crieth concerning Ĭs'ra-el, Though [x]the number of the children of Ĭs'ra-el be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved:

28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a [y]short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as E-sā'ias said before, Except the [z]Lord of Săb'a-ōth had left us a seed, [aa]we had been as Sŏd'om-a, and been made like unto Go-mŏr'rha.

30 [13]What shall [14]we say then? That the Gĕn'tīles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of [15]faith.

31 But Ĭs'ra-el, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

10. In vs. 19-23 Paul shows that the plan of God is founded on the universal principle of an equitable, free probation.

11. In vs. 24-29 Paul establishes the right of God to grant equal privileges to both Jew and Gentile.

12. That is, Hosea, alluding to Hos. 2:23.

13. In vs. 30-33 Paul shows that back of and underneath God's system of salvation is faith.

14. A repetition of the question in v. 14.

15. A firm and earnest trust and confidence in the statement and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen."

Ch. 10. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 10 Paul shows how the Jews missed salvation and how the Gentiles found it.

2. In vs. 2-11 the Jews preferred birth and works to true faith, hence they failed in winning heaven.

3. That is, the final result which obedience to the law will bring.

4. That is, the law justifies only the things done perfectly and makes no provisions for failure.

5. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

6. In the early days the heart was thought to be the seat of faith and moral sensibilities as well.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For [bb]they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

33 As it is written, [cc]Behold, I lay in Sī'ŏn a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

CHAPTER 10.

5 The scripture sheweth the difference betwixt the righteousness of the law, and this of faith, 11 and that all, both Jew and Gentile, that believe, shall not be confounded.

1 [1]Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Ĭs'ra-el is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them [2]record [a]that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of [b]God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not [c]submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For [d]Chrīst is the end [3]of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Mō'sēs describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth [4]those things shall live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith [5]speaketh on this wise, [e]Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring [f]Chrīst down from above:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring [g]up Chrīst again from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach;

9 That if thou shalt confess with [h]thy mouth the Lord Jē'sus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the [6]heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11 For the scripture saith, [i]Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12 For [j]there is no difference between the

p. And the Lord said unto Moses, When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do all those wonders before Pharaoh which I have put in thine hand: but I will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go. (Ex. 4:21.) And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and multiply my signs and my wonders in the land of Egypt. (Ex. 7:3.) But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel go (20). But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he would not let them go. (Ex. 10:20, 27.) But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass by him: for the Lord thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day. (Dt. 2:30.) For it was of the Lord to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favor, but that he might destroy them, as the Lord commanded Moses. (Josh. 11:20.) He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. (Jno. 12:40.)

q. Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? who will say unto him. What doest thou? (Job 9:12.)

r. Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding? (Is. 29:16.)

s. O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. (Jer. 18:6.)

t. But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honor, and some to dishonor. (II Tim. 2:20.)

u. For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:9.)

v. And I will sow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God. (Hos. 2:23.)

w. Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered: and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. (Hos. 1:10.)

x. For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness. (Is. 10:22.)

y. Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong; for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth. (Is. 28:22.)

z. It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. (Lam. 3:32.) Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah. (Is. 1:9.)

aa. Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; ye are fallen from grace. (Gal. 5:4.)

bb. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against. (Lu. 2:34.)

cc. And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. (Is. 8:14.)

Chapter 10.

a. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. (Jno. 16:2.)

b. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.)

c. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? (Heb. 10:29.)

d. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. (Gal. 3:24.)

e. It is not in heaven, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it? (Dt. 30:12.)

f. Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an High Priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens. (Heb. 8:1.)

g. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures. (I Cor. 15:3, 4.)

h. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 10:32.) And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. (Mk. 12:8.) Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. (I Cor. 12:3.) And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (Phil. 2:11.)

i. Therefore thus said the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. (Is. 28:16.)

j. And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith. (Acts 15:9.)

Jew and the Greek: for the same [k]Lord over all [l]is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 For [m]whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without [n]a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, [o]How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For E-şā'ias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?

17 So then [p]faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, [q]their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Ĭs'ra-el know? First Mō'şeş saith, [r]I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

20 But E-şā'ias is very bold, and saith, [s]I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21 But to Ĭs'ra-el he saith, [t]All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER 11.

1 God hath not cast off all Israel. 16 There is hope of their conversion. 33 God's judgments are unsearchable.

1 [1]I say then, [a]Hath God cast away [2]his people? God forbid. For [b]I also am an Ĭs'ra-el-īte, of the seed of Ā'brā-hăm, of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min.

2 God hath not cast away [2]his people which he [c]foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of E-lī'as? how he maketh intercession to God against Ĭs'ra-el, saying,

3 Lord, [d]they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Bā'al.

5 Even [e]so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of [f]grace.

6 And [g]if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7 What then? Ĭs'ra-el hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the [g]election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded

8 (According as it is written, God [h]hath given them the spirit of slumber, [i]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9 And Dā'vid saith, [j]Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a [4]recompence unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through [k]their fall salvation is come unto the Ġĕn'tīleş, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Ġĕn'tīleş; how much more their [l]fulness?

13 For I speak to you Ġĕn'tīleş, inasmuch as [m]I am the apostle of the Ġĕn'tīleş, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [n]might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the firstfruit be holy, the [5]lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if [o]some of the branches be broken off, [p]and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by [6]faith. Be not highminded, but [q]fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

Ch. 11. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 11 the apostle declares that Israel will ultimately be brought into complete submission to Christ with the Gentiles, and that there will be one kingdom of God on the earth.

2. The Jews.

3. There is now and always will be, as in the days of Abraham, a justification by faith.

4. A retribution.

5. That is, dough; the Israelites were commanded to offer as a heave-offering a cake of their first dough.

6. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

k. The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all). (Acts 10:36.)

l. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.)

m. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and in the remnant whom the Lord shall call. (Joel 2:32.)

n. But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour. (Tit. 1:3.)

o. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God [illegible] (Isa. 52:7.)

p. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun. [illegible]

[illegible] provoked me to jealousy with that which is not God; [illegible] with their vanities: and I will move [illegible] with those which are not a people; I will provoke [illegible] foolish nation. (Dt. 32:21.)

[illegible] I was found of them that sought me not; I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that [illegible] name. (Isa. 65:1.)

[illegible] have stretched out my hand all the day unto a rebellious people, [illegible] which walketh after their own thoughts.

[illegible] What? [illegible] to drink in" or despise ye [illegible] God [illegible] and [illegible] What shall I say [illegible] (I Cor. 11:22.)

[illegible] when he [illegible] to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among [illegible] brethren. (Rom. 8:29.)

[illegible] I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily [illegible] Lord God of hosts: [illegible] I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, [illegible] rising up betimes and sending them, [illegible] hearken unto me, nor bow down their ear, but hardened their neck: they did worse than their fathers. (Jer. 7:25, 26.)

s. I am sought of them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name. (Isa. 65:1.)

t. But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool? (Heb. 1:13.)

a. Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah. (Ps. 77:9.)

b. For I also am a prophet as thou art, and an angel spake unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water. (I Kgs. 13:18.)

c. Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. (Phil. 3:5.)

d. Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars, and slain thy prophets with the sword; and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away. (I Kgs. 19:10.)

e. Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved. (Rom. 9:27.)

f. Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, For my righteousness the Lord hath brought me in to possess this land; but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee. (Dt. 9:4.)

g. And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand. (Jno. 10:28.)

h. For the Lord hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered. (Is. 29:10.)

i. Yet the Lord hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day. (Dt. 29:4.)

j. Let their table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap. (Ps. 69:22.)

k. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. (Acts 13:46.)

l. And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee. (Zech. 2:11.)

m. But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. (Acts 9:15.)

n. Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins. (Js. 5:20.)

o. Thy Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken. (Jer. 11:16.)

p. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. (Eph. 2:12.)

q. Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. (Phil. 2:12.)

SECT-FIELD MEMORIAL CHURCH

22 Behold therefore the [7]goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, [7]severity; but toward thee, goodness, [r]if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [8]thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

25 [8]For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this [9]mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Is'ra-el, until the fulness of the Gĕn'tīles be come in.

26 And so [t]all [10]Is'ra-el shall be saved: as it is written, [u]There shall come out of Sī'ŏn the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jā'cob:

27 [v]For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are [w]beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and [x]calling of God are without [y]repentance.

30 For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For God hath [11]concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

34 For who [z]hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or [aa]who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For [bb]of him, and through him, and [12]to him, are all things: to [cc]whom be glory for ever. Amen.

7. In rejecting the chosen seed.

8. In vs. 25-32 Paul declares that the conversion of the Gentiles will result in the recovery of the Jews.

9. Of the divine counsel and plan.

10. That is, at that time.

11. Because they first shut in themselves.

12. The end toward which all things move.

CHAPTER 12.

1 God's mercies must move us to please God.
9 Love and many other duties are required of us.

1 I [1]beseech you [2]therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye [a]present your bodies [b]a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And [c]be not conformed to this world: but [d]be ye [3]transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may [4]prove what is [e]that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

3 For I say, [f]through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to [g]every man the measure of faith.

4 For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:

5 So [h]we, being many, are one body in Chrīst, and every one members one of another.

6 Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, [i]let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

---

r. But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. (Heb. 3:6.)

s. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (Jno. 15:2.)

t. Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations. (Is. 60:15.)

u. Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When the Lord bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad. (Ps. 14:7.) And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord. (Is. 59:20.)

v. This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them. (Heb. 10:16.)

w. Not for thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land; but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform the word which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. (Dt. 9:5.)

x. That no flesh should glory in his presence. (I Cor. 1:29.) The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints. (Eph. 1:18.) I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called (1). There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling. (Eph. 4:1, 4.) I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:14.) Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power. (II Thess. 1:11.) Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus. (Heb. 3:1.) Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall. (II Pet. 1:10.)

y. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.) For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. (Heb. 7:21.)

z. Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or, being his counsellor, hath taught him? (Is. 40:13.)

aa. If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand? (Job 35:7.)

bb. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (I Cor. 8:6.)

cc. And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (Rev. 1:6.) And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever. (Rev. 5:13.) But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen. (II Pet. 3:18.) And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (II Tim. 4:18.) If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ: to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (I Pet. 4:11.)

a. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body (13). For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Cor. 6:13, 20.) Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God (13). Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? (16). I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. (Rom. 6:13, 16, 19.) By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name. (Heb. 13:15.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.)

b. By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh. (Heb. 10:20.)

c. As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance. (I Pet. 1:14.) Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. (I Jno. 2:15.)

d. The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints. (Eph. 1:18.)

e. For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication. (I Thess. 4:3.)

f. Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God. (Rom. 15:15.) According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon. (I Cor. 3:10.) But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. (I Cor. 15:10.) And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision. (Gal. 2:9.) Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power. (Eph. 3:7.)

g. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal (7). But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will. (I Cor. 12:7, 11.)

h. And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. (Eph. 1:22, 23.)

i. To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues. (I Cor. 12:10.)

7 Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or [j]he that teacheth, on teaching;

8 Or [k]he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; [l]he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9 Let love be without [m]dissimulation. Abhor [n]that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 Be kindly [n]affectioned one to another with brotherly love; [o]in honour [o]preferring one another;

11 Not slothful in [p]business; [p]fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12 Rejoicing [q]in [s]hope; [q]patient in [s]tribulation; continuing [t]instant in prayer;

13 Distributing [t]to the necessity of saints; given [s]to hospitality.

14 [r]Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15 Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16 Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits.

17 Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide [u]things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 [v]Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER 13.

Subjection, and other duties, we owe to magistrates.

1 [1]Let every soul [a]be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves [2]damnation.

3 For [b]rulers are not a terror to [3]good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? [c]do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5 Wherefore [d]ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

6 For for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 Render [e]therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; [f]fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: [g]for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, [h]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love [i]worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that [j]now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is [j]far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour [k]of light.

13 Let [l]us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in [4]chamber-

5. Unfeigned, sincere, true.

6. Go before, by being willing to take the lead in showing honor and preferment to others; not waiting for another to first confer a favor upon us.

7. Zeal, diligence, energy.

8. That is, in hope rejoicing.

9. In tribulation, enduring patiently.

10. In prayer. Persevering.

11. Honorable.

Ch. 13. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 13 Paul lays down the motives which should control in all political relations.

2. Condemnation.

3. Here the apostle confers authority of government upon the powers that be.

4. Beds of debauchery.

j. Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. (Gal. 6:6.)

k. But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort. (I Cor. 14:3.)

l. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.)

m. Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. (Amos 5:14, 15.)

n. But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another. (I Thess. 4:9.) Let brotherly love continue. (Heb. 13:1.) And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity. (II Pet. 1:7.) A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.)

o. Let nothing be done through strife or vain-glory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. (Phil. 2:3.) Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. (Rom. 13:7.) These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever. (II Pet. 2:17.)

p. I know thy works, that thou are neither cold nor hot: I would that were cold or hot. (Rev. 3:15.)

q. But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. (Heb. 3:6.)

r. See [illegible] evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise [illegible] that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. (I Pet. 3:9.)

Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. (Heb. 13:2.)

t. For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.)

u. For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise. (Heb. 10:36.)

v. If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink: For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee. (Prov. 25:21, 22.)

Chapter 13:

a. Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work. (Tit. 3:1.)

b. The God of Israel said, the Rock of Israel spoke to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. (II Sam. 23:3.) Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law? (Ps. 94:20.)

And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good? (I Pet. 3:13.)

d. I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God. (Ecc. 8:2.)

e. And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's. (Lu. 20:25.)

f. Ye shall fear every man his mother and his father, and keep my sabbaths: I am the Lord your God. (Lev. 19:3.)

g. Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets. (Mat. 7:12.)

h. Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people; but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:18.)

i. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Mat. 22:39.) For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Gal. 5:14.) Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets. (Mat. 7:12.) A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.) If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well. (Js. 2:8.)

j. But this I say, brethren, the time is short; it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none. (I Cor. 7:29.) Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. (Js. 5:8.) But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer. (I Pet. 4:7.) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance (9.) Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought yet to be in all holy conversation and godliness? (II Pet. 3: 9, 11.) Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time. (I Jno. 2:8.) Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. (Rev. 1:3.)

k. By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armor of righteousness on the right hand and on the left. (II Cor. 6:7.) (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds.) (II Cor. 10:4.) Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil (11). Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. (Eph. 6:11, 13.) But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helment the hope of salvation. (I Thess. 5:8.)

l. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Phil. 4:8.)

ing and wantonness, [m]not in strife and envying.

14 But [n]put ye on the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, and [o]make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER 14.

3 Men may not contemn nor condemn one the other, 13 but take heed that they give no offence.

1 [1]Him that [a]is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and [b]let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 Who [c]art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5 One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth [2]every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth [3]not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [d]he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the [4]Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For [e]none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For [f]to this end Chrīst both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be [g]Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Chrīst.

11 For it is written, [h]As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall [5]bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then [i]every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge [6]this rather, that [j]no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 [7]I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jē'sus, [k]that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is [8]unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Chrīst died.

16 [9]Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17 For [m]the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Hō'lȳ Ghōst.

18 For he that in these things serveth Chrīst [n]is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith [o]one may edify another.

20 For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are [9]pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with [10]offence.

21 It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any [11]thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou [12]faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23 And he that [p]doubteth is [13]damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever [q]is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER 15.

1 The strong must bear with the weak. 2 We may not please ourselves, 3 for Christ did not so, 7 but receive one the other, as Christ did us all. 15 Paul excuseth his writing.

1 [1]We [a]then that are strong ought to bear the [b]infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 Let every one of us [c]please his neighbour for his good [d]to edification.

3 For even Chrīst pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4 For [e]whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

Ch. 14. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 14 Paul treats of Christian forbearance or the principles which should control us in our relations with a weaker brother.

2. Every day alike holy—one as another.

3. Esteem it to the Lord.

4. The one gives thanks for that which is spurious to the other.

5. In the judgment.

6. Rather than judge others, we should use our power to judge our own conduct.

7. In vs. 14-23 the strong are warned not to injure a weaker brother.

8. If to him it seemeth unclean it is unclean; therefore, though of itself it be without sin, to him it is sin.

9. Free from impurities or evil.

10. That is, he who eateth in disregard to his brother, to him it is an offense.

11. That is, to do anything which might be a stumbling-block to a weaker brother and thereby cause his ruin.

12. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

13. Condemned.

Ch. 15. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 15 Paul continues the discussion begun in ch. 14, viz., the principles which should control the strong in their relations to a weaker brother.

m. But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth (14). For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work. (Js. 3:14, 16.)

n. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. (Gal. 3:27.) I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem. (Job 29:14.) And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. (Eph. 4:24.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him (10). Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering. (Col. 3:10, 12.)

o. This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. (Gal. 5:16.)

Chapter 14.

a. But take heed, lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to them that are weak. (I Cor. 8:9.)

b. Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days. (Col. 2:16.)

c. There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another? (Js. 4:12.)

d. Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. (I Cor. 10:31.) Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth. (I Tim. 4:3.)

e. I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

f. And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again. (II Cor. 5:15.)

g. The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all.) (Acts 10:36.)

h. I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. (Is. 45:23.)

i. But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. (Mat. 12:36.)

j. But take heed, lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to them that are weak. (I Cor. 8:9.)

k. Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled. (Tit. 1:15.)

l. Recompese to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. (Rom. 12:17.)

m. But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are the worse. (I Cor. 8:8.)

n. Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. (II Cor. 8:21.)

o. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church. (I Cor. 14:12.)

p. He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God. (Rom. 4:20.)

q. But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. (Heb. 11, 6.)

Chapter 15.

a. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. (Gal. 6:1.)

b. Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations. (Rom. 14:1.)

c. Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved. (I Cor. 10:33.) For we are glad when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection. (II Cor. 13:9.)

d. Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another. (Rom. 14:19.) All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not. (I Cor. 10:23.) But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort (3). How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying. (I Cor. 14:3, 26.) Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? we speak before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying. (II Cor. 12:19.) For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ (12). Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. (Eph. 4:12, 29.)

e. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for 5 Now [f]the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another according to Chrīst Jē'ṣus:

6 That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

7 Wherefore receive ye one another, [g]as Chrīst also received us to the glory of God.

8 [h]Now I say that Jē'ṣus Chrīst was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, [i]to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

9 And [j]that the Gĕn'tīleṣ might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, [k]For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gĕn'tīleṣ, and sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith, [l]Rejoice, ye Gĕn'tīleṣ, with his people.

11 And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gĕn'tīleṣ; and laud him, all ye people.

12 And again, E-ṣā'ias saith, [m]There shall be a root of Jĕs'se, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gĕn'tīleṣ; in him shall the Gĕn'tīleṣ trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

14 And [n]I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That [o]I should be the minister of Jē'ṣus Chrīst to the Gĕn'tīleṣ, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gĕn'tīleṣ might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Hō'lў Ghōst.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jē'ṣus Chrīst in those things which pertain to God.

18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things [p]which Chrīst hath not wrought by me, [q]to make the Gĕn'tīleṣ obedient, by word and deed, 19 [r]Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Je-rụ'sa-lĕm, and round about unto Īl-lўr'ī-cŭm, I have fully preached the gospel of Chrīst.

20 Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Chrīst was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21 But as it is written, [s]To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22 For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and [t]having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spāin, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, [u]and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.

25 But now [v]I go unto Je-rụ'sa-lĕm to minister unto the saints.

26 For [w]it hath pleased them of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à and A-chā'ĭà to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Je-rụ'sa-lĕm.

27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gĕn'tīleṣ have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their [x]duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them [y]this fruit, I will come by you into Spāin.

29 And I [z]am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the [aa]fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Chrīst.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst's sake, and [aa][bb]for the love of the Spirit, [bb]that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31 That [cc]I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Jū-dæ'à; and that my service which I have for Je-rụ'sa-lĕm may be accepted of the saints;

32 That I may come unto you with joy by [dd]the will of God, and may with you be [ee]refreshed.

33 Now the God [ff]of peace be with you all. Amen.

2. In vs. 8-14 Paul discusses the unity which should control all churches.

doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. (II Tim. 3:16.)

f. Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. (I Cor. 1:10.)

g. By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.)

h. For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us. (II Cor. 1:20.)

i. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. (Jno. 10:16.)

j. Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the heathen, and sing praises unto thy name. (Ps. 18:49.)

k. Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people. (Dt. 32:43.) Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee. (Ps. 67:3.)

l. And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots (1). And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people. (Is. 11:1, 10.)

m. Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth. (II Pet. 1:12.)

n. Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity. (I Tim. 2:7.)

o. And when he had exhorted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry. (Acts 21:19.)

p. By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name. (Rom. 1:5.)

q. And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul. (Acts 19:11.)

r. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider. (Is. 52:15.)

After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome. (Acts 19:21.)

s. And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren. (Acts 15:3.)

t. Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings. (Acts 24:17.)

v. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. (I Cor. 16:1.) For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many. (II Cor. 9:2.)

w. If we have sown unto your spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things? (I Cor. 9:11.) Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. (Gal. 6:6.)

x. Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account. (Phil. 4:17.)

y. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established. (Rom. 1:11.)

z. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ. (Eph. 3:8.)

aa. If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies. (Phil. 2:1.)

bb. Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf. (II Cor. 1:11.) Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds. (Col. 4:3.)

cc. And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith. (II Thess. 3:2.) Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us. (II Cor. 1:10.) Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me. (II Tim. 3:11.)

dd. For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that. (Js. 4:15.)

ee. Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all. (II Cor. 7:13.) The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chains. (II Tim. 1:16.)

ff. And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen. (Rom. 16:20.) Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you. (II Cor. 13:11.) But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:19.)

MT. QUARANTANA, TRADITIONAL MOUNTAIN OF CHRIST'S TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER 16.

3 Paul willeth the brethren to greet many, 17 and adviseth them to take heed of those which cause dissension and offences, 21 and after sundry salutations endeth with praise and thanks to God.

1 I commend unto you [1]Phē'be our sister, which is a servant of the church which is [a]at Çĕn'chrĕ-à:

2 That [b]ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a [2]succourer of many, and of myself also.

3 Greet [c]Prĭs-çĭl'là and Āq'uĭ-là my helpers in [d]Chrīst Jē'şus:

4 Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Ġĕn'tīleş.

5 Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my wellbeloved E-pæn'e-tus, who is the firstfruits of A-chā'ià unto Chrīst.

6 Greet Mā'rў, [e]who bestowed much labour on us.

7 Salute Ān-dro-nī'cus and Jū'nià, my kinsmen, and my fellowprisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also [f]were in Chrīst before me.

8 Greet Ām'plĭ-as my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Ur'bane, our helper in Chrīst, and Stā'chўs my beloved.

10 Salute A-pĕl'leş approved in Chrīst. Salute them which are of Ār-ĭs-tŏ-bū'lus' household.

11 Salute He-rō'dĭ-on my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of När-çĭs'sus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Trў-phē'nà and Trў-phō'sà, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Pēr'sis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rų'fus [g]chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Salute A-sўn'crĭ-tus, Phlē'gon, Hēr'mas, Păt'ro-bās, Hēr'mēş, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Phĭ-lŏl'o-gus, and Jū'lià, Nē're-us, and his sister, and Ō-lўm'pas, and all the saints which are with them.

16 Salute one another with an holy kiss. The churches of Chrīst salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and [h]avoid them.

18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

19 For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you [i]wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil.

20 And the God of peace shall [j]bruise Sā'tan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you. Amen.

21 [3]Ti-mō'the-ŭs my [k]workfellow, and Lų'çius, and [l]Jā'son, and So-sĭp'a-tēr, my kinsmen, salute you.

22 I Tēr'tius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23 Gā'ius mine host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. Ē-răs'tus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you, and Quär'tus a brother.

24 [m]The grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you all. Amen.

25 Now to him that is of power to stablish you [n]according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jē'şus Chrīst, according to the revelation of the mystery, which [o]was kept secret since the world began,

26 But now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith:

27 To God only wise, be glory through Jē'şus Chrīst for ever. Amen.

Ch. 16. A. D. 60.

1. The woman who acted as messenger carrying the epistle to the Romans, from Paul to the church.

2. She is thus alluded to as a lady of some wealth who administers to the needs and entertainment of her fellow Christians.

3. In vs. 21-24, those who are with Paul send their greetings and benedictions to the church.

And the very God of peace sanctify you holy: and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:23.) Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant. (Heb. 13:20.) Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all. (II Thess. 3:16.)

Chapter 16.

a. And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow. (Acts 18:18.)

b. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation. (Phil. 2:29.)

c. After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth; And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them. (Acts 18:1, 2.)

d. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.) I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) such an one caught up to the third heaven. (II Cor. 12:2.) And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ. (Gal. 1:22.)

e. Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work. (I Tim. 5:10.)

f. And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ. (Gal. 1:22.)

g. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1:4.) The elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth. (II Jno. 1.)

h. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us. (II Thess. 3:6.)

i. Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. (Mat. 10:16.)

j. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.)

k. Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, (the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek.) (Acts 16:1.) Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord. (I Tim. 1:2.)

l. But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people. (Acts 17:5.)

m. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen. (I Thess. 5:28.)

n. In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel. (Rom. 2:16.)

o. And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God (1). But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory. (I Cor. 2:1, 7.) Let a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. (I Cor. 4:1.) Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself. (Eph. 1:9.) How that by revelation he made known unto me the mysteries; (as I wrote afore in few words) (3). And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ. (Eph. 3:3, 9.) Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints. (Col. 1:26.) Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds. (Col. 4:3.) And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.) That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 13:35.)

CORINTHIANS

NOTE. The First Epistle to the Corinthians was written by Paul in the year 57 A. D. while he was at Ephesus, in Asia Minor. The general subject of the letter is the doctrine of church-life or the principles which should control the members in their general relations.

CHAPTER 1.

10 He exhorteth to unity. 18 God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise, 21 by the foolishness of preaching.

1 [1]Paul, called to be an apostle of Jē'şus Chrīst [a]through the will of God, and Sŏs'thenēş our brother,

2 Unto the church of God which is at Cŏr'inth, to them that [b]are [2]sanctified in Chrīst Jē'şus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jē'şus Chrīst [c]our Lord, [d]both their's and our's:

3 Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

4 I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jē'şus Chrīst;

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 Even as [e]the testimony of Chrīst was confirmed in you:

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst:

8 [3]Who [f]shall also confirm you unto the [4]end, [g]that ye may be blameless in the [h]day of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

9 God [i]is faithful, by whom ye were called unto [j]the fellowship of his Son Jē'şus Chrīst our Lord.

10 Now I [5]beseech you, brethren, [c]by the name of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, that ye all speak the same [6]thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chlō'e, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of A-pŏl'lŏs; and I of Çē'phas; and I of Chrīst.

13 Is Chrīst divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crĭs'pus and Gā'ius;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of Stĕph'a-năs: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For [k]Chrīst sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Chrīst should be made of none effect.

18 [s]For the preaching of the cross is to them that [l]perish [m]foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, [n]I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath [o]not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 For [p]after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 For the [q]Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 But we preach Chrīst crucified, unto [r]the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

24 But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Chrīst [s]the power of God, and [t]the wisdom of God.

Ch. 1. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 1, after the apostolic benedictions in vs. 1, 2, Paul expresses to the church his thanksgiving for their having been given to him in the spirit and utters reproof against party divisions and exhorts them to his own method of preaching only Christ.

2. Consecrated, set apart.

3. God.

4. The coming of Christ.

5. Petition or supplication.

6. By his very address he would exhort them to true love.

7. In the same sincerity.

8. In vs. 18-31 Paul puts everything under the shadow of the Cross.

Ref. I Corinthians. Chapter 1.

a. That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed. (Rom. 15:32.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia. (II Cor. 1:1.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus. (Eph. 1:1.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother. (Col. 1:1.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 1:1.) Making request (if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God) to come unto you. (Rom. 1:10.) And thus they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God. (II Cor. 8:5.)

b. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. (Jno. 17:19.)

c. But take heed, lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to them that are weak. (I Cor. 8:9.)

d. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference. (Rom. 3:22.)

e. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel according to the power of God. (II Tim. 1:8.) When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe, (because our testimony among you was believed,) in that day. (II Thess. 1:10.) Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time. (I Tim. 2:6.) Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw. (Rev. 1:2.)

f. Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ. (Phil. 1:6.) Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving. (Col. 2:7.) To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. (I Thess. 3:13.) And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:23.) For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. (Rom. 8:19.)

g. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:23.)

h. To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. (I Cor. 5:5.) As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus. (II Cor. 1:14.) Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ (6). That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ. (Phil. 1:6, 10.) For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. (I Thess. 5:2.) For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day. (Lu. 17:24.)

i. Know therefore that the Lord thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments, to a thousand generations. (Dt. 7:9.) Thus saith the Lord, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One; to him whom men despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the Lord that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee. (Is. 49:7.) There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. (I Cor. 10:13.) But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay. (II Cor. 1:18.) Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it. (I Thess. 5:24.) But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil. (II Thess. 3:3.)

j. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. (Jno. 15:4.)

k. Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee. (Acts 26:17.)

l. For we are unto God a sweet savor of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish. (II Cor. 2:15.)

m. Some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection. (Acts 17:18.)

n. The wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. (Is. 29:14.)

o. The Lord turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish. (Is. 44:25.)

p. I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. (Lu. 10:21.)

q. And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven. (Lu. 11:16.)

r. And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. (Is. 8:14.) Blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me. (Mat. 11:6.)

s. And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead. (Rom. 1:4.)

t. In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. (Col. 2:3.)

25 Because [u]the [v]foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27 But [v]God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, [w]to bring to nought things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But of him are ye in Chrīst Jē'sus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That, according as it is written, [x]He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Though his preaching bring not excellency of speech, or of human wisdom, yet it consisteth in the 4, 5 power of God.

1 [1]And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God.

2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jē'sus Chrīst, and him crucified.

3 And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech and my preaching [a]was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

5 That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but [b]in the power of God.

6 [2]Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that [c]are [3]perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought.

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory:

8 Which [d]none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, [e]Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

9. They would call it God's foolishness, but even his foolishness is superior to their wisdom.

Ch. 2. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 2 Paul rebukes the pride of human philosophy and exhorts the church to the preaching of Christ and him crucified.

2. In vs. 6-16 Paul declares Christianity to have a wisdom not understood save by the spiritual.

3. Matured in Christian experience and knowledge.

4. The worldly man.

5. The spiritual.

Ch. 3. A. D. 59.

1. Because of their carnal-mindedness, Paul could not speak to them of the deep spiritual truths as he would like to. He exhorts them to a holier life, as they must give an account of their lives in the day of fiery judgment.

2. Alluding to the lower and higher principles of life.

3. Worldly, as the flesh.

4. As is shown in vs. 12-15.

10 But [f]God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, [g]save the spirit of man which is in him? [h]even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Hō'lў Ghōst teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 [i]But the [4]natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 But [j]he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.

16 [k]For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? [l]But [5]we have the mind of Chrīst.

CHAPTER 3.

2 Milk is fit for children. 7 He that planteth, and he that watereth, is nothing. 9 The ministers are God's fellowworkmen. 11 Christ the only foundation. 16 Men the temples of God.

1 [1]And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Chrīst.

2 I have fed you with [2]milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet [3]carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?

4 For while one saith, I am of Pa̤ul; and another, I am of A-pŏl'lŏs; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Pa̤ul, and who is A-pŏl'lŏs, but ministers by [a]whom ye believed, even as the [b]Lord gave to every man?

6 I have planted, A-pŏl'lŏs watered; but God gave the increase.

7 So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own [4]labour.

u. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. (II Cor. 4:7.)

v. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger. (Ps. 8:2.)

w. Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought. (I Cor. 2:6.) How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands. (Job 34:19.) And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming. (II Thess. 2:8.) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.)

x. Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches. (Jer. 9:23.)

Chapter 2.

a. For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses of his majesty. (II Pet. 1:16.)

b. We have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. (II Cor. 4:7.)

c. Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. (Eph. 4:13.)

d. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the Prophets which are read every sabbath day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him. (Acts 13:27.)

e. Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him. (Is. 64:4.)

f. When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth. (Jno. 16:13.)

g. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? (Jer. 17:9.)

h. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! (Rom. 11:33.)

i. Thou savorest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men. (Mat. 16:23.)

j. Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord understand all things. (Prov. 28:5.)

k. Hast thou heard the secret of God? and dost thou restrain wisdom to thyself? (Job 15:8.) Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or, being his counsellor, hath taught him? (Is. 40:13.)

l. The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will show them his covenant. (Ps. 25:14.) Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. (Jno. 15:15.)

Chapter 3.

a. But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses. (II Cor. 6:4.) Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power. (Eph. 3:7.) Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God. (Col. 1:25.) That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. (Rom. 15:16.) Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart (3). Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:3, 6.) And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry. (I Tim. 1:12.)

b. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. (Is. 55:10-12.)

9 For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's [c]building.
10 According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid [d]the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.
11 For other foundation can [5]no man lay than [e]that is laid, which is Jē'sus Chrīst.
12 [e]Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;
13 Every man's work shall be made [7]manifest: for the [8]day [f]shall declare it because it shall be revealed by [9]fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.
14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a [10]reward.
15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; [g]yet so as by fire.
16 [h]Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?
17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the [i]temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.
18 Let no [j]man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.
19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He [k]taketh the wise in their own craftiness.
20 And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.
21 Therefore let no man glory in men. For [l]all things are your's;
22 Whether Paul, or A-pŏl'lŏs, or Çē'phas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are your's;
23 And [m]ye are Chrīst's; and Chrīst is God's.

CHAPTER 4.

1 In what account the ministers ought to be had. 9 The apostles spectacles to the world, angels, and men: 15 yet our fathers in Christ, 16 whom we ought to follow.

1 [1]Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Chrīst, [a]and stewards of the [2]mysteries of God.
2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found [3]faithful.

5. If built upon other than Christ, it is without foundation.

6. In vs. 12-15 Paul declares the life of man subject to the tests of fire at the day of judgment.

7. Shall be reviewed, made known.

8. Of judgment.

9. Because the false or unholy shall be destroyed, but the true character founded on Christ is indestructible.

10. To the righteous, good works are an investment which bring their reward.

Ch. 4. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 4, Paul presents the true dignity of ministers.

2. The divine truths.

3. Full of trust to his duties.

4. Self-satisfied.

5. As Christianity is new, he exhorts the church to follow his example.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.
4 For I know nothing by myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.
5 Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and [b]then shall every man have praise of God.
6 And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to A-pŏl'lŏs for your sakes; that [c]ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.
7 For who maketh thee to differ from another? and [d]what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?
8 Now ye are [4]full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.
9 For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.
10 We are [c]fools for Chrīst's sake, but ye are wise in Chrīst; [f]we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.
11 Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace;
12 And [g]labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it:
13 Being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.
14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.
15 For though ye have ten thousand instructers in Chrīst, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Chrīst Jē'sus I have begotten you through the gospel.
16 Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of [5]me.
17 For this cause have I sent unto you Tī-mō'the-ŭs, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into re-

c. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. (Eph. 2:20.)
d. Yea, so have I strived to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation. (Rom. 15:20.) The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. (Rev. 21:14.)
e. Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. (Is. 28:16.) Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. (Gal. 1:7.)
f. And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power. (II Thess. 1:7-9.) For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day (12). The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he minstered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well. (II Tim. 1:12, 18.) Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. (Mat. 10:15.) That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:7.)
g. And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. (Jude 23.)
h. What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? (I Cor. 6:19.) And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.) In whom all the building, fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord. (Eph. 2:21.) But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:9.)
i. Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus. (Heb. 3:1.)
j. Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight! (Is. 5:21.)
k. He taketh the wise in their own craftiness; and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong. (Job 5:13.)
l. For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake (5). For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. (II Cor. 4:5, 15.)
m. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. (Rom. 14:8.) If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed. (Gal. 3:29.)

a. The Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? (Lu. 12:42.)
b. But he is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:29.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.)
c. For I say, Through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith. (Rom. 12:3.)
d. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. (Jno. 3:27.)
e. And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad. (Acts 26:24.)
f. For we are glad when we are weak, and ye are strong; and this also we wish, even your perfection. (II Cor. 13:9.)
g. For therefore we both labor and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. (I Tim. 4:10.)

membrance of my ways which be in Chrīst, as I teach every where in every church.

18 Now some are puffed [e]up, as though I would not come to you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For [h]the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER 5.

1 The incestuous person 6 is cause of shame. 7 The old leaven is to be purged out. 10 Heinous offenders are to be shunned.

1 [1]It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as [a]named among the Gĕn'tīleṣ, [b]that one should have his [c]father's wife.

2 And ye are puffed up, and have not [2]rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 [d]For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,

4 In the name of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, [e]with the power of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst,

5 [f]To deliver such an one unto Sā'tan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jē'ṣus.

6 [3]Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [g]a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out [4]therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Chrīst our passover is sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with [h]old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators:

10 [i]Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out [j]of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you not to keep company, [k]if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one [l]no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?

13 But them that are without [m]God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Against going to law. 18 Against sensuality.

1 [1]Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the [2]unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that [a]the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall [3]judge [b]angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. [c]Why do ye not rather [4]take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that [d]your brethren.

9 [5]Know ye not that the [e]unrighteous shall [f]not inherit the kingdom of God? Be [g]not deceived: neither [h]fornicators, nor idolaters, nor

---

1. With pride and boasting.

Ch. 5. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 5 Paul reproves the church for the incestuous ones in their midst, commands them to purge themselves of the bad leaven, and qualifies his former command as to association with sinners of the world.

2. Have been indifferent and not sorrowful.

3. In vs. 6-8, through the illustration of the leaven, Paul teaches the church that they must purge themselves of sin.

4. If he persists in his sins, cast him out.

Ch. 6. A. D. 59.

1. In this ch. Paul exhorts the Christians not to go into law against each other, especially before an unbelieving judge. It is better to endure wrong here than to be shut out of heaven.

2. An infidel or unbelieving judge.

3. As the Christians are one in Christ, they shall rule in him, suffer in him, and triumph in him; hence all nations, powers, principalities and even angels shall be judged by them.

4. Suffer yourselves to be wronged.

5. In vs. 9-11 Paul declares that sensual indulgences will exclude from the kingdom of God.

---

h. For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance. (I Thess. 1:5.)

Chapter 5.

a. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints. (Eph. 5:3.)

b. Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife; because he uncovereth his father's skirt. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:20.)

c. Though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you. (II Cor. 7:12.)

d. For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ. (Col. 2:5.)

e. Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained. (Jno. 20:23.) To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the person of Chr'st. (II Cor. 2:10.) Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you (3). Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction. (II Cor. 13:3, 10.) Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear. (I Tim. 5:20.)

f. The Lord said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; but save his life. (Job 2:6.) To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God. (Acts 26:18.) Whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme. (I Tim. 1:20.)

g. Evil communications corrupt good manners. (I Cor. 15:33.) A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. (Gal. 5:9.)

h. Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it: seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; (for thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt in haste:) that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of thy life. (Dt. 16:3.)

i. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? (II Cor. 6:14.)

j. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. (Jno. 17:15.)

k. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. (Mat. 18:17.)

l. Before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles; but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. (Gal. 2:12.)

m. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil. (Ecc. 12:14.) Whoremongers and adulterers will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

Chapter 6.

a. Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. (Dan. 7:22.)

b. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, unto darkness, unto the judgment of the great day. (Jude 6.)

c. Say not thou, I will recompense evil, but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee. (Prov. 20:22.)

d. That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified. (I Thess. 4:6.)

e. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; for the reward of his hands shall be given him. (Is. 3:11.)

f. Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. (I Cor. 15:50.) Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. (Gal. 5:21.) For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. (Eph. 5:5.) And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. (Acts 20:32.)

g. Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners. (I Cor. 15:33.) Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. (Gal. 6:7.) Do not err, my beloved brethren. (Js. 1:16.) And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them. (Lu. 21:8.) Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. (I Jno. 3:7.)

h. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.) Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. (Gal. 5:19-21.) For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. (Eph. 5:5.) For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine. (I Tim. 1:10.) But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Rev. 21:8.)

adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall [f]inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were some of you: but ye [i]are washed, but ye [s]are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jē'sus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 All [j]things are lawful unto me, but all things are not [t]expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but [k]for the Lord; and [l]the Lord for the body.

14 And [m]God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members [n]of Chrīst? shall I then take the members of Chrīst, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What! know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for [o]two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is joined unto the Lord is [p]one spirit.

18 Flee [q]fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth [r]against his own body.

19 What! [s]know ye not that your body is the temple of the Hō'lў Ghōst which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

20 For ye [t]are bought with a [s]price: therefore [u]glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER 7.

2 He treateth of marriage, 10 and sheweth that the bond thereof ought not lightly to be dissolved.

1 [1]Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good [2]for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, [o]to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 Let the [b]husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power [3]of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that [c]Sā'tan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.

7 For I would that all men were [d]even as I myself. But [e]every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But [f]if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to [4]burn.

10 [5]And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, [g]Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [h]were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And [i]so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let

6. Before their justification.

7. Profitable in Christ, which places the limit or boundary on one's rights.

8. The atoning blood of Christ.

Ch. 7. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 7 Paul answers their questions regarding marriage.

2. Proper.

3. Each belong to the other.

4. To be consumed by the desire of lust.

5. In vs. 10-17 Paul counsels as to the law of separation of married parties.

1. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.)

j. All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not. (I Cor. 10:23.)

k. This is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication. (I Thess. 4:3.)

l. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body. (Eph. 5:23.)

m. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection. (Rom. 6:5.)

n. So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Rom. 12:5.) For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. (Eph. 5:30.)

o. For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh. (Mat. 19:5.)

p. That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me. (Jno. 17:21-23.) But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you. (Rom. 8:9-11.) I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

q. And lest, when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness, and fornication, and lasciviousness, which they have committed. (II Cor. 12:21.) But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints. (Eph. 5:3.) Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. (Col. 3:5.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

r. Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonor their own bodies between themselves. (Rom. 1:24.)

s. And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. (II Cor. 6:16.)

t. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. (Gal. 3:13.) The Lord that bought them. (II Pet. 2:1.) And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood. (Rev. 5:9.)

u. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 5:16.)

Chapter 7.

a. Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe; let her breasts satisfy thee at all times; and be thou ravished always with her love. (Prov. 5:19.)

b. Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honor unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered. (I Pet. 3:7.)

c. I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labor be in vain. (I Thess. 3:5.)

d. Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles? (I Cor. 9:5.)

e. There be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it. (Mat. 19:12.)

f. I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully. (I Tim. 5:14.)

g. Whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery. (Mat. 5:32.)

h. Did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and yet none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. (Mal. 2:15.)

i. Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches. (II Cor. 11:28.) For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints. (I Cor. 14:33.) But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? *j*let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is *k*nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping *l*of the commandments of God.

20 Let *l*every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art *m*thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be *n*made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's *o*freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is *p*Christ's servant.

23 Ye *q*are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

6. Holy living.

25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one *r*that hath obtained mercy of the Lord *s*to be faithful.

7. The remainder of the ch. is devoted to marriage under pressure or persecution.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress, I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this world, as not *t*abusing it: for *u*the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carefulness. *v*He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

Ch. 8. A. D. 59.

1. Ch. 8 is devoted to the law governing the meats offered the idols.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. *w*The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39 *x*The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER 8.

1 To abstain from meats offered to idols. 8, 9 We must not abuse our Christian liberty, to the offence of our brethren, 11 but must bridle our knowledge with charity.

1 Now *a*as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have *b*knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2 And *c*if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, *d*the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, *e*and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) custom, neither the churches of God. (I Cor. 11:16.) And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ. (Gal. 1:22.) For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews. (I Thess. 2:14.) So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure. (II Thess. 1:4.)

---

j. Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. (Gal. 5:2.)

k. In Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature. (Gal. 6:15.)

l. As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place. (Prov. 27:8.) I beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called. (Eph. 4:1.)

m. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:28.)

n. Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke? (Is. 58:6.)

o. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (Jno. 8:36.) Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness. (Rom. 6:18.)

p. For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. (Gal. 5:13.)

q. For they are my servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold as bondmen. (Lev. 25:42.) Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood. (Rev. 5:9.)

r. For this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show forth all long-suffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting. (I Tim. 1:16.)

s. And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry. (I Tim. 1:12.)

t. What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the Gospel. (I Cor. 9:18.)

u. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. (Js. 4:14.) And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever. (I Jno. 2:17.)

v. She that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. (I Tim. 5:5.)

w. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me (40). But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Lu. 10:40, 42.)

x For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband. (Rom. 7:2.)

Chapter 8.

a. But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood. (Acts 15:20.)

b. I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean. (Rom. 14:14.)

c. If a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. (Gal. 6:3.) If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings. (I Tim. 6:3, 4.)

d. And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me: yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight. (Ex. 33:12.) The Lord is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. (Nah. 1:7.) Nevertheless, the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. (II Tim. 2:19.) But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage? (Gal. 4:9.) For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death (2). But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:2, 9.) For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. (Ps. 1:6.) You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities. (Amos 3:2.)

e. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you. (Is. 41:24.)

6 But [f]to us there is but one God, the Father, [g]of whom are all things, and we in him; and one [h]Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, [i]by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Howbeit [2]there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8 But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.

9 But take heed lest by any means this liberty of your's become a stumblingblock to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

11 And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Chrīst died?

12 But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin [2]against Chrīst.

13 Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER 9.

1 He sheweth his liberty, 7 and that the minister ought to live by the gospel. 24 Our life is like unto a race.

1 [1]Am I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jē'sus Chrīst our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that do examine me is this,

4 Have we [2]not power to eat and to drink?

5 Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as [a]the brethren of the Lord, and [b]Çē'phas?

6 Or I only and Bär'na-bās, [c]have not we power to forbear working?

7 [3]Who [d]goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who [e]planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?

9 For it is written in the law of Mō'sēs, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11 If we [f]have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we [g]have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Chrīst.

13 Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so [h]hath the Lord ordained that they [i]which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 But I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, [j]a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Chrīst without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, [k]that I might gain the more.

20 And [l]unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

21 To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Chrīst,) that I might gain them that are without law;

22 To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to [4]all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain.

25 And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a [m]corruptible crown; but we an [n]incorruptible.

2. Nevertheless.

3. Because they are Christ's.

Ch. 9. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 9 Paul exhorts the church not to assert their rights to the full limit if by so doing they may cause a brother to offend.

2. Rightful authority.

3. In vs. 7-14 Paul declares that, by the general law of compensation which controls all wages, the minister is entitled to his support.

4. Not exerting his individual rights and prerogatives, but conforming himself to opportunities to rightfully influence a weaker brother.

f. Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? (Mal. 2:10.) One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Eph. 4:6.)

g. In him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. (Acts 17:28.) Of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. (Rom. 11:36.)

h. And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. (Phil. 2:11.)

i. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. (Jno. 1:3.) [God] Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds. (Heb. 1:2.)

Chapter 9.

a. Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? (Mat. 13:55.) But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother. (Gal. 1:19.)

b. When Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. (Mat. 8:14.)

c. Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labor and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you. (II Thess. 3:8.)

d. The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God. (II Cor. 10:4.) Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. (II Tim. 2:3.) I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. (II Tim. 4:7.)

e. What man is he that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not yet eaten of it? (Dt. 20:6.) Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof. (Prov. 27:18.)

f. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things. (Rom. 15:27.)

g. Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely? (II Cor. 11:7.)

h. And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the laborer is worthy of his hire. (Lu. 10:7.)

i. Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. (Gal. 6:6.) Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. (I Tim. 5:17.)

j. The gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter. (Gal. 2:7.) I am set for the defence of the gospel. (Phil. 1:17.) Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God. (Col. 1:25.)

k. Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. (Mat. 18:15.)

l. Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters. (Acts 16:3.) [Paul] Having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow. (Acts 18:18.)

m. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. (II Tim. 4:8.) Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. (Js. 1:12.) And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. (I Pet. 5:4.) Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. (Rev. 2:10.) Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. (Rev. 3:11.)

n. When he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the 26 I therefore so run, not as [o]uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:

27 But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be [p]a [5]castaway.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The sacraments of the Jews, 6 are types of our's, 7 and their punishments, 11 examples for us. 14 We must fly from idolatry. 21 We must not make the Lord's table the table of devils.

1 Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under [a]the [1]cloud, and all passed through [b]the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Mō'şeş in the [2]cloud and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same [c]spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same [d]spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual [3]Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Chrīst.

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, [e]The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and [f]fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Chrīst, as some [g]of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they [h]are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are [4]able; but will with the temptation also [i]make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

5. That is, lest he should not prove worthy.

Ch. 10. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 10 Paul presents the danger of fellowship with idolatry, illustrating his statements by the history of Israel, again exhorting the church to forego even lawful things if indulging in them might cause a weaker brother to stumble.

2. Pillar of cloud over the Israelites as a symbol of divine presence (Ex. 13:21, 22).

3. Christ.

4. That is, Christ will not allow us to be tempted to the point where we are overloaded and are compelled to fall.

5. The festal cup used in the sacrifice to idols.

6. Not profitable unto Christ.

7. That is, why is not a man judged by the effect of his deeds upon himself and not by the effect upon others? Paul gives the answer in v. 1.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to wise men; judge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Chrīst? [j]The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chrīst?

17 For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold Īs'ra-el after the flesh: [k]are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the idol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But I say, that the things which the Ğĕn'tīleş [l]sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of [5]devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? [m]are we stronger than he?

23 All things are lawful for me, but all things are not [6]expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24 Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25 Whatsoever [n]is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake:

26 For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go; whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience' sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience' sake: for [o]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:

29 Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other: for [p]why is my liberty [7]judged of another man's conscience?

30 For if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that for which I give thanks?

31 Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory [q]of God.

32 Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Ğĕn'tīleş, nor to the church of God:

Lord hath promised to them that love him. (Js. 1:12.) Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. (Rev. 2:10.)

o. For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. (II Cor. 5:1.)

p. Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the Lord hath rejected them. (Jer. 6:30.) Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates? (II Cor. 13:5.)

Chapter 10.

a. And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night. (Ex. 13:21.) In the day-time also he led them with a cloud. (Ps. 78:14.)

b. The children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. (Ex. 14:22.)

c. Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no (4). And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat. (Ex. 16:4, 15.) And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live. (Dt. 8:3.) And gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and promisedst them that they should go in to possess the land which thou hadst sworn to give them (15). Thou gavest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst. (Neh. 9:15, 20.) And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven. (Ps. 78:24.)

d. Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel. (Ex. 17:6.)

e. And they rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play. (Ex. 32:6.)

f. And Israel abode in Shittim, and the people began to commit whoredom with the daughters of Moab (1). And those that died from the plague were twenty and four thousand. (Num. 25:1, 9.)

g. The people spake against God, and against Moses, Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and our soul loatheth this light bread. (Num. 21:5.)

h. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. (Rom. 15:4.)

i. I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end. (Jer. 29:11.)

j. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42.)

k. The flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered. (Lev. 7:15.)

l. They sacrificed unto devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not. (Dt. 32:17.)

m. Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it. (Ez. 22:14.)

n. For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving. (I Tim. 4:4.)

o. Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, is the Lord's thy God, the earth also, with all that therein is. (Dt. 10:14.)

p. Let not then your good be evil spoken of. (Rom. 14:16.)

q. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made your overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia. (II Cor. 1:1.) For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it. (Gal. 1:13.) (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the 33 Even as I please all men in all things, not [r]seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER 11.

1 He reproveth them, because in holy assemblies 4 their men prayed with their heads covered, and 6 women with their heads uncovered, 21 and for profaning with their own feasts the Lord's supper.

1 Be ye [a]followers of me, even as I also am of Chrīst.

2 Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and [b]keep the [c]ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would have you know, that [d]the head of every man is Chrīst; and the head of the woman is the man; and [e]the head of Chrīst is God.

4 Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But [f]every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were [g]shaven.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be [h]a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as [i]he is the image and glory [1]of God: but the woman is the glory [2]of the man.

8 For the man is not of the [3]woman; [j]but the [3]woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman; but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a [4]covering.

16 But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

Ch. 11. A. D. 59.

1. The image of God as the authorized Lord in the earth (Gen. 1:27).

2. That is, emanating or created from him as a second self.

3. That is, she is his complement and together they form the one composite person.

4. A symbol of modesty.

5. In vs. 17-34 Paul entreats the church not to be guilty of disorders and abuses of the Lord's supper.

17 [5]Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, [k]I hear that there be divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For [l]there must be also heresies among you, [m]that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jē'sus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the [n]new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death [o]till he come.

27 Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But [p]let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 For [q]if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But when we are judged, [r]we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34 And if any man hunger, let him eat at home; that ye come not together unto con-church of God? (5). But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. (I Tim. 3:5, 15.) Concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless. (Phil. 3:6.)

r. Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil. (I Cor. 13:5.) For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's. (Phil. 2:21.) Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you; for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. (II Cor. 12:14.) Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification. (Rom. 15:2.)

Chapter 11.

a. Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us. (II Thess. 3:9.)

b. As God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches. (I Cor. 7:17.)

c. Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle. (II Thess. 2:15.)

d. To this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living. (Rom. 14:9.)

e. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I. (Jno. 14:28.)

f. And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy. (Acts 21:9.)

g. Then thou shalt bring her [the captive] home to thine house; and she shall shave her head. (Dt. 21:12.)

h. The priest shall set the woman before the Lord, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering. (Num. 5:18.)

i. God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. (Gen. 1:26.)

j. The rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. (Gen. 2:22.)

k. I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you. (I Cor. 1:10.)

l. Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him through whom they come! (Lu. 17:1.)

m. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against; (Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed. (Lu. 2:34, 35.)

n. And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.)

o. Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. (Acts 1:11.) Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him. (Rev. 1:7.)

p. Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. (II Cor. 13:5.) Let every man prove his own work. (Gal. 6:4.)

q. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I Jno. 1:9.)

r. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty. (Job 5:17.) You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities. (Amos 3:2.) I will be his father, and he shall be my son. If he commit iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men. (II Sam. 7:14.) Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of thy law. (Ps. 94:12.) If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? but if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live? For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. (Heb. 12:7-10.)

demnation. And the rest [s]will I set in order when [t]I come.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Spiritual gifts 4 are divers, 7 yet all to profit. 8 And to that end are diversely bestowed.

1 [1]Now [a]concerning spiritual [2]gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know [b]that ye were Ĝĕn'tīleş, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jē'şus [3]accursed: and [c]that no man can say that Jē'şus is the Lord, but by the Hō'lў Ghōst.

4 Now [d]there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit the word [e]of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 To [f]another [4]faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 To [g]another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; [h]to another discerning of spirits; to another [i]divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11 But all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

12 [5]For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Chrīst.

13 For [j]by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, [k]whether we be Jewş or Ĝĕn'tīleş, whether we be bond or free; and [l]have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now [m]ye are the body of Chrīst, and members in particular.

28 And [n]God hath set some in the church, first [o]apostles, secondarily [p]prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, [q]helps, [r]governments, diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But [s]covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER 13.

1 All gifts, 2, 3 how excellent soever, are nothing worth without charity. 4 The praises thereof, and 13 prelation before hope and faith.

1 Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not [a]charity, I am become [1]as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift [b]of [2]prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowl-

Ch. 12. A. D. 59.

1. In this ch. Paul advises the church regarding the rightful use and abuses of the Lord's Supper.

2. In vs. 1-11 Paul declares the source of all spiritual gifts to be God.

3. No man blasphemes Christ who is controlled by the Holy Spirit.

4. The power of unflinchingly resisting sin and unshrinkingly embracing Christ and all his teachings.

5. In vs. 12-26 the apostle declares that the various gifts of the many should harmonize the church into one body.

Ch. 13. A. D. 59.

1. A loud reverberating noise without source or foundation. Sound without soul or feeling.

2. The knowledge it embraces.

s. For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting. (Tit. 1:5.)

t. But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power. (I Cor. 4:19.)

Chapter 12.

a. Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy. (I Cor. 14:1.)

b. Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands; That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. (Eph. 2:11, 12.)

c. Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 16:17.) Our sufficiency is of God. (II Cor. 3:5.)

d. God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will. (Heb. 2:4.)

e. Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought. (I Cor. 2:6.) And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. (Rom. 15:14.) Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savor of his knowledge by us in every place. (II Cor. 2:14.) For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.) But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things. (II Cor. 11:6.)

f. Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out? And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. (Mat. 17:19, 20.) We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak. (II Cor. 4:13.)

g. He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? (Gal. 3:5.)

h. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4:1.)

i. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. (Acts 2:4.)

j. I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Is. 44:3.) For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection. (Rom. 6:5.)

k. Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all. (Col. 3:11.)

l. It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. (Jno. 6:63.)

m. So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Rom. 12:5.) [The church] Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. (Eph. 1:23.)

n. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers. (Eph. 4:11.)

o. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. (Eph. 2:20.)

p. Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers. (Acts 13:1.)

q. I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone. (Num. 11:17.)

r. Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. (I Tim. 5:17.)

s. Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy. (I Cor. 14:1.)

Chapter 13.

a. Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned. (I Tim. 1:5.)

b. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. (Mat. 7:22, 23.)

edge; and though I have all [3]faith, so [c]that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3 And [d]though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 [4]Charity [e]suffereth [5]long, and is [6]kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Doth not behave itself [f]unseemly, seeketh [g]not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 Rejoiceth not in iniquity, [h]but rejoiceth in the truth;

7 Beareth [i]all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For [j]we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10 But [k]when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For [l]now we see through a glass, darkly; but then [m]face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth [7]faith, [8]hope, [9]charity, these three; but the [n]greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Prophecy is commended, 2, 3, 4 and preferred before speaking with tongues. 12 Both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their true end. 34 Women are forbidden to speak in the church.

1 [1]Follow after [2a]charity, and [b]desire spiritual gifts, [c]but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that [d]speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh [e]mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth [f]speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether [g]pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: [h]I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [i]with the understanding also.

16 Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say [j]Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my

3. Miracle working faith.

4. Love.

5. Under provocation.

6. In vs. 4-7 Paul gives a picture of ideal love in daily life.

7. A firm and earnest trust, confidence and reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

8. Hope that continually looks forward to and expects still greater blessings at the hands of Jehovah.

9. Love, the consummation of all graces.

Ch. 14.. A. D. 59.

1. In vs. 1-21 Paul exhorts the church to a careful use of speech, as indiscriminate speaking does not build up the church.

2. After love, as the chief aim and desire in life.

c. And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. (Mat. 17:20.)

d. Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. (Mat. 6:1, 2.)

e. And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins. (I Pet. 4:8.)

f. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Phil. 4:8.)

g. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. (Phil. 2:4.)

h. I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father. (II Jno. 4.)

i. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. (Gal. 6:2.)

j. And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know. (I Cor. 8:2.)

k. The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. (Is. 60:19.)

l. Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect; but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:12.)

m. Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.) And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. (Gen. 32:30.) With him will I speak mouth to mouth, even apparently, and not in dark speeches; and the similitude of the Lord shall he behold: wherefore then were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses? (Num. 12:8.)

n. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. (Mat. 22:38, 39.)

Chapter 14.

a. Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. (Rom. 13:8.) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.)

b. But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet show I unto you a more excellent way. (I Cor. 12:31.)

c. And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that, when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and did not cease. (Num. 11:25.) Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith. (Rom. 12:6.)

d. For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter. (Acts 10:46.) To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues (10). And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues (28). Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? (I Cor. 12:10, 28, 30.) Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. (I Cor. 13:1.) And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues. (Mk. 16:17.)

e. And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me. (Acts 22:9.)

f. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. (Rom. 15:4.)

g. They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance. They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the sound of the organ. (Job 21:11, 12.)

h. Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord. (Eph. 5:19.) Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. (Col. 3:16.)

i. For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding. (Ps. 47:7.)

j. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. (I Cor. 11:24.)

voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, [k]be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye [l]children, but in understanding be men.

21 In [m]the law it is [n]written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, [o]will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report [p]that God is in you of a truth.

26 [3]How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, [q]hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. [r]Let all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32 And [s]the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, [t]as in all churches of the saints.

34 Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are [u]commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the [v]law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What! came the word of God out [w]from you? or came it unto you only?

37 If [x]any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, [y]covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER 15.

3 By Christ's resurrection, 12 he proveth the necessity of our resurrection. 21 The fruit, 35 and manner thereof.

1 [1]Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and [a]wherein ye stand;

2 By [b]which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according [c]to the scriptures:

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according [d]to the scriptures:

5 And [e]that he was seen of Çē'phas, then of the twelve:

6 After that, he was seen of above [2]five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

3. In vs. 26-33 the apostle gives the rules which should govern both ordinary speaking and the tongue of prophecy.

Ch. 15. A. D. 59.

1. In this ch. Paul presents proofs of the resurrection of Christ and thereby establishing the fact that through him his followers shall one day rise.

2. The only place this appearance is recorded.

k. Surely I have behaved and quieted myself, as a child that is weaned of his mother: my soul is even as a weaned child. (Ps. 131:2.) At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. (Mat. 11:25.) For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil. (Rom. 16:19.)

l. And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 18:3.) As new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. (I Pet. 2:2.) Surely I have behaved and quieted myself, as a child that is weaned of his mother: my soul is even as a weaned child. (Ps. 131:2.) For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil. (Rom. 16:19.) As new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. (I Pet. 2:2.)

m. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shown you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? (Jno. 10:32.)

n. For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people. (Is. 28:11.)

o. Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine. (Acts 2:13.) And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad. (Acts 26:24.)

p. Thus saith the Lord, The labor of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee; in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God. (Is. 45:14.) Thus saith the Lord of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you; for we have heard that God is with you. (Zech. 8:23.) The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret. (Dan. 2:47.) Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. (Acts 4:13.)

q. For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit; To another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit. (I Cor. 12:8, 9.)

r. Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another. (Rom. 14:19.) Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? we speak before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying. (II Cor. 12:19.) For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. (Eph. 4:12.)

s. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4:1.)

t. But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God. (I Cor. 11:16.)

u. But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God. (I Cor. 11:3.) Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. (Eph. 5:22.) Likewise, ye wives; be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives. (I Pet. 3:1.)

v. Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception: in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. (Gen. 3:16.)

w. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. (Is. 2:3.)

x. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me. (Lu. 10:16.) We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error. (I Jno. 4:6.)

y. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. (I Cor. 12:13.) Despise not prophesyings. (I Thess. 5:20.)

Chapter 15.

a. By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.)

b. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. (Rom. 1:16.) For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. (I Cor. 1:21.)

c. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. (Is. 53:5.) And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. (Dan. 9:26.)

d. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. (Ps. 16:10.) Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. (Is. 53:10.)

e. Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. (Lu. 24:34.)

7 After that, he was seen of Jāmeş; then of [f]all the apostles.
8 And [g]last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.
9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
10 But [h]by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: [i]yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.
11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.
12 Now if Chrīst be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that [j]there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, [k]then is Chrīst not risen:
14 And if Chrīst be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.
15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God that he raised up Chrīst: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Chrīst raised:
17 And if Chrīst be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins.
18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Chrīst are perished.
19 If in this life only we have hope in Chrīst, we are of all men most miserable.
20 But now [l]is Chrīst risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept.
21 For [m]since by man came death, [n]by man came also the resurrection of the dead.
22 For as in Ād'ăm all die, even so in Chrīst shall all be made alive.
23 But [o]every man in his own order: Chrīst the firstfruits; afterward they that are Chrīst's at his coming.
24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.
25 For he must reign, [p]till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The [q]last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he [r]hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.
28 And [s]when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Chrīst Jē'sus our Lord, [t]I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ĕph'ē-sŭs, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake [u]to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, [v]How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou [3]fool, [w]that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die:
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But [x]God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is [4]one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 [y]So [5]also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 [z]It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Ād'ăm [aa]was made a living soul; the last Ād'ăm was made a quickening spirit.
46 [6]Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 [bb]The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord [cc]from heaven.

3. In scriptural language a fool means an impious or immoral reprobate.

4. As there is such a great difference existing between the sun, moon and stars—all seeming so much alike so there will be a great difference between our present bodies and resurrected bodies, though still continuing to be bodies.

5. Similar to the difference of the natural bodies in v. 41 is the difference between man's natural and resurrected bodies.

6. Notwithstanding.

f. To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God. (Acts 1:3.)
g. And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth. (Acts 22:14.)
h. That in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus. (Eph. 2:7.)
i. Not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake. (Ps. 115:1.) For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure. (Phil. 2:13.)
j. And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus. (II Tim. 2:17.)
k. For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus; for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews. (I Thess. 2:14.)
l. Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. (I Pet. 1:3.)
m. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all mĕn, for that all have sinned. (Rom. 5:12.)
n. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. (Jno. 11:25.)
o. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep. (I Thess. 4:15.)
p. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.) But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool? (Heb. 1:13.)
q. Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of dĕath, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.)
r. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.)
s. That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him. (Eph. 1:10.)
t. Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body. (II Cor. 4:10.)
u. Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. (Eph. 5:14.)
v. And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest. (Ez, 37:3.)
w. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. (Jno. 12:24.)
x. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man; that he may bring forth food out of the earth. (Ps. 104:14.)
y. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. (Dan. 12:3.)
z. For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. (Phil. 3:20, 21.)
aa. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (Gen. 2:7.)
bb. He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. (Jno. 3:31.)
cc. And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven. (Jno. 3:13.)

CHURCH OF HOLY SEPULCHRE. CROWD AWAITING CEREMONY OF WASHING OF SAINTS' FEET.

48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And [dd]as we have borne the image of the earthy, [ee]we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [ff]flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Behold, I shew you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: [gg]for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and [hh]this mortal must put on immortality.

54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.

57 But [ii]thanks be to God, which giveth us [jj]the victory through our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, [kk]be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 He exhorteth them to relieve the want of the brethren at Jerusalem. 10 He commendeth Timothy.

1 [1]Now concerning [a]the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Ga-lā'tiȧ, even so do ye.

2 Upon [b]the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, [c]whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 [2]Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ: for I do pass through Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ȧ.

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may [d]bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs until Pĕn'te-cōst.

9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and [e]there are many adversaries.

10 Now if Ti-mō'the-ŭs come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our [f]brother A-pŏl'lōs, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 [3]Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stĕph'a-năs, that it is the firstfruits of A-chā'iȧ, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints,)

16 That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stĕph'a-năs and For-tū-nā'tus and A-chā'i-cus: [g]for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and your's: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The [h]churches of Ā'ṣiȧ salute you. Ăq'uĭ-lȧ and Prĭs-çĭl'lȧ salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with an holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst, [i]let him be Ăn-ăth'e-mȧ [j]Mär'an-ā'thȧ.

23 The grace of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Chrīst Jē'ṣus. Amen.

Ch. 16. A. D. 59.

1. In ch. 16 Paul commends to the church at Corinth those whom he shall send and exhorts them to the support of the needy coming under their charge.

2. In vs. 5-24 Paul speaks largely of personal matters.

3. As though the visible enemy constantly surround you.

dd. And Adam lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat a son in his own likeness, after his image; and called his name Seth. (Gen. 5:3.)

ee. For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren. (Rom. 8:29.)

ff. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God (3). Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. (Jno. 3:3, 5.)

gg. And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. (Mat. 24:31.)

hh. For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life. (II Cor. 5:4.)

ii. I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin. (Rom. 7:25.)

jj. Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. (Rom. 8:37.) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.) For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. (I Jno. 5:4.) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Rev. 21:4.)

kk. And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.)

Chapter 16.

a. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea. (Acts 11:29.)

b. Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it. (Prov. 3:27.) I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet. (Rev. 1:10.)

c. But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you (16). And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind. (II Cor. 8:16, 19.)

d. And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren. (Acts 15:3.)

e. But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus. (Acts 19:9.)

f. And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia. (Acts 14:24.) Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. (Tit. 3:13.)

g. And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. (II Cor. 11:9.)

h. John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne. (Rev. 1:4.)

i. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. (Gal. 1:8, 9.) For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. (Heb. 10:26.)

j. And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints, To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. (Jude 14, 15.)

CORINTHIANS

NOTE.—II Corinthians was written by the apostle Paul in the year 57 A. D. to the church at Corinth in Greece, on the general subject of the authority and character of the Apostolic College. Paul was in Macedonia at the time of the writing.

CHAPTER 1.

3 The apostle encourageth them against troubles, by the comforts and deliverances which God had given him. 15 He excuseth his not coming to them.

1 Paul, an apostle of Jē'şus Chrīst by the will of God, and Tĭm'o-thy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Cŏr'inth, with all the saints which are in all A-chā'ià:

2 Grace [1]be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

3 Blessed be God, even the [a]Father of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as [b]the sufferings of [2]Chrīst abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Chrīst.

6 And whether we be afflicted, [c]it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 [3]For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Ā'şià, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not [d]trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 Who [e]delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

11 Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our [4]conscience, that in [5]simplicity and [f]godly sincerity, [g]not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to youward.

13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, [h]that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are our's in the day of the Lord Jē'şus.

15 [6]And in this confidence [i]I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have [7]a second benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à, and to come again out of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Jū-dæ'à.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose [j]according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea yea, and nay nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jē'şus Chrīst, who was preached among you by us, even by me and [k]Sĭl-vā'nus and Tĭ-mō'the-ŭs, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For [l]all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by ŭs.

21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Chrīst, and [m]hath anointed us, is God;

22 Who [n]hath also sealed us, and given [o]the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover I call God for a [8]record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Cŏr'inth.

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by [p]faith ye stand.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Having shewed the reason why he came not to them, 6 he requireth them to forgive that excommunicated person.

1 But I determined this with myself, that [a]I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have [1]sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not [b]that ye should be grieved, but that ye might

Ch. 1. A. D. 60.

1. According to Doddridge, this benediction occurs in eleven of Paul's epistles.

2. For Christ's sake are sufferings endured, because of their devotion to him.

3. In vs. 8-14 Paul gives an account of his affliction in Asia and his purpose to visit the church at Corinth.

4. That is, he had the assurance of his conscience that his life was right before God.

5. Holiness.

6. In vs. 15-22 Paul has changed the plan of his journey and here states that it was because of the divine leadings of the spirit that he made the change.

7. Grace.

8. As a witness.

Ch. 2. A. D. 60.

1. That is, because of their impenitence.

Ref. II Corinthians. Chapter 1.

a. Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me. (Mic. 7:8.)

b. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? (Acts 9:4.) Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church. (Col. 1:24.)

c. For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. (II Cor. 4:15.)

d. Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord (5). Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is. (Jer. 17:5, 7.)

e. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.)

f. So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow. (II Cor. 2:7.)

g. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power. (I Cor. 2:4.)

h. For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart. (II Cor. 5:12.)

i. But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power. (I Cor. 4:19.)

j. But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh. (II Cor. 10:2.)

k. And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us. (Acts 15:8.)

l. Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers. (Rom. 15:8.)

m. But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things (20). But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. (I Jno. 2:20, 27.)

n. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.)

o. Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. (Eph. 1:14.)

p. Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear. (Rom. 11:20.)

Chapter 2.

a. For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults. (II Cor. 12:20.)

b. For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season. Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing. (II Cor. 7:8, 9.)

know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7 So [c]that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the person of Chrīst;

11 [d]Lest Sā'tan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 [2]Furthermore, when I came to Trō'ăs to preach Chrīst's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Tī'tus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Măç-e-dō'nĭ-ă.

14 Now thanks [e]be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Chrīst, and maketh manifest the savour [f]of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Chrīst, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:

16 To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Chrīst.

CHAPTER 3.

Lest their false teachers should charge him with vainglory, he sheweth the faith and graces of the Corinthians to be a sufficient commendation of his ministry.

1 Do [a]we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of [1]all men:

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Chrīst ministered [b]by us, written not with ink, but with the [2]Spirit of the living God; not [c]in tables of stone, but in [d]fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Chrīst to God-ward:

5 Not [e]that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but [f]our sufficiency is of God;

6 Who also hath made us [3]able ministers of [g]the new testament; not [h]of the letter, but of the [4]spirit: for [i]the letter killeth, [j]but the spirit giveth life.

7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Īs'ra-el could not stedfastly behold the face of Mō'şeş for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not [k]the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministration [l]of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration [m]of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great [n]plainness of speech:

13 And not as Mō'şeş, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Īs'ra-el could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

14 But [o]their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Chrīst.

15 But even unto this day, when Mō'şeş is read, the [5]vail is upon their heart.

16 Nevertheless [p]when it shall turn to the Lord, [q]the vail [6]shall be taken away.

17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all, with open face beholding as

2. In vs. 12-17 Paul tells the people that he lingered at Troas and Macedonia waiting to hear from them.

Ch. 3. A. D. 60.

1. The Christian should always be known as such by all men.

2. That is, the Holy Spirit writes the living inscription on the heart of the Christian.

3. Sufficient.

4. The Holy Spirit, having been accepted by faith, creates within the heart the living inscription of love.

5. Because of the corruption of their minds the glory of the Lord is hidden from them as a veil across the heart.

6. When they turn to the Lord, the veil is lifted from over them.

c. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. (Gal. 6:1.)

d. Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour. (I Pet. 5:8.)

e. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness? (I Cor. 4:21.) But I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness (1). And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. (II Cor. 2:1, 3.)

f. Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. (I Pet. 5:3.) For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face. (II Cor. 11:20.) For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. (II Cor. 4:5.)

Chapter 3.

a. For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart. (II Cor. 5:12.)

b. Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man? (I Cor. 3:5.)

c. And the Lord said unto Moses, Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them. (Ex. 24:12.)

d. I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart. (Ps. 40:8.) For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. (Heb. 8:10.)

e. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. (Jno. 15:5.)

f. But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. (I Cor. 15:10.)

g. But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the Mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises (6). For, finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah. (Heb. 8:6, 8.)

h. But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter. (Rom. 7:6.)

i. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. (Rom. 3:20.)

j. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. (Rom. 8:2.)

k. He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? (Gal. 3:5.)

l. Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:26.) For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more: (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart: And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake.) (Heb. 12:18-21.)

m. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.)

n. And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him. (Eph. 6:9.) Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus (13). And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word. (Acts 4:13, 29.) But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention. (I Thess. 2:2.)

o. He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and he converted, and I should heal them. (Jno. 12:40.)

p. And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again. (Rom. 11:23.)

q. And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering in a glass the glory of the Lord, [r]are [7]changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER 4.

1 He declareth how he hath used all sincerity and faithful diligence in preaching the gospel, 7 and how the persecutions which he daily endured for the same did redound to the praise of God's power, 12 to the benefit of the church.

1 Therefore [1]seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, [a]we faint not;

2 But have renounced the hidden things of [2]dishonesty, not walking in [3]craftiness, [b]nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our gospel be hid, [c]it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom [d]the god of this world [e]hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Chrīst, [f]who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 For we preach not ourselves, but Chrīst Jē'ṣus the Lord; and [g]ourselves your servants for Jē'ṣus' sake.

6 For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give [h]the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, [i]that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10 Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jē'ṣus, that the life also of Jē'ṣus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jē'ṣus' sake, that the life also of Jē'ṣus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

7. Reflect the spiritual image of Christ's glory.

Ch. 4. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 4 Paul declares his preaching to be open and sincere. While it is hidden to some, it is because he preaches Christ whom they do not know.

2. Shame.

3. Unscrupulousness.

Ch. 5. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 5 he writes to the church concerning the hope of eternal glory in the resurrected body, therefore his ambition and endeavor to deal openly with all men and to be accepted with the Lord.

2. The apostle here intimates the body to be as a house, with the soul as the occupant.

3. Gone to pieces.

4. From God. Permanent, solid, as all the works of God are.

5. A disembodied spirit.

6. Thus a disembodied spirit would be as unprepared to enter heaven as an undressed person would the parlor.

7. That is, faith which is a firm and earnest trust, confidence and reliance in the statements and promises of God. The light by which we walk, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

13 We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, [j]I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jē'ṣus shall raise up us also by Jē'ṣus, and shall present us with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER 5.

1 That in his assured hope of immortal glory, 9 he laboureth to keep a good conscience, 18 and by his ministry of reconciliation to reconcile others also in Christ to God.

1 For [1]we know that if [a]our [2]earthly house of this tabernacle were [3]dissolved, we have a [b]building of [4]God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this [c]we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 If so be that [d]being clothed we shall not be found [5]naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but [e]clothed upon, that mortality [6]might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now [f]he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who [g]also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 (For [h]we walk [7]by faith, not by sight:)

8 We are confident, I say, [i]and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations. (Is. 25:7.)

r. Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth. (Jno. 17:17.) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3:10.)

Chapter. 4.

a. And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Lu. 18:1.) And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.) Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory. (Eph. 3:13.) But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing. (II Thess. 3:13.)

b. For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile (3). For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness. (I Thess. 2:3, 5.)

c. And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. (Is. 6:9.)

d. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (Jno. 12:31.)

e. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed. (Is. 6:10.)

f. Awake, O sword, against my Shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. (Zech. 13:7.) No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.) Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father? (Jno. 14:9.) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. (Phil. 2:6.) Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature. (Col. 1:15.) Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. (Heb. 1:3.)

g. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. (I Cor. 9:19.)

h. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. (I Pet. 2:9.)

i. That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God. (I Cor. 2:5.)

j. I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted. (Ps. 116:10.)

Chapter 5.

a. Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance; Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shown me. (II Pet. 1:13, 14.)

b. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. (Phil. 3:21.) For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. (Heb. 11:10.) We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. (Mk. 14:58.) Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet. (Acts 7:48.) But Christ being come an High Priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building (11). It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. (Heb. 9:11, 23.)

c. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. (Rom. 8:23.)

d. I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see. (Rev. 3:18.)

e. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. (I Cor. 15:53.)

f. But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel. (Is. 29:23.)

g. In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise, Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. (Eph. 1:13, 14.)

h. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (I Cor. 13:12.)

i. For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better. (Phil. 1:23.)

9 Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 For we must all [s]appear [j]before the judgment seat of Chrīst; [k]that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 [3]For the love of Chrīst constraineth us; because we thus judge, that [l]if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, [m]that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 Wherefore [n]henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Chrīst after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man be in Chrīst, he is a new creature: [o]old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jē'sus Chrīst, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 To wit, that God was in Chrīst, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are [p]ambassadors for Chrīst, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Chrīst's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For [q]he hath made him to be sin for us, who [r]knew no sin; that we might be made [s]the righteousness of God in him.

s. Be manifested, the secret revealed.

9. In vs. 14-19 Paul declares the power of Christ's love impels him to the zeal which he displays.

Ch. 6. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 6 the apostle's ministry is approved in the exhibition of the truths of the Holy Ghost. He exhorts the people to separate themselves from things unclean and polluting.

2. With God.

3. Made pure from all false deeds and desires.

4. In vs. 11-18 the apostle exhorts the people to liberality in caring for the obligations upon them.

5. That is, straitened or narrowed in your own affections.

6. Improper and unholy associates may pollute thee, therefore be not yoked to them.

7. Wickedness, worthlessness.

CHAPTER 6.

1 He hath approved himself a faithful minister of Christ, by his exhortations, 3 and by integrity of life, 4 and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction for the gospel.

1 [1]We then, as [a]workers together [2]with him, beseech you also [b]that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, [c]I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 Giving no [d]offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things [e]approving ourselves as [f]the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 [3]By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Hō'lȳ Ghōst, by love unfeigned,

7 By the word of truth, by [g]the power of God, by [h]the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and [i]yet well known; [j]as dying, and, behold, we live; [k]as chastened, and not killed;

10 As [l]sorrowful, yet alway [l]rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 [4]O ye Co-rĭnth'ĭ-anș, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your [5]own bowels.

13 Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 Be ye not [6]unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for [m]what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Chrīst with [7]Bē'-

j. For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.) And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. (Acts 10:42.) In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel. (Rom. 2:16.) But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ (10). So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. (Rom. 14:10, 12.) Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free. (Eph. 6:8.)

k. And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. (Rev. 22:12.)

l. But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many. (Rom. 5:15.)

m. That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God. (I Pet. 4:2.)

n. For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. (Mat. 12:50.)

p. For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 2:7.) For which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak. (Eph. 6:20.)

q. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all (6). And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth (9). Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. (Is. 53:6, 9, 12.) Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. (Gal. 3:13.)

r. For such an High Priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens. (Heb. 7:26.)

s. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. (Jer. 23:6.) For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.) And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. (Phil. 3:9.)

Chapter 6.

a. For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building. (I Cor. 3:9.)

b. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.) Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled. (Heb. 12:15.)

c. Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages. (Is. 49:8.)

d. If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ. (I Cor. 9:12.)

e. But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. (II Cor. 4:2.)

f. Let a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. (I Cor. 4:1.)

g. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power. (I Cor. 2:4.)

h. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. (II Tim. 4:7.)

i. Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men: but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences. (II Cor. 5:11.)

j. For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were, appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men. (I Cor. 4:9.)

k. The Lord hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death. (Ps. 118:18.)

l. Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation. (II Cor. 7:4.) And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost. (I Thess. 1:6.) Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy and rejoice with you all. (Phil. 2:17.) Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice. (Phil. 4:4.) Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church. (Col. 1:24.)

m. When the Philistines took the ark of God, they brought it lĭ-al? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for [n]ye are the temple of the [s]living God; as God hath said, [o]I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 Wherefore [p]come [9]out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 And [q]will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER 7.

1 He exhorteth them to purity of life, 2 and to bear him like affection as he doth to them: 3 and declareth what comfort he took in his afflictions.

1 [1]Having [a]therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse [2]ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to [3]condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great [b]is my glorying of you: [c]I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For, [d]when we were come into Măç-e-dō'-nĭ-à, our flesh had no rest, but we were [e]troubled on every side; without [f]were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless [g]God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Tī'tus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though [h]I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye [4]sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry [i]after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For [5]godly [j]sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: [k]but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye [l]sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Tī'tus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Tī'tus, is found a truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth [m]the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that [n]I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER 8.

He stirreth them up to a liberal contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem, by the example of the Macedonians.

1 [1]Moreover, brethren, we do you to [2]wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à;

2 How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and [a]their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves;

4 Praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us [b]the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but [c]first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Insomuch that we [d]desired Tī'tus, that as

9. That is, be not a part of the uncleanness of the world.

Ch. 7. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 7 Paul writes to the church that because they are the temple of the living God, they must purify themselves. He also writes them of the great joy which the report of Titus concerning them brings to him.

2. That is, exercise our own ability, that God may work the full measure of his righteousness in our hearts.

3. The apostle would not have them believe that he is indirectly accusing them.

4. Now that their sorrow was a sorrow of sin unto godliness, he would rejoice.

5. Sorrow because of the absence of God and which desires his presence.

Ch. 8. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 8 Paul exhorts the church to give liberally, according to their ability for the support of the work, and presents unto them Christ, our divine example, as giving up the riches of heaven to come unto fallen man.

2. Cause you to know.

into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon. And when they of Ashdod arose early on the morrow, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the earth before the ark of the Lord. And they took Dagon, and set him in his place again. (I Sam. 5:2, 3.) Be not ye therefore partakers with them (7). And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. (Eph. 5:7, 11.)

n. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.)

o. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people. (Lev. 26:12.)

p. Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52:11.) And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. (Rev. 18:4.)

q. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble; for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born. (Jer. 31:9.) He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Rev. 21:7.)

Chapter 7.

a. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure. (I Jno. 3:3.)

b. I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:4.)

c. Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy and rejoice with you all. (Phil. 2:17.)

d. I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia. (II Cor. 2:13.)

e. We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair. (II Cor. 4:8.)

f. The sword without, and terror within, shall destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of grey hairs. (Dt. 32:25.)

g. Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work. (II Thess. 2:16, 17.)

h. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears: not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you. (II Cor. 2:4.)

i. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:7.)

j. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble; for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first-born. (Jer. 31:9.)

k. Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. (Mat. 27:4, 5.)

l. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications; and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. (Zech. 12:10.)

m. Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. (Phil. 2:12.)

n. And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you. (II Thess. 3:4.)

Chapter 8.

a. For all they did cast in of their abundance: but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living. (Mk. 12:44.)

b. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea. (Acts 11: 29.) But now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints. (Rom. 15:25.) Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye (1). And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem. And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me. (I Cor. 16:1, 3, 4.)

c. And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Mat. 25:40.) But to do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. (Heb. 13:16.)

d. I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother. Did Titus make he begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

8 I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For [3]ye know the grace of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, [f]that, though he [4]was rich, yet for your sakes he became [5]poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein I give my advice: for this is [g]expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

12 For [h]if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want: that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, [i]He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Tī'tus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also chosen [j]of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 Providing for [k]honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 Whether any do enquire of Tī'tus, he is my partner and fellowhelper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Chrīst.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER 9.

1 He yieldeth the reason why he sent Titus and his brethren beforehand, 6 and stirreth them up to a bountiful alms.

1 [1]For as touching [a]the [2]ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know [b]the forwardness of your mind, [c]for which I boast of you to them of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à, [d]that A-chā'ĭà was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath [3]provoked very many.

3 [e]Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest [4]haply if they of Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6 [f]But this I say, He which [h]soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; [g]not grudgingly, or of necessity: for [i]God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 And [j]God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having [5]all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps? (II Cor. 12:18.)

e. And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work. (II Cor. 9:8.)

f. And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. (Lu. 9:58.) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God; But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men. (Phil. 2:6, 7.)

g. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, He shall in no wise lose his reward. (Mat. 10:42.) But to do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. (Heb. 13:16.)

h. And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all. (Lu. 21:3.)

i. And when they did mete it with an omer, he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack: they gathered every man according to his eating. (Ex. 16:18.)

j. And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem. And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me. (I Cor. 16:3, 4.)

k. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Phil. 4:8.)

Chapter 9.

a. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. (I Cor. 16:1.) Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do. (Gal. 2:10.)

b. And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind. (II Cor. 8:19.)

c. Wherefore show ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf. (II Cor. 8:24.)

d. And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago. (II Cor. 8:10.)

e. Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also (6). For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you. And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches (17, 18). And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you. (II Cor. 8:6, 17, 18, 22.)

f. There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. (Prov. 11:24.) He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he hath given will he pay him again. (Prov. 19:17.) He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor. (Prov. 22:9.) Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap (7). And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:7, 9.)

g. If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother; But thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth (7, 8). Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him: because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto. (Dt. 15:7, 8, 10.) I know also, my God, that thou triest the heart, and hast pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of mine heart I have willingly offered all these things: and now have I seen with joy thy people, which are present here, to offer willingly unto thee. (I Chr. 29: 17.) Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that showeth mercy, with cheerfulness. (Rom. 12:8.)

h. There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. (Prov. 11:24.) He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor. (Prov. 22:9.) Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap (7). And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:7, 9.)

i. Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord. (Ex. 35:5.)

j. He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse. (Prov. 28:27.) My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:19.)

9 (As it is written, [k]He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10 Now he that [l]ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of [m]your righteousness;)

11 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, [n]which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13 Whiles by the experiment of this administration they [o]glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Chrīst, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and [p]unto all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God [q]for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER 10.

1 He setteth out the spiritual might and authority, with which he is armed against all adversary powers, 7 assuring them that at his coming he will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing being absent, 12 and withal taxing them for reaching out themselves beyond their compass, and vaunting themselves into other men's labours.

1 [1]Now I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Chrīst, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 [2]But I beseech you, [a]that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to [3]the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (For [b]the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God [c]to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 Casting [d]down [4]imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Chrīst;

6 And [e]having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your [f]obedience is fulfilled.

Ch. 10. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 10 Paul answers some of the charges of his accusers, declaring he will make his power felt when he visits them, also that he boasts not beyond the measure of his ability.

2. In vs 2-11 Paul declares his readiness to meet his accusers and to measure with them the weapon of the Spirit which he uses.

3. That is, not engaged in a cause of selfish interests.

4. The proud fancies of intellectual power.

5. In vs. 12-18 the apostle draws a contrast between their lives and the principles of his apostleship.

Ch. 11. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 11 Paul continues to write regarding the false apostles that the church has accepted, and to measure the principle of his apostleship with them, and to exhort them to steadfastness in Chrīst.

7 Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? If any man trust to himself that he is Chrīst's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Chrīst's, even so are we [g]Chrīst's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10 For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful; but [h]his bodily presence is weak, and his speech [i]contemptible.

12 [5]For [j]we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves; but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Chrīst:

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17 But he [l]that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but [m]whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER 11.

Out of his jealousy over the Corinthians, he entereth into a forced commendation of himself.

1 [1]Would to God ye could bear with me a little in [a]my folly: and indeed bear with me.

2 For I am [b]jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I [c]may present you as a chaste virgin to Chrīst.

3 But I fear, lest by any means, as [d]the ser-

k. He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honor. (Ps. 112:9.)

l. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater. (Is. 55:10.)

m. Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. (Hos. 10:12.) Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 6:1.)

n. For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. (II Cor. 4:15.)

o. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 5:16.)

p. But to do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. (Heb. 13:16.)

q. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. (Js. 1:17.)

Chapter 10.

a. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness? (I Cor. 4:21.)

b. Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. (Eph. 6:13.)

c. See, I have this day set thee over the nations, and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant. (Jer. 1:10.)

d. For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. (I Cor. 1:19.)

e. I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare. (II Cor. 13:2.)

f. And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. (II Cor. 7:15.)

g. Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool,) I am more: in labors more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft. (II Cor. 11:23.)

h. Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the Gospel unto you at the first. (Gal. 4:13.)

i. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect. (I Cor. 1:17.)

j. For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart. (II Cor. 5:12.)

k. Yea, so have I strived to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation. (Rom. 15:20.)

l. But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord. (Jer. 9:24.) That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. (I Cor. 1:31.)

m. But he is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:29.) Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. (I Cor. 4:5.)

Chapter 11.

a. For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God; or whether we be sober, it is for your cause. (II Cor. 5:13.)

b. They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude you, that ye might affect them. (Gal. 4:17.)

c. Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus. (Col. 1:28.)

d. And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die. (Gen. 3:4.) Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (Jno. 8:44.) And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being de-pent beguiled Ēve through his subtilty, so your minds [e]should be corrupted from the [2]simplicity that is in Chrīst.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jē'şus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or [f]another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speech, yet not [g]in knowledge; but we have been throughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence in [h]abasing myself that ye might [3]be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God [4]freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me [i]the brethren which came from Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à supplied: and in all things I have kept myself [j]from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 As the truth of Chrīst is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of A-chā'ĭà.

11 Wherefore? [k]because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, that [l]I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 [5]For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Chrīst.

14 And no marvel; for Sā'tan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose [6]end shall be according to their works.

16 I say again, Let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, [m]in this confidence of boasting.

18 [n]Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 For ye suffer, [o]if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22 [7]Are they Hē'brews? so am I. Are they Īs'ra-el-ītes? so am I. Are they the seed of Ā'brā-hăm? [p]so am I.

23 Are they ministers of Chrīst? (I speak as a fool) I am more; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I forty [8]stripes [q]save one.

25 Thrice was I [r]beaten with rods, once was [s]I stoned, thrice I [t]suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep;

26 In journeyings often, [u]in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;

27 In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, [v]in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28 Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?

30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 The God and Father of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, [w]which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In Da-măs'cus the governor under Ăr'e-tas the king kept the city of the Dăm'as-çēnes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER 12.

1 For commending of his apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderful revelations, 9 yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to vain boasting.

1 [1]It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and [2]revelations of the Lord.

2 I knew a [3]man [a]in Chrīst above fourteen years ago, (whether in [4]the body, I cannot tell;

2. Singleness of purpose, devotion.

3. Into the church of the living God.

4. Gratuitously.

5. In vs. 13-21 the apostle forces the false prophets from the shade into the bright foreground and briefly characterizes them.

6. Retribution.

7. In vs. 22-33 the apostle draws a comparison of the principles which control him with the principles of the lives of his opponents.

8. The person to be punished had his back stripped and was tied to a pillar. The scourging thongs consisted of six skins woven with sharp bones, which inflicted so much pain that the victim often died under it.

Ch. 12. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 12 the apostle renews the expression of his love for the church saying that he desires to glory in nothing save in his infirmities which call forth the power of the living God.

2. Revelations made to the eye.

3. The apostle himself.

4. The apostle here intimates his belief that the soul and body are separate and distinct.

ceived was in the transgression. (I Tim. 2:14.) And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him (9). And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. (Rev. 12:9, 15.) For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labor be in vain. (I Thess. 3:5.)

e. Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen. (Eph. 6:24.) And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words. (Col. 2:4.)

f. Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. (Gal. 1:7, 8.)

g. Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ. (Eph. 3:4.)

h. And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tent-makers. (Acts 18:3.) Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working? (I Cor. 9:6.)

i. But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity. (Phil. 4:10.)

j. Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. (II Cor. 12:14.)

k. I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you. (II Cor. 7:3.)

l. If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ. (I Cor. 9:12.)

m. Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting. (II Cor. 9:4.)

n. For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. (Phil. 3:3.)

o. But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage? (Gal. 4:9.)

p. I know thy works, and thy labor, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars. (Rev. 2:2.) Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them. (Acts 20:30.) Which is not another: but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. (Gal. 1:7.) Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will. (Phil. 1:15.) For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision. (Tit. 1:10.) But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.)

q. Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed; lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee. (Dt. 25:3.)

r. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them. (Acts 16:22.)

s. And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and, having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead. (Acts 14:19.)

t. And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground: and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmovable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves. (Acts 27:41.)

u. But the Jews stirred up the devout and honorable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts. (Acts 13:50.)

v. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place. (I Cor. 4:11.)

w. Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen. (Rom. 9:5.)

Chapter 12.

a. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.)

or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) such an one [b]caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of [4]the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;)

4 How that he was caught up into [c]paradise, and heard [5]unspeakable words, which it is not [6]lawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one will I glory: yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For [d]though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool; for I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, [e]the messenger of Sā'tan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 For this [7]thing I besought the Lord [8]thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, [f]My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the [g]power of Chrīst may rest upon me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Chrīst's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for [h]in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that [i]I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third [9]time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to [10]you: for [j]I seek not your's, [11]but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents [12]for the children.

15 And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

5. Unutterable.

6. Not possible.

7. This account.

8. Christ the Son, as he it was who gave the answer.

9. Paul alludes to the three visits he had planned, although he was unable to make the second visit.

10. He will bring joy and not a burden to them.

11. Their souls, for their own salvation.

12. Paul here alludes to himself as their spiritual father, therefore he comes to provide for them and not to seek at their hands.

Ch. 13. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 13 Paul threatens a severe rebuke as proof of his apostolic authority, but counsels them against their causing him to have to do it.

2. The word time was not in the original. The apostle does not assert that this is his third visit, but rather an intentional coming.

16 But be it so, I did not burden you: nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 [k]Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 I [l]desired Tī'tus, and with him I sent a brother. Did Tī'tus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 Again, [m]think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? we speak before God in Chrīst: [n]but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that [o]I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:

21 And lest, when I come again, my God [p]will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness and [q]fornication and lasciviousness which they have committed.

CHAPTER 13.

1 He threateneth severity, and the power of his apostleship against obstinate sinners. 5 And advising them to a trial of their faith.

1 [1]This is the [2]third time I am coming to you. [a]In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 I [b]told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Chrīst speaking [c]in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty [d]in you.

4 For [e]though he was crucified through weakness, yet [f]he liveth by the power of God. For [g]we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, [h]how that Jē'sus Chrīst is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that [i]we are not reprobates.

b. And it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance. (Acts 22:17.)

c. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise. (Lu. 23:43.)

d. For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed. (II Cor. 10:8.)

e. So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown. (Job 2:7.) And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day? (Lu. 13:16.)

f. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength. (Is. 40:29.) Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee: yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Is. 41:10.) There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. (I Cor. 10:13.) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.)

g. If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. (I Pet. 4:14.)

h. But of those who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me. (Gal. 2:6.)

i. If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ. (I Cor. 9:12.)

j. I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. (Acts 20:33.)

k. Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man. (II Cor. 7:2.)

l. Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also. (II Cor. 8:6.)

m. For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart. (II Cor. 5:12.)

n. Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved. (I Cor. 10:33.) For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed. (II Cor. 10:8.) For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living. (Rom. 14:9.)

o. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness? (I Cor. 4:21.)

p. But I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness (1). For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you. (II Cor. 2:1, 4.)

q. It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife. (I Cor. 5:1.)

Chapter 13.

a. Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die. (Num. 35:30.)

b. But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh. (II Cor. 10:2.)

c. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. (Mat. 10:20.)

d. If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord. (I Cor. 9:2.)

e. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. (I Pet. 3:18.)

f. Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. (Rom. 6:4.)

g. And did all eat the same spiritual meat; And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ. (I Cor. 10:3, 4.)

h. Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. (Rom. 6:4.)

i. By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armor of righteousness on the right hand and on the left. (II Cor. 6:7.)

7 Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 For [3]we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad, [j]when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even [k]your perfection.

10 Therefore [4]I write these things being absent, lest being present [l]I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell. Be [5]perfect, be of good comfort, [m]be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love [n]and peace shall be with you.

12 Greet one another with an [6]holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst, and the love of God, and the communion of the Hō'lў Ghōst, be with you all. Amen.

3. For, expressing the reason for the prayer in verse 7.

4. In consequence of the wish of verse 9.

5. That is, let your Christian character be symmetrical, fully developed in all points alike.

6. See Luke 7:45; I Thess. 5:26; I Pet. 5:14. According to Justin Martyr the early Christians used the brotherly kiss after the close of prayer in their congregations. The custom is still in vogue (1905) in the Greek church.

j. We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ: we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are honorable, but we are despised. (I Cor. 4:10.)

k. Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith? (I Thess. 3:10.)

l. This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith. (Tit. 1:13.)

m. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. (Rom. 12:16.) Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous. (I Pet. 3:8.)

n. Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen. (Rom. 15:33.)

GALATIANS

NOTE.—Paul's letter to the Galatians was written in the year 57 A. D., while the apostle was in Corinth in Greece. The general subject considered was salvation through faith.

CHAPTER 1.

6 He wondereth that they have so soon left him and the gospel. 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God.

1 [1]Paul, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but [a]by Jē'sus Chrīst, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Ga-lā'tiȧ:

3 Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst,

4 Who [b]gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Chrīst [c]unto another gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there be some [d]that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Chrīst.

8 But though [e]we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you [f]than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For [g]do I now [h]persuade [2]men, or God? or, [i]do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Chrīst.

11 [3]But [j]I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jē'sus Chrīst.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that [k]beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and [l]wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

Ch. 1. A. D. 58.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle declares that the cause of his writing this letter is the church's falling away from the Gospel he had taught them. He defends his speaking and declares his apostolic call to be independent of man.

2. That is, he is not attempting to conciliate men, but seeking to please God.

3. In vs. 11-24 the apostle declares his Gospel is not of any man but of Christ.

Ch. 2. A. D. 58.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle seeks to persuade the church that they are saved, if saved at all, by faith and not by works.

2. The fourteenth year after his conversion.

3. Stealthily, to rob, to destroy.

16 [m]To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Je-rū'sa-lēm to them which were apostles before me; but I went into A-rā'bī-ȧ, and returned again unto Da-mās'cus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Je-rū'sa-lēm to see Pē'tēr, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But [n]other of the apostles saw I none, save [o]Jāmes the Lord's brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 Afterwards [p]I came into the regions of Sȳr'ī-ȧ and Çi-lī'çiȧ;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Jū-dæ'ȧ which were in Chrīst:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER 2.

1 He sheweth when he went up again to Jerusalem, and for what purpose. 14 Of justification by faith, and not by works.

1 Then [1]fourteen [2]years after [a]I went up again to Je-rū'sa-lēm with Bär'na-bās, and took Tī'tus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gĕn'tīles, but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 But neither Tī'tus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in [3]Chrīst Jē'sus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, [b]when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision [c]was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Pē'tēr;

Ref. Galatians. Chapter 1.

a. And he, trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do. (Acts 9:6.)

b. And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. (I Jno. 2:2.) Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Mat. 20:28.) Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. (Rom. 4:25.) For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures. (I Cor. 15:3.)

c. For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him. (II Cor. 11:4.) As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine. (I Tim. 1:3.)

d. And certain men which came down from Judea taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved. (Acts 15:1.)

e. If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha. (I Cor. 16:22.)

f. Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it. (Dt. 4:2.) Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar. (Prov. 30:6.) If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. (Rev. 22:18.)

g. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. (I Thess. 2:4.)

h. Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin: for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God. (I Jno. 3:9.)

i. Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God. (Js. 4:4.)

j. Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand. (I Cor. 15:1.)

k. Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. (I Tim. 1:13.)

l. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

m. God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:6.)

n. Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas? (I Cor. 9:5.)

o. Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas? (Mat. 13:55.)

p. Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus. (Acts 9:30.)

Chapter 2.

a. They determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. (Acts 15:2.)

b. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life lo, we turn to the Gentiles. (Acts 13:46.)

c. As we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the Gospel, even so we speak. (I Thess. 2:4.)

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Pē'tēr to the apostleship of the circumcision, [d]the same was [4]mighty in me toward the Gĕn'tīleş:)

9 And when Jāmeş, Çē'phas, and Jŏhn, who seemed to be [e]pillars, perceived [f]the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Bär'na-bās the right [g]hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11 But when Pē'tēr was come to Ăn'tĭ-ŏch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to [5]be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from Jāmeş, [h]he did eat with the Gĕn'tīleş: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, *fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Bär'na-bās also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 [6]But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Pē'tēr before the them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gĕn'tīleş, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gĕn'tīleş to live as do the Jews?

15 We [i]who are Jews by nature, and not [j]sinners of the Gĕn'tīleş, 16 Knowing [k]that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jē'şus Chrīst, even we have believed in Jē'şus Chrīst, that we might be justified by [l]the faith of Chrīst, and not by the works of the law: for [m]by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified by Chrīst, we ourselves also are found sinners, is [n]therefore Chrīst the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 For I [o]through the law [p]am dead to the law, that I might [q]live unto God.

20 I am [r]crucified with Chrīst: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Chrīst liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh [s]I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for [t]if righteousness come by the law, then Chrīst is dead in vain.

4. Effectually.

5. Self-condemned.

6. In vs. 14-21 Paul declares his Gospel to Peter, thus striving to put an end to the dispute between justification by the law and justification in Christ.

Ch. 3. A. D. 58.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle reproves the Galatians for abandoning their faith and rather embracing the law, and admonishes them to justification by faith as the only method by which they may be justified. He shows the law to be subsequent to the promise; all believers are declared to be the spiritual seed of Abraham, who was justified by faith. The law is asserted to be our teacher, training us to come to God, that we might be justified through faith in Christ.

2. He that liveth by the law, unto the law, shall live in the law or be judged by it.

3. The Jews never put to death by hanging; but, after putting a malefactor to death, they would frequently hang their bodies on a tree that they might be accursed.

4. Except both sides agree thereto.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He asketh what moved them to leave the faith, and hang upon the law? 6 They that believe are justified, 9 and blessed with Abraham. 10 And this he sheweth by many reasons.

1 [1]O foolish Ga-lā'tiaņs, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, [a]before whose eyes Jē'şus Chrīst hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4 Have [b]ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 Even as Ā'brā-hăm believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that [c]they which are of faith, the same are the children of Ā'brā-hăm.

8 And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Ā'brā-hăm, saying, [d]In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Ā'brā-hăm.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, [e]Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

12 And [f]the law is not of faith: but, The man [g]that [2]doeth them shall live in them.

13 Chrīst hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every [3]one that hangeth on a tree:

14 That [h]the blessing of Ā'brā-hăm might come on the Gĕn'tīleş through Jē'şus Chrīst; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; [i]Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man [4]disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

---

d. Whereunto I also labor, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily. (Col. 1:29.)

e. Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Mat. 16:18.)

f. By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name. (Rom. 1:5.)

g. And when he was departed thence, he lighted on Jehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him; and he saluted him, and said to him, Is thine heart right, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jehonadab answered, It is. If it be, give me thine hand. And he gave him his hand; and he took him up to him into the chariot. (II Ks. 10:15.) And they gave their hands that they would put away their wives; and, being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their trespass. (Ezra 10:19.)

h. And he [Peter] said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shown me that I should not call any man common or unclean. (Acts 10:28.)

i. Why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? (Acts 15:10.)

j. Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners? (Mat. 9:11.)

k. Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins. (Acts 13:38.)

l. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.) For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof. (Heb. 7:18.)

m. Enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. (Ps. 143:2.)

n. He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. (I Jno. 3:8.)

o. The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. (Rom. 8:2.)

p. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace. (Rom. 6:14.)

q. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.)

r. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. (Rom. 6:6.)

s. And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again. (II Cor. 5:15.)

t. If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron? (Heb. 7:11.)

Chapter 3.

a. But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness. (I Cor. 1:23.)

b. Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward. (II Jno. 8.)

c. They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham. (Jno. 8:39.)

d. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. (Gen. 12:3.)

e. Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. (Dt. 27:26.)

f. Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. (Rom. 4:4.) And if by grace, then is it no more of works; otherwise grace is no more grace. (Rom. 11:6.)

g. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments; which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord. (Lev. 18:5.)

h. Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. (Rom. 4:9.)

i. For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth. (Heb. 9:17.)

16 Now to Ā'brā-hăm and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to [5]thy seed, which is [j]Christ.

17 And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Chrīst, the law, [k]which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, [l]that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if [m]the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Ā'brā-hăm by promise.

19 [6]Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was [n]ordained by angels in the hand of a [o]mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a [7]mediator of one, [8]but God is [7]one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jē'şus Chrīst might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore [q]the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Chrīst, [r]that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that [s]faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26 For ye [s]are all the children of God by faith in Chrīst Jē'şus.

27 For as many of you as have been [s]baptized into Chrīst have put on Chrīst.

28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all [10]one in Chrīst Jē'şus.

29 And if ye be Chrīst's, then are ye Ā'brā-hăm's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER 4.

1 We were under the law till Christ came. 5 But Christ freed us from the law: 7 therefore we are servants no longer to it. 14 He remembereth their good will to him.

1 Now [1]I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father.

3 Even so we, when we were children, were [c]in bondage under the elements of the world:

4 But [b]when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made [c]of a woman, made under the law,

5 [d]To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 And because ye are [2]sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Ăb'bā, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; [e]and if a son, then an heir of God through Chrīst.

8 Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye [f]did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, [g]how turn ye again to the weak and [h]beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 Ye [i]observe days, and months, and times, and years.

11 I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.

13 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you [j]at the first.

14 And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God, [k]even as Chrīst Jē'şus.

15 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They [l]zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

19 My little children, of whom I travail in birth [3]again until Chrīst be formed in you, 20 I desire to be present with you now, and to [4]change my voice; for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 For it is written, that Ā'brā-hăm had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman.

23 But he who was of the bondwoman [m]was born after the flesh; but he of the freewoman was by promise.

24 Which things are an [5]allegory: for these are the two [6]covenants; the one from the

5. The promise to Abraham, that the nation should be blessed in the seed, was a prophecy alluding to Christ.

6. In vs. 19-29 the apostle declares the purpose of the law to be to teach us the way to Christ.

7. The custom was two mediators, one as law-giver and the other as law-keeper, but in this case God was the law-giver, hence Moses was the only mediator between the Jews and Jehovah.

8. After the law, faith.

9. As the external or outward form or symbol of the internal faith and cleansing.

10. All are one in heaven—one Gospel and one church.

Ch. 4. A. D. 58.

1. In ch. 4 Paul continues the discussion of the laws of subjugation to Christ.

2. They are sons by faith, therefore need not tutorage of the law.

3. A second time.

4. That is, adapting the voice to the case, as a mother with her child.

5. Another besides the lit. meaning.

6. The Old and New Testament; or the Law and Works of the Old Dispensation, and the Gospel and Faith of the New Dispensation.

j. As the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. (I Cor. 12:12.)

k. Now the sojourning of the children of Israel who dwelt in Egypt was four hundred and thirty years. (Ex. 12:40.)

l. For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. (Rom. 4:13.)

m. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ. (Rom. 8:17.)

n. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward. (Heb. 2:2.)

o. (I stood between the Lord and you at that time, to show you the word of the Lord; for ye were afraid by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount.) (Dt. 5:5.)

p. Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also. (Rom. 3:29.)

q. Think not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. (Mat. 5:17.)

r. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. (Acts 13:39.)

s. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.)

Chapter 4.

a. Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation. (Heb. 9:10.)

b. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:10.) That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him. (Eph. 1:10.)

c. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.)

d. Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. (Mat. 20:28.)

e. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Rom. 8:16, 17.)

f. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen. (Rom. 1:25.)

g. Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances? (Col. 2:20.)

h. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. (Rom. 8:3.)

i. One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind. (Rom. 14:5.)

j. I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel. (Gal. 1:6.)

k. He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. (Mat. 10:40.)

l. For I bear them record that they have the zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. (Rom. 10:2.)

m. Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called. That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed. (Rom. 9:7, 8.)

mount Sī'nāi, which gendereth to bondage, which is Ā'gär.

25 For this Ā'gär is mount Sī'nāi in A-rā'-bĭ-à, and answereth to Je-rū'sa-lĕm which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But [n]Je-rū'sa-lĕm which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 For it is written, [o]Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Ī'ṣaac was, are [p]the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for [q]the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the [7]bondwoman, but of the free.

CHAPTER 5.

1 He moveth them to stand in their liberty, 3 and not to observe circumcision: 13 but rather love, which is the sum of the law. 19 He reckoneth up the works of the flesh, 22 and the fruits of the Spirit, 25 and exhorteth to walk in the Spirit.

1 [1]Stand fast therefore in [a]the liberty wherewith Chrīst hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

2 [2]Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye [b]be circumcised, Chrīst shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, [c]that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 Chrīst is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; [d]ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit [e]wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For in Jē'sus Chrīst neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; [f]but [3]faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye [g]did [4]run well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.

9 A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 I [h]have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but [i]he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the cross ceased.

12 I would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only [j]use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; [k]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if [5]ye bite and [6]devour one another, take heed that ye be not [7]consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, [l]Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 For [m]the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: [n]so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 But [o]if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that [p]they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But [q]the fruit of the Spirit is [8]love, joy, peace, longsuffering, [r]gentleness, goodness, [9]faith, 23 [9]Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 And they that are Chrīst's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6.

2 He moveth them to bear one another's burden. 14 He glorieth in nothing, save in the cross of Christ.

1 [1]Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye [a]which are spiritual, restore such an one in the [b]spirit of [2]meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be [3]tempted.

2 Bear [c]ye one another's [4]burdens, and [5]so fulfil [d]the law of [6]Chrīst.

3 For [e]if a man think himself to be some-

q. (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ.) (Phil. 3:18.)
r. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.)

EPHESIANS

NOTE.—The letter to the Ephesians was written by the Apostle Paul in the year 63 A. D., during his captivity in Rome, to the church in Ephesus in Asia Minor, the general subject of the letter being the church in Christ. It was written immediately after his letter to the Colossians, to which it bears a close resemblance in many passages. The church at Ephesus was made up of converts from both Jews and Gentiles (Acts 19:8-10). Ephesus was especially famed for its idol temples of Artemis or Diana, one of the seven wonders of the world, hence this epistle takes occasion to warn the church against falling into idol worship. Therefore, in a more expanded form, the purpose of the epistle was "to set forth the ground, the course, the aim, and the end of the church of the faituful in Christ."

CHAPTER 1.

1 After salutation, 3 and thanksgiving for the Ephesians, 4 he treateth of our election, 6 and adoption by grace.

1 [1]Paul, an apostle of [a]Jē'sus Chrīst by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ēph'-ĕ-sūs, and to the faithful in Chrīst Jē'sus:

2 [2]Grace be to you, and [3]peace, from God [4]our Father, and from the [5]Lord Jē'sus Chrīst.

3 Blessed [b]be the God and Father of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Chrīst:

4 According as he hath chosen us in him [c]before the foundation of the world, that we should [d]be holy and without blame before him in love:

5 [e]Having [6]predestinated us unto [f]the adoption of children by Jē'sus Chrīst to himself, [g]according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 [h]To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in [i]the Beloved.

7 In [j]whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to [k]the riches of his grace;

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 Having [l]made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure [m]which he hath purposed in himself:

10 That in the dispensation of [n]the fulness of [7]times [o]he might gather together in one all things in Chrīst, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him:

11 [p]In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to [q]the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 That [r]we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Chrīst.

13 In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 [s]Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jē'sus, and love unto all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 That the God of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:

18 The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, [8]according to the working of his mighty power,

20 Which he wrought in Chrīst, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come:

22 And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him [u]to be the head [t]over all things to the church,

23 Which [v]is his body, the fulness of him that [w]filleth all in all.

CHAPTER 2.

1 By comparing what we were by 3 nature, with what we are 5 by grace: 10 he declareth, that we are made for good works.

1 [1]And [a]you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins;

Ch. 1. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle speaks of the origin of the church in the heavenly Father's eternal council and Christ's death and its sealing by the Spirit; and that, through thanksgiving and prayer, they may absolutely know God's gracious and merciful power in Christ toward them.

2. The beginning of all blessings.

3. The result of grace.

4. The fountain or giver of grace.

5. The great peacemaker.

6. Referring to the fore-ordination of Israel as the elect nation.

7. The fit or proper time.

8. Vs. 15-23 give the apostle's thanksgiving and prayer for the Ephesians that they may fully realize their opportunities in Christ.

Ch. 2. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle speaks of the purpose and object of the love and grace of the Father in quickening, through Christ, the people once dead in sin, to life.

Ref. Ephesians. Chapter 1.

a. And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus: That in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus (6, 7). For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them (10). But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ (13). And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. (Eph. 2:6, 7, 10, 13, 20.) There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. (Rom. 8:1.) For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:26.)

b. His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed. (Ps. 72:17.)

c. Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you. (I Pet. 1:20.)

d. In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. (Lu. 1:75.)

e. Whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son. (Rom. 8:29.)

f. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.)

g. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. (Lu. 12:32.)

h. This people have I formed for myself; they shall show forth my praise. (Is. 43:21.)

i. This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 17:5.)

j. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. (Heb. 9:12.)

k. But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:19.)

l. Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints. (Col. 1:26.)

m. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. (II Tim. 1:9.)

n. Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation. (Heb. 9:10.)

o. Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; And ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's. (I Cor. 3:22, 23.)

p. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ. (Rom. 8:17.)

q. Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. (Is. 46:10.)

r. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth. (II Thess. 2:13.)

s. Whereunto I also labor, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily. (Col. 1:29.)

t. But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ. (Eph. 4:15.) For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body. (Eph. 5:23.) And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. (Col. 1:18.) But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God. (I Cor. 11:3.)

u. Thou madest him a little lower than the angels: thou crownedst him with glory and honor, and didst set him over the works of thy hands. (Heb. 2:7.)

v. For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. (Eph. 4:12.) For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. (Eph. 5:30.) And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence (18). Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church. (Col. 1:18, 24.)

w. It is the same God which worketh all in all. (I Cor. 12:6.) Of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. (Jno. 1:16.) Christ is all, and in all. (Col. 3:11.)

Chapter 2.

a. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is,

2 Wherein [b]in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:

3 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in [c]the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and [d]were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 Even [e]when we were dead in sins, hath [f]quickened us together with Chrīst, ([2]by [g]grace ye are saved;)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Chrīst Jē'ṣus:

7 That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Chrīst Jē'ṣus.

8 For [3]by grace are ye saved [4]through faith; and that not of yourselves: [h]it is the gift of God:

9 Not [i]of [5]works, lest any man should boast.

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Chrīst Jē'ṣus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

11 [6]Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Ğĕn'tīleṣ in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [j]the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

12 That at that time ye were without Chrīst, [k]being aliens from the commonwealth of Īs'ra-el, and strangers from [l]the covenants of promise, having no hope, [m]and without God in the world:

13 [n]But now in Chrīst Jē'ṣus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Chrīst.

14 For [o]he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 Having abolished in his flesh the [7]enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace;

16 And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby:

17 And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

18 For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but [8]fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

20 And are built [p]upon the foundation of the [q]apostles and prophets, Jē'ṣus Chrīst himself being the [r]chief corner stone;

21 In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord:

22 In whom ye also are builded together for [s]an habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAPTER 3.

5 The hidden mystery, 6 that the Gentiles should be saved, 3 was made known to Paul by revelation.

1 [1]For this cause I Paul, [a]the [2]prisoner of Jē'ṣus Chrīst for you Ğĕn'tīleṣ,

2 If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which [b]is given me to youward:

3 How that by revelation he made known unto me the [3]mystery; (as I wrote afore in few words,

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge [c]in the mystery of Chrīst)

5 Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 That the Ğĕn'tīleṣ should be fellowheirs, and of the same body, and [d]partakers of his promise in Chrīst by the gospel:

7 Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power.

8 Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Ğĕn'tīleṣ the [e]unsearchable riches of Chrīst;

9 And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from [f]the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jē'ṣus Chrīst:

10 To the intent that now unto the [g]principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Chrīst Jē'ṣus our Lord:

12 In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst,

---

2. By whose grace we are saved.

3. That is, free—without remuneration.

4. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the promises of God, upon our part as the instrument through which the Father can get hold of us to snatch us from the grasp of Satan.

5. The works of man, i. e., not of our own merits.

6. In vs. 11-22 the apostle pleads for the necessary union of the Jew and Gentile into one elect church.

7. Between God and man, produced by the sin of man.

8. All our fellow-citizens in the spiritual commonwealth.

Ch. 3. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle declares his duty to be to make known the mystery and love of Christ as revealed by the Spirit, and he prays that they, by the same spirit, may comprehend the vast love of Christ.

2. That is, he is in Christ in every sense of the word, bound unto him by the cords of love.

3. Concerning the love and teachings of Christ, the Messiah.

when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. (Jno. 5:25.)

b. And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. (I Jno. 5:19.)

c. This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. (Gal. 5:16.)

d. Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me. (Ps. 51:5.)

e. When we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. (Rom. 5:6.)

f. We are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. (Rom. 6:4.)

g. According to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. (Tit. 3:5.)

h. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. (Jno. 6:44.)

i. By the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight. (Rom. 3:20.)

j. For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh. (Rom. 2:28.)

k. Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. (Jno. 10:16.)

l. Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises (1). That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed. (Rom. 9:4, 8.)

m. Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods. (Gal. 4:8.)

n. If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (Gal. 3:29.)

o. And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land. (Mic. 5:5.)

p. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Mat. 16:18.) And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. (Rev. 21:14.)

q. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:28.)

r. The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. (Ps. 118:22.)

s. I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one. (Jno. 17:23.)

Chapter 3.

a. Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done. (Acts 21:33.)

b. But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. (Acts 9:15.)

c. Let a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. (I Cor. 4:1.)

d. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. (Gal. 3:14.)

e. To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. (Col. 1:27.)

f. But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory. (I Cor. 2:7.)

g. Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him. (I Pet. 3:22.)

15 [h]Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, according [i]to the riches of his glory, [j]to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in [k]the inner man;

17 That [l]Chrīst may dwell in your hearts by [4]faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love,

18 May be able to comprehend with all saints [m]what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 And to know the love of Chrīst, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, 21 Unto him be [n]glory in the church by Chrīst Jē'ṣus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAPTER 4.

1 He exhorteth to unity, 24 and to put on the new man.

1 I [1]therefore, the [2]prisoner of the Lord, beseech you [a]that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With [b]all lowliness and [3]meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit [c]in the bond of peace.

4 There [d]is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

5 One [e]Lord, [4]one faith, [f]one [5]baptism,

6 One [g]God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

7 But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure [6]of the gift of Chrīst.

8 Wherefore he saith, [h]When he ascended up on high, [i]he led [7]captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now [j]that he ascended, what is it but that he also [8]descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended is the same also [k]that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

11 And he gave some, [l]apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, [m]for the edifying of [n]the body of Chrīst:

13 Till we all come in the unity [9]of the faith, [o]and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Chrīst:

14 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every [p]wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15 But [q]speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Chrīst:

16 From [r]whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gĕn'tīles walk, [s]in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the [t]understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the [u]ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart:

19 Who [v]being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 [10]But ye have not so learned Chrīst;

21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jē'ṣus:

22 That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 And be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye put on the new man, which

---

1. By a firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the promises of Christ and the Father, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Ch. 4. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 4 the apostle writes to the church regarding Christian duties as founded upon Christian privileges.

2. In vs. 1-6 the apostle writes of the holy unity of the Spirit, and speaks of himself as the prisoner of Christ, i. e., bound to Christ by the cords of love.

3. Calm and perfect self-possession and steadfastness to one's convictions while under persecution.

4. One faith unites all to Christ.

5. Here meaning the sacrament through which, or by which as a symbol, we are incorporated into the body of Christ.

6. The measure of.

7. He captured death, sin and the devil.

8. Into the grave.

9. That is, through faith unto Christ, know the fullness of the unity of the God-head.

10. In vs. 20-24 the apostle appeals to the church to put off the old man of sin and be renewed in the new man made perfect in Christ.

---

h. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. (Phil. 2:9.)

i. But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus. (Phil. 4:19.)

j. Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness. (Col. 1:11.)

k. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man. (Rom. 7:22.)

l. Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. (Jno. 14:23.)

m. They being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. (Rom. 10:3.)

n. Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen. (I Tim. 1:17.)

Chapter 4.

a. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God. (Col. 1:10.)

b. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith. Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. (Gal. 5:22, 23.)

c. Above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness. (Col. 3:14.)

d. So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Rom. 12:5.)

e. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (I Cor. 8:6.)

f. As many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:27, 28.)

g. That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth. (Ps. 83:18.) Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? (Mal. 2:10.)

h. Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them. (Ps. 68:18.)

i. And, having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it. (Col. 2:15.)

j. No man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven. (Jno. 3:13.)

k. Preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.)

l. God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. (I Cor. 12:28.)

m. How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath adoption, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying. (I Cor. 14:26.)

n. Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the affections of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church. (Col. 1:24.)

o. That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ; In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. (Col. 2:2, 3.)

p. And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? (Mat. 11:7.)

q. But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. (II Cor. 4:2.)

r. And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God. (Col. 2:19.)

s. Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. (Rom. 1:21.) Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind. (Col. 2:18.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers. (I Pet. 1:18.) For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error. (II Pet. 2:18.)

t. Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. (Acts 26:17, 18.)

u. And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent. (Acts 17:30.) Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. (Heb. 5:2.) But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people. (Heb. 9:7.) As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance. (I Pet. 1:14.) And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. (Acts 3:17.) Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. (I Cor. 2:8.)

v. Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron. (I Tim. 4:2.)

after God is created in [11]righteousness and true [12]holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 Be ye [13]angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 Neither [w]give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

29 Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30 And [x]grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

32 And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Chrīst's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER 5.

2 After general exhortations, 22 he sheweth how wives ought to obey their husbands, 25 and husbands ought to love their wives.

1 [1]Be [a]ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;

2 And [b]walk in love, as Chrīst also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for [c]a sweet-smelling savour.

3 [2]But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

4 Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, [d]which are not [3]convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, [e]hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Chrīst and of God.

6 Let [f]no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 For [g]ye were sometimes darkness, but now [h]are ye light in the Lord: walk as children [i]of light:

11. Right-doing toward man.

12. Holy and pure in our relations to God.

13. That is, if circumstances are such as to call forth anger from you, let it be as Christ's anger—without sin. (Mk. 3:5.) "And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand; and his hand was restored whole as the other."

Ch. 5. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 5 the apostle exhorts the church to love as it is in Christ, and admonishes them to walk therein and flee from all uncleanness.

2. In vs. 3-21 the apostle discusses the sins of the flesh or fleshly uncleanness.

3. Suitable or profitable.

4. In vs. 22, 23 the apostle discusses the relation of husband and wife as founded on the teachings of the church.

9 (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth;)

10 Proving [j]what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather [k]reprove them.

12 For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But [l]all things that are reproved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore he saith, [m]Awake thou that sleepest, and [n]arise from the dead, and Chrīst shall give thee light.

15 See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, 16 Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17 Wherefore [o]be ye not unwise, but [p]understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunk [q]with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

19 Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;

20 Giving [r]thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst;

21 Submitting [s]yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22 [4]Wives, [t]submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Chrīst is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Chrīst, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Chrīst also loved the church, and gave himself for it;

26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it [u]with the washing of water by the word, 27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:

w. Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. (Js. 4:7.) Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. (I Pet. 5:9.)

x. But they rebelled, and vexed his Holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them. (Is. 63:10.) And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. (Rom. 8:23.)

Chapter 5.

a. That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. (Mat. 5:45.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Lu. 6:36.)

b. A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.)

c. Ye shall offer a burnt offering for a sweet savor unto the Lord. (Num. 29:2.) We are unto God a sweet savor of Christ. (II Cor. 2:15.)

d. As they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient. (Rom. 1:28.)

e. For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie. (Rev. 22:15.)

f. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord. (Jer. 29:8, 9.)

g. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. (Is. 9:2.)

h. Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (Jno. 8:12.) He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now. (I Jno. 2:9.)

i. The children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light. (Lu. 16:8.)

j. That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ. (Phil. 1:10.)

k. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbor, and not suffer sin upon him. (Lev. 19:17.)

l. Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Heb. 4:13.)

m. Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. (Is. 60:1.)

n. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. (Jno. 5:25.) If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. (Col. 3:1.)

o. Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time. (Col. 4:5.)

p. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.)

q. Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. (Prov. 20:1.) Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. (Prov. 23:31.) Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.) But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat. (I Cor. 5:11.) For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night. (I Thess. 5:7.)

r. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him. (Col. 3:17.) First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. (Rom. 1:8.)

s. Let nothing be done through strife or vain-glory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. (Phil. 2:3.)

t. Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. (Gen. 3:16.)

u. Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. (Jno. 3:5.)

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Chrīst and the church.

33 Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER 6.

1 The duty of children towards their parents,
5 of servants towards their masters.

1 [1]Children, [a]obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 Honour [b]thy father and mother; which is the first [2]commandment with promise;

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, [c]ye fathers, provoke [3]not your children to wrath: but [d]bring them up in the [4]nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Chrīst;

6 Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Chrīst, doing the will of God from the heart;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

8 Knowing [e]that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 And, ye [f]masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there [g]respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 [h]Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 For we wrestle not against [i]flesh and blood, but against [j]principalities, against powers, against [k]the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

13 Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having [l]on the breastplate of righteousness;

15 And [m]your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

16 [5]Above all, taking [n]the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 And take the helmet of salvation, and the [o]sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

18 Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

19 And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

20 For which I am an ambassador in bonds: that therein [p]I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tȳch'ī-cŭs, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:

22 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst in sincerity. Amen.

Ch. 6. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 6 the apostle writes of the duties of parents and children, master and servant, and admonishes the church to put on the spiritual armor that they may be prepared to fight the spiritual foes.

2. The first and only commandment of the decalogue of special and individual promise—the others are general.

3. Avoid exciting anger or arousing the evil passions.

4. Discipline implying right and perfect training in the Lord.

5. Faith is here represented as having the power to ward off the shafts of infidelity and temptations.

Chapter 6.

a. Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old. (Prov. 23:22.)

b. Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. (Ex. 20:12.)

c. Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged. (Col. 3:21.)

d. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt. 6:6, 7.) Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him. (Gen. 18:18.) And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. (Dt. 11:19.) We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done. (Ps. 78:4.) Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. (Prov. 22:6.)

e. Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.)

f. Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven. (Col. 4:1.)

g. And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. (I Pet. 1:17.)

h. The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. (Rom 13:12.)

i. Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. (I Cor. 15:50.)

j. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. (Rom. 8:38, 39.)

k. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (Jno. 12:31.) Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. (Col. 1:13.)

l. For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head. (Is. 59:17.)

m. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! (Is. 52:7.)

n. This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. (I Jno. 5:4.)

o. He hath made my mouth like a sharp sword. (Is. 49:2.) The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword. (Heb. 4:12.)

p. But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention. (I Thess. 2:2.)

PHILIPPIANS

NOTE.—Paul's letter to the Philippians was written in the year 62 A. D., while the author was in prison at Rome. It was addressed to the church in Philippi, Macedonia, its general subject being thanksgiving and rejoicing. It should be observed that in this epistle the author does not censure, or upbraid in any sense, the church to which it is addressed, because no doctrinal errors or worldly contentions had as yet sprung up among them.

CHAPTER 1.

3 He testifieth his thankfulness to God for the fruits of their faith. 21 His readiness to glorify Christ either by his life or death, 27 exhorting them to unity, 28 and to fortitude in persecution.

1 Paul [1]and Ti-mō'the-ŭs, the servants of [a]Jē'şus Chrīst, to all the saints in Chrīst Jē'şus which are at Phĭ-lĭp'pī, with the bishops and deacons:

2 Grace [2]be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

3 [3]I thank [b]my God upon every remembrance of you,

4 Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 For [c]your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun [d]a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jē'şus Chrīst:

7 Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in [e]my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, [f]ye all are partakers of my grace.

8 For God is my [4]record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jē'şus Chrīst.

9 And this I pray, [g]that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all [5]judgment;

10 That [h]ye may [6]approve things that are excellent; [i]that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Chrīst;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, [j]which are by Jē'şus Chrīst, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

13 So that my bonds in Chrīst are manifest [k]in all the palace, and in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Chrīst even of envy and [l]strife; and some also of good will:

Ch. 1. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle writes to the church in thanksgiving and prayer for their spirituality. He also speaks of the manner in which his imprisonment at Rome is producing the spread of the Gospel. He concludes the ch. by exhorting the church to Christian consistency.

2. The first of the blessings.

3. In vs. 3-11 are the apostle's thanksgiving and prayer in behalf of the church.

4. Witness.

5. Spiritual insight.

6. Try.

7. That is, at all times and all places he presents the cause and love of Christ.

8. That is, heaven is an immeasurable gain over earth.

16 The one preach Chrīst of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Chrīst is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation [m]through your prayer, and the supply of [n]the Spirit of Jē'şus Chrīst, 20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in [o]nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Chrīst shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live is [7]Chrīst, and to die is [8]gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23 For [p]I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to [q]depart, and to be with Chrīst; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26 That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jē'şus Chrīst for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Chrīst: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28 And in nothing [r]terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29 For unto you it is given in the behalf of Chrīst, [s]not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

30 Having the [t]same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

Ref. Philippians. Chapter 1.

a. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 2:5.) For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh (3). Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ (8). Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus (12). I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:3, 8, 12, 14.) And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus (7). But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus (19). Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you. (Phil. 4:7, 19, 21.) For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Gal. 3:26.)

b. I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. (Rom. 1:8.)

c. Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality. (Rom. 12:13.) Moreover, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia. (II Cor. 8:1.)

d. This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. (Jno. 6:29.)

e. For which I am an ambassador in bonds. (Eph. 6:20.) Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner. (II Tim. 1:8.)

f. Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with mine affliction. (Phil. 4:14.)

g. That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus. (Philemon 6.)

h. That ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.)

i. And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. (Acts 24:16.)

j. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. (Jno. 15:4, 5.)

k. All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cesar's household. (Phil. 4:22.)

l. Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. (Phil. 2:2.)

m. Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf. (II Cor. 1:11.)

n. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:9.)

p. We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. (II Cor. 5:8.)

q. I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. (II Tim. 4:6.)

r. Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. (Is. 41:10.) And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Mat. 10:28.) I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.)

s. By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. (Eph. 2:8.)

t. I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. (I Cor. 15:10.) I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you. (Col. 2:1.) But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention. (I Thess. 2:2.) But called to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions. (Heb. 10:32.) Whereunto I also labor, striving according to

CHAPTER 2.

He exhorteth them to unity, and to all humbleness of mind, by the example of Christ's humility and exaltation.

1 [1]If there be therefore any consolation in Chrīst, if any [2]comfort of love, [a]if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies,

2 Fulfil [b]ye my joy, [c]that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 [3]Let [d]nothing be done through strife or [4]vainglory; but [e]in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 Look [f]not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5 Let [g]this mind be in you, which was also in Chrīst Jē'şus:

6 Who, [h]being in the form of God, [i]thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 But [j]made himself of no [5]reputation, and took upon him the form [k]of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and [l]became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9 Wherefore God also [m]hath highly exalted him, and [n]given him a name which is above every name:

10 That [o]at the name of Jē'şus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And [p]that every tongue should confess that Jē'şus Chrīst is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 [6]Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

13 For [q]it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things without murmurings and disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and [7]harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Chrīst, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.

Ch. 2. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle continues to exhort the church to humility after the example of Christ, and to earnestness in seeking Christian perfection. He also declares his willingness and readiness to be offered up in death for the cause, closing the ch. by declaring his intention to send Timothy to them.

2. Consolation coming from Christ or produced by Christ.

3. In vs. 3-18 the apostle exhorts the church to forget self and to come together in unity.

4. Empty pride.

5. That is, he laid off, or lit. emptied himself of the form of God.

6. In vs. 12-16 the apostle urges the church to follow the example of Christ.

7. Sincere.

8. With a mind like unto his own.

Ch. 3. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle admonishes the church against false teachers and warns them against carnal persons, whose life he contrasts with that of the true Christians.

2. Circumcision having now lost its spiritual signification and been supplanted by baptism, it becomes a senseless mutilation to those who engage in it.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I trust in the Lord Jē'şus to send Ti-mō'the-ŭs shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man [8]likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Jē'şus Chrīst's.

22 But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you E-păph-ro-dī'tus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Chrīst he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, [r]to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He warneth them to beware of false teachers.
18 He exhorteth them to decline the ways of carnal Christians.

1 [1]Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 Beware of [a]dogs, beware of evil workers, [b]beware of the [2]concision.

3 For we are [c]the circumcision, which worship [d]God in the spirit, and rejoice in Chrīst Jē'şus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock his working, which worketh in me mightily. (Col. 1:29.) For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. (I Tim. 6:10.) I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. (II Tim. 4:7.)

Chapter 2.

a. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. (II Cor. 13:14.)

b. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. (Jno. 3:29.)

c. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous. (I Pet. 3:8.)

d. But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth. (Js. 3:14.)

e. Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. (I Pet. 5:5.)

f. Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth. (I Cor. 10:24.)

g. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. (Jno. 13:15.)

h. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.) Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts. (Zech. 13:7.) In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. (Jno. 1:1, 2.)

i. The Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. (Jno. 5:18.) The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. (Jno. 10:33.)

j. But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. (Ps. 22:6.) He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Is. 53:3.)

k. Behold my servant, whom I uphold. (Is. 42:1.) By his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many. (Is. 53:11.) I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David. (Ez. 34:23.) Behold, I will bring forth my servant the BRANCH. (Zech. 3:8.) Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister. (Mat. 20:28.)

l. Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God. (Heb. 12:2.)

m. Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee. (Jno. 17:1.) We see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor. (Heb. 2:9.)

n. Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they. (Heb. 1:4.)

o. I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. (Is. 45:23.) Every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever. (Rev. 5:13.)

p. Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. (Jno. 13:13.)

q. Now the God of peace make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. (Heb. 13:20, 21.)

r. That which was lacking on your part they have supplied. (I Cor. 16:17.)

Chapter 3.

a. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another. (Gal. 5:15.)

b. For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh. (Rom. 2:28.)

c. Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. (Jer. 4:4.)

d. The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (Jno. 4:23, 24.)

of Is'ra-el, of the tribe of Běn'ja-min, an Hē'brew of the Hē'brews; as touching the law, [e]a Phär'ī-see;

6 Concerning zeal, [f]persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

7 But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Chrīst.

8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss [g]for the excellency of the knowledge of Chrīst Jē'sus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Chrīst,

9 And be found in him, [h]not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but [i]that which is through the faith of Chrīst, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and [j]the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;

11 If by any means I might attain [k]unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were [l]already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Chrīst Jē'sus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are [3]behind, and reaching forth [m]unto those things which are before,

14 I press [n]toward the mark for the [4]prize of [o]the high calling of God in Chrīst Jē'sus.

15 Let us therefore, as many [p]as be perfect, [q]be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

17 [5]Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an [6]ensample.

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Chrīst:

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their [7]belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)

20 For our [r]conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst:

21 Who [s]shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according [t]to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

3. Because those who constantly look behind will soon cease to go forward.

4. The crown of eternal life.

5. In vs. 17-21 the apostle warns the church against giving attention to immoral examples.

6. Example.

7. The sensual or gluttonous.

CHAPTER 4.

He proceedeth to general exhortations.

Ch. 4. A. D. 64.

1. United with him in the gospel.

2. Forbearance, meekness, consideration.

3. That is, unduly solicitous: over-anxious.

4. The things mentioned in v. 8.

5. In vs. 10-23 the author speaks of his personal relations with the church.

1 Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, [a]my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Eū-ō'dī-as, and beseech Sỹn'tỹ-chē, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I intreat thee also, true [1]yokefellow, help those women which laboured with [b]me in the gospel, with Clĕm'ĕnt also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in [c]the book of life.

4 Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.

5 Let your [2]moderation be known unto all men. [d]The Lord is at hand.

6 Be [e]careful for [3]nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And [f]the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Chrīst Jē'sus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 [4]Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 [5]But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last [g]your care of me hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to [h]be content.

12 [i]I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all

e. [Paul] cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee. (Acts 23:6.)

f. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

g. By his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many. (Is. 53:11.) And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.)

h. But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags. (Is. 64:6.)

i. Therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. (Rom. 1:17.)

j. But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. (I Pet. 4:13.)

k. Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. (Acts 26:7.)

l. To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the just men made perfect. (Heb. 12:23.)

m. Leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection. (Heb. 6:1.)

n. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. (II Tim. 4:7, 8.)

o. Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus. (Heb. 3:1.)

p. Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men. (I Cor. 14:20.)

q. I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be. (Gal. 5:10.)

r. If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above (1). For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. (Col. 3:1, 3.)

s. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness. (Ps. 17:15.) It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. (I Cor. 15:43.) When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. (Col. 3:4.) We know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him. (I Jno. 3:2.)

t. Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. (Is. 63:1.)

Chapter 4.

a. For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming? (I Thess. 2:19.)

b. Greet Priscilla and Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesus. (Rom. 16:3.) That ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel. (Phil. 1:27.)

c. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin—; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written. (Ex. 32:32.)

d. Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. (Js. 5:8.) If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha. (I Cor. 16:22.) For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. (Heb. 10:37.) Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. (Js. 5:8.)

e. Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved. (Ps. 55:22.) Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established. (Prov. 16:3.) Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. (Lu. 12:22.)

f. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. (Is. 26:3.) Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it afraid. (Jno. 14:27.)

g. That which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied. (II Cor. 11:9.)

h. But godliness with contentment is great gain (6). And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. (I Tim. 6:6, 8.) And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work. (II Cor. 9:8.) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.)

i. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place. (I Cor. 4:11.)

JESUS AND THE CHILDREN.—F. Kirchbach.

things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things [j]through Chrīst which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding ye have well done, that [k]ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now ye Phĭ-lĭp'pĭ-anş know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à, [l]no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in [m]Thĕs-sa-lo-nī'cà ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit [n]that may abound to your account.

18 But I have all, and abound: I am full, having received [o]of E-păph-ro-dī'tus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a [p]sacrifice acceptable, wellpleasing to God.

6. The measure of the blessings the Father confers upon his people if they will obey is according to the limit of his riches or ability.

19 But my God [q]shall supply all your need according to his [6]riches in glory by Chrīst Jē'şus.

20 Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Chrīst Jē'şus. The brethren which are with me greet you.

22 All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Çæ'şar's household.

23 The grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you all. Amen.

j. Without me ye can do nothing. (Jno. 15:5.) My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. (II Cor. 12:9.)

k. Inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace. (Phil. 1:7.)

l. I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service. (II Cor. 11:8.)

m. Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labor and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you. (II Thess. 3:8.)

n. When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain. (Rom. 15:28.)

o. I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labor, and fellow-soldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants. (Phil. 2:25.)

p. The administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God. (II Cor. 9:12.)

q. The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. (Ps. 23:1.) God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work. (II Cor. 9:8.)

COLOSSIANS

NOTE.—The Apostle Paul's letters to the Colossians was written in the year 63 A. D. during the apostle's captivity in Rome, Italy, and addressed to the church in Colosse, Asia Minor. The general subject is Christ as the Lord of All. The object of the letter being to counteract all false teachings of the Jews by setting before the Colossians their true relation and standing in Christ and the completeness or perfection of the redemption wrought by him.

CHAPTER 1.

1 He thanketh God for their faith, 14 describeth the true Christ, 21 and encourageth them to receive him.

1 Paul, an apostle of Jē'sus Chrīst by the will of God, and Ti-mō'the-ŭs our brother,

2 To the saints [a]and faithful brethren in Chrīst which are at Co-lōs'se: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, praying always for you,

4 [b]Since we heard of your [1]faith in Chrīst Jē'sus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints,

5 For the hope [c]which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, [d]as it is in all the world; and [e]bringeth forth fruit, as it is doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew [f]the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of [g]Ep'a-phrăs our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Chrīst;

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For [h]this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with [i]the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 That [j]ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering [k]with joyfulness;

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the [l]inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from the [m]power of darkness, and [2]hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

Ch. 1. A. D. 64.

1. That firm and earnest trust and confident reliance on the promises of God, which makes the soul the home of love and the proof of Christ's contact with it.

2. Transformed or renewed their character.

3. The exact likeness; as Adam was made in the likeness of God, so Christ was made in, or reflected, the invisible image of God the likeness of his perfect love.

4. With the Father from the beginning.

5. The fullness of the attributes which fit him for his great work.

6. That is, Christ has reconciled God to man.

7. The mysteries of the doctrine of salvation in Christ unknown to the unbeliever.

15 Who is [n]the [3]image of the invisible God, the [o]firstborn of [4]every creature:

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created [p]by him, and for him:

17 And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And [q]he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father that [r]in him should all [5]fulness dwell;

20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he [6]reconciled.

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable and unreproveable in his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister;

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Chrīst in my flesh for [s]his body's sake, which is the church:

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God;

26 Even [t]the [7]mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gĕn'tīles; which is Chrīst in you, the hope of glory:

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Chrīst Jē'sus:

Ref. Colossians. Chapter 1.

a. But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things. (Eph. 6:21.)

b. Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers. (Eph. 1:15, 16.)

c. To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you. (I Pet. 1:4.) By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.) But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation. (I Thess. 5:8.) In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Tit. 1:2.) But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. (Acts 23:6.)

d. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come. (Mat. 24:14.)

e. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. (Jno. 15:16.)

f. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.)

g. There salute thee Ephaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus. (Philemon 23.)

h. Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers. (Eph. 1:15, 16.)

i. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.)

j. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory. (I Thess. 2:12.)

k. And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name. (Acts 5:41.)

l. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. (Eph. 1:11.)

m. Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil. (Heb. 2:14.) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light.

n. Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more: but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also. (Jno. 14:19.) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. (Phil. 2:6.) For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. (Col. 2:9.)

o. Also I will make him my first-born, higher than the kings of the earth. (Ps. 89:27.) And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God. (Rev. 3:14.)

p. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. (Rom. 11:36.)

q. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. (Jno. 17:5.) But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (I Cor. 8:6.) Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever. (Heb. 13:8.)

r. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.)

s. And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. (Eph. 1:22, 23.)

t. Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began. (Rom. 16:25.)

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me [s]mightily.

CHAPTER 2.

He exhorteth them to be constant in Christ.

1 For I would that ye knew what great conflict [1]I have for you, and for them at La-ŏd-ĭ-çē'á, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 That [a]their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto [b]all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Chrīst;

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Chrīst.

6 As ye have therefore received Chrīst Jē'-şus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware [c]lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Chrīst.

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

10 And [d]ye are complete in him, which [e]is the head of all principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are [f]circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Chrīst:

12 Buried [g]with him in [2]baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 Blotting out the [3]handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And [h]having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore [i]judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an [j]holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:

17 Which [k]are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Chrīst.

18 Let [l]no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

19 And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be [m]dead with Chrīst from the [4]rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21 (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

22 Which all are to perish with the using;) [n]after the commandments and doctrines of men?

23 Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He sheweth where we should seek Christ, 12 and exhorteth to charity, humility, and other duties.

1 [1]If ye then [a]be risen with Chrīst, seek [2]those [b]things which are above, where Chrīst sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 For ye [c]are dead, [d]and your life is hid with Chrīst in God.

4 When [e]Chrīst, who is [f]our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him [g]in glory.

5 [3]Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil [4]concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:

6 For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:

7 In the which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.

8 But [h]now ye also put off all these; anger,

Ch. 2. A. D. 64.

1. That is, the agony of his soul as it strives against sin and wages the conflict against Satan.

2. The symbolism of the burial of the carnal or sinful life.

3. Canceled or wiped out the law's indictment against us.

4. The elements or legal ordinances.

Ch. 3. A. D. 64.

1. The apostle exhorts the church to be heavenly minded and to modify or put off the old, unregenerate, carnal desires of the flesh and put on the new love in Christ. He admonishes them to a life of charity and humility.

2. Strive for.

3. Kill, cut off, destroy.

4. The lustful passions.

Chapter 2.

a. And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation. (II Cor. 1:6.)

b. But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen. (II Pet. 3:18.)

c. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. (Jer. 29:8.) Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein. (Heb. 13:9.)

d. And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God. (Eph. 3:19.)

e. Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him. (I Pet. 3:22.)

f. Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. (Jer. 4:4.)

g. Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. (Rom. 6:4.)

h. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them. (Ps. 68:18.) And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.)

i. For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him. (Rom. 14:2, 3.)

j. One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind. (Rom. 14:5.)

k. Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shown to thee in the mount. (Heb. 8:5.) The law having a shadow of good things to come. (Heb. 10:1.)

l. Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. (Rev. 3:11.)

m. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace. (Eph. 2:15.)

n. This people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of man. (Is. 29:13.)

Chapter 3.

a. And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. (Eph. 2:6.)

b. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.)

c. I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

d. For we walk by faith, not by sight. (II Cor. 5:7.) God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein? (Rom. 6:2.) For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead. (II Cor. 5:14.)

e. When he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.)

f. I am the resurrection and the life. (Jno. 11:25.) So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:7.) Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 1:13.) Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. (Phil. 3:21.)

g. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. (I Cor. 15:43.)

h. Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls. (Js. 1:21.)

wrath, malice, [5]blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10 And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created [i]him:

11 Where there is neither [j]Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Bär-bā′rĭ-an, Scўth′ĭ-an, bond nor free: [k]but Chrīst is all, and in all.

12 [l]Put on therefore, [l]as the elect of God, holy and beloved, [m]bowels of [7]mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Chrīst forgave you, so also do ye.

14 And above all these things put on [n]charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

15 And let [o]the peace of God rule in your hearts, [p]to the which also ye are called [q]in one body; and be ye thankful.

16 Let [r]the word of Chrīst dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jē′sus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.

19 Husbands, love your wives, [8]and be not bitter against them.

20 Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.

21 Fathers, [8]provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Chrīst.

25 [9]But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER 4.

He exhorteth them to be fervent in prayer.

1 [1]Masters, [q]give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a [2]Master in heaven.

2 Continue [3]in [b]prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

3 Withal [c]praying also for us, that God would [d]open unto us a door of utterance, to speak [e]the mystery of Chrīst, [f]for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 [4]Walk [g]in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming [5]the time.

6 Let your speech be alway [h]with grace, seasoned [i]with salt, [j]that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 All my state shall Tўch′ĭ-cŭs declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellowservant in the Lord:

8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9 With [k]Ō-nĕs′ĭ-mus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10 Ār-ĭs-tär′chus my [l]fellowprisoner saluteth you, and Mär′cus, sister's son to Bär′na-bās, (touching whom ye received commandments: if he come unto you, receive him:)

11 And [6]Jē′sus, which is called Jŭs′tus, who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12 Ēp′a-phrās, who is one of you, a servant of Chrīst, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in La-ŏd-ĭ-çē′á, and them in Hī-e-răp′o-lĭs.

14 Lŭke, [m]the beloved physician, and Dē′mas, greet you.

15 Salute the brethren which are in La-ŏd-ĭ-çē′á, and Nўm′phas, and the church which is in his house.

16 And when [n]this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the La-ŏd-ĭ-çē′ans; and that ye likewise read the epistle from La-ŏd-ĭ-çē′á.

17 And say to Ār-chĭp′pus, Take heed to the [o]ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

THESSALONIANS

NOTE.—The Apostle Paul's First Epistle to the Thessalonians was written in the year 52 A. D. from Corinth, Greece. It was concerning the second coming of Christ and was addressed to the church in Thessalonica, in Macedonia.

CHAPTER 1.

The Thessalonians are given to understand how mindful of them Paul was at all times in thanksgiving and prayer.

1 [1]Paul, [a]and [2]Sĭl-vā'nus, and Tĭ-mō'the-ŭs, unto the church of the Thĕs-sa-lō'nĭ-anș, which is in [b]God the Father and in the Lord Jĕ'șus Chrīst: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jĕ'șus Chrīst.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 [3]Remembering without ceasing your work [c]of [4]faith, [d]and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jĕ'șus Chrīst, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your [e]election [5]of God.

5 For [f]our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and [g]in the Hō'lў Ghōst, [h]and in much assurance; as ye know [i]what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, [j]with joy of the Hō'lў Ghōst:

7 So that ye were [6]ensamples to all that believe in Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à and A-chā'ĭà.

8 For from you [k]sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à and A-chā'ĭà, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

10 And [l]to wait for his Son [m]from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jē'șus, which delivered us [n]from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER 2.

In what manner the gospel was preached to the Thessalonians, and in what sort they received it.

Ch. 1. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle writes to the church concerning his thankfulness for their faith, hope, love and their good influence on others. Also of his prayerful remembrance of them.

2. Here for the first time in the Pauline epistles we notice that the author makes no mention of his apostolic title, simply alluding to himself as Paul, doubtless for the reason that here there was no one contesting his claim to the apostleship.

3. In vs. 3-10 the apostle reminds the church of their Christian faithfulness.

4. Their firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the promises of God. "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

5. The Greek gives "beloved of God." As here translated, according to some authorities means, "God has elected you as individual believers of eternal life."

6. Examples.

Ch. 2. A. D. 54.

1. By claiming or demanding support or maintenance.

2. That is, mild or considerate in bearing with the faults of others.

1 For yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at [a]Phĭ-lĭp'pī, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But [b]as we were allowed of God [c]to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which [d]trieth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; God is witness:

6 Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have [1]been burdensome, as the apostles of Chrīst.

7 But we were [2]gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing [e]to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we [f]would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children, 12 That [g]ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it [h]not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the

a. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea. (II Cor. 1:19.)

b. Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. (Jno. 14:23.)

c. Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. (Jno. 6:29.)

d. For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have shown toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. (Heb. 6:10.)

e. Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering. (Col. 3:12.) But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth. (II Thess. 2:13.)

f. So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. (Is. 55:11.) Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord. (II Cor. 2:12.) Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel. (I Cor. 9:14.)

g. But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses (4). By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned. (II Cor. 6:4, 6.)

h. That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ. (Col. 2:2.)

i. For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you. (II Thess. 3:7.)

j. And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost. (Acts 13:52.) As sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things. (II Cor. 6:10.) But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith. (Gal. 5:22.)

k. But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world. (Rom. 10:18.)

l. To them who by patient continuance in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, eternal life. (Rom. 2:7.) For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. (Phil. 3:20.) Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. (Tit. 2:13.)

m. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. (Acts 1:11.)

n. For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:9.)

Chapter 2.

a. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them. (Acts 16:22.)

b. Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful. (I Cor. 7:25.)

c. But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour. (Tit. 1:3.)

d. The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the Lord trieth the hearts. (Prov. 17:3.)

e. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established. (Rom. 1:11.) And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ. (Rom. 15:29.)

f. And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. (II Cor. 11:9.)

g. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God. (Col. 1:10.)

h. He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. (Mat. 10:40.)

churches of God which in Jū-dæ'à are in Chrīst Jē'ṣus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even [i]as they have of the Jews:

15 Who both killed the Lord Jē'ṣus, and [j]their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:

16 Forbidding [k]us to speak to the Ġĕn'tīleṣ that they might be saved, [l]to fill up their sins alway: [m]for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Sā'tan hindered us.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst [n]at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER 3.

Paul testifieth his great love to the Thessalonians by sending Timothy unto them to strengthen and comfort them.

1 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, [a]we thought it good to be left at Āth'ĕnṣ alone;

2 And sent [b]Ti-mō'the-ŭs, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 That [c]no man should be moved by these [1]afflictions: for yourselves know that [d]we are appointed thereunto.

4 For [e]verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our [f]labour be in vain.

6 But [g]now when Ti-mō'the-ŭs came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, [h]as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our [2]affliction and distress by your [3]faith:

8 For now we live, if ye [i]stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 Night [j]and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst, direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst [k]with all his saints.

CHAPTER 4.

1 He exhorteth to godliness, 6 to live justly, 9 to love one another, 13 and to sorrow moderately for the dead. 15 And unto his last exhortation is annexed a brief description of the second coming of Christ to judgment.

1 [1]Furthermore [2]then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jē'ṣus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk [a]and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jē'ṣus.

3 For this is [b]the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 That [c]every one of you should know how to possess his [3]vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 Not in the lust of [4]concupiscence, even as the Ġĕn'tīleṣ, which know not God:

6 That [d]no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, [e]but unto holiness.

8 [f]He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, [g]who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.

Ch. 3. A. D. 54.

1. The persecutions of their countrymen.

2. To external trials or persecutions, such as were encountered at Corinth and in Rome.

3. Your firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Ch. 4. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 4 the apostle exhorts the church to chastity, to brotherly love, to industry, and not to mourn for their dead as though without hope.

2. In vs. 1-8 the apostle exhorts the church to sanctification, or a perfect setting forth of one's self to the true service of Christ.

3. His body. Some authorities interpret this word to mean wife, but this view is not as universally accepted as the first interpretation.

4. Sensual appetites, or lust.

i. Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock, both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used. (Heb. 10:33.)

j. Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which showed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers. (Acts 7:52.)

k. Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered. (Lu. 11:52.)

l. But in the fourth generation they shall come hither again: for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full. (Gen. 15:16.)

m. And ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. (Mat. 24:6.)

n. To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. (I Thess. 3:13.) For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep. (I Thess. 4:15.) For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.) Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. (Mk. 8:38.) Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me. (Jno. 21:22.)

Chapter 3.

a. And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him with all speed, they departed. (Acts 17:15.)

b. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea. (II Cor. 1:19.)

c. Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory. (Eph. 3:13.)

d. These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world. (Jno. 16:33.)

e. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. (Acts 20:24.)

f. And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain. (Gal. 2:2.)

g. After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. (Acts 18:1.)

h. For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ. (Phil. 1:8.)

i. Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved. (Phil. 4:1.)

j. Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. (Acts 26:7.)

k. And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints. (Jude 14.)

Chapter 4.

a. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God. (Col. 1:10.)

b. Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is. (Eph. 5:17.)

c. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. (Rom. 6:19.)

d. Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another (11). Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbor, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. (Lev. 19:11, 13.)

e. For I am the Lord your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. (Lev. 11:44.)

f. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me. (Lu. 10:16.)

g. For John was not yet cast into prison. (Jno. 3:24.) And hope

DAVID STREET, LEADING EAST FROM JAFFA GATE.

9 [6]But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for [h]ye yourselves are taught of God [i]to love one another.

10 And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Măç-e-dō'nĭ-à: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13 [6]But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as [j]others which have no hope.

14 For [k]if we believe that Jē'sus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jē'sus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you [l]by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For [m]the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the [7]trump of God: and the dead in Chrīst shall rise [8]first:

17 Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with [9]them [n]in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so [o]shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER 5.

1 He proceedeth in the former description of Christ's coming to judgment, 14 exhorteth the brethren to various duties, 16 and giveth divers precepts, 23 and so concludeth the epistle with the apostolic benediction.

1 [1]But of [a]the times [2]and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that [b]the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then [c]sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 [d]But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all [e]the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7 For [f]they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that be drunken [g]are drunken in the night.

8 But let us who are of the day, be sober, putting on the [h]breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For [i]God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, 10 Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 [3]And we beseech you, brethren, [j]to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15 See [k]that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever [l]follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16 [4]Rejoice evermore.

17 Pray [m]without ceasing.

18 In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Chrīst Jē'sus concerning you.

19 [5]Quench [n]not the Spirit.

20 Despise not [o]prophesyings.

21 Prove [q]all things; hold fast that which is good.

22 Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And [r]the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and

5. In vs. 9-12 the apostle exhorts the church to brotherly love and Christian quietness.

6. In vs. 13-18 the church is exhorted not to mourn for their dead as they who have no hope, for the righteous shall rise with Christ.

7. The celestial music announcing the second coming of the incarnate person, the Son of God.

8. That is, the dead shall rise before the living are changed.

9. The dead who have risen in Christ.

Ch. 5. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 5 the apostle declares the suddenness of Christ's coming should incite the church to constant watchfulness. He tells them that he will constantly pray for them that they may continue blameless in body and soul till Christ's coming.

2. The day of judgment.

3. In vs. 12-15 the apostle admonishes the church to the fulfilling of all its duties.

4. In vs. 16-18 the apostle declares it to be the duty of Christians to give vent to the joy in their souls.

5. In vs. 19-22 the apostle admonishes the church concerning its duty regarding its relations to God the Father, and Christ the Savior.

maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us. (Rom. 5:5.) Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts. (II Cor. 1:22.) And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. (Gal. 4:6.) And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us. (I Jno. 3:24.)

h. It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. (Jno. 6:45.) But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things. (I Jno. 2:20.)

i. A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.)

j. Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:28.)

k. But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen. (I Cor. 15:13.)

l. For it was said to me by the word of the Lord, Thou shalt eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou camest. He said unto him, I am a prophet also as thou art; and an angel spake unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water. But he lied unto him. (I Ks. 13:17, 18.)

m. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. (Mat. 24:30.)

n. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. (Acts 1:9.) And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them. (Rev. 11:12.)

o. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honor. (Jno. 12:26.) And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. (Jno. 14:3.) And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads. (Rev. 22:3, 4.)

Chapter 5.

a. And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. (Acts 1:7.)

b. And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. (Lu. 12:39.)

c. Howl ye; for the day of the Lord is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty. (Is. 13:6.)

d. Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth. (I Jno. 2:8.)

e. For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light. (Eph. 5:8.)

f. And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. (Lu. 21:34.)

g. For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day. (Acts 2:15.)

h. For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak. (Is. 59:17.) Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. (Eph. 6:14.)

i. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction? (Rom. 9:22.) Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. (II Tim. 2:19.)

j. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation. (Phil. 2:29.)

k. Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee. (Prov. 20:22.)

l. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6:10.)

m. And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Lu. 18:1.)

n. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.) Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands. (II Tim. 1:6.)

o. Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy. (I Cor. 14:1.)

q. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4:1.)

r. Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and soul and body [s]be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

24 Faithful [t]is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25 Brethren, pray for us.

26 Greet all the brethren with an holy kiss.

27 I charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you. Amen.

heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you. (Phil. 4:9.)

s. Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 1:8.)

t. There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. (I Cor. 10:13.)

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

THESSALONIANS

NOTE.—The Apostle Paul's Second Epistle to the Thessalonians was written in the year 52 A. D., a few months after his first letter, the apostle being still at Corinth, in Greece. This second letter was written to correct a false impression which the church had got from the apostle's first letter, viz., when he spoke in the 4th and 5th chs. of the suddenness of Christ's second coming and of the hour no man knew, they came to the conclusion that the time was now at hand, which, being a false conclusion, the apostle seeks to correct it in this letter.

CHAPTER 1.

Paul certifieth them of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience.

1 [1]Paul, [a]and Sĭl-vā'nus, and Ti-mō'the-ŭs, unto the church of the Thĕs-sa-lō'nĭ-anṣ in God our Father and the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst:

2 Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

3 We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth [b]exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;

4 So that [c]we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God [d]for your patience and faith [e]in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:

5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted [f]worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

6 Seeing [g]it is a righteous thing with God to [2]recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled rest [h]with us, when the Lord Jē'ṣus shall be revealed from heaven with [i]his mighty angels,

8 In flaming [3]fire taking [4]vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst:

9 Who shall be punished with everlasting [5]destruction from the presence of the Lord, and [j]from the glory of his power;

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

12 That the name of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

Ch. 1. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle commends the church for their faith and love and patience in their persecutions, and says that he will continue to pray that they may go on to Christian perfection.

2. Repay.

3. The flame of his glory, as the flame which accompanied the manifestation in the burning bush (Ex. 3:2) —"And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush." Also the giving of the law at Sinai (Ex. 19:18) —"And Mt. Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire."

4. Administering retribution.

5. While the old identity may be destroyed, the essentials are not annihilated destruction does not mean annihilation.

Ch. 2. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle corrects their error as to Christ's immediate coming and exhorts them to remain steadfast in the love of Christ.

2. A falling away or breaking up of the church of God.

3. Satan.

4. The deceit of unrighteousness.

CHAPTER 2.

1 He willeth them to be stedfast, 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of antichrist, before the day of the Lord come.

1 [1]Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jē'ṣus Christ, [a]and by our gathering together unto him,

2 That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Chrīst is at hand.

3 Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling [2]away first, and [b]that man of [3]sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and [c]exalteth himself above [d]all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For [e]the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom [f]the Lord shall consume [g]with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with [h]the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him, whose coming is [i]after the working of Sā'tan with all power and [j]signs and lying wonders,

10 And with all [4]deceivableness of unrighteousness in [k]them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

Ref. II Thessalonians. Chapter 1.

a. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea. (II Cor. 1:19.)

b. The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger. (Job 17:9.)

c. For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth. (II Cor. 7:14.)

d. Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labor of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father. (I Thess. 1:3.)

e. For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews. (I Thess. 2:14.)

f. Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy. (Rev. 3:4.)

g. And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? (Rev. 6:10.)

h. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them. (Rev. 14:13.)

i. Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. (I Cor. 3:13.) But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. (Heb. 10:27.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.) But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men. (II Pet. 3:7.) Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire. (Jude 7.) The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. (Rev. 14:10.)

j. And he said, The Lord came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; he shined forth from mount Paran, and he came with ten thousands of saints; from his right hand went a fiery law for them. (Dt. 33:2.)

Chapter 2.

a. And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. (Mat. 24:31.)

b. And he shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change times and laws; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time. (Dan. 7:25.)

c. For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north. (Is. 14:13.)

d. For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many). (I Cor. 8:5.)

e. And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world. (I Jno. 4:3.)

f. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame. (Dan. 7:10, 11.)

g. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed. (Job. 4:9.)

h. But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. (Heb. 10:27.)

i. Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. (Jno. 8:41.) And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived. (Rev. 18:23.)

j. If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder (1), Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the Lord your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul. (Dt. 13:1, 3.)

k. For we are unto God a sweet savor of Christ, in them that are 11 And [l]for this [5]cause God shall send them strong delusion, [m]that they should believe a [6]lie:

12 That they all might be [7]damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold [n]the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16 Now our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst himself, and God, even our Father, which [o]hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He craveth their prayers, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 and giveth them divers precepts.

1 Finally, [1]brethren, [2]pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and [a]keep you from evil.

4 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5 And [b]the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Chrīst.

5. That is, because they receive not the cause or love of truth.

6. Deluded by a man of sin and induced to follow him and leave Christ, therefore they are believing a lie.

7. Judged.

Ch. 3. A. D. 54.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle asks the church for their prayers that he may remain steadfast in the Christian course he has begun. He expresses his confidence in them and tells them that he will pray for them. He exhorts them against idleness, setting forth his own example.

2. In vs. 1-5 is the apostle's hopeful prayer for their continued patient firmness.

3. In vs. 6-15 the apostle exhorts the church against idleness and requires all who do not become industrious to be disowned.

6 [3]Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, [c]that ye withdraw yourselves [d]from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7 For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but [e]wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9 Not [f]because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample [g]unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any [h]would not work, neither should he eat.

11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you [i]disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12 Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, [j]that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15 Yet [k]count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you all. Amen.

saved, and in them that perish. (II Cor. 2:15.) But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost. (II Cor. 4:3.)

l. And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived that prophet: and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. (Ez. 14:9.)

m. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. (Mat. 24:5.)

n. Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you. (I Cor. 11:2.)

o. And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful Witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood. (Rev. 1:5.)

Chapter 3.

a. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. (Jno. 17:15.) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.)

b. O Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, our fathers, keep this for ever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their heart unto thee. (I Chr. 29:18.) And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. (I Jno. 4:16.)

c. Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. (Rom. 16:17.)

d. But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat. (I Cor. 5:11.)

e. And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tent-makers. (Acts 18:3.) Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. (Acts 20:34.)

f. Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves; for the workman is worthy of his meat. (Mat. 10:10.) Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. (I Tim. 5:17.)

g. Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. (I Pet. 5:3.)

h. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. (Gen. 3:19.) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you. (I Thess. 4:11.)

i. Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. (Is. 53:10.)

j. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord. (Rom. 12:11.)

k. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbor, and not suffer sin upon him. (Lev. 19:17.) And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. (Eph. 5:11.) Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men. (I Thess. 5:14.) Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear. (I Tim. 5:20.)

TIMOTHY

NOTE.—The Apostle Paul's letter to Timothy was written in the year 65 A. D., while the apostle was at Macedonia, and addressed personally to Timothy, who was then at Ephesus in Asia Minor, the subject being the work of the ministry. The special object or purpose of the letter was (1) to direct Timothy to charge the false teachers to leave their fallacies and teach the Gospel of Christ; (2) to instruct Timothy concerning the order of conducting public worship, the qualifications of bishops and deacons, and the selection of widows to do certain appointed service in return for charity received; (3) to instruct Timothy to warn the church against covetousness, a sin so prevalent at Ephesus at that time.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Timothy is put in mind of the charge given unto him by Paul at his going to Macedonia.
5 Of the right use and end of the law.

1 [1]Paul, an apostle of Jē'sus Chrīst [a]by the commandment [b]of God our Saviour, and Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, which [c]is our hope;

2 Unto [d]Tĭm'o-thў, my own son in the faith: Grace, [e]mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jē'sus Chrīst our Lord.

3 [2]As I besought thee to abide still at Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs, when I went into Măç-e-dō'nĭ à, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine,

4 Neither give heed to [3]fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now [f]the [4]end of the commandment is charity [g]out of a pure heart, and of a good [h]conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some having swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that [i]the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9 Knowing [j]this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the [k]lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and [l]profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine;

11 According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Chrīst Jē'sus our Lord, who

Ch. 1. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 1 Paul tells Timothy that his purpose in leaving him at Ephesus was that he (Timothy) might check the false teachers and teach a true use of the law, harmonizing it with the Gospel; also that he might tell of the power of God's grace in calling him (Paul) once a persecutor, to an experience in Christ and a preacher of his faith.

2. In vs. 3-11 the apostle urges the safe keeping of a pure Gospel doctrine in the church.

3. That is, legends about the origin and propagation of angels as taught by the false teachers at Colosse (Col. 2:8-23).

4. Aim or purpose.

Ch. 2. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 2 Paul charges Timothy concerning the order of public worship, directing him to intercede for all men as Christ died for all men. He also instructs him concerning the respective duties of men and women in public worship, stating woman's subjection and sphere of duty.

2. In vs. 1-8 Paul charges Timothy that all public prayers shall be offered by men.

hath enabled me, [m]for that he counted me faithful, [n]putting me into the ministry;

13 Who [o]was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because [p]I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith [q]and love which is in Chrīst Jē'sus.

15 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, [r]that Chrīst Jē'sus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jē'sus Chrīst might shew forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now unto [s]the King eternal, immortal, [t]invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, son Tĭm'o-thў, [u]according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare;

19 Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:

20 Of whom is [v]Hў-mĕ-næ'us and Ăl-ĕx-ăn'-dēr; whom I have [w]delivered unto Sā'tan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2.

1 It is meet to pray and give thanks for all men. 9 How women should be attired. 12 They are not permitted to teach. 15 They shall be saved in childbirth, if they continue in faith.

1 [1]I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, [2]prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

Ref. I Timothy. Chapter 1.

a. Paul, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead). (Gal. 1:1.)

b. Because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe. (I Tim. 4:10.)

c. Christ in you, the hope of glory. (Col. 1:27.)

d. Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, (the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek). (Acts 16:1.)

e. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Lu. 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Lu. 18:13.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.)

f. Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. (Rom. 13:8.)

g. Follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart. (II Tim. 2:22.)

h. Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ (16). The light figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 3:16, 21.) I thank God, whom I served from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day. (II Tim. 1:3.)

i. The law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good. (Rom. 7:12.)

j. Rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. (Rom. 13:3.) It [the law] was added because of transgression. (Gal. 3:19.) But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. (Gal. 5:22, 23.)

k. But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Rev. 21:8.)

l. But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness. (I Tim. 4:7.) O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called. (I Tim. 6:20.) But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness. (II Tim. 2:16.) Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. (Heb. 12:16.)

m. I give my judgment as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful. (I Cor. 7:25.)

n. Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God. (Col. 1:25.)

o. As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison. (Acts 8:3.)

p. Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. (Lu. 23:34.)

q. Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much. (Lu. 7:47.)

r. But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. (Mat. 9:13.) Ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin. (I Jno. 3:5.)

s. The Lord is King for ever and ever. (Ps. 10:16.) And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. (Dan. 7:14.) The blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; Who only hath immortality. (I Tim. 6:15, 16.) These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Rev. 17:14.) And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS. (Rev. 19:16.)

t. And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man. (Rom. 1:23.)

u. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. (I Tim. 4:14.)

v. Their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus. (II Tim. 2:17.)

w. To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. (I Cor. 5:5.)

2 For [c]kings, and [b]for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is [c]good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

4 Who [d]will have all men to be saved, and to [e]come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Chrīst Jē'sus;

6 Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified [f]in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Chrīst, and lie not;) a teacher of the Ğĕn'tīleş in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that men pray every where, [g]lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp [3]authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13 For [4]Ăd'ăm was first formed, then Ēve.

14 And Ād'ăm was not [5]deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in [6h]childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

CHAPTER 3.

3 How bishops, deacons, and their wives should be qualified. 15 Of the church, and the blessed truth therein taught.

1 [1]This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a [a]bishop, he desireth a good work.

2 A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

3. An autocrat, to appropriate unto herself the duties of man.

4. Here the apostle states the reason for woman's silence—she is subject to man and was created from him.

5. That is, Adam was induced or persuaded by Eve and was not deceived by the serpent.

6. That is, through her, sin came into the world, so also by her, in the birth of Christ, life shall be restored.

Ch. 3. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 3 Paul gives Timothy the rules concerning the overseers of the church.

2. One newly come into the faith.

3. That is, must treat all in the proper spirit of love and moderation and not speak to superiors in one manner and inferiors in another.

Ch. 4. A. D. 65.

1. That is, the teachings suggested by the ministers of Satan.

4 One [b]that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a [2]novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

8 [3]Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.

13 For they that have used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Chrīst Jē'sus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: [c]God was manifest in the flesh, [d]justified in the Spirit, [e]seen of angels, preached [f]unto the Ğĕn'tīleş, [g]believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER 4.

He foretelleth that in the latter times there shall be a departure from the faith.

1 Now the Spirit [a]speaketh expressly, that [b]in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed [c]to seducing spirits, [d]and doctrines of [1]devils;

Chapter 2.

a. Seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. (Jer. 29:7.)

b. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. (Rom. 13:1.)

c. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope. (I Tim. 1:1.) And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. (Lu. 1:47.)

d. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:7.) God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (Jno. 3:16.) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. (II Pet. 3:9.) Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God; and not that he should return from his ways, and live? (23). For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: Wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye. (Ez. 18:23, 32.) For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.)

e. This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.) In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth. (II Tim. 2:25.) Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. (II Tim. 3:7.) Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness. (Tit. 1:1.) For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins. (Heb. 10:26.)

f. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law. (Gal. 4:4.)

g. For from the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 1:11.)

h. Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee. (Gen. 3:16.) And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. (Is. 7:4.) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.)

a. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.)

b. And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served, that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. (Josh. 24:15.) I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart. (Ps. 101:2.)

c. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.)

d. This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. (I Jno. 5:6.)

e. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. (Mat. 28:2.) And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God. (Lu. 2:13.) Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the Gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into. (I Pet. 1:12.)

f. To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. (Col. 1:27.)

g. Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth. (Col. 1:6.)

Chapter 4.

a. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you unto all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (Jno. 16:13.)

b. Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you. (I Pet. 1:20.)

c. But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.)

d. For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go

2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having [e]their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 Forbidding [f]to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created [g]to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 [2]If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jē'sus Chrīst, nourished up [h]in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having [i]promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation.

10 For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, [j]who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Neglect [k]not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee [l]by prophecy, [m]with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Rules to be observed in reproving. 3 Of widows. 17 Of elders. 23 A precept for Timothy's health.

1 [1]Rebuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2. In vs. 6-10 the apostle appeals to Timothy concerning his great personal responsibility.

Ch. 5. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 5 the apostle directs Timothy in the manner he should deal with the different classes in the church.

2. Gay, prodigal, frivolous, whether chaste or unchaste.

3. In vs. 9-15 the apostle gives Timothy the rules which shall govern the selection of widows for church charity.

4. In vs. 17-25 the apostle gives the rules governing the pay, ordination and purity of the elders.

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth in pleasure [2]is dead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9 [3]Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have [a]lodged strangers, if she have [b]washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Chrīst, they will marry;

12 Having [c]damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And [d]withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, [e]give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Sā'tan.

16 If [f]any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 [4]Let [g]the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, [h]Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, [i]The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.

---

forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty. (Rev. 16:14.)

e. Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. (Eph. 4:19.)

f. Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favor of the Lord. (Prov. 18:22.) Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. (Heb. 13:4.)

g. Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things. (Gen. 9:3.)

h. But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 3:14, 15.)

i. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. (Ps. 37:4.) But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Mat. 6:33.) For evil-doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth (9). But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace. (Ps. 37:9, 11.) The fear of the Lord tendeth to life; and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil. (Prov. 19:23.) By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, honor, and life. (Prov. 22:4.)

j. Thy righteousness is like the great mountain; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preservest man and beast. (Ps. 36:6.) Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. (Acts 14:17.) Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. (Acts 17:25.)

k. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands. (II Tim. 1:6.)

l. This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare. (I Tim. 1:18.)

m. Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. (Acts 6:6.)

Chapter 5.

a. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us. (Acts 16:15.)

b. Is any thing too hard for the Lord? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sarah shall have a son. (Gen. 18:14.) And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. (Lu. 7:38.)

c. For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost (4), If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. (Heb. 6:4, 6.)

d. For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies. (II Thess. 3:11.)

e. Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you. (Tit. 2:8.)

f. And she took it up, and went into the city; and her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned: and she brought forth, and gave to her that she had reserved after she was sufficed. (Ruth 2:18.)

g. Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. (Gal. 6:6.)

h. Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. (Dt. 25:4.)

i. Thou shalt not oppress an hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates. (Dt. 24:14.) Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat. (Mat. 10:10.) And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. (Lu. 10:7.) Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel. (I Cor. 9:14.) Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbor, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. (Lev. 19:13.)

20 Them [j]that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands [5]suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 Drink no [6]longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

24 Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the [k]good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Of the duty of servants. 3 Not to have fellowship with newfangled teachers. 6 Godliness is great gain, 10 and love of money the root of all evil. 11 What Timothy is to fly, and what to follow.

1 [1]Let as many [a]servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the [b]name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because [c]they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is proud, [d]knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 Perverse disputings of [e]men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, [f]supposing that gain is godliness: [g]from such withdraw thyself.

6 But [h]godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For [i]we brought [2]nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

5. That is, without full and free investigation.

6. Paul directs Timothy that, when necessary, he shall use wine for medicinal purposes, because Timothy had heretofore been a total abstainer under any and all circumstances.

Ch. 6. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 6, the apostle directs Timothy regarding the duty of servants and the opposition he shall maintain toward false teachers. He admonishes him to remain steadfast in godliness and gives him a charge concerning the rich.

2. Seemingly for the purpose of teaching us that we can take nothing out of the world with us save the character, the germ of character development, or the soul, the only thing we bring into the world.

3. The wishing for it, which leads people into covetous ways and unholy paths.

8 And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

9 But [j]they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For [k]the love of [3]money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 But thou, [l]O man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 Fight [m]the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, [n]and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Chrīst Jē'şus, who before Pŏn'tī-us Pī'late witnessed a good confession;

14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst:

15 Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 Who only hath immortality, dwelling in [o]the light which no man can approach unto; [p]whom no man hath seen, nor can see: [q]to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate;

19 Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

20 O Tīm'o-thў, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called:

21 Which some professing have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

j. This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith. (Tit. 1:13.)

k. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous: Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. (I Pet. 3:8, 9.)

Chapter 6.

a. Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again. (Tit. 2:9.)

b. Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away for nought? They that rule over them make them to howl, saith the Lord; and my name continually every day is blasphemed. (Is. 52:5.)

c. Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven. (Col. 4:1.)

d. And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know. (I Cor. 8:2.)

e. Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. (II Tim. 3:8.)

f. Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. (Tit. 1:11.)

g. Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. (Rom. 16:17.)

h. Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. (Heb. 13:5.)

i. And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. (Job 1:21.) For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away; his glory shall not descend after him. (Ps. 49:17.)

j. He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house: but he that hateth gifts shall live. (Prov. 15:27.) Labor not to be rich; cease from thine own wisdom. (Prov. 23:4.) A faithful man shall abound with blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent. (Prov. 28:20.) He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. (Mat. 13:22.) Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. (Js. 5:1.)

k. And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. (Ex. 23:8.)

l. And this is the blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death. (Dt. 33:1.)

m. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. (II Tim. 4:7.)

n. Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you. (Heb. 13:23.)

o. So that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God. (II Chr. 5:14.)

p. And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live. (Ex. 33:20.) No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.)

q. Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen. (Rev. 7:12.)

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

TIMOTHY

NOTE.—The Apostle Paul's second letter to Timothy was written in the year 67 A. D., while the apostle was in prison at Rome, and a short time before his death. In it he gives his farewell counsels to Timothy. The apostle is very anxious to see Timothy again before his death, but, fearing that this may be impossible, he writes him this second letter, warning him against the heresies of the time and exhorting him to faithfulness and zeal for sound doctrine and patience amidst trials.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Paul's love to Timothy. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God which was in him.

1 [1]Paul, an apostle of Jē'şus Chrīst by the will of God, according to [a]the promise of life which is in Chrīst Jē'şus,

2 To Tĭm'o-thў, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Chrīst Jē'şus our Lord.

3 I thank [2]God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lō'is, and [b]thy mother [3]Eū'nīçe; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that [c]thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For [d]God hath not given us the spirit of fear; [e]but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;

9 Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy [f]calling, not according to our works, but according to [g]his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Chrīst Jē'şus before [h]the world began,

10 But [i]is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jē'şus Chrīst, [j]who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gĕn'tīleş.

12 For the which [4]cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have [5]committed [k]unto him against that [6]day.

13 Hold [l]fast the [m]form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Chrīst Jē'şus.

14 That [7]good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Hō'lў Ghōst which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Ā'şiȧ be turned away from me; of whom are Phў-ğĕl'lus and Hēr-mŏğ'e-nēş.

16 The Lord [n]give mercy unto the house of Ōn-e-sĭph'o-rus; [o]for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain:

17 But, when he was in Rōme, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto [p]him that he may find mercy of the Lord [q]in that day: and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER 2.

1 He is exhorted again to constancy and perseverance. 22 Whereof to beware, and what to follow after.

1 Thou [1]therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Chrīst Jē'şus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jē'şus Chrīst.

4 No [a]man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jē'şus Chrīst of [b]the seed of Dā'vid [c]was raised from the dead according [d]to my gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the

Ch. 1. A. D. 66.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle expresses his love for Timothy and desire to see him, and endeavors to stir up the gift of God in him and to encourage him amidst afflictions.

2. For the things expressed in v. 5.

3. A believing Jewess.

4. For the purpose of salvation, expressed in vs. 9-11.

5. Himself

6. Judgment day.

7. The gift of v. 6.

Ch. 2. A. D. 66.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle exhorts Timothy to faithfulness as a follower of Christ, and warns him of pitfalls to be shunned, and shows him the nature of the spirit which should control the servant of Christ.

Ref. II Timothy. Chapter 1.

a. Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness. In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Tit. 1:1, 2.) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.)

b. Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, (the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek). (Acts 16:1.)

c. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. (I Tim. 4:14.)

d. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love. (I Jno. 4:18.)

e. And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high. (Lu. 24:29.)

f. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. (Tit. 3:5.)

g. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. (Rom. 8:28.)

h. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1:4.) In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. (Tit. 1:2.) Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began. (Rom. 16:25.)

i. Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself. (Eph. 1:9.)

j. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? (I Cor. 15:54, 55.)

k. Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator. (I Pet. 4:19.)

l. Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised. (Heb. 10:23.) But that which ye have already hold fast till I come. (Rev. 2:25.)

m. An instructer of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law. (Rom. 2:20.) But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you. (Rom. 6:17.)

n. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. (Mat. 5:7.)

o. For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother. (Philemon 7.)

p. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 25:34.)

Chapter 2.

a. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible. (I Cor. 9:25.)

b. Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh; And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead. (Rom. 1:3, 4.)

c. Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand. (I Cor. 15:1.)

d. In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel. (Rom. 2:16.)

elect's sakes, [e]that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Chrīst Jē'ṣus with eternal glory.

11 It [f]is a faithful saying: For [g]if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 If we suffer, [h]we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us:

13 If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: he cannot [2]deny himself.

14 [3]Of these things put them in remembrance, [i]charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hȳ-mē-næ'us and Phī-lē'tus;

18 Who concerning the truth have erred, saying [j]that the [4]resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless the [5]foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, [k]The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Chrīst depart from iniquity.

20 [6]But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.

22 Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient,

25 In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them [7]repentance to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

2. That is, to deny his nature or refuse to bless those who accept him.

3. Vs. 14, 15 express Timothy's duty of warning the people of the errors which would lead them astray.

4. That is, claiming the resurrection to be nothing but the recovery of man's dead soul to life.

5. Christ.

6. In vs. 20-26 the apostle exhorts Timothy to carefully purge himself of all uncleanness that he may meekly instruct others.

7. The power or opportunity of repentance.

Ch. 3. A. D. 66.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle warns Timothy of the evil tendencies of the time and foretells him of the wickedness of the last days.

2. To vilify, to revile, to speak evil of, to implicate as impious, to impute evil to the character of God.

3. No self-control.

4. By the direction or impulse of God, without reference to the special manner of communicating that will.

CHAPTER 3.

6 He describeth the enemies of the truth, 10 propoundeth unto him his own example, 16 and commendeth the holy scriptures.

1 This [1]know also, that [a]in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, [2]blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, [3]incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the [b]power thereof: from such turn away.

6 For [c]of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able [d]to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now [e]as Jăn'nēs and Jăm'brēs withstood Mō'ṣēs, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, [f]as their's also was.

10 But thou [g]hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, charity, patience, 11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me [h]at Ān'tī-ōch, [i]at I-cō'nī-um, at Lȳs'trā; what persecutions I endured: [j]but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and [k]all that will live godly in Chrīst Jē'ṣus [l]shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which [m]are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Chrīst Jē'ṣus.

16 All [n]scripture is given by [4]inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for re-

e. And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation. (II Cor. 1:6.)

f. This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. (I Tim. 1:15.)

g. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection (5). Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him. (Rom. 6:5, 8.)

h. And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me. (Lu. 22:29.) And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. (Mat. 19:28.) For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. (Rom. 5:17.) And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Rom. 8:17.)

i. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality. (I Tim. 5:21.)

j. Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? (I Cor. 15:12.)

k. The Lord is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him. (Nah. 1:7.) I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep and am known of mine (14). My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. (Jno. 10:14, 27.)

Chapter 3.

a. How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts. (Jude 18.)

b. But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel. (I Tim. 5:8.)

c. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. (Mat. 23:14.)

d. Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. (I Tim. 2:4.)

e. Then Pharaoh also called the wise men and the sorcerers: now the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments. (Ex. 7:11.)

f. And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they could not: so there were lice upon man and upon beast. (Ex. 8:18.) And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians. (Ex. 9:11.)

g. If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained. (I Tim. 4:6.) And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house (2). Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord (20). But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you. (Philemon 2:20, 22.)

h. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. (Acts 13:45.)

i. But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren. (Acts 14:2.)

j. Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. (Ps. 34:19.)

k. I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. (Jno. 17:14.) Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God. (Acts 14:22.)

l. Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also. (Jno. 15:20.) Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed. (II Cor. 4:9.)

m. Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee. (Ps. 119:11.) But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name. (Jno. 20:31.)

n. Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. (II Pet. 1:20, 21.)

proof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

17 That [o]the man of God may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAPTER 4.

1 He exhorteth him to do his duty with all care and diligence, 14 and warneth him to beware of Alexander the smith.

1 [1]I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

2 [2]Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, [a]rebuke, exhort with [b]all longsuffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having [3]itching ears;

4 And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and [c]shall be turned unto [4]fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an [d]evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.

6 [5]For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7 I have fought a [6]good fight, I have finished [7]my course, I have kept [8]the faith:

8 Henceforth there is laid up for me [e]a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9 [9]Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

k. And I am this day weak, though anointed king; and these men the sons of Zeruiah be too hard for me: the Lord shall reward the doer of evil according to his wickedness. (II Sam. 3:39.) Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their endeavors: give them after the work of their hands; render to them their desert. (Ps. 28:4.)

l. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. (Acts 7:60.)

m. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. (Mat. 10:19.)

n. And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of. (II Pet. 2:2.)

o. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul. (Ps. 121:7.)

p. The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain. (II Tim. 1:16.)

TITUS

NOTE.—Paul's letter to Titus was written in the year 66 A. D., while the author was in Macedonia, and addressed to Titus in the island of Crete, and was written on the general subject of the work of the ministry, which Paul felt especially necessary at this time, as many corrupt elements were creeping into the church at Crete, of which Titus had charge.

CHAPTER 1.

1 For what end Titus was left in Crete. 6 How they that are to be chosen ministers ought to be qualified.

1 Paul, [1]a servant of God, and an apostle of Jē'sus Chrīst, according to the faith of [2]God's elect, [a]and the acknowledging of the truth which is [b]after godliness;

2 In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before [c]the world began;

3 But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me [d]according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4 To Tī'tus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crēte, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and [e]ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, [f]not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 Holding [g]fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially [h]they of the [3]circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert [i]whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy [4]lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Crē'tī-ans are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith;

14 Not giving heed to Jew'ish fables, and commandments [j]of men, that turn from the truth.

Ch. 1. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle states for what purpose Titus was left in Crete. He warns Titus of the gainsayers, who should be reproved.

2. The faith by which the Christian is able to hold fast to the love of God.

3. The Jews.

4. For wages.

5. Purity can be seen in all things if the eye will only search for it as it generally searches for the impure. God makes nothing impure -only man and Satan make the impurities.

Ch. 2. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 2 the apostle gives special directions to Titus, admonishes him regarding the different treatment of various classes of believers, and tells that the grace of God in Christ should be the great incentive to all to live Godly lives.

2. Vigilant, considerate, conservatively careful.

3. That is, self-mastery or control of all the appetites and passions.

4. Vilify, to revile, to speak evil of, to implicate as impious, to impute evil to the character of God.

5. Keeping back dishonestly or deceitfully; misappropriating.

15 Unto the [5]pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They [k]profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, and in general of all Christians.

1 But [1]speak thou the things which become [a]sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be [2]sober, grave, [3]temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 [b]The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not [4]blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be [2]sober minded.

7 In [c]all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8 Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; [d]that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again;

10 Not [5]purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For the grace of God that bringeth salvation [e]hath appeared to all men,

12 Teaching us that, [f]denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;

13 Looking for that blessed [g]hope, and the glorious appearing of the [h]great God and our Saviour Jē'sus Chrīst;

14 Who gave himself for us, that he might

a. In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth. (II Tim. 2:25.)

b. If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness. (I Tim. 6:3.)

c. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. (II Tim. 1:9.)

d. But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. (Acts 9:15.)

e. And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed. (Acts 14:23.)

f. Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations. (Lev. 10:9.)

g. Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwreck. (I Tim. 1:19.) Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 1:13.) Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle. (II Thess. 2:15.)

h. And certain men which came down from Judea taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved. (Acts 15:1.)

i. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. (Mat. 23:14.)

j. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. (Mat. 15:9.)

k. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. (Ez. 33:31.)

Chapter 2.

a. If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings. (I Tim. 6:3, 4.)

b. Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel; But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. (I Pet. 3:3, 4.)

c. Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. (I Pet. 5:3.)

d. Also I said, It is not good that ye do: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies? (Neh. 5:9.)

e. That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. (Jno. 1:9.)

f. That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. (Lu. 1:74, 75.)

g. And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. (Acts 24:15.)

h. To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. (II Tim. 1:2.) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, redeem us from all iniquity, [i]and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

15 These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Titus is further directed by Paul both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach. 10 He is willed also to reject obstinate heretics.

1 [1]Put them in mind to be [2]subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, [a]to be ready to every good work,

2 [b]To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

3 For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 Not [c]by [3]works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, [d]by the washing of [4]regeneration, and renewing of the Hō'lȳ Ghōst;

6 Which [e]he shed on us abundantly through Jē'sus Chrīst our Saviour;

Ch. 3. A. D. 65.

1. In ch. 3 the apostle instructs Titus how to teach Christians regarding their behavior toward the world, embracing both the things they should do and should not do.

2. Willingly obey.

3. Not a result springing from any righteousness of theirs.

4. (1) Baptism, the visible or external symbol of regeneration; (2) a symbolical act of obedience to the command of Jehovah.

5. One who follows his own will regardless of the teachings of Christ.

7 That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9 But [f]avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A man that is an heretic [g]after the first and second [5]admonition [h]reject;

11 Knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, [i]being condemned of himself.

12 When I shall send Är'te-măs unto thee, or Tȳch'i-cŭs, be diligent to come unto me to Ni-cŏp'o-lĭs: for I have determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zē'nas the lawyer [j]and A-pŏl'lŏs on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14 And let our's also learn to [l]maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be [k]not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope. (I Tim: 1:1.) Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. (II Pet. 1:1.)

i. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.) Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine. (Ex. 19:5.) For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God, and the Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth. (Dt. 14:2.) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. (I Pet. 2:9.) In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. (Eph. 1:11.) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

Chapter 3.

a. Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. (Heb. 13:21.)

b. From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members? (Js. 4:1.)

c. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin (Rom. 3:20.)

d. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God (3). Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. (Jno. 3:3, 5.) The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 3:21.)

e. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. (Jno. 1:16.)

f. Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do. (I Tim. 1:4.) But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes. (II Tim. 2:23.)

g. I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare. (II Cor. 13:2.)

h. Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. (II Tim. 3:5.) And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. (Mat. 18:17.)

i. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. (Acts 13:46.)

j. And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus. (Acts 18:24.)

k. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Pet. 1:8.)

l. Let him that stole steal no more; but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. (Eph. 4:28.)

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO

PHILEMON

NOTE.—Paul's letter to Philemon (a member of the church at Colosse, Asia Minor) was written in the year 63 A. D., while Paul was in prison at Rome, the general subject being freedom and brotherhood in Christ. The occasion of the letter was that Onesimus, a slave of Philemon's, had escaped and gone to Rome, where he was converted to the Christian religion and naturally sought Paul. After learning his history, Paul induced him to go back to Philemon and wrote this letter for him to take with him. In it the apostle urges Philemon to receive Onesimus as a brother in Christ and not as a slave, and to grant him his freedom. The letter therefore becomes one of the strongest appeals made by Paul.

4 He rejoiceth to hear of the faith and love of Philemon, 9 whom he desireth to forgive his servant Onesimus.

1 Paul, a [1]prisoner [a]of Jē'sus Chrīst, and Tĭm'o-thy our brother, unto Phĭ-le'mon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,

2 And to our beloved Āp'phĭ-a, and Ar-chĭp'pus our fellowsoldier, and to the church in thy house:

3 Grace [b]to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst.

4 [2]I [c]thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 Hearing of [d]thy love and [3]faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jē'sus, and toward all saints;

6 That the communication of thy faith may become effectual [c]by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Chrīst Jē'sus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints [f]are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Chrīst to enjoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jē'sus Chrīst.

10 [4]I beseech thee for my son O-nĕs'i-mus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:

A. D. 64.

1. Observe the appropriateness of Paul calling himself a prisoner or bondsman of Christ in a letter where he pleads the cause of a bondslave.

2. In vs. 4-7 the apostle Paul makes an appeal to the richness of Philemon's Christian character to impress upon him that now is the opportunity of making a positive demonstration of the effects of such a character as his.

3. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and the promises of Christ, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

4. In vs. 10-21 the apostle makes the request of Philemon that he receive Onesimus with kindness and Christian consideration.

5. By theft or any unlawful manner, as he had doubtless confessed to Paul he had.

6. As Philemon is indebted to Paul for his own Christian character, he should now grant the request he makes of him.

7. By heart, i. e., gratify my feelings by granting this request.

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in [g]thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; [h]that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 For [i]perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, [j]a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged [5]thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account;

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou [6]owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my [7]bowels in the Lord.

21 Having [k]confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I [l]trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee Ēp'a-phrās, my fellowprisoner in Chrīst Jē'sus;

24 [m]Mär'cus, Ar-ĭs-tär'chus, Dē'mas, Lu'cas, my fellowlabourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jē'sus Chrīst be with your spirit. Amen.

Ref. Philemon.

a. I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called. (Eph. 4:1.) But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully. (I Tim. 1:8.)

b. And say to Archhippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it. (Col. 4:17.)

c. We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers. (I Thess. 1:2.)

d. Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers. (Eph. 1:15, 16.)

e. And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment. (Phil. 1:9.)

f. Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all. (II Cor. 7:13.)

g. Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me. (Phil. 2:30.)

h. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. (II Cor. 9:7.)

i. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. (Rom. 8:28.)

j. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort. (I Tim. 6:2.)

k. I rejoice therefore that I have confidence in you in all things. (II Cor. 7:16.)

l. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith. (Phil. 1:25.)

GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE.

THE EPISTLE TO THE

HEBREWS

NOTE.—The letter to the Hebrews was written between 50 and 64 A. D. on the general subject of the new covenant of Christ. As to the author, there are four opinions, viz., (1) that Paul was the author, which is the most generally accepted opinion; (2) a composite authorship, one of the authors being Paul, the others unknown; (3) an author other than Paul, although unknown; (4) suspended judgment of those unable to arrive at any conclusion. The general design of the letter was to furnish instructions to the church to further the true character of their faith; the author therefore undertakes to prove the superiority of the Christian religion to all other faiths, that thereby its converts may be retained. Throughout the letter the author continues to suggest that salvation is not altogether in the future but that it is a present good as well. He would have his readers get a true insight into the nature and worth of the Christian religion that they might the better fortify themselves against temptations. Another purpose of the author is to prove that no religion can be satisfactory which does not establish an intimate relation between God and man.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Christ in these last times coming to us from the Father, 4 is preferred above the angels, both in person and office.

1 [1]God, who at sundry [2]times and in [a]divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath [b]in these last days spoken unto [c]us by his Son, [d]whom he hath appointed heir of all things, [e]by whom also he made the worlds;

3 Who being [f]the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and [g]upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, [h]sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as [i]he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 [3]For unto which of the angels said he at any time, [j]Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, [k]I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 And again, when he bringeth in [l]the [4]first-begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, [m]Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, [n]hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, [o]Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands:

11 They shall [5]perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are [6]they not [7]all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

Ch. 1. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 1 the author declares that the highest of all revelations is given us in the Son of God, who, having completed redemption, sits enthroned at God's right hand.

2. At many times; all revelations were not given at once, but throughout many periods.

3. In vs. 5-14 the author proves the transcendent greatness of Christ over angels and all things else.

4. That is, from the beginning, therefore the eternally begotten.

5. That is, the heavens and the earth. They shall not be annihilated any more than the world was annihilated after the flood.

6. The angels.

7. From the lowest to the highest rank—therefore all.

Ch. 2. A. D. 64.

1. In this ch., Paul declares that all salvation is of Christ, he having put all things in subjection to him for a time. He was humbled below the angels, which was a divine necessity, that our salvation from sin might be made perfect.

2. In view of or because of the facts of ch. 1.

3. The revelations and visions of God were given through the instrumentality of angels.

4. That is, at the beginning of the new dispensation.

5. David in the 8th Psalm.

6. As things are now.

7. Christ.

CHAPTER 2.

1 We ought to be obedient to Christ Jesus, 5 and that because he vouchsafed to take our nature upon him.

1 [1]Therefore [2]we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by [3]angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so [a]great salvation; which at the [4]first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Hō'lў Ghōst, according to his own will?

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one [5]in a certain place testified, saying, [b]What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But [c]now we see not yet all things put under him.

9 But we see Jē'sus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For [c]it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation [d]perfect through sufferings.

11 For both [7]he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause [e]he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

Ref. Hebrews. Chapter 1.

a. If there be a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream (6). With him [Moses] will I speak mouth to mouth, even apparently, and not in dark speeches; and a similitude of the Lord shall he behold. (Num. 12:6, 8.)

b. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law. (Gal. 4:4.)

c. For the Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (Jno. 1:17.)

d. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. (Ps. 2:8.) The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. (Jno. 3:35.)

e. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. (Jno. 1:3.) But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. (I Cor. 8:6.)

f. Awake, O sword, against my Shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hosts. (Zech. 13:7.) He that hath seen me hath seen the Father. (Jno. 14:9.)

g. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. (Jno. 1:4.) Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. (Rev. 4:11.)

h. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.)

i. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. (Phil. 2:9.)

j. God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. (Acts 13:33.)

k. I will be his father, and he shall be my son. (II Sam. 7:14.) He shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, my God, and the Rock of my salvation. Also I will make him my first-born, higher than the kings of the earth. (Ps. 89:26, 27.)

l. For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren. (Rom. 8:29.)

m. Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. (Ps. 45:6, 7.)

n. The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.)

o. Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands. (Ps. 102:25.)

Chapter 2.

a. But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end. (Is. 45:17.)

b. What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? (Ps. 8:4.)

c. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? (26). And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day. (Lu. 24:26, 46.)

d. And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. (Mat. 3:15.) Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered; And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him. (Heb. 5:8, 9.)

e. Go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God. (Jno. 20:17.)

12 Saying, [f]I [8]will declare thy name unto my [9]brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, [g]I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he [h]also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the [10]power of death, that is, the devil;

15 And deliver them who through [i]fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Ā'brā-hăm.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto [11]his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, [j]to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER 3.

Christ is more worthy than Moses.

1 [1]Wherefore, holy [2]brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider [a]the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Chrīst Jē'şus;

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Mō'şeş was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Mō'şeş, inasmuch as [b]he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but [c]he that built all things is God.

5 And Mō'şeş verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, [d]for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Chrīst as a son over his own house; whose [e]house are we, [f]if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 [3]Wherefore (as the [g]Hō'lў Ghōst saith, To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the [4]wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works [5]forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that [6]generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

8. Christ, the Messiah.

9. The church.

10. Not death, but the power through sin of introducing death.

11. In birth, affliction and death.

Ch. 3. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 3 the writer declares that Christ, the Son of God, will be greater than Moses; therefore unbelief or disobedience toward him will incur a greater punishment than unbelief in the time of Moses.

2. The only instance where the word "holy" is applied to brethren, and is here used under the new dispensation, probably to imply that the believing Christians, whether Jew or Gentile, are as holy unto the Lord as Israel was under the old dispensation.

3. In vs. 7-11 the author presents the failure and sin of Israel as a warning to the church of to-day.

4. Of sin.

5. The perversity of the Israelites in the wilderness.

6. The generation of the 40 years of v. 9.

7. In vs. 12-15 the author makes application to the present day of Israel's sad example.

8. In vs. 16-19 the author declared that it was unbelievers who caused the failure of the Israelites, therefore the church to-day should be fearful of unbelief—keep clear of its baneful influence.

9. The Israelites.

10. Of sin.

11. Active unbelief, embracing disobedience; not merely the act of belief.

Ch. 4. A. D. 64.

1. In this ch. the promise of rest in God is declared to be fully realized through Christ, therefore we should strive to obtain it through him as our high priest.

2. God, through David.

12 [7]Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Chrīst, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 [8]For [h]some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Ē'gўpt by Mō'şeş.

17 But with [9]whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the [10]wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in because of [11]unbelief.

CHAPTER 4.

The rest of Christians is attained by faith.

1 [1]Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, [a]As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God [b]did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and [c]they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in [2]Dā'vid, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, [d]To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jē'şus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a [e]rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

---

f. I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee. (Ps. 22:22.)

g. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, in whom I will trust. (Ps. 18:2.) Behold, God is my salvation: I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength. (Is. 12:2.)

h. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. (Rom. 8:3.)

i. For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. (II Tim. 1:7.)

j. And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. (I Jno. 2:2.) Herein is love, not that we love God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. (I Jno. 4:10.) Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.)

Chapter 3.

a. I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. (Mat. 15:24.) Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers. (Rom. 15:8.)

b. Behold the man whose name is The BRANCH; and he shall go up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the Lord. (Zech. 6:12.) Upon this rock I will build my church. (Mat. 16:18.)

c. We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works. (Eph. 2:10.) God, who created all things by Jesus Christ. (Eph. 3:9.)

d. I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which he shall speak in my name, I will require it of him. (Dt. 18:18, 19.)

e. For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. (Eph. 4:12.) Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:5.)

f. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. (Mat. 10:22.)

g. The Spirit of the Lord spake by me [David] and his word was in my tongue. (II Sam. 23:2.) This scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of David, spake. (Acts 1:16.)

h. And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron: and the whole congregation said unto them, Would God that we had died in the land of Egypt! or would God we had died in this wilderness! (2). And they said one to another, Let us make a captain, and let us return into Egypt. (Num. 14:2, 4.)

Chapter 4.

a. Unto whom I sware in my wrath, that they should not enter into my rest. (Ps. 95:11.)

b. And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. (Gen. 2:2.) In six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed. (Ex. 31:17.)

c. So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief. (Heb. 3:19.)

d. Today if ye will hear his voice, Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness. (Ps. 95:7, 8.)

e. And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and 11 Let us labour [3]therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

12 For the [4]word of God is [f]quick, and powerful, and sharper than any [5]twoedged [g]sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jē'sus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15 For [h]we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but [i]was in all points tempted like as we are, [j]yet without sin.

16 Let us therefore [6]come boldly unto the [7]throne of grace, that we may [8]obtain mercy, and find [9]grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5.

Authority and honour of our Saviour's priesthood.

1 For [1]every high priest taken from among men is ordained [2]for men in things pertaining to God, [a]that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed [3]with infirmity.

3 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 And [b]no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as [c]was [4]Aâr'on.

5 So [d]also Chrīst glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, [e]Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, [f]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of [5]Mĕl-chĭs'e-dĕc.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had [g]offered up prayers and supplications [h]with strong crying and tears unto him [i]that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared;

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

3. Because of the manner it is to be done through Christ; as he labored so, let us labor.

4. Let us be active because of the power of the word, which is the reason expressed by "for."

5. That is, typifying its cutting ability.

6. Without fear—with confident trust.

7. To which we have access through Christ our high priest.

8. Because of our past sins.

9. To assist in present trials.

Ch. 5. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 5 the author declares that, to be an effectual priest, our high priests must have all needed qualifications as a man, and that Christ is a priest after the order of Melchisedec.

2. Stands for or acts for men.

3. That is, encircled or surrounded with temptations as we are.

4. The first in the order of high priests and was elected directly by the voice of God.

5. The first New Testament mention of this primeval priest-king.

6. The revelations of God.

7. Spiritually weak and unsteady.

8. Of habit.

Ch. 6. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 6 the author warns the church against sluggishness and encourages them to steadfastness to God and faithfulness to his word.

2. The first principles or beginnings of Christianity.

3. While in the old dispensation, under the ritual there were many illustrations or types, they have all been merged into one under the new dispensation—viz., baptism, (a) the outward symbol of inward regeneration or cleansing; (b) a symbolical act of obedience to the command of God.

4. The going on to Christian perfection.

5. Grant the necessary grace or power.

6. Not that they have already fallen, but the author wishes to warn them by stating the result if they should fall.

7. Instead of crucifying the world, they would trample under foot and crucify the Son of God.

8. Bring into public disrepute, as a malefactor.

9 And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God an high priest after the order of Mĕl-chĭs'e-dĕc.

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the [6]oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a [7]babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of [8]use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER 6.

He exhorteth not to fall back from the faith.

1 [1]Therefore leaving the [2]principles of the doctrine of Chrīst, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the [a]doctrine of [3]baptisms, [b]and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, [c]and of eternal judgment.

3 And this [4]will we do, if God [5]permit.

4 For it is impossible for [d]those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of [e]the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Hō'lў Ghōst,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6 If [6]they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; [f]seeing they crucify to [7]themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open [8]shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God:

8 But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

his rest shall be glorious. (Is. 11:10.) I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. (Ez. 34:14.) The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love; he will joy over thee with singing. (Zeph. 3:17.) These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. (Rev. 7:14.)

f. And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me. (Is. 49:2.) Is not my word like as a fire? saith the Lord; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? (Jer. 23:29.)

g. And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword. (Rev. 1:16.)

h. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not. (Is. 53:3.)

i. Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. (Lu. 22:28.)

j. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.) For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin: that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:21.)

Chapter 5.

a. Every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer. For if he were on earth he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law. (Heb. 8:3, 4.)

b. It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto the Lord, but to the priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed: neither shall it be for thine honor from the Lord God. (II Chr. 26:18.) John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. (Jno. 3:27.)

c. Take thou unto thee Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Israel, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office. (Ex. 28:1.)

d. If I honor myself, my honor is nothing: it is my Father that honoreth me: of whom ye say, that he is your God. (Jno. 8:54.) God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm. (Acts 13:33.)

e. I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee. (Ps. 2:7.)

f. The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. (Ps. 110:4.)

g. [Jesus] lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee. (Jno. 17:1.)

h. My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring? (Ps. 22:1.)

i. Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels? (Mat. 26:53.)

Chapter 6.

a. John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. (Acts 19:4.)

b. Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. (Acts 6:6.)

c. In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel. (Rom. 2:16.)

d. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? (Mat. 7:22.) Call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions. (Heb. 10:32.)

e. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. (Jno. 4:10.)

f. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? (Heb. 10:29.)

10 [g]For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to [h]the full assurance of hope unto the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of [i]them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 [j]For when God made promise to Ā'brăhăm, because he could swear by no greater, [j]he sware [10]by himself,

14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, willing [k]more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise [l]the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope [m]set before us:

19 Which [n]hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the [11]vail;

20 Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jē'sus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc.

CHAPTER 7.

Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchisedec.

1 For this Měl-chĭs'e-dec, king of Sā'lem, priest of the most [1]high God, who met Ā'brăhăm returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also Ā'bră-hăm gave a [2]tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also [3]King of Sā'lem, which is, King of peace;

3 Without father, [4]without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of [5]days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Ā'bră-hăm gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily [a]they that are of the sons of Lē'vī, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Ā'bră-hăm:

6 But he whose [6]descent is not counted from them received tithes of Ā'bră-hăm, and blessed [b]him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here [7]men that die receive tithes; but there [8]he receiveth them, [c]of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Lē'vī also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Ā'bră-hăm.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc met him.

11 [d]If therefore perfection were by the Lē'vĭt'ĭ-cal priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc, and not be called after the order of Aâr'on?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that [e]our Lord sprang out of Jū'dā; of which tribe Mō'sēs spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, [f]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc.

18 For there is verily a [9]disannulling of the commandment going before for [g]the [10]weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 For [h]the law made [11]nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which [i]we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:

21 (For those priests were made without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Měl-chĭs'e-dĕc:)

22 By so much was Jē'sus made a surety [j]of a better testament.

9. In vs. 13-20 the pledge and oath of God stand as the basis of our assurance if we remain steadfast in active faith.

10. Swear by himself, for there were none others by whom he could swear. (Gen. 22:16, 17)—"By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, That in blessing I will bless thee."

11. An allusion to the veil of the temple before the holy of holies.

Ch. 7. A. D. 64.

1. Is used only in the New Testament as a title of God to distinguish or to contrast him, the God of Melchisedec, with the gods of the heathen nations around.

2. The booty or prizes of war.

3. That is, his name means King of Righteousness. In Hebrew "Malchi" means "king," "Tzedec" means "righteousness;" therefore the word means, by interpretation, King of Righteousness.

4. That is, they are not known.

5. By not knowing his parents, he has no beginning or ending of days.

6. Pedigree or genealogy.

7. The Levitical priesthood.

8. After the order of Melchisedec.

9. A repealing.

10. As the law could not bring men to perfect justification, it was called weak.

11. That is, the law was introductory to its ante-type, the Christian economy, which wrought all things unto perfection.

g. Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. (Jno. 13:20.)

h. That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding. (Col. 2:2.)

i. For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise. (Heb. 10:36.)

j. By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore. (Gen. 22:16, 17.)

k. By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise. (Heb. 11:9.)

l. For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance. (Rom. 11:29.)

m. Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us. (Heb. 12:1.)

n. Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption. (Ps. 130:7.)

Chapter 7.

a. I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation. (Num. 18:21.)

b. For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. (Rom. 4:13.) Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ. (Gal 3:16.)

c. As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec. (Heb. 5:6.)

d. I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain. (Gal. 2:21.)

e. The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come. (Gen. 49:10.) And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots. (Is. 11:1.) Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda. (Lu. 3:33.) And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda the root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof. (Rev. 5:5.)

f. The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. (Ps. 110:4.)

g. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. (Rom. 8:3.)

h. And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. (Acts 13:39.) Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. (Gal. 2:16.) Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience. (Heb. 9:9.) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect. (Heb. 10:1.) Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. (Rom. 3:20.) What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. (Rom. 7:7.) Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law (21). Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. (Gal. 3:21:24.)

i. By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (Rom. 5:2.) For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. (Eph. 2:18.)

j. Be surety for thy servant for good: let not the proud oppress me. (Ps. 119:122.) Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter; I did

23 And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:

24 But this man, because he [k]continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also to save them to the [12]uttermost that come unto God by [13]him, seeing he ever liveth [l]to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, [m]and made higher than the heavens;

27 Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, [n]first for his own sins, [o]and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28 For the law maketh [p]men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is [q]consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER 8.

By the eternal priesthood of Christ the Levitical priesthood of Aaron is abolished.

1 [1]Now of the things which we have spoken this is the [2]sum: We have such an high priest, who [a]is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

2 A minister of the [3]sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is [b]of necessity that this man have somewhat also [4]to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:

5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Mō'şeş was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: [c]for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed thee in the mount.

6 But now hath he obtained a more [5]excellent ministry, by how much also he is the [6]mediator [d]of a better [7]covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7 For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, [e]Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a [f]new covenant with the house of [8]Ĭs'ra-el and with the house of Jū'dah:

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Ē'gўpt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I [9]regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Ĭs'ra-el after those days, saith the Lord; [g]I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11 And [h]they shall [10]not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER 9.

1 The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the law, 11 far inferior to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifice of Christ.

1 [1]Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

2 For [a]there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary.

3 And [b]after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of [2]the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was [c]the golden pot that had manna, and [d]Aâr'on's rod that budded, and [e]the tables of the [3]covenant;

2. The principal point, the chief.

3. The holy of holies in the heavenly sanctuary.

4. He, Christ, made the offer once for us all, himself.

5. Heavenly, therefore more excellent than an earthly minister.

6. Interceding for us at the right hand of God. Through mercy for us he carries into effect God's covenant with us.

9. That is, he visited retributive justice upon them.

10. Have to teach.

1. In ch. 9, the old covenant of types and symbols is declared to be inferior to the means of access to God through the new covenant. Christ, the head of the new covenant, had come and offered himself in death for us, hence the blood of bulls and goats is of no further value.

mourn as a dove: mine eyes failed with looking upward: O Lord, I am oppressed; undertake for me. (Is. 38:14.)

k. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. (Is. 9:7.) Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen. (Rom. 9:5.)

l. Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. (Rom. 8:34.) If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (I Jno. 2:1.)

m. He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things. (Eph. 4:10.)

n. And Aaron shall bring the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself, and shall make an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself. (Lev. 16:11.)

o. Then shall he kill the goat of the sin offering that is for the people, and bring his blood within the veil, and do with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it upon the mercyseat, and before the mercyseat. (Lev. 16:15.)

p. Every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity. (Heb. 5:1, 2.)

q. For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. (Heb. 2:10.)

Chapter 8.

a. If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. (Col. 3:1.)

b. Walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.)

c. And look that thou make them after their pattern, which was shown thee in the mount. (Ex. 25:40.)

d. By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament. (Heb. 7:22.) And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.) And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. (Heb. 12:24.) Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you. (Lu. 22:20.)

e. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah; Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord: But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (Jer. 31:31-34.)

f. And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. (Heb. 9:15.) And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. (Heb. 12:24.) Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. (II Cor. 3:6.)

g. They shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. (Zech. 8:8.)

h. And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children. (Is. 54:13.)

Chapter 9.

a. Moreover thou shalt make the tabernacle with ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with cherubim of cunning work shalt thou make them. (Ex. 26:1.)

b. And thou shalt put therein the ark of the testimony, and cover the ark with the veil. (Ex. 40:3.)

c. And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a pot, and put an omer full of manna therein, and lay it up before the Lord, to be kept for your generations. As the Lord commanded Moses, so Aaron laid it up before the Testimony, to be kept. (Ex. 16:33, 34.)

d. And the Lord said unto Moses, Bring Aaron's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for a token against the rebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not. (Num. 17:10.)

e. And thou shalt put into the ark the testimony which I shall give thee. (Ex. 25:16.)

5 And [f]over it the [4]cherubim of glory shadowing the [5]mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, [g]the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the [6]second went the high priest alone [h]once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 The [i]Hō'lȳ Ghōst this signifying, that the [j]way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a [7]figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;

10 Which stood only in [k]meats and drinks, and divers washings, [l]and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11 [8]But Chrīst being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having [m]obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if [n]the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more [p]shall the blood of Chrīst, [o]who through the eternal Spirit [q]offered himself without spot to God, purge your [r]conscience from [s]dead works to serve the living God?

15 [9]And [t]for this cause he is the [10]mediator of the new testament, that [u]by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

17 For [v]a [11]testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon [w]neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

4. A symbolical figure representing the ruling power of Jehovah.

5. The footstool of Jehovah, and the place upon which was sprinkled the propitiatory blood on the day of Atonement.

6. Holy of holies.

7. As parable set forth the figure of the reality yet to come in Christ.

8. In vs. 11-14 is an account of Christ offering himself to make an atonement for us.

9. Vs. 15-18, the death of Christ, our high priest, converts the new covenant into a last will and testament.

10. Christ, through his death, becomes our mediator, transmitting the mercy of God to us through his death.

11. By bequest or will.

12. The seal of the bequest or will.

Ch. 10. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 10 is a conclusion of the argument in ch. 9. In view of the self-offering of Christ made for us once for all, the yearly offering of sacrifices can be of no service to us. Instead of the daily ministry of the Levitical priests, Christ sitteth at the right hand of God ever making intercession for us.

2. A feeble representation, a shadowy outline.

19 For when Mō'sēs had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, [x]with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

20 Saying, [y]This is the [12]blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover [z]he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without [aa]shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Chrīst is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now [bb]to appear in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once [cc]in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

28 So [dd]Chrīst was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the [cc]second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The weakness of the law sacrifices. 10 The sacrifice of Christ's body once offered, 14 for ever hath taken away sins.

1 For [1]the law having [a]a [2]shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 [b]But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

f. And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the veil before the mercyseat, which is upon the ark, that he die not: for I will appear in the cloud upon the mercyseat. (Lev. 16:2.)

g. And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the Lord; two lambs of the first year without spot, day by day, for a continual burnt offering. (Num. 28:3.)

h. And Aaron shall make an atonement upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood of the sin offering of atonements; once in the year shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations: it is most holy unto the Lord. (Ex. 30:10.)

i. Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus. (Heb. 10:19.)

j. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.)

k. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Rom. 14:17.)

l. Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace. (Eph. 2:15.)

m. Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy. (Dan. 9:24.)

n. And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercyseat eastward; and before the mercyseat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times. (Lev. 16:14.)

o. And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead. (Rom. 1:4.)

p. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

q. Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved). (Eph. 2:5.)

r. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high. (Heb. 1:3.)

s. Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God. (Heb. 6:1.)

t. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus. (I Tim. 2:5.)

u. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous. (I Pet. 3:8.)

v. Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto. (Gal. 3:15.)

w. And Moses took half of the blood, and put it in basins; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar. (Ex. 24:6.)

x. Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two birds alive and clean, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop. (Lev. 14:4.)

y. For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. (Mat. 26:28.)

z. And thou shalt take of the blood of the bullock, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and pour all the blood beside the bottom of the altar. (Ex. 29:12.)

aa. For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul. (Lev. 17:11.)

bb. My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. (I Jno. 2:1.)

cc. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. (I Pet. 3:18.)

dd. For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God. (Rom. 6:10.)

ee. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. (Jno. 14:3.)

Chapter 10.

a. Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ. (Col. 2:17.)

b. And Aaron shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness. (Lev. 16:21.)

4 For [c]it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 [3]Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, [d]Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt [4]offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had [4]no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book [5]it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By [e]the which will we are sanctified [f]through the [g]offering of the body of Jē'şus Chrīst once for all.

11 And every priest standeth [h]daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But [i]this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting [j]till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof [k]the Hō'lў Ghōst also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This [l]is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jē'şus,

20 By [m]a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

3. Vs. 5-18, by Christ's submitting to the demands made by heaven, the complete and decisive atonement has been made for us.

4. Burnt sacrifices, as the complete atonement.

5. Alluding to the 40th Psalm.

6. Through the atoning blood of Christ.

7. Let us understand that the proper association of one with another has the power to arouse love.

8. If we continue to sin against the pleadings and persuasions of Christ.

9. The living or consuming fire of divine retribution.

10. As common or unworthy.

11. For chastisement.

21 And having an high priest over [n]the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance [o]of faith, having our hearts [o]sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;)

24 And let us consider one another to [7]provoke unto love and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and [p]so much the more, as ye see [q]the day approaching.

26 For [r]if we sin [8]wilfully [8]after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, 27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and [t]fiery indignation, which shall devour the [9]adversaries.

28 He that despised Mō'şeş' law died without mercy under two of three witnesses:

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath [u]counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy [10]thing, [v]and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance [w]belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, [x]The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It [y]is a fearful thing to [11]fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But [z]call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured [aa]a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst [bb]ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and [cc]took joyfully the spoiling of your

c. Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? (Mic. 6:6.)

d. Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required. (Ps. 40:6.)

e. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. (Jno. 17:19.)

f. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.) And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. (Jno. 17:19.)

g. Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself. (Heb. 7:27.) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (14). So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many: and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:14, 28.) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.) I am the living bread which came down from heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world. (Jno. 6:51.)

h. And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the Lord; two lambs of the first year without spot, day by day, for a continual burnt offering. (Num. 28:3.)

i. If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. (Col. 3:1.)

j. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.)

k. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man; but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. (II Pet. 1:21.)

l. But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people. (Jer. 31:33.)

m. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.)

n. But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. (I Tim. 3:15.)

o. And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. (Heb. 12:24.) Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied. (I Pet. 1:2.) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. (Ez. 36:25.) Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.)

p. The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. (Rom. 13:12.)

q. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up. (II Pet. 3:9, 10.)

r. But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people. (Num. 15:30.) And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day. (Jno. 5:16.)

s. But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities. (II Pet. 2:10.)

t. Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds, to cast it out for a prey. (Ez. 36:5.)

u. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. (I Cor. 11:29.)

v. Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. (Mat. 12:31.)

w. To me belongeth vengeance and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste. (Dt. 32:35.)

x. He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people. (Ps. 50:4.)

y. But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. (Lu. 12:5.)

z. Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain. (Gal 3:4.)

aa. For I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh. (Col. 2:1.)

bb. Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace. (Phil. 1:7.)

cc. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad; for great is your reward in goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye [dd]might receive the promise.

37 For [ee]yet a little while, and he [ff]that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by [12]faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER 11.

1 What faith is. 6 Without faith we cannot please God.

1 [1]Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence [a]of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through [2]faith we understand that the worlds [b]were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith [c]Ā'bĕl offered unto God a more [3]excellent sacrifice than Cāin, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.

5 By [5]faith [d]Ē'nŏch was [4]translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But [e]without [5]faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By [5]faith [f]Nō'ah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of [g]the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By [5]faith Ā'brā-hăm, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

12. A firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of Christ, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Ch. 11. A. D. 64.

1. In ch. 11 the writer defines the faith he would have us possess and gives many examples of its power to keep, even under the old covenant.

2. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of Christ, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

3. Because he met all the requirements, offering both the firstlings of his flock and the first fruits of the field; while Cain offered only the one, seemingly not thinking it necessary to make the complete sacrifice as commanded of Jehovah—thus presenting only a thank offering, proudly refusing the propitiatory offering for sin.

4. Transplanted, taken to heaven without death.

5. A firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

6. That is, of them.

9 By [5]faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in [h]tabernacles with Ī'ṣaac and Jā'cob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, [i]whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through [5]faith also Sā'rā herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

13 These all died in [5]faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and [k]confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not [6]ashamed [l]to be called their God: for [m]he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By [5]faith Ā'brā-hăm, when he was tried, offered up Ī'ṣaac: and he that had received the promises offered [n]up his only begotten son,

18 Of whom it was said, That in Ī'ṣaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By [5]faith [o]Ī'ṣaac blessed Jā'cob and Ē'saŭ concerning things to come.

21 By [5]faith Jā'cob, when he was a dying, blessed [p]both the sons of Jō'ṣeph; and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 By [6]faith [q]Jō'ṣeph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Ĭs'ra-el; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By [5]faith Mō'ṣeṣ, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's [r]commandment.

24 By [5]faith Mō'ṣeṣ, when he was come to heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. (Mat. 5:12.)

dd. Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ. (Col. 3:24.)

ee. I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth? (Lu. 18:8.)

ff. For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not tarry. Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith. (Hab. 2:3, 4.)

Chapter 11.

a. For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? (Rom. 8:24.) While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. (II Cor. 4:18.) For we walk by faith, not by sight. (II Cor. 5:7.)

b. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. (Jno. 1:3.)

c. And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering: But unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell. (Gen. 4:4, 5.)

d. And Enoch lived sixty and five years, and begat Methuselah: And Enoch walked with God after he begat Methuselah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters: And all the days of Enoch were three hundred sixty and five years: And Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him. (Gen. 5:21-24.) There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they also that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit. (Ecc. 4:16.) Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labor (9). For out of prison he cometh to reign; whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor. (Ecc. 4:9, 14.)

e. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. (Jno. 3:36.)

f. And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth. (Gen. 6:13.)

g. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference. (Rom. 3:22.) These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God. (Gen. 6:9.) Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord God (14). Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness. (Ez. 14:14, 20.) For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. (Rom. 4:13.)

h. And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Bethel, and pitched his tent, having Bethel on the west, and Hai on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the Lord, and called upon the name of the Lord. (Gen. 12:8.)

i. And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. (Rev. 21:2.)

j. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb. (Rom. 4:19.)

k. And Jacob said unto Pharaoh, The days of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years: few and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage. (Gen. 47:9.)

l. And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath sent me unto you: this is my name for ever, and this my memorial unto all generations. (Ex. 3:15.)

m. For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we looked for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ. (Phil. 3:20.)

n. Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? (Js. 2:21.)

o. And he came near, and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed. (Gen. 27:27.)

p. And now thy two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh, which were born unto thee in the land of Egypt before I came unto thee into Egypt, are mine: as Reuben and Simeon, they shall be mine. (Gen. 48:5.)

q. And Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence. (Gen. 50:25.)

r. And he said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hebrew years, refused to be called the son of Phā′raōh's daughter;

25 Choosing [s]rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 Esteeming the reproach of Chrīst greater riches than the treasures in Ē′ġўpt: for he had respect unto the recompence of the reward.

27 By [5]faith he [t]forsook Ē′ġўpt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through [5]faith [u]he kept the [7]passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest [8]he that destroyed the firstborn should touch them.

29 By [5]faith [9]they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the [10]E-ġўp′tians assaying to do were drowned.

30 By [5]faith [v]the walls of Jĕr′ĭ-chō fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 By [5]faith [w]the harlot Rā′hăb perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of [x]Ġĕd′e-on, and of [y]Bā′rak, and of Săm′son, and of Jĕph′thă-e; of Dā′vid also, and Săm′u-el, and of the prophets:

33 Who through [5]faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped [z]the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the [11]violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned [aa]to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover, [bb]of bonds and imprisonment:

37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and [cc]in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be [dd]made perfect.

CHAPTER 12.

An exhortation to faith, patience, and godliness.

1 [1]Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking [a]unto Jē′sus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and [b]is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 [2]For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest [c]ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, [d]My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he received.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without [e]chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his [f]holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth [g]the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore [h]lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;

13 And make straight paths for your feet,

7. The passing of the death angel over the Israelite homes when the firstborn of the Egyptians were struck down.

8. The destroying angel.

9. The Israelites.

10. Attempted to, against the will of God.

11. Alluding to Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. (Dan. 3.)

Ch. 12. A. D. 64.

1. Ch. 12 exhorts the church to follow the witnesses mentioned in ch. 11, to the end of a perfect work and not to faint thereby; for we are under, not the law of terror, but the gospel of grace purchased by Christ, our elder brother, through whom all strength will be given unto us by faith.

2. In vs. 3-17 is a review of the past and a hopeful exhortation to faithfully endure to the end.

women, and see them upon the stools, if it be a son, then ye shall kill him; but if it be a daughter, then she shall live. (Ex. 1:16.)

s. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. (Ps. 84:10.)

t. And Moses said, Thou hast spoken well, I will see thy face again no more. (Ex. 10:29.)

u. Then Moses called for all the elders of Israel, and said unto them, Draw out and take you a lamb according to your families, and kill the passover. (Ex. 12:21.)

v. So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city. (Josh. 6:20.)

w. Likewise also, was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way? (Js. 2:25.)

x. And there came an angel of the Lord, and sat under an oak which was in Ophrah, that pertained unto Joash the Abiezrite: and his son Gideon threshed wheat by the wine press, to hide it from the Midianites. (Jud. 6:11.)

y. And she sent and called Barak the son of Abinoam out of Kedesh-naphtali, and said unto him, Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun? (Jud. 4:6.)

z. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. (Dan. 6:22.)

aa. And Jonathan climbed up upon his hands and upon his feet, and his armor-bearer after him: and they fell before Jonathan; and his armor-bearer slew after him. (I Sam. 14:13.) And they stood every man in his place round about the camp: and all the host ran, and cried, and fled. (Jud. 7:21.) And he smote them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and dwelt in the top of the rock Etam (8). And he found a new jaw bone of an ass, and put forth his hand and took it, and slew a thousand men therewith. (Jud. 15:8, 15.) And after this it came to pass, that David smote the Philistines, and subdued them: and David took Methegammah out of the hand of the Philistines. And he smote Moab, and measured them with a line, casting them down to the ground; even with two lines measured he to put to death, and with one full line to keep alive: and so the Moabites became David's servants, and brought gifts. David smote also Hadadezer, the son of Rehob, king of Zobah, as he went to recover his border at the river Euphrates. And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and David houghed all the chariot horses, but reserved of them for an hundred chariots. And when the Syrians of Damascus came to succor Hadadezer king of Zobah, David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men. Then David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus: and the Syrians became servants to David, and brought gifts. And the Lord preserved David whithersoever he went. (II Sam. 8:1-6.)

bb. And Joseph's master took him, and put him into the prison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound: and he was there in the prison. (Gen. 39:20.) Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison. (Jer. 37:15.)

cc. For it was so, when Jezebel cut off the prophets of the Lord, that Obadiah took an hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water. (I Ks. 18:4.)

dd. And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. (Rom. 11:26.)

Chapter 12.

a. But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (II Cor. 3:18.)

b. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. (Ps. 110:1.)

c. And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.)

d. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty. (Job 5:17.)

e. For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning. (Ps. 73:14.)

f. Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy. (Lev. 19:2.)

g. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace. (Js. 3:18.)

h. Behold, thou hast instructed many, and thou hast strengthened the weak hands. Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the feeble knees. (Job 4:3, 4.)

lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; [i]but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, [j]without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest [k]any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Ē'saụ, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

17 For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 [3]For ye are not come unto [l]the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that [m]the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Mō'-şeş said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22 But ye are come unto mount Sī'ŏn, and unto the city [n]of the living God, the heavenly Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and to an innumerable [o]company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men [p]made perfect,

24 And to Jē'şus the mediator of the new covenant, and to [q]the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than [r]that of Ā'bĕl.

25 See that ye refuse not [s]him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake [s]on earth, much more shall not we [s]escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 Whose [t]voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [u]Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot [v]be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29 For our God is a [s]consuming fire.

3. In vs. 18-29 we are told that we should have an abundance of faith—more than they of the old dispensation—because of the superiority of Christ, our propitiation, over the propitiation of the old covenant.

4. The Son of God, as the divine Logos of both dispensations.

5. As the voice from Sinai.

6. While God is love, yet he has an abiding, retributive wrath against sin.

CHAPTER 13.

Ch. 13. A. D. 64.

1 Divers admonitions, as to charity, 5 to avoid covetousness, 10 to confess Christ.

1. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. (Gal. 6:1.)

1 [i]Let brotherly love continue.

2 Be [a]not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby [b]some have entertained [2]angels unawares.

3 Remember [c]them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4 Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5 Let your [3]conversation be without [4]covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, [d]I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

6 So that we may boldly say, [e]The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7 Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation.

8 Jē'şus Chrīst [f]the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

9 Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10 We [g]have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12 Wherefore Jē'şus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered [h]without the gate.

13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing [i]his reproach.

14 For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15 By him therefore let us [j]offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name.

16 But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

2. Alluding to Abraham in Gen. 18 and Lot in Gen. 19:1-3.

3. That is, daily course and conduct.

4. Unrighteous or selfish desires and love for greed.

i. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. (Gal. 6:1.)

j. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. (Mat. 5:8.)

k. Lest there should be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from the Lord our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; lest there should be among you a root that beareth gall and wormwood. (Dt. 29:18.)

l. And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death. (Ex. 19:12.)

m. And they said unto Moses, Speak thou with us, and we will hear: but let not God speak with us, lest we die. (Ex. 20:19.)

n. But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all. (Gal. 4:26.)

o. The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the holy place. (Ps. 68:17.) And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints. (Jude 14.)

p. Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect; but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. (Phil. 3:12.)

q. And Moses took the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning all these words. (Ex. 24:8.) Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied. (I Pet. 1:2.)

r. And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground. (Gen. 4:10.)

s. For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward; How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him? (Heb. 2:2, 3.)

t. And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly. (Ex. 19:18.)

u. For thus saith the Lord of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land. (Hag. 2:6.)

v. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure; yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed. (Ps. 102:26.) Heaven and earth shall pass way, but my words shall not pass away. (Mat. 24:35.)

Chapter 13.

a. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in. (Mat. 25:35.)

b. And said, My Lord, if now I have found favor in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant. (Gen. 18:3.)

c. Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me. (Mat. 25:36.)

d. And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of. (Gen. 28:15.)

e. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27:1.)

f. Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. (Jno. 8:58.) And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail. (Heb. 1:12.) John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne. (Rev. 1:4.)

g. Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar? (I Cor. 9:13.)

h. And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha. (Jno. 19:17.)

i. If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. (I Pet. 4:14.)

j. Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High. (Ps. 50:14.)

17 Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for [k]they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18 Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19 But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jē'şus, [l]that great shepherd of the sheep, [m]through the blood of the everlasting covenant, 21 Make you [5]perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is wellpleasing in his sight, through Jē'şus Chrīst; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

5. Symmetrical, complete; or join you to him in perfect harmony.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23 Know ye that our brother Tĭm'o-thў is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them, that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Ĭt'a-lў salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

k. Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. (Ez. 3:17.)

l. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young. (Is. 40:11.) And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. (Ez. 34:23.) I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. (Jno. 10:11.)

m. And, behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me. (Ez. 9:11.)

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JAMES

NOTE.—The Epistle of James, written about the year 61-62 A. D., while the author was at Jerusalem, on the general subject of Christian Ethics, was not addressed to anyone but was intended for general circulation. The author is called "James the Just," as he endeavored to present the Gospel so as not to disparage the law, which was so reverenced by the Jews. He was a brother of our Lord but was not thoroughly converted to Christ as the Messiah till after the crucifixion and resurrection.

CHAPTER 1.

1 We are to rejoice under the cross, 5 to ask patience of God, 13 and in our trials not to impute our weakness, or sins, unto him, 19 but rather to hearken to the word.

1 Jāmes, [a]a servant of God and of the Lord Jē'sus Chrīst, [b]to the twelve tribes which are [c]scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations;

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may [c]be [1]perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 [d]If any of you lack wisdom, [f]let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and [g]it shall be given him.

6 But [h]let him ask in [2]faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double [3]minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 Blessed [i]is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive [j]the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I [k]am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his [3]own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath [c]conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with [k]whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of [l]his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, [m]which is able to save your souls.

22 [7]But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For [n]if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But [o]whoso looketh into the perfect [8]law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth [9]not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and [10]undefiled before God and the Father is this, [p]To visit the fatherless

Ch. 1. A. D. 60.

1. That is, fully developed in all the attributes of a Christian character. It should be observed that James begins and ends his epistle with faith; in the middle he removes all hindrances to faith and reveals its true character.

2. Alluding to a man who asks or prays for a thing without belief, as his mind is running elsewhere and is not attune with his heart in its petitions to God.

3. That is, God never lays conditions upon or before a man which make it necessary for him to sin.

5. That is, the cause of sin is in ourselves—our evil inclinations entertained and developed until they become passions of lust, producing sin.

6. The will embracing lust brings forth the fruit of sin.

7. In vs. 22-27 we are told to be not only hearers but doers of the word.

8. The law of God, to which perfect obedience brings the greatest degree of liberty of conscience and of heart.

9. The tongue is here alluded to as the instrument or vocal organ of the heart, giving utterance to the heart's doings and desires.

10. Undefiled, the means of its purity.

Ref. James. Chapter 1.

a. But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother. (Gal. 1:19.)

b. Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. (Acts 26:7.)

c. And Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. (Acts 8:1.)

d. Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge this thy so great a people? (I Ks. 3:9.) Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding; If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures; Then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God. (Prov. 2:3-5.)

e. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. (Js. 3:2.) Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Mat. 5:48.) Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always laboring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God. (Col. 4:12.) And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly: and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5:23.)

f. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. (Jno. 15:7.)

g. Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. (Jer. 29:12.)

h. Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. (Mk. 11:24.) I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting. (I Tim. 2:8.)

i. And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him. (Heb. 12:5.) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. (Rev. 3:19.) And the priest of his sons that is anointed in his stead shall offer it: it is a statute for ever unto the Lord; it shall be wholly burnt. (Lev. 6:22.) But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled. (I Pet. 3:14.) If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. (I Pet. 4:14.)

j. Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. (Rev. 2:10.)

k. God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good? (Num. 23:19.) For I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed. (Mal. 3:6.)

l. Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. (Jno. 1:13.) For though ye have ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the Gospel. (I Cor. 4:15.) Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:23.)

m. Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent. (Acts 13:26.) For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. (Rom. 1:16.) By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. (I Cor. 15:2.) In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise. (Eph. 1:13.) For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.)

n. Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like. (Lu. 6:47.)

o. But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (II Cor. 3:18.)

p. And the Levite, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest. (Dt. 14:29.) If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail. (Job 31:16.) The Lord preserveth the strangers; he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down. (Ps. 146:9.) Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow (16, 17). Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them. (Is. 1:16, 17, 23.) and widows in their affliction, [q]and to keep himself unspotted [r]from the world.

CHAPTER 2.

1 We are not to regard the rich, and to despise the poor: 13 but rather to be loving, and merciful.

1 My brethren, have not the [1]faith of our Lord Jē'şus Chrĭst, [a]the Lord of glory, with [b]respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath [c]not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom [d]which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 [2]If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, [e]Thou shalt love [3]thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But if ye have respect [4]to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is [f]guilty of all.

11 For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.

14 [5]What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith [g]without works is dead?

21 [6]Was not Ā'brā-hăm our father justified by works, [h]when he had offered Ī'şaac his son upon the altar?

22 Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, [i]Ā'brā-hăm believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called [j]the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also [k]was not Rā'hăb the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER 3.

1 We are not rashly or arrogantly to reprove others: 5 but rather to bridle the tongue. 13 They who be truly wise be mild, and peaceable, without envying and strife.

1 My brethren, be not many masters, knowing [a]that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For [b]in many things we offend all. [c]If any man offend not in word, [d]the same is a [1]perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member,

Ch. 2. A. D. 60.

1. Which is the Christian's faith. St. James here founds Christian character on Christian faith.

2. In vs. 8-13 the author declares that, when we break the law in one point, we break the whole law, for by so doing we reject God, who is inseparably united with his law, therefore we reject or break the law.

3. That is, be no respecter of persons, but unselfishly desire the good of all.

4. If we have respect of persons, we violate the law to love all as ourselves.

5. In vs. 14-26 we are told that a workless faith is an unjustified faith.

6. That is, separate from work.

Ch. 3. A. D. 60.

1. A full grown, harmoniously proportioned man morally.

---

q. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. (Rom. 12:2.) Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God. (Js. 4:4.)

r. Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God. (Js. 4:4.) Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world. (Tit. 2:12.) Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust. (II Pet. 1:4.) For if, after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning. (II Pet. 2:20.) Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. (Eph. 2:2.) And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. (Mat. 12:32.) Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever. (I Jno. 2:15-17.)

a. And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran. (Acts 7:2.) Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. (I Cor. 2:8.) Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. (Phil. 2:9.)

b. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. (Lev. 19:15.) Ye shall not respect persons in judgment, but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God's: and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it. (Dt. 1:17.)

c. Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him? (Jno. 7:48.) For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called: But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:26, 27.)

d. I love them that love me; and those that seek me early shall find me. (Prov. 8:17.) Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 5:3.)

e. Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people; but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord. (Lev. 19:18.)

f. Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen. (Dt. 27:26.)

g. For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love. (Gal. 5:6.)

h. And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Abraham built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Isaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood. (Gen. 22:9.)

i. And he believed in the Lord; and he counted it to him for righteousness. (Gen. 15:6.)

j. But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend. (Is. 41:8.)

k. And Joshua the son of Nun sent out of Shittim two men to spy secretly, saying, Go view the land, even Jericho. And they went, and came into an harlot's house, named Rahab, and lodged there. (Josh. 2:1.)

Chapter 3.

a. Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not to be condemned: forgive and ye shall be forgiven. (Lu. 6:37.)

b. For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not. (Ecc. 7:20.)

c. For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. (I Pet. 3:10.)

d. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. (Mat. 12:37.)

and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 And the tongue is a [e]fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that [f]it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made [g]after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 [2]Who [h]is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have [i]bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 This [j]wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, [k]sensual, [l]devilish.

16 For [m]where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom that is from above is [3]first pure, then peaceable, [4]gentle, and easy to be [5]intreated, full of [6]mercy and good fruits, without partiality, [n]and without hypocrisy.

18 And [o]the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER 4.

1 We are to strive against covetousness, 4 intemperance, 5 pride, 11 destruction, and rash judgment of others: 13 be mindful ever of the uncertainty of this life, to commit ourselves and all our affairs to God's providence.

1 [1]From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?

2 Ye [2]lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye [a]ask not.

3 [b]Ye ask, and receive not, [c]because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that [d]the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever [e]therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, [f]The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?

6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, [g]God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. [h]Resist the devil, and he [3]will flee from you.

8 Draw [i]nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift [4]you up.

11 Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one lawgiver, [j]who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13 Go to now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17 Therefore [k]to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

---

2. In vs. 13-18 we are given the test of the perfect teacher.

3. Chaste, sanctified from all that is earthly, sensual.

4. Forbearing, leaning toward others.

5. Not harsh toward another's faults.

6. Toward a brother in trouble.

Ch. 4. A. D. 60.

1. In vs. 1-10 we are told whence come wars and public commotions, and also the remedy for them.

2. Desire, crave, seek, which is evil.

3. That is, temptation resisted falls back and comes again with ever decreasing force and strength until its final disappearance.

4. To pardon forgiveness, and holiness in him, and finally to heaven.

e. Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud. (Ps. 123:4.) An ungodly man diggeth up evil; and in his lips there is as a burning fire. (Prov. 16:27.) Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him. (Ecc. 8:3.)

f. There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. (Mk. 7:15.)

g. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. (Gen. 1:26.) For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man. (I Cor. 11:7.)

h. But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. (Gal. 6:4.)

i. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.)

j. Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. (Phil. 3:19.)

k. For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. (II Cor. 1:12.) These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit. (Jude 19.)

l. Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders. (II Thess. 2:9.) Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils. (I Tim. 4:1.) But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden. (Rev. 2:24.)

m. For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men? (I Cor. 3:3.)

n. Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. (Rom. 12:9.) Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently. (I Pet. 1:22.) My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed, and in truth. (I Jno. 3:18.)

o. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God. (Mat. 5:9.) Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God (Phil. 1:11.) The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward. (Prov. 11:18.) And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever. (Is. 32:17.) Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. (Hos. 10:12.) Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock. (Amos 6:12.) For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. (Gal. 6:8.)

Chapter 4.

a. The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts. (Ps. 10:4.)

b. Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him? (Job 27:9.) Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me. (Prov. 1:28.)

c. If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me. (Ps. 66:18.)

d. No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. (Mat. 6:24.)

e. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. (Jno. 15:19.) These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee. (Jno. 17:1.)

f. I will go down now, and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know. (Gen. 18:21.)

g. Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off. (Ps. 138:6.)

h. Neither give place to the devil. (Eph. 4:27.) Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. (I Pet. 5:8, 9.)

i. And he went out to meet Asa, and said unto him, Hear ye me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin; The Lord is with you, while ye be with him, and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you. (II Chr. 15:2.)

j. And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. (Mat. 10:28.)

k. And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not

CHAPTER 5.

1 Wicked rich men are to fear God's vengeance. 7 We ought to be patient in afflictions, after the example of the prophets, and Job: 12 to forbear swearing, 16 to pray one for another.

1 Go [1]to now, ye rich [2]men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are [3]corrupted, and your garments are motheaten.

3 Your gold and silver is [4]cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. [a]Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, [b]the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and [c]the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Săb'a-ŏth.

5 Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye have condemned and killed [d]the just; and he doth not resist you.

7 [5]Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive [e]the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for [f]the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge [g]standeth before the door.

10 Take, [h]my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them happy which [6]endure. Ye have heard of [i]the patience of Jōb, and have seen [j]the end of the Lord; [k]that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, [l]swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 [7]Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the [m]elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [n]anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of [8]faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; [o]and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual [p]fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 E-lī'as was a man subject to like passions as we are, and [q]he prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18 And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him;

20 Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and [r]shall hide a multitude of sins.

Ch. 5. A. D. 60.

1. Come now.

2. That is, those who have neglected the true enjoyment and purpose of riches -the power of doing good.

3. That is, destroyed of God, because of misuse.

4. Rusting through.

5. In vs. 7-11 the sufferings of the Christians is declared to point to the judgment day.

6. Held out faithful to the end.

7. In vs. 13-18 is the record of the prayer of faith.

8. The prayers upheld and borne aloft by faith such as described in v. 16.

---

himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. (Lu. 12:47.) If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloak for their sin. (Jno. 15:22.) For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. (Rom. 1:20.)

Chapter 5.

a. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God. (Rom. 2:5.)

b. Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbor, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. (Lev. 19:13.) They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaf from the hungry. (Job 24:10.) Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbor's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work. (Jer. 22:13.) And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 3:5.)

c. At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee. (Dt. 24:15.)

d. Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. (Heb. 10:38.) And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear? (I Pet. 4:18.)

e. That I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first rain, and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil. (Dt. 11:14.)

f. Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand. (Phil. 4:5.)

g. So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors. (Mat. 24:33.) There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another? (Js. 4:12.) For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. (II Cor. 4:5.) Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching. (Heb. 10:25.) Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead. (I Pet. 4:5.)

h. And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying. (Mat. 5:2.)

i. And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly. (Job 1:21, 22.)

j. And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before. (Job 42:10.)

k. The Lord is long-suffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation. (Num. 14:18.) For if ye turn again unto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that lead them captive, so that they shall come again into this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him. (II Chr. 30:9.)

l. But I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is God's throne. (Mat. 5:34.)

m. Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. (I Tim. 5:17.)

n. And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them. (Mk. 6:13.)

o. And the inhabitants shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity. (Is. 33:24.) And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus, seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee. (Mat. 9:2.)

p. So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maid-servants; and they bare children. (Gen. 20:17.) And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched. (Num. 11:2.) And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Entreat now the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before. (I Ks. 13:6.)

q. And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word. (I Ks. 17:1.)

r. Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. (Ps. 32:1.)

PETER

NOTE.—The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter was written in the year 65 A. D., from Babylon, in Chaldea, and addressed to the Christians of Asia Minor. The general purpose was to give counsel to persecuted Christians and prepare them for any trial or ordeal which might be put upon them.

CHAPTER 1.

1 He blesseth God for his manifold spiritual graces: 13 and exhorteth them to a godly conversation, forasmuch as they are born anew by the word of God.

1 Pē'tēr, an apostle of Jē'şus Chrīst, to the strangers [a]scattered throughout Pŏn'tus, Ga-lā'tiȧ, Căp-pa-dō'çi-ȧ, Ā'şiȧ, and Bi-thўn'ī-ȧ,

2 Elect [b]according to the [1]foreknowledge of God the Father, through [c]sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling [d]of the blood of Jē'şus Chrīst: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst, which according to his abundant mercy hath [e]begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jē'şus Chrīst from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,

5 Who [f]are kept by the power of God through [2]faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last [3]time.

6 Wherein [g]ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it [h]be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jē'şus Chrīst:

8 Whom [i]having not seen, ye love; [j]in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 [4]Of [k]which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time [l]the Spirit of Chrīst which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand [m]the sufferings of Chrīst, and the glory that should follow.

12 Unto [n]whom it was revealed, that not unto [o]themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Hō'lў Ghōst sent down from heaven; [p]which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird up the [5]loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jē'şus Chrīst;

14 [6]As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, [q]Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17 [7]And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your [r]sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received [8]by tradition from your fathers;

19 But with the precious blood of Chrīst, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 Who verily was [8]foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you,

21 Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 [9]Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love [t]of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER 2.

He dehorteth them from the breach of charity.

1 [1]Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As newborn babes, desire the sincere [a]milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

Ch. 1. A. D. 60.

1. To [1]know beforehand as a thought before.

2. As the instrument on the part of man through which he lays hold upon the Holy Spirit.

3. The day of judgment.

4. In vs. 10-12 is the account of the ancient prophet's predictions of Christ.

5. Alluding to the manner in which the Israelites ate the passover—with their outer robes girded ready to start on their journey.

6. In vs. 14-16 all Christians are exhorted to be obedient after the example of Christ.

7. In vs. 17-21 the church is exhorted to fear of sin because of the judgment.

8. Foreknown; i. e., from the foundation of the world it was the purpose of God to save man through the voluntary sacrifice of Christ.

9. In vs. 22-25 all people are commanded to love one another.

Ch. 2. A. D. 60.

1. In vs. 1-8 all men are exhorted to continual growth in spiritual life.

Ref. I Peter. Chapter 1.

a. Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? (Jno. 7:35.)

b. For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren. (Rom. 8:29.)

c. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth. (II Thess. 2:13.)

d. And to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. (Heb. 12:24.)

e. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. (Js. 1:18.)

f. And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand. (Jno. 10:28.)

g. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. (Rom. 12:12.)

h. For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried. (Ps. 66:10.)

i. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? (I Jno. 4:20.)

j. Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. (Jno. 20:29.)

k. And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. (Dan. 2:44.) And I will shake all nations, and the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. (Hag. 2:7.)

l. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:9.)

m. But am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people. (Ps. 22:6.)

n. And he said, Go thy way, Daniel; for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end. (Dan. 12:9.)

o. And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise. (Heb. 11:39.)

p. And the cherubim shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercyseat with their wings, and their faces shall look one to another; toward the mercyseat shall the faces of the cherubim be. (Ex. 25:20.) Then I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? (Dan. 8:13.)

q. For I am the Lord your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. (Lev. 11:44.)

r. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. (Heb. 11:13.)

s. But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols. (Ez. 20:18.)

t. Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake. (Jno. 13:24.) Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. (Rom. 12:10.) Let brotherly love continue. (Heb. 13:1.) Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king. (I Pet. 2:17.)

Chapter 2.

a. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to hear it, neither yet now are ye able. (I Cor. 3:2.) And 3 If so be ye have [b]tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye [c]also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, [d]an holy priesthood, to offer up [e]spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jē'sus Chrīst.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, [f]Behold, I lay in Sī'ŏn a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, [g]the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: [h]whereunto also they were appointed.

9 But ye are [i]a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, [j]an holy nation, [k]a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

10 Which [l]in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from [2]fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

12 Having your conversation honest among the Gĕn'tīles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God [m]in the day of visitation.

13 Submit yourselves to every [3]ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 As free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17 Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18 [4]Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19 For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

21 For even hereunto were ye called: because Chrīst also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

22 Who [n]did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23 Who, [o]when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24 Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For [p]ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

2. Sensual, licentious desires of the flesh.

3. Human institutions of government.

4. In vs. 18-25 man is exhorted to patience under ill treatment.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands to each other. 19 He declareth also the benefits of Christ toward the old world.

Ch. 3. A. D. 60.

1 [1]Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they [a]also may without the word be [b]won by the conversation of the wives;

2 While they behold your [2]chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 Whose [c]adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4 But let it be [d]the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6 Even as Sā'rà obeyed Ā'brā-hăm, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; [e]that your prayers be not hindered.

8 [3]Finally, be ye all of one mind, having

1. In ch. 3 Peter discusses the relative duties of husband and wife to each other and exhorts all people to continual love and forbearance. Right conduct under persecution for righteousness' sake is founded upon the example of Christ—the pattern for all Christians.

2. Pure, spotless, free from adulteration or impurity.

3. In vs. 8-11 are general or miscellaneous counsels.

said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 18:3.) But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for of such is the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 19:14.) Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. (Mk. 10:15.) Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein. (Lu. 18:17.)

b. O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him. (Ps. 34:8.)

c. In whom all the building, fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord. (Eph. 2:21.)

d. I will also take of them for priests, and for Levites, saith the Lord. (Is. 66:21.) And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father. (Rev. 1:6.)

e. Take with you words, and turn to the Lord: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our lips. (Hos. 14:2.) From the rising of the sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering. (Mal. 1:11.)

f. Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. (Is. 28:16.)

g. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes? (Mat. 21:42.)

h. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction? (Rom. 9:22.)

i. Only the Lord had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day. (Dt. 10:15.)

j. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. (Jno. 17:19.)

k. For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth. (Dt. 7:6.)

l. I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God. (Hos. 2:23.)

m. They shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation. (Lu. 19:44.)

n. Which of you convinceth me of sin? (Jno. 8:46.) And he made his grave with the wicked and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. (Is. 53:9.)

o. He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. (Is. 53:7.)

p. I have gone astray like a lost sheep. (Ps. 119:176.) My people hath been lost sheep; their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting-place. (Jer. 50:6.)

Chapter 3.

a. For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? Or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife? (I Cor. 7:16.)

b. Moreover, if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. (Mat. 18:15.)

c. In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shame-facedness and sobriety; not with broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array; But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works. (I Tim. 2:9, 10.)

d. The king's daughter is all glorious within; her clothing is of wrought gold. (Ps. 45:13.) He is a Jew which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. (Rom. 2:29.)

e. Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. (Mat. 5:23, 24.)

compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9 Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, [f]that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For [g]he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11 Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, [h]and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13 And [i]who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 But [j]and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and [k]be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15 But [l]sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and [l]be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:

16 Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Chrīst.

17 [5]For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

18 For Chrīst also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death [m]in the flesh, but [n]quickened by the Spirit:

19 [o]By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in [p]prison;

20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Nō'ah, while the ark was [q]a preparing, [r]wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 The [s]like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jē'sus Chrīst:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is [t]on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4. Enthrone him in the heart.

5. In vs. 17-22, the manner and spirit of our sufferings illustrated by Christ.

Ch. 4. A. D. 60.

1. In ch. 4 all believers are exhorted to follow the pattern of Christ and henceforth have nothing more to do with sin; with watchful prayerfulness to cultivate self-restraint, charity, hospitality and scriptural speech.

CHAPTER 4.

1 He exhorteth them to cease from sin by the example of Christ, and the consideration of the general end that now approacheth.

1 Forasmuch [1]then as Chrīst hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he [a]that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2 That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3 For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gĕn'tīleş, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready [b]to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 [2]But [c]the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for [d]charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 Use hospitality one to another without [e]grudging.

10 As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If [f]any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that [g]God in all things may be glorified through Jē'sus Chrīst, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 But rejoice, inasmuch as [h]ye are partakers of Chrīst's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If [i]ye be reproached for the name of Chrīst, happy are ye; for the [j]spirit of glory

f. Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. (Mat. 25:34.)

g. What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good? (Ps. 34:12.)

h. Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. (Jno. 9:31.)

i. When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7.) And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. (Rom. 8:28.)

j. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. (Mat. 5:10.)

k. Neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid. Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. (Is. 8:12,13.) Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord. (Jer. 1:8.) Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. (Jno. 14:1.)

l. I will speak of thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed. (Ps. 119:46.) Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man. (Col. 4:6.)

m. And you, that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled In the body of his flesh through death, to present you wholly and unblameable and unreproveable in his sight. (Col. 1:21, 22.)

n. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you. (Rom. 8:11.)

o. The Lord said, My Spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years. (Gen. 6:3.) For, for this cause was the Gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit. (I Pet. 4:6.)

p. [I will] give thee for a covenant to the people, for a light of the Gentiles; To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. (Is. 42:6, 7.) The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound. (Is. 61:1.)

q. By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house. (Heb. 11:7.)

r. And spared not the old world, but saved Noah, the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly. (II Pet. 2:5.)

s. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.)

t. The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy foostool. (Ps. 110:1.) Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. (Rom. 8:34.)

Chapter 4.

a. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. (Col. 3:5.)

b. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. (Acts 10:42.)

c. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. (Mat. 24:13.) The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. (Rom. 13:12.) Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand. (Phil. 4:5.) Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts; for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. (Js. 5:8.)

d. Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love covereth all sins. (Prov. 10:12.) [Charity] Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. (I Cor. 13:7.)

e. Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. (II Cor. 9:7.)

f. But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings. (Jer. 23:22.)

g. Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Eph. 5:20.)

h. If so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Rom. 8:17.) And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation. (II Cor. 1:7.)

i. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. (Mat. 5:11.)

j. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. (Mat. 10:20.)

and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Chrĭs'tian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come [k]that judgment must begin at the house of [3]God: and if it first begin at us, what [l]shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 And if [m]the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER 5.

1 He exhorteth the elders to feed their flocks, 5 the younger to obey, 8 and all to be sober, watchful, and constant in the faith.

1 The elders which are among you I exhort, who am [a]also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Chrĭst, [b]and also [c]a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 Feed [d]the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy [1]lucre, [2]but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as [e]being lords [f]over God's heritage, but being [2]ensamples to the flock.

3. That is, discipline, retribution and punishment. God will begin with his own people and if they escape not, how shall the sinner hope to escape?

Ch. 5. A. D. 60.

1. For wages.

2. Example.

3. Jesus Christ.

4. Watchful, wisely conservative.

5. Wide awake, alert, ready for the occasion.

6. Firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of Jesus Christ, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

4 And when [g]the chief [3]Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth [h]grace to the humble.

6 Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 Casting [i]all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 Be [4]sober, be [5]vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 Whom resist stedfast in the [6]faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Chrĭst Jē'sus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By [j]Sĭl-vā'nus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 The church that is at Băb'y-lon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Mär'cus my son.

14 Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Chrĭst Jē'sus. Amen.

---

k. For, lo, I begin to bring evil on the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? (Jer. 25:29.) Slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. (Ez. 9:6.)

l. But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city. (Lu. 10:12.)

m. Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner. (Prov. 11:31.)

Chapter 5.

a. Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ. (Philemon 9.)

b. And ye are witnesses of these things. (Lu. 24:48.) And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree. (Acts 10:39.)

c. If children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. (Rom. 8:17, 18.)

d. So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. (Jno. 21:15.)

e. The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them. (Ez. 34:4.) Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand. (II Cor. 1:24.)

f. Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old; the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed. (Ps. 74:2.)

g. Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, Make you perfect. (Heb. 13:20, 21.)

h. For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. (Is. 66:2.)

i. Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass. (Ps. 37:5.)

j. The Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus. (II Cor. 1:19.)

PETER

NOTE.—The Apostle Peter's second letter, written during the year 68 A. D., and addressed to Christians in general, contains Peter's farewell exhortations, urging the people to guard themselves against the influence of false teachers and to continue to grow in the experimental "knowledge of our Lord and Saviour."

CHAPTER 1.

1 Confirming them in hope of the increase of God's graces, 5 he exhorteth them, by faith, and good works, to make their calling sure: 16 and warneth them to be constant in the faith of Christ.

1 Sī'mon [1]Pē'tēr, a servant and an apostle of Jē'ṣus Chrīst, to them that have obtained [a]like precious faith with us through the righteousness [b]of God and our Saviour Jē'ṣus Chrīst:

2 Grace [2]and [3]peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jē'ṣus our Lord,

3 [4]According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the [c]knowledge of him that [d]hath called us to glory and virtue:

4 Whereby [e]are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be [f]partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And [5]beside this, giving all diligence, add to your [6]faith [7]virtue; and [g]to virtue knowledge;

6 And to knowledge [8]temperance; and [9]to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;

7 And to godliness [10]brotherly kindness; and [h]to brotherly kindness charity.

8 [11]For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

9 But he that lacketh these things [i]is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was [j]purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give [k]diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For [l]so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

Ch. 1. A. D. 66.

1. In ch. 1 the apostle exhorts all people to cultivate the Christian graces, as God has given us the knowledge in Christ.

2. The first blessing to be received.

3. The fruit or result of grace.

4. In vs. 3-9 the apostle declares that the promises of God call for the culture of Christian graces upon the part of man.

5. That is, for the very reason expressed in vs. 3 and 4.

6. It should be observed that in speaking of the Christian virtues, as given in vs. 5-7, the apostle puts faith first, as that which precedes all the others, and has love as the closing or final attribute which has been developed.

7. Moral excellence.

8. Self-control.

9. To self-control and patient endurance.

10. That is, do not allow your godliness to degenerate into moroseness, but to it add brotherly kindness.

11. Love to all mankind.

12. Mt. Hermon.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our [m]Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst hath shewed me.

15 Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This [n]is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in [o]the [12]holy mount.

19 We have also a more [p]sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the [q]day star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 For [r]the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but [s]holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Hō'lў Ghōst.

CHAPTER 2.

He foretelleth of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment both of them and their followers.

1 But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious

Ref. II Peter. Chapter 1.

a. Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, what was I, that I could withstand God? (Acts 11:17.) One Lord, one faith, one baptism. (Eph. 4:5.)

b. Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. (Tit. 2:13.)

c. This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.)

d. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory. (I Thess. 2:12.) Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 2:14.) Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. (II Tim. 1:9.)

e. Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7:1.)

f. We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (II Cor. 3:18.) Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ (13). And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. (Eph. 4:13, 24.) For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. (Heb. 12:10.) Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.) And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment. (Phil. 1:9.)

h. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6:10.)

i. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now (9). But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes. (I Jno. 2:9, 11.)

j. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. (Eph. 5:26.)

k. Hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him. (I Jno. 3:19.)

l. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. (II Tim. 4:8.)

m. When thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. (Jno. 21:18, 19.)

n. And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mat. 3:17.)

o. Draw not nigh hither: put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. (Ex. 3:5.) And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. (Mat. 17:6.)

q. In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them (4). For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. (II Cor. 4:4, 6.) I will give him the morning star. (Rev. 2:28.)

r. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. (II Tim. 3:16.) Searching what, or what manner of time, the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow. (I Pet. 1:11.)

s. The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his word was in my tongue. (II Sam. 23:2.) As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began. (Lu. 1:70.)

ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And through covetousness shall they [1]with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 [2]For if God spared not [3]the [a]angels that sinned, but [b]cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Nō'ah the [c]eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And [d]turning the cities of Sŏd'om and Gomŏr'rhā into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an [e]ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And delivered just Lŏt, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)

9 The [f]Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas [g]angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12 But [4]these, as [h]natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

13 [5]And [i]shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to [j]riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they [k]feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of [l]Bā'-laam the son of Bō'sŏr, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were [m]clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 [n]While they promise [n]them liberty, they themselves are [o]the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For [p]if after they have escaped the polultions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jē'sus Chrīst, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

Ch. 2. A. D. 66.

1. Crafty, hidden and misleading.

2. In vs. 4-12 the punishment of false teachers is proven by three facts of history.

3. In the 6th ch. of Jude, we are told that by sin the angels fell from heaven. If they escape not, why need unrepentant man have hope?

4. That is, false teachers.

5. In vs. 13-18 is expressed the viciousness of false teachers.

6. In vs. 19-22 is given the measure of their corruption.

CHAPTER 3.

1 He assureth them of the certainty of Christ's coming to judgment: 8 warning the godly to hasten their repentance.

1 [1]This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which [a]I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, [b]and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 Knowing [c]this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, [d]Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of,

Ch. 3. A. D. 66.

1. In vs. 1-13 the apostle declares that the church will commit a fatal error by expecting the immediate coming of Christ.

Chapter 2.

a. His angels he charged with folly. (Job 4:18.) And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day. (Jude 6.)

d. And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep. (Lu. 8:31.) And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years, And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him. (Rev. 20:2, 3.)

c. And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark: for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation. (Gen. 7:1.)

d. Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven. (Gen. 19:24.)

e. Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire. (Jude 7.) Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. (Mat. 10:15.) And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. (Mat. 11:23.) And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha. (Rom. 9:29.)

f. The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles. (Ps. 34:17.)

g. Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. (Jude 9.)

h. Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter. (Jer. 12:3.)

i. Whose end is destruction, whose god is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. (Phil. 3:19.)

j. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. (Rom. 13:13.)

k. When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper. For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken. (I Cor. 11:20, 21.)

l. Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core. (Jude 11.) But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. (Rev. 2:14.)

m. Save yourselves from this untoward generation. (Acts 2:40.)

n. For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. (Gal. 5:13.)

o. Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin. (Jno. 8:34.)

p. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. (Mat. 12:45.) For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. (Heb. 10:26, 27.)

Chapter 3.

a. Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance. (II Pet. 1:13.)

b. Beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Jude 17.)

c. Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils. (I Tim. 4:1.)

d. Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now. (Jer. 17:15.) That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it! (Is. 5:19.) Which say, It is not near; let us build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh. (Ez. 11:3.) Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? (22). Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off. (Ez. 12:22, 27.) Ye have wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment? (Mal. 2:17.) But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming. (Mat. 24:48.)

that [c]by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6 Whereby [f]the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved [g]unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord is not [2]slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but [h]is longsuffering to us-ward, [i]not willing that any should perish, but [j]that all should come to repentance.

10 But [k]the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which [3]the [l]heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be [4]burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, 12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens [5]being on fire shall [m]be dissolved, and the elements shall [n]melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for [o]new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that [p]the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, speaking in [q]them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, [r]beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jē'sus Chrīst. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

2. Slow, dilatory, or behind time.

3. The visible or ethereal heaven.

4. The symbol or image of divine wrath exercised in penalty.

5. The visible heavens or ethereal element.

e. By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the hosts of them by the breath of his mouth. (Ps. 33:6.)

f. The same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened. (Gen. 7:11.)

g. In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (II Thess. 1:8.) For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. (Is. 66:15.) I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire. (Dan. 7:9.) For our God is a consuming fire. (Heb. 12:29.)

h. And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you; and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the Lord is a God of judgment: blessed are all they that wait for him. (Is. 30:18.)

i. Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God; and not that he should return from his ways, and live? (Ez. 18:23.)

j. Despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (Rom. 2:4.) Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. (I Tim. 2:4.)

k. But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up. (Mat. 24:43.)

l. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. (Mat. 24:35.)

m. Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him. (Ps. 50:3.) And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll. (Is. 34:4.)

n. And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down a steep place. (Mic. 1:4.)

o. For, behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. (Is. 65:17.) For as the new heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain. (Is. 66:22.)

p. Despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (Rom. 2:4.)

q. The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God. (Rom. 8:19.)

r. That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive. (Eph. 4:14.)

JOHN

NOTE.—The First Epistle of John was written in the year 85 A. D., from Ephesus in Asia Minor, and was addressed to all Christians. Its general purpose or subject is an exhortation to fellowship with God, or to walk in the light as he is in the light.

CHAPTER 1.

He describeth the person of Christ, in whom we have eternal life, by a communion with God.

1 That [1]which [a]was from the beginning, which [2]we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which [b]we have looked upon, and [c]our hands [3]have handled, [d]of the Word of life;

2 (For [e]the life was [f]manifested, and we have seen it, [g]and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

3 That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our [h]fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jē'şus Chrīst.

4 And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5 [4]This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God [i]is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jē'şus Chrīst his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and [j]the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess [5]our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have [k]not sinned, we make [6]him a liar, and his word [7]is not in us.

CHAPTER 2.

1 He comforteth them against the sins of infirmity. 3 Rightly to know God is to keep his commandments.

1 My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, [a]we have an advocate with the Father, Jē'şus Chrīst the righteous:

2 And [b]he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but [c]also for the sins of the whole world.

3 [1]And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoso [d]keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He [e]that saith he abideth in him ought himself [f]also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, [g]I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which [h]ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, [i]a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and [j]the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and [k]walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because [l]your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because [m]ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 [2]Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

Ch. 1. A. D. 90.

1. In ch. 1, the author describes the person of Christ, feeling that he has the authority to do so, having seen, heard and touched him. If we would have fellowship with him, we must walk in the light as it is in Christ Jesus.

2. The apostles.

3. Alluding to Christ's speaking to Thomas, telling him to reach forth his hand and thrust it into his side.

4. In vs. 5-10, the apostle gives a brief summary of the whole epistle.

5. If, with a sincere and contrite heart, we confess our sins, he will be true to his promise and forgive us.

6. By denying his word that all men are sinners.

7. Therefore, his word, which is truth, is not in us if we are false.

Ch. 2. A. D. 90.

1. In vs. 3-14 the apostle declares that if we make claim to purity of heart we must abstain from all sin, as Christ our example.

2. In vs. 15-17 we are commanded not to confer our love upon a world of impure conditions.

Ref. I John. Chapter 1.

a. But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. (Mic. 5:2.) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

b. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. (Jno. 1:14.)

c. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. (Lu. 24:39.)

d. And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God. (Rev. 19:13.)

e. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. (Jno. 1:4.)

f. And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory. (I Tim. 3:16.) And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin. (I Jno. 3:5.)

g. This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true. (Jno. 21:24.)

h. That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. (Jno. 17:21.)

i. Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (Jno. 8:12.)

j. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? (II Cor. 6:14.) For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light. (Eph. 5:8.)

k. Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin? (Prov. 20:9.) As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one. (Rom. 3:10.) For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body. (Js. 3:2.)

Chapter 2.

a. For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the truth; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us. (Heb. 9:24.)

b. Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God. (Rom. 3:25.)

c. The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! (Jno. 1:29.)

d. If ye love me, keep my commandments. (Jno. 14:15.) No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. (I Jno. 4:12.)

e. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. (Jno. 15:4.)

f. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. (Mat. 11:29.)

g. And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. (II Jno. 5.)

h. For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. (I Jno. 3:11.)

i. A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.)

j. That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. (Jno. 1:9.)

k. Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. (Jno. 12:35.)

l. Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. (Acts 4:12.)

m. Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. (Eph. 6:10.)

16 For all that is in the world, the [3]lust of the flesh, [n]and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, [o]it is the last time: and as ye have heard [p]that antichrist shall come, [q]even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [r]if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that [s]they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 But [t]ye have an unction from the [4]Holy One, and [u]ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jē'şus is the Chrīst? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] [v]he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which [w]ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, [x]ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And [y]this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

27 But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and [z]ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing [aa]teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him; that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

3. A desire for evil things.

4. In vs. 20-29 we are told that the power of Christ will preserve us if we will unite ourselves with it.

Ch. 3. A. D. 90.

1. God the Father has manifested the character of his love for us by conferring upon us the title of sons.

2. A positive, emphatic statement of our relation with the Father.

3. As yet it but dimly appears what we shall be, only that we shall be like him.

4. We shall be like him, for, beholding him, we shall reflect his glory, as the moon, facing the sun, reflects the light of the sun.

5. In vs. 11-18 we are told that the state of our purity is made manifest by our love to our brother.

29 If ye [bb]know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER 3.

He declareth the singular love of God towards us.

1 Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that [a]we should be called the [1]sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, [b]because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now [2]are we the sons of God, and [c]it doth not yet appear what we [3]shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, [d]we shall be like him; [e]for [4]we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he was manifested [f]to take away our sins; and [g]in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you: he [h]that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He [i]that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, [j]that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever is [k]born of God doth not commit sin; for [l]his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 [5]For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12 Not as [m]Cāin, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? [n]Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

n. When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes? (Ecc. 5:11.)

o. Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds. (Heb. 1:2.)

p. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition. (II Thess. 2:3.)

q. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many. (Mat. 24:5.)

r. Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. (II Tim. 2:19.)

s. For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. (I Cor. 11:19.)

t. For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring. (Is. 44:3.)

u. And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. (Jno. 10:4, 5.) Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. (Jno. 16:13.) Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the Lord understand all things. (Prov. 28:5.) He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. (Mat. 13:11.) But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man. (I Cor. 2:15.)

v. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. (Jno. 14:7.)

w. And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it. (II Jno. 6.)

x. Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. (Jno. 14:23.)

y. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.)

z. For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people: And they shall not teach every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest. (Heb. 8:10, 11.)

aa. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. (Jno. 14:26.) Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. (I Cor. 2:12.) But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another. (I Thess. 4:9.)

bb. And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth. (Acts 22:14.)

Chapter 3.

a. But as many as receive him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.)

b. If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. (Jno. 15:18.) O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. (Jno. 17:25.)

c. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. (I Cor. 2:9.)

d. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness. (Ps. 17:15.)

e. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. (I Cor. 13:12.)

f. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. (Is. 53:5.) So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:28.)

g. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. (II Cor. 5:21.)

h. (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.) (Rom. 2:13.)

i. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. (Jno. 8:44.)

j. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.) And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.)

k. We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not. (I Jno. 5:18.)

l. Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:23.)

m. And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fatlings thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering. (Gen. 4:4.)

n. They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries; because I follow the thing that good is. (Ps. 38:20.) The blood-thirsty hate the 13 Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.
15 Whosoever [o]hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that [p]no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.
16 Hereby [q]perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.
17 But [r]whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?
18 My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.
19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.
20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Beloved, [s]if our heart condemn us not, [t]then have we confidence toward God.
22 And [u]whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do [v]those things that are pleasing in his sight.
23 And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jē'sus Chrīst, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.
24 And he that keepeth his commandments [w]dwelleth in him, and he in him. And [x]hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER 4.

He warneth them not to believe all teachers, who boast of the Spirit, but to try them.

1 Beloved, [1]believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.
2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: [a]Every spirit that confesseth that Jē'sus Chrīst is come in the flesh is of God:
3 And [b]every spirit that confesseth not that Jē'sus Chrīst is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

Ch. 4. A. D. 90.

1. In ch. 4, the apostle tells us that the test of false prophets is that they have not the love of God in their hearts, neither do they reveal evidence of such love toward man.

2. In vs. 7-21 the apostle declares the one test of the truth of our religion to be love.

3. With that love which seeks and desires the highest good and happiness of every one.

4. That is, our love is made bold by our assurance that the great Judge is our friend and that his desire is to express love and not condemnation toward us.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he [c]that is in the world.
5 They [d]are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and [e]the world heareth them.
6 We are of God: [f]he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we [g]the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
7 [2]Beloved, let us love [3]one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for [h]God is love.
9 In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
10 Herein is love, [i]not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.
11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.
12 No [j]man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.
13 Hereby [k]know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
14 And [l]we have seen and do testify that the [m]Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.
15 Whosoever [n]shall confess that Jē'sus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.
17 Herein is our love [4]made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: [o]because as he is, so are we in this world.
18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.
19 We love him, because he first loved us.
20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his upright: but the just seek his soul. (Prov. 29:10.) But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham. Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. (Jno. 8:40, 41.)

o. Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca! shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool! shall be in danger of hell fire. (Mat. 5:21, 22.)

p. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind. (I Cor. 6:9.)

q. But God commandeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. (Rom. 5:8.)

r. If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother. (Dt. 15:7.)

s. For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God. (Job 22:26.)

t. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water. (Heb. 10:22.)

u. The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. (Ps. 34:15.) And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. (Mat. 21:22.) For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God. (Job 22:26.) Ask, and it shall be given; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. (Mat. 7:7.) Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. (Jno. 9:31.)

v. And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him. (Jno. 8:29.)

w. That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. (Jno. 17:21.)

x. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. (Rom. 8:9.) Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. (Jno. 14:17.) Let not then your good be evil spoken of. (Rom. 14:16.) He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit. (I Thess. 4:8.)

Chapter 4.

a. Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. (I Cor. 12:3.)

b. For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist. (II Jno. 7.)

c. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. (Jno. 12:31.)

d. He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. (Jno. 3:31.)

e. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. (Jno. 15:19.)

f. He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God. (Jno. 8:47.)

g. Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. (Jno. 14:17.)

h. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. (Mic. 7:18.)

i. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. (Jno. 15:16.)

j. No man hath seen God at any time: the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. (Jno. 1:18.)

k. At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. (Jno. 14:20.)

l. (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us.) (I Jno. 1:2.)

m. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. (Jno. 3:17.)

n. That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. (Rom. 10:9.)

o. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure. (I Jno. 3:3.)

brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21 And this commandment [p]have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER 5.

He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments. 9 Jesus the Son of God, able to save us.

1 [1]Whosoever [a]believeth that Jē'şus is the Chrīst is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 For this is the love of God, that we keep [b]his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

4 For [c]whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but [d]he that believeth that Jē'şus is the Son of God?

6 This is [2]he that came [e]by water and blood, even Jē'şus Chrīst; not by water only, but by water and blood. And [f]it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For [g]there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the [h]Word, and the Hō'lў Ghōst: and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive [i]the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God hath [j]the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath [k]made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of the Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

12 He [l]that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

13 These [m]things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know [n]that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and [o]he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: [p]I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18 [3]We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the [q]whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and [r]hath given us an understanding, [s]that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jē'şus Chrīst. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21 Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

Ch. 5. A. D. 90.

1. In vs. 1-5 we are given the effects and victory of love.

2. Jesus.

3. Six times in this short epistle John has declared "We know." There is no guess connected with his religion—it is a positive, asserted fact.

---

p. Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy. (Mat. 5:43.) Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. (Mat. 22:37.) A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.)

Chapter 5.

a. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. (Jno. 1:12.)

b. He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? (Mic. 6:8.) For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (Mat. 11:30.)

c. These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world. (Jno. 16:33.)

d. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Cor. 15:57.)

e. But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water. (Jno. 19:34.)

f. And when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. (Jno. 15:26.)

g. Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord God, and his Spirit, hath sent me. (Is. 48:16.)

h. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.)

i. It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. (Jno. 8:17.)

j. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God. (Rom. 8:16.) And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. (Gal. 4:6.)

k. He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true. (Jno. 3:33.)

l. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life. (Jno. 5:24.)

m. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name. (Jno. 20:31.)

n. That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life; (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us.) (I Jno. 1:1, 2.)

o. Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept; lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job. (Job 42:8.)

p. Then said the Lord unto me, Pray not for this people for their good. (Jer. 14:11.) I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. (Jno. 17:9.)

q. Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. (Gal. 1:4.)

r. Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! (Lu. 24:25.)

s. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Jno. 17:3.)

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF

JOHN

NOTE.—This Second Epistle of John seems to have been written to a Christian lady who was matron in a church in Asia Minor. There were numbers of false, irreligious, dangerous emissaries of licentious religionisms which the apostle brands as anti-Christ and against whom he feels this Christian lady should be warned, that she might not take them in her house for fear she would become involved in a supposed sympathy with their heresies and immoralities. Some authorities maintain that the Greek word "kyria," signifying lady, does not apply to a particular lady, but to the church in general; but for the apostle to address a letter to the church, including the pastor, official members and people as a lady is, in the minds of many authorities, a supposition too ludicrous to receive serious consideration.

He exhorteth a certain honourable matron, with her children, to persevere in Christian love and belief.

1 [1]The elder unto the elect [2]lady and her children, [a]whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known [b]the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3 [3]Grace be with you, [4]mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jē'-şus Chrīst, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children [c]walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, [2]lady, not [d]as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, [e]that we love one another.

6 And [f]this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This [5]is the commandment, That, [g]as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 [6]For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jē'şus Chrīst is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Chrīst, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Chrīst, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, [h]neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed is [i]partaker of his evil deeds.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

13 The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

A. D. 90.

1. The second epistle of John was written about the year 90 A. D. from Ephesus and addressed to a Christian woman supposed to typify the church. The purpose of the letter was an exhortation to Christian love.

2. Typifying the church.

3. Grace to cover the sins of man.

4. In love and not retributive justice.

5. That is, love.

6. In vs. 7-11 the apostle declares the purpose of his letter, that is, to warn the church against deceivers who are trying to work themselves into favor with the Christians.

Ref. II John.

a. My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed, and in truth. (I Jno. 3:18.)

b. And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (Jno. 8:32.) Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. (I Tim. 2:4.)

c. For I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth. (III Jno. 3.)

d. Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning. (I Jno. 2:7.)

e. This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. (Jno. 15:12.)

f. If ye love me, keep my commandments. (Jno. 14:15.) For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous. (I Jno. 5:3.)

g. Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. (I Jno. 2:24.)

h. But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolator, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat. (I Cor. 5:11.) But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. (Gal. 1:8.) A man that is an heretic after the first and second admonition reject. (Tit. 3:10.)

i. Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. (I Tim. 5:22.)

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF

JOHN

NOTE.—From this Epistle it would seem that John had sent forth a number of missionaries from Ephesus, bearing with them a letter from himself, addressed to the church, recommending aid in the mission work. But they were rejected by one of the pastors of Pergamos, viz., Diotrephes, but were entertained and given aid by a prosperous Christian layman Gaius. Upon their return they made a public report praising the pious liberality of Gaius. When going forth on their second journey the apostle sends by them this letter of thanks and gratitude for the past and counsel for what is before.

1 He commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality 7 to true preachers: 12 and giveth special testimony to the good report of Demetrius.

1 The [1]elder unto the [a]wellbeloved Gā'ius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as [b]thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that my [c]children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest [d]faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, [e]taking nothing of the Gĕn'tīleṣ.

A. D. 90.

1. The third epistle of John was written about the year 90 A. D. from Ephesus commending works of usefulness. The apostle declares hospitality is the fruit of love, and that love is the truth; therefore those who love according to Christ, live according to the light of his truth.

2. Will bring to mind.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Di-ot'rephēṣ, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will [2]remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11 Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. [f]He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 De-mē'trĭ-us hath good report of all men, and [g]of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; [h]and ye know that our record is true.

13 [i]I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

Ref. III John.

a. And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre. (Acts 19:29.)

b. I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father. (II Jno. 4.)

c. For though ye have ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the Gospel. (I Cor. 4:15.)

d. And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? (Lu. 12:42.)

e. Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely? (II Cor. 11:7.)

f. If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him. (I Jno. 2:29.) Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him (6). Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God. (I Jno. 3:6, 9.)

g. That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing. (I Thess. 4:12.) Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and a snare of the devil. (I Tim. 3:7.)

h. This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true. (Jno. 21:24.)

i. Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full. (II Jno. 12.)

JUDE

NOTE.—Concerning Jude, the author of this Epistle, there is but little recorded history. He calls himself "the brother of James." James was the brother of Jesus, therefore we know there are two epistles written by brothers who were the brothers of Christ. The subject of Jude is sin in the church, which the author speaks of as a positive fact. By most authorities it is thought Jude was written later than the Second Epistle of Peter, inasmuch as the state of things predicted as future is vividly painted by Jude as present and existing as a positive fact.

He exhorteth them to be constant in the profession of the faith.

1 [1]Jūde, the servant of Jē'ṣus Chrīst, and [a]brother of Jāmeṣ, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and [b]preserved in Jē'ṣus Chrīst, and [c]called:

2 [2]Mercy [d]unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the [3]faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, [e]who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning [f]the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and [g]denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Ē'gўpt, afterward [h]destroyed them that believed not.

6 And [4]the [i]angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness [j]unto the judgment of the [5]great day.

7 Even as [k]Sŏd'om and Go-mŏr'rhâ, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the [6]vengeance of eternal fire.

8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet [l]Mī'chaĕl the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of [7]Mō'ṣeṣ, [m]durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The [n]Lord rebuke thee.

A. D. 66.

1. This letter was written by Jude, the brother of our Lord. It was written from Judea about the year 65. Its subject is sin in the church. The author exhorts the church to consistency and steadfastness in faith.

2. Mercy, the first of the graces.

3. That firm and earnest trust and confident reliance in the statements and promises of God, "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

4. Alluding to the fall of Satan, who "abode not in the truth."

5. That is, though Satan and his demons continue to roam on earth, God holds their final doom and subjugation in mind and purpose.

6. Righteous retribution.

7. That is, some authorities claim that Satan disputed with the archangel over the raising of the body of Moses. Satan urging that as Moses sinned at Meribah, he should not be raised from the dead. Others claim that the reference to the body of Moses alludes to Satan's charge in Zech. 3:2. "And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan; even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem, rebuke thee; is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?" Here Satan accuses the Jewish church of corruption, because of which he demands that divine justice be allowed to take its course against Israel, but is rebuked by the Lord who has chosen Israel.

8. That is, have chosen the same sin which produced the ruin of Cain, viz., vainglorious pride and hatred of the godly.

10 But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of [8]Cāin, and ran greedily after the error of Bā'laam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Cō're.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;

13 Raging [o]waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14 And Ē'nŏch also, the seventh from Ād'ăm, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the [p]Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,

15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having [q]men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before the apostles of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst;

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they [r]who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.

20 But ye, beloved, [s]building up yourselves

a. And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James. (Acts 1:13.)

b. And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled (11, 12). I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. (Jno. 17:11, 12, 15.)

c. To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, call to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. (Rom. 1:7.) Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified. (Rom. 8:30.)

d. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth. (Ex. 34:6.) With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt show thyself upright. (Ps. 18:25.) Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the Lord; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lord, and I will not keep anger for ever. (Jer. 3:12.) Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful. (Lu. 6:36.) And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. (Lu. 18:13.) Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer. (Ps. 4:1.) Hear me, O Lord; for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. (Ps. 69:16.) And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. (Ps. 106:45.)

e. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction? (Rom. 9:22.)

f. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men. (Tit. 2:11.)

g. But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.) Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? he is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son. (I Jno. 2:22.) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.) They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate. (Tit. 1:16.)

h. Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me. (Num. 14:29.)

i. For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment. (II Pet. 2:4.)

j. And the devil, that deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever. (Rev. 20:10.)

k. Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven. (Gen. 19:24.)

l. And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (Dan. 12:1.) And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels. (Rev. 12:7.)

m. Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord. (II Pet. 2:11.)

n. And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lork rebuke thee, O Satan; even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand plucked out of the fire? (Zech. 3:2.)

o. But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. (Is. 57:20.)

p. And he said, The Lord came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; he shined forth from mount Paran, and he came with ten thousands of saints: from his right hand went a fiery law for them. (Dt. 33:2.) By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God. (Heb. 11:5.)

q. To have respect of persons is not good; for, for a piece of bread that man will transgress. (Prov. 28:21.)

r. I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery; for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that doth not understand shall fall. (Hos. 4:14.)

s. Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving. (Col. 2:7.)

on your most holy faith, praying in the [t]Hō'lў Ghōst, 21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the [d]mercy of our Lord Jē'ṣus Chrīst unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23 And others [u]save with fear, pulling [v]them out of the fire; hating even the [w]garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Now [x]unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and [y]to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 To the [z]only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

t. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. (Rom. 8:26.)

u. If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them. (Rom. 11:14.)

v. And the Lord said unto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee, O Satan; even the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand plucked out of the fire? (Zech. 3:2.)

w. And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment. And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the Lord stood by. (Zech. 3:4, 5.) Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy. (Rev. 3:4.)

x. Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the reve'at'on of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began. (Rom. 16:25.)

y. In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable and unreproveable in his sight. (Col. 1:22.)

z. Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen. (I Tim. 1:17.)

EXPLANATION OF CHART

(1) EARLY LIFE.

Forty days after his birth in Bethlehem-Judea (1) (Lu. 2:1-7) the infant Christ was taken to Jerusalem (2) and presented before the Lord in the temple; here he was recognized as the Messiah of Israel and then taken back to Bethlehem, his birthplace. (Lu. 2:22-38.)

At Bethlehem (1) Christ was visited by the wise men, after which he was taken by his earthly parents to Egypt (3) in order to escape the murderous decree of Herod the Great. (Mat. 2:1-18.)

After the death of King Herod, Christ's earthly parents took him from Egypt (4) to Nazareth (5) in Galilee, their early home; here he spent his youth, as the son of a carpenter. (Mat. 2:19-23.)

At the age of 12 the youthful Christ was taken by his parents to Jerusalem to attend the Passover. This journey and its attended incidents are the only recorded events in the early youth of our Saviour. On the return journey from Jerusalem (2) Christ was lost by his parents, and after three days he was found in the temple discoursing with the doctors of the law. (Lu. 2:41-50.) Upon being gently reprimanded by his mother, he said, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" He now returned with his parents to Nazareth (5), where he remained for 18 years (Lu. 2:51), which concluded the first period of his life, "childhood and youth."

Near the close of the ministry of John the Baptist, Christ leaves Nazareth (5) and journeys (6) down the Jordan Valley to Bethabara (7), where he was baptized by John and receives from the Father in Heaven the testimony of his Sonship. (Mat. 3:13-17.) Immediately after his baptism Christ was led by the Spirit into the desert wilderness, where he fasted and prayed forty days, at the close of which Satan appeared (8) and tempted him. (Lu. 4:1-13.) Returning to Bethabara (7) after the temptation, Christ received the testimony of John the Baptist (9) (Jno. 1:15-34), and here met his earliest followers, viz., Andrew and Peter, John, Philip and Nathaniel. (Jno. 1:37-50.)

Christ now leaves Bethabara (7) and journeys up the Jordan Valley (10) over the mountains to Cana in Galilee (11); here he was present at a wedding and performs his first miracle, turning the water into wine. (Jno. 2:1-11.) From Cana he goes with his mother and brethren to Capernaum (12) by the Sea of Galilee, where he remains a short time only. (Jno. 2:1-12.) A few days only having elapsed after the wedding feast, Christ leaves Capernaum, probably by the way of the Jordan Valley, and goes to Jerusalem (2) to attend the first Passover of his ministry (Jno. 2:13), which begins his early Judean ministry, known as the obscure period—some nine months. Here he asserts his authority by driving the money changers from the temple. (Jno. 2:14-22.) During this journey he held the conversation with Nicodemus, regarding the new birth. (Jno. 3:1-21.) He remains in Judea for a time, gathering a few of his disciples; now receives the testimony of John the Baptist (Jno. 1:15-36), yet not making prominent his ministry, as his forerunner, John the Baptist, was still preaching. (Jno. 3:1-36.) But soon John the Baptist was cast (Lu. 3:20) into prison and his ministry brought to an end. Christ immediately leaves Judea (14) (Jno. 4:3) to open his own public ministry. He goes through Samaria and pauses at Jacob's well (15), where he holds the conversation with the woman of Samaria (Jno. 4:4-30), after which he goes to Sychar (16), the ancient Shechem, which is close by Jacob's well, and remains here two days. He now goes back to Cana, where he performed his first miracle, and is received with a great welcome. (Jno. 4:44, 45.) He now speaks the words of healing to a nobleman's son who was sick at Capernaum. (Jno. 4:46-54.)

(2) GALILEAN MINISTRY.

Christ now goes from Cana (11) to Nazareth (5) with the supposed intention of commencing his ministry in his old home. But his fellow townsmen rejected his message, ridiculed and rebuffed him and sought to slay him. (Lu. 4:16-31.) Being rejected in his own city, he goes to Capernaum (12), which became the center of his ministry for a little more than a year. (Lu. 4:31.) Here he calls from their work at the seaside his four earliest disciples, Simeon and Andrew, James and John; while they had met and had known him before this, now they leave all to follow him. (Mat. 4:18-21.) While here he casts out an evil spirit (Lu. 4:33-36; Mk. 1:21-28), and also heals the mother of Peter's wife. (Lu. 4:38-40; Mk. 1:29-31.) While making Capernaum his headquarters, he makes a tour of a few weeks only in Eastern Galilee, probably keeping near the Sea of Galilee. It was during this tour that he healed a leper (Mk. 1:40), upon whose testimony great multitudes were induced to follow him, seeking miracles, until he was compelled to go back to Capernaum and remain there in retirement for a short season. It was during this period at Capernaum that the paralytic was let down through the roof by his friends and was made whole by Christ. (Lu. 5:17-26.) It was also while here that the publican Matthew was called to be one of the disciples. (Lu. 5:17-28; Mat. 9:9.) During this journey in Galilee also occurred the miraculous draught of fishes. (Lu. 5:1-11.)

It is now the spring of the second year of his ministry, and Christ leaves Capernaum and goes to Jerusalem (2) to attend the feast of the second Passover, and while there heals the crippled at the pool of Bethesda. (Jno. 5:1-47.) On his return from Jerusalem, while walking through the fields (19), Christ asserts his authority as "Lord of the Sabbath" by plucking the ears of corn. (Lu. 6:1-5.) On a Sabbath soon after his return to Capernaum (12) he healed in the synagogue a man with a withered hand. (Lu. 6:6-11.) The opposition of the Pharisees at Capernaum (12) now became so great that Christ leaves the city and teaches the people by the seashore. (Mk. 3:7-12.) It is during this opposition of the Pharisees that Christ ascends the mountain, identified probably as Kurun Hattin, and after spending a night in prayer he appoints the twelve apostles (Lu. 6:12-16), and also preaches to the disciples and the multitude "the Sermon on the Mount." (Mat. 5-7.) The next ten months, from the Sermon on the Mount to the feeding of the five thousand, was a period of great opposition of the ruling classes, but of continued and ever increasing popularity among the people. Christ still continues to make Capernaum the headquarters of his ministry.

His next tour is of Southern Galilee, extending from Capernaum to Nain and return. Before starting on the journey, Christ healed the slave of a believing Centurion. (Lu. 7:1-10.) The following day he led his disciples southward to Nain, where he healed the widow's son, whom they were about to bury. (Lu. 7:11-17.) It was also at Nain, and doubtless at this time, that he received the messengers from John the Baptist. (Mat. 11:2-19.) On this journey he was entertained by a Pharisee, at whose house "a woman who was a sinner" washed his feet. (Lu. 7:36-50.) He now returns to Capernaum (Mat. 8:1-13), his headquarters, and heals a dumb man, a demoniac, which furnishes the occasion for the smothered, seething opposition of the Pharisees to assume an open opposition and declare that he performed his miracles by the power of the evil spirit. (Lu. 11:14-26; Mat. 12:22-37.) It was during this outburst of opposition that his mother and brethren sought to restrain him and to induce him to leave for safety. (Lu. 8:19-21; Mat. 12:46-50.)

As the opposition of the Pharisees was now developing to such an extent as to greatly retard any work at Capernaum, he starts on a third tour across the Sea of Galilee in Peraea, called the Gadarene voyage (from Capernaum and Gergesa and return). Connected with this journey are especially associated four events: (a) The open opposition of the enemy, forcing Christ to leave the city and to teach in parables by the sea. (Mat. 13:1-53.) (b) The journey across the Sea of Galilee, from the shore near Capernaum on the northwest to Gergesa on the east. It was during this voyage that he stilled the tempest. (Mk. 4:35-41.) (c) At Gergesa he healed two demoniacs, driving the demons out of them and permitting them to enter a herd of swine, and as a result the people besought him to leave their country. (Mk. 5:1-21.) (d) Christ now returns across the sea to Capernaum and restores to life the daughter of Jairus, the ruler. (Lu. 8:41-56; Mk. 5:22-43.)

(3) FROM CAPERNAUM TO NAZARETH AND RETURN.

(a) After a short pause at Capernaum with his disciples, Christ starts upon his third tour, going to Nazareth in central Galilee and returning, which was his second visit to his home city, and was again rejected by its people. (Mk. 6:1-6.) (b) He now gives the twelve apostles their charge and sends them out to preach. (Mat. 10:5-42; Mk. 6:7-13.) (c) While the apostles were absent upon their mission, Christ himself made a short tour, preaching through central Galilee. (Mk. 6:6.) (d) Returning to Capernaum, he receives the report of the twelve apostles (Mk. 6:30, 31) and also the news of the murder of John the Baptist by King Herod. (Mk. 6:14-30.)

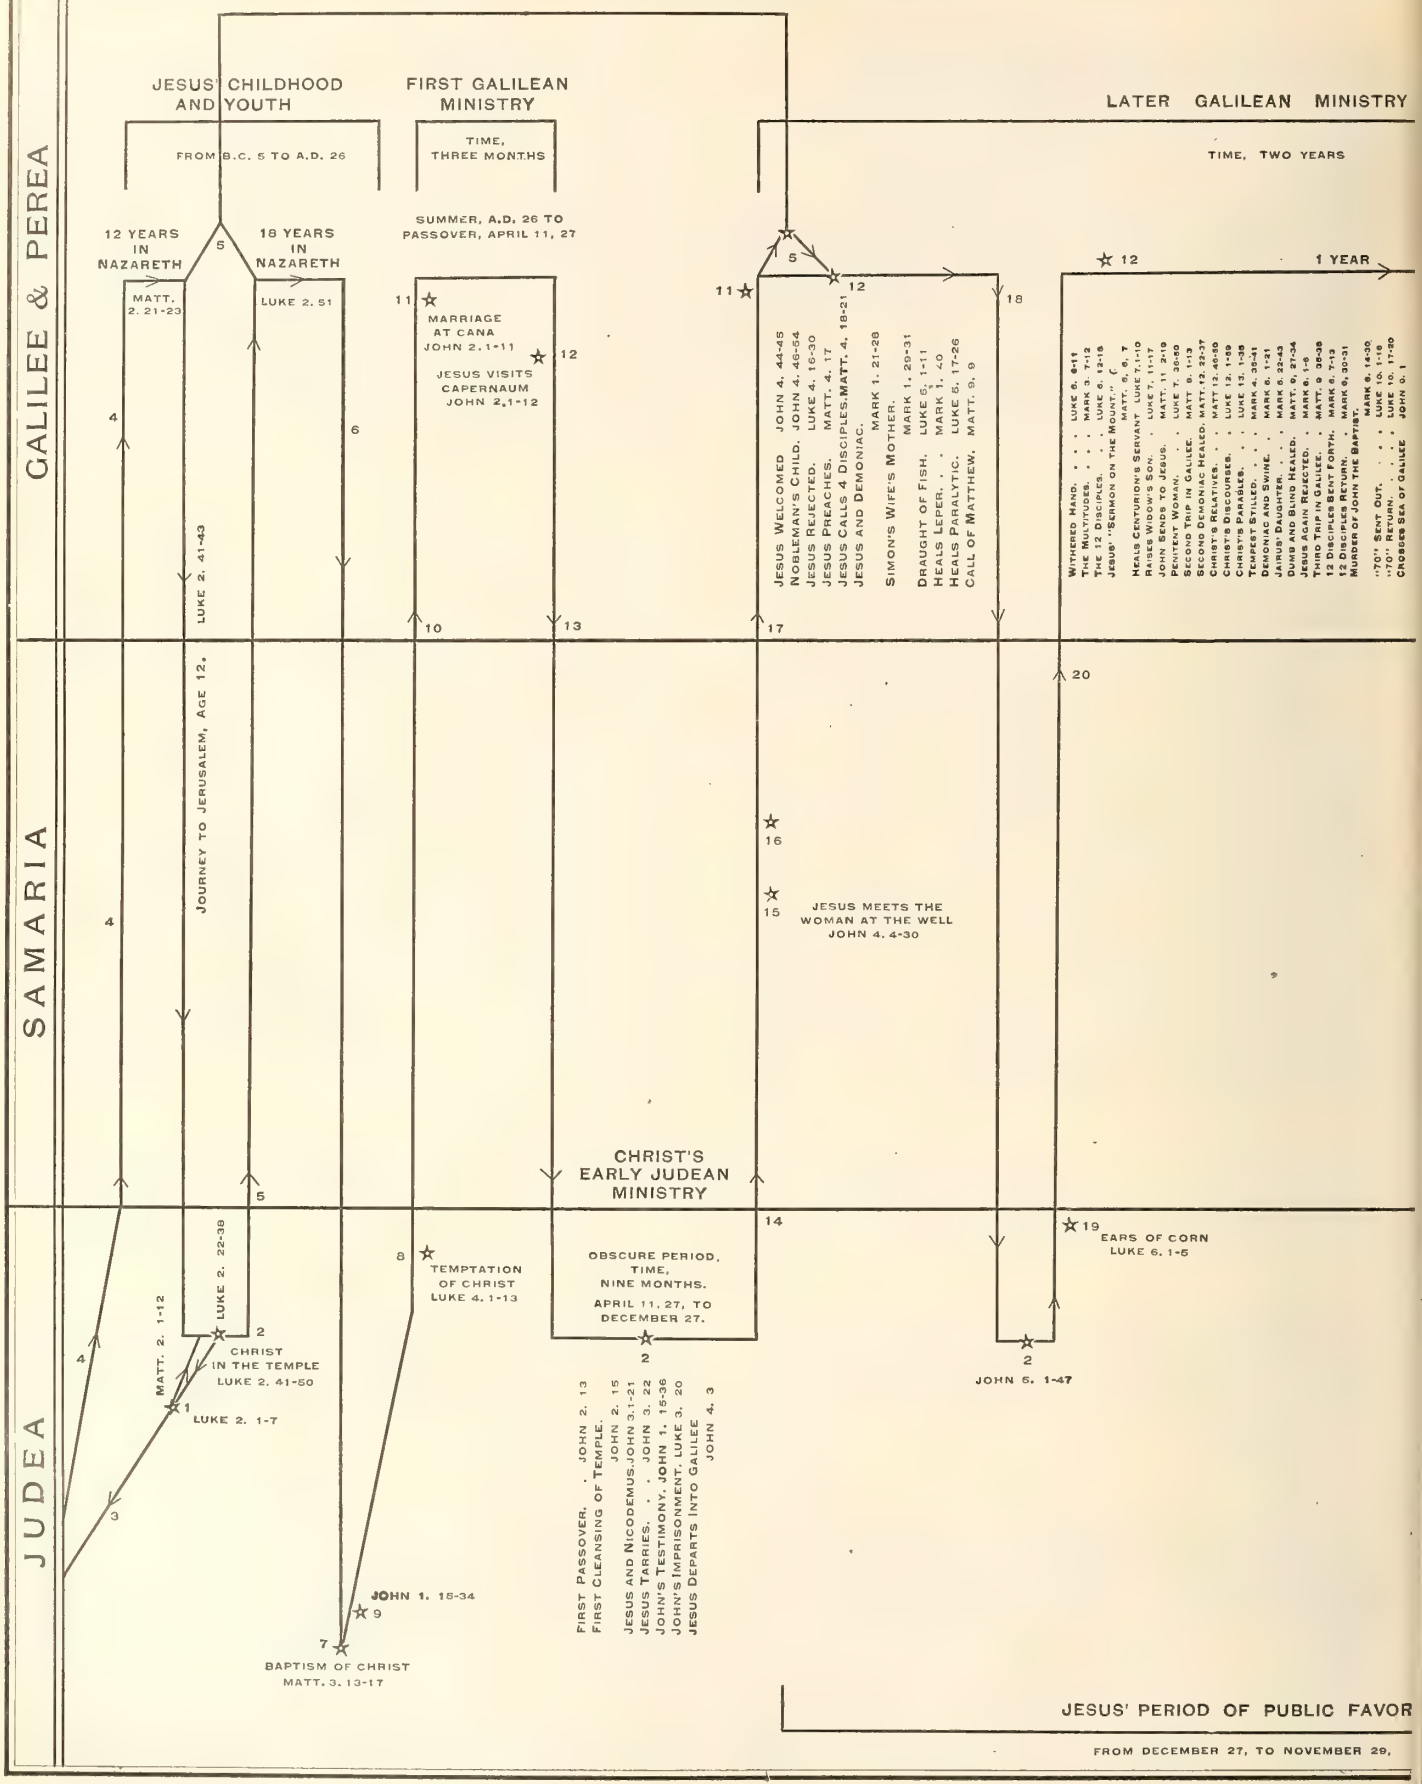
(4) THE RETIREMENT IN BETHSAIDA.

(a) The multitudes were now following Christ in such great numbers, many of them for purposes perhaps not in harmony with his teachings and mission, that he was forced to leave Capernaum by sea, crossing the Sea of Galilee to Bethsaida, close to the northeast coast in Corea. (Mk. 6:31, 32.) (b) So great was the popular interest at this part of his ministry that the people hastened after Christ and met him on the opposite shore as he landed (they only having to journey about four miles around the head of the lake), so that he was compelled to teach them all day, in the afternoon of which he performed the miracle of feeding the five thousand. (Mk. 6:30-44.) (c) After the miracle of feeding the five thousand, Christ sent his disciples out on the sea (22) and at midnight walked across the water to them. (Mk. 6:45-51.) (d) On the following morning they landed near Capernaum, where Christ performed many miracles (Mk. 6:52-56), after which he returned to Capernaum (12). (e) Christ now completes his ministry in Galilee by a discourse in the synagogue on the Bread of Life. (Jno. 6:25-59.)

(5) PERIOD OF RETIREMENT.

During the next period of six months from the feeding of the five thousand, one of the closing events of the later Galilean ministry, to the Feast of Tabernacles in the fall before the Crucifixion, Christ remained in comparative retirement, engaged in teaching his disciples the deeper and more essential truths of the Gospel. He is still at Capernaum, frequently discoursing in the synagogue, and as he engages deeper and deeper into the spiritual nature of his kingdom, the opposition of the Pharisees and defection of the multitude increased until he with the twelve retires from the public. (Jno. 6:60-71.)

He goes from Capernaum (12), then to Phoenicia (23), probably not passing beyond the frontier coast, Tyre and Sidon. Here he restores the demoniac daughter of a Syro-Phoenician woman (Mk. 7:24-30.)



In Tyre and Sidon the crowds gather around Christ in such numbers that he is again forced to cross the Sea of Galilee and seek seclusion in Ephphatha (24) to get the quiet necessary to instruct his disciples as they should be taught before his death. Ephphatha (24) is southeast of the Sea of Galilee. (Mk. 7:31.) Here he performs two miracles, restoring the deaf stammerer (Mk. 7:31-37), and then journeying nearer the coast of the sea (25), feeds the four thousand. (Mk. 8:1-9.)

He now goes to Dalmanutha (26) in Galilee on the west coast of the Sea of Galilee. Here he was met by the Pharisees with their clamoring and unbelieving, demanding signs of him. (Mk. 8:10-13.)

But instead he again enters his ship and sails northward across the sea to Bethsaida (21), where he heals a blind man, who saw "men as trees walking." (Mk. 8:22-26.)

From here he again pursues his way up the Jordan to Cesarea-Philippi (22). At Mt. Hermon (27) he paused several days and here occurred Peter's confession, "Thou art the Christ." (Mat. 16:13-21.) In the same discourse he also foretells his death (Mat. 16:21), which is immediately followed by Peter's rebuking the Saviour, saying, "This shall not be unto thee." (Mat. 16:22-28.)

Near here (28) occurs the Transfiguration. (Mat. 17:1-13.) Immediately after the Transfiguration he was met (29) by a certain man pleading for the restoration of his son (Mat. 17:14-18), after which he again foretold his death. (Mat. 17:22, 23.) From here Christ journeys back to Capernaum (12) for the last time, keeping himself in retirement, constantly teaching his disciples, especially impressing upon them the lesson of humility, from "The child in the midst." (Mk. 9:30-35.)

(6) PERIOD OF JUDEAN MINISTRY.

The next journey, from the Feast of Tabernacles to the Feast of Dedication, extended over about three months. Christ now leaves Capernaum (12) and forever bids farewell to Galilee. He is on the journey to Jerusalem (2), but pauses (30) to converse with the (30) "Three Aspirants" (Lu. 9:57-62); teaching the duty of absolute devotion to work. Near the border of Samaria, perhaps at the village Engennim (31), he was rejected by the Samaritan, where his disciples desired to call down fire from heaven as Elias had done. (Lu. 9:52-56.) He continued his journey, and while still in Samaria (32) met and healed the ten lepers, of whom but one returned to give thanks. (Lu. 17:12-19.) After this miracle he again resumed his journey to Bethany (33), going to the home of Lazarus and his two sisters, Mary and Martha. It was at this time that the Saviour reminded Martha of her undue solicitation concerning worldly cares, while Mary was seeking "that good part." (Lu. 10:38-42.) From here Christ proceeds to Jerusalem (2) to the Feast of Tabernacles, when he gave the teachings in Jno. 7-10, and it was at this time that he restored the blind man at the pool of Siloam. (Jno. 9:1-14.) At the Feast of Dedication his teachings again created so much opposition that to continue his work he left the city, going northeast across the Jordan to Bethabara in Peraea, and there prepared for the tour in Peraea, which was to be the last journey before the Passion Week.

(7) PERIOD OF PERAEAN MINISTRY.

This period extends from the Feast of Dedication at Jerusalem to the anointing at Bethany (33), a period of four months, extending up to six days before the Crucifixion. While at Bethabara (7) before starting on the journey, Christ sends out the 70 to proclaim his coming in the Peraean village. (Lu. 10-16.) At this time, hearing of the sickness of Lazarus, he goes to Bethany (33) and raises Lazarus from the dead, the miracle which causes the Jewish leaders to formally determine to put Christ to death (Jno. 11), but the hour had not yet come for Christ to die, therefore he enters into seclusion in the village of Ephraim (34), a wilderness village north of Jerusalem, overlooking the Jordan Valley. At this place several weeks were spent supposedly in instructing the twelve; after which, descending the mountains, Christ crosses the Jordan Valley northeastward and enters the province of Peraea at Ramoth-Gilead (35); this journey was characterized as a ministry of teaching rather than miracles, and is mainly related by Luke, the chief events being:

(a) The healing of the woman bent by infirmity and the man with dropsy, whom he healed on the Sabbath. (Lu. 13:10-17; 14:1-6.)

(b) The seven great parables, including the Prodigal Son. (Jno. 14:16.)

(c) The blessing of little children. (Lu. 18:15-17; Mk. 10:13-16.)

(d) The questions of the rich young ruler and Jesus' answer, "Sell all that thou hast." (Lu. 18:18-30; Mat. 19:16-30.)

(e) The contentions of James and John as to who should be first in the kingdom of Christ. (Mat. 20:20-28.)

During this journey Christ again foretells his death to the apostles. (Mat. 20:17-19.) Christ has now reached Jericho (36) on his way back to Bethany, his last journey to Jerusalem. At Jericho (36) the following events take place at this time:

(a) The healing of Bartimaeus, who met the Saviour at the gates of Jericho. (Lu. 18:35-43; Mat. 20:29-34.)

(b) Christ visits the house of Zaccheus the publican. (Lu. 19:2-14.)

(c) From Jericho he goes to Bethany (33), and here occurs the anointing by Mary on the evening of Saturday before the Passover. (Jno. 12:1-8.)

(8) PASSION WEEK.

While the period of the Passion embraces only one week, viz., from the anointing by Mary to the death of Christ on the cross, yet its events are so minutely detailed by the apostles as to occupy almost one-third of the entire Gospels. If the whole life of Christ had been written as minutely, it would fill about 75 volumes as large as the Bible.

All the events of Passion Week occurred in or immediately surrounding Jerusalem. Each of the three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Christ made a journey from Bethany to the temple and back again.

First, Sunday, April 2nd, The Triumphal Entry Into Jerusalem. (Mat. 21:1-11; Lu. 19:29-44; Mk. 11:1-11.) During the second journey on Monday, April 3rd, occurred The Cursing of the Fig Tree (Mk. 11: 12-14), and The Second Cleansing of the Temple. (Mk. 11:15-18.) During the third, on Tuesday, April 4th, occurred The Last Teachings of Christ to the People and Rulers in the Temple and to the Twelve Apostles on the Mount of Olives (Mat. 21:25); The Fig Tree Withered (Mk. 11:20-26); The Widow's Two Mites (Lu. 21:1-4); Discourses on the End of the World (Lu. 21:5-36); Conspiracy of the Chief Priests and Judas (Lu. 22:1-6.)

Wednesday, April 5th, Jesus remained in retirement at Bethany, no event being recorded of that day. Thursday, April 6th, The Last Supper (Jno. 13-17); Christ's Farewell Discourses (Lu. 22:31-36); Christ's Intercessary Prayer (Jno. 17); The arrest (Mat. 26:36-56); Jesus taken to the house of Annas (Jno. 18:13-15); Jesus taken to the house of Caiaphas (Jno. 18:16-28); Jesus before the Roman Procurator (Jno. 18: 28-38); Jesus before Herod (Lu. 23:8-12).

About midnight of Thursday (Judas being absent) Christ and his disciples left the supper room, walking up the Valley of Jehoshaphat to the Garden of Gethsemane, where the Agony of the Garden occurred and where he was arrested, led by Judas. (Mat. 26:36-56.)

Christ was now subjected to many disgraceful indignities. First he was taken to the house of Annas. (Jno. 18:13-15.) After a brief examination here, he was taken before Caiaphas for the formal mock trial before the Sanhedrin, where he was condemned by the rulers and mocked by everyone. (Jno. 18:16-28.) Next he was taken before Pilate in the place of judgment, where occurred the examination by Pilate and the attempt to release him. (Jno. 18:28-38.) But Pilate, failing to get the consent of the public mob for the release of Jesus and wishing to avoid the responsibility of condemning him, sent him to Herod, where Christ was again mocked and returned to Pilate. (Lu. 23:8-12.) Finally, on Friday, the weak Pilate being no longer able to oppose the public rabble, issued the order for the Crucifixion. (Mat. 27; Jno. 19.)

Christ was now led forth, perhaps by the street called Via Dolorosa, to Golgotha or Calvary, outside of the walls of the city. On this journey he bore his own cross. For six hours he hung upon the cross and at the hour of the afternoon sacrifice he gave his last cry and died. A few hours afterward he was laid in the tomb of Joseph, which was near at hand. (Jno. 19:17-42.)

On Saturday, April 8th, occurred the long and vigil watch on the part of the sorrowful friends, solicitous lest his body would be stolen and the prophecy that he should rise again the third day not be fulfilled. (Mat. 27:62-66.)

(9) PERIOD OF THE RESURRECTION.

During the forty days which elapsed between the hour of the Resurrection and the Ascension of Christ, no tracing of journeys can be made, as his spirit-body moved from place to place at its will.

During this period there are ten recorded appearances of Christ, five of which occurred on the day of the Resurrection, the first Easter Sunday, viz.: Easter morning to Mary Magdalene, after the angel had announced to the other women that Christ was alive. (Jno. 20:1-18.) Second, at Jerusalem, to the other women soon after the appearance to Magdalene. The women were greeted with the words, "All hail." (Mat. 28:1-10.) Third, on the road to Emmaus, supposed to be about four miles northwest of Jerusalem, Easter afternoon, to two disciples (not the apostles). To these disciples he reveals the Scriptures concerning himself. (Lu. 24:13-35.) Fourth, the appearance on Easter afternoon to Peter (Lu. 24:34), there being no account more than a mere mention of this appearance. Fifth, the appearance to the ten disciples Easter evening at Jerusalem, Thomas being absent. (Jno. 20:19-25.) The sixth appearance occurred about a week after the Resurrection, to the eleven apostles, Thomas being present and tenderly rebuked for his lack of faith. (Jno. 20:26-29.) The fifth and sixth appearances are supposed to have taken place in the room of the Last Supper on Mt. Zion. Seventh, the appearance to the seven apostles near the Sea of Galilee. Here Peter received his new commission. (Jno. 21:1-23.) This is the third appearance to the disciples. (Jno. 21:14.) Eighth, to the 500 on the mountains in Galilee, by many supposed to be Kurun Hattin, the place of the Sermon on the Mount. At this appearance Christ gave his final commands. (Mat. 28:16-20; I Cor. 15:6.) Ninth, to James, the brother of Christ (I Cor. 15:7), there being only a mere mention of this appearance. Tenth, near Bethany, Christ appeared to the eleven apostles forty days after the Resurrection. At this appearance he gave them his last charge and with hands outstretched, pronouncing a blessing upon mankind, as the benediction of the New Dispensation, he ascended to heaven (Lu. 24:50-53), from whence he has promised in Acts 1:9-12 to come again to earth.

THE REVELATION

OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE

NOTE.—Revelation completes the volume of the Holy Scriptures and is called "the last book of grace." We are to look for no further revelations from heaven till Christ himself shall come. Instead of a series of prophets scattered along the course of time, from the New Dispensation to the second coming of Christ, we have one prophet on the lone island of Patmos, given a prophetic glimpse of time and eternity. He, John, gives us one prophecy covering the entire period. How appropriate it seems that this prophecy, the last book of inspiration, should be written by John, the last survivor of the apostles, who was likewise the author of the last of the Gospels, and perhaps the last of the Epistles. As Revelation covers a period of prophecy of a duration no man knows; as it is a prophecy concerning the final adjustment of matters on the earth; of the binding of Satan and casting him into the bottomless pit; of the passing away of the old earth and the old heaven and the substitution of a new earth and a new heaven; of the opening of the Book of Life by the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world; and of the execution of final judgments; it is for these reasons the most mysterious and least understood of any of the books of the Bible, nay, of all the others together. As the angel commanded John not to write the interpretation of what he had seen, that no man might know until the last day, it is not therefore for man to know the full significance and interpretation of all the symbols of Revelation. As God the Father is infinitely superior to man in knowledge, so must be, at least, a part of his teachings, which are descriptive of all things created and of the future which the Father holds in store for his children; else he could not have prepared for them beyond the power of man, as whatsoever man can comprehend, he can produce. It is not therefore any marvel that Revelation, the dim glimpse furnished man of that great future, is so mysterious and so incomprehensible. Sufficeth it that all who read and study this book may do it with that pure and reverential spirit, and sincere desire of the heart that when the purpose of life for them is transferred from earthly scenes and boundaries to the home beyond, amidst the scenes of which they long to know, then for ages, with all limitations removed, they can, under the tutorage of heaven, unravel the mysteries which here to man are incomprehensible.

CHAPTER 1.

4 John writeth his revelation to the seven churches of Asia. 7 The coming of Christ. 14 His glorious power and majesty.

1 The [1]Revelation of [2]Jē'şus Chrīst, which [a]God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and [3]he sent [b]and signified it by his [4]angel unto his servant Jŏhn:

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony [5]of Jē'şus Chrīst, and of all things [c]that he saw.

3 Blessed [d]is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time [e]is at hand.

4 Jŏhn to the [6]seven churches which are in Ā'şiȧ: Grace be unto you, and peace, [f]from him [g]which is, and which was, and which is to come; and [h]from the seven [7]Spirits which are before his throne;

5 And from Jē'şus Chrīst, [i]who is the [8]faithful witness, and the [j]first begotten of [9]the dead, and the prince of [k]the kings of the earth. Unto him [l]that loved us, [m]and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to [n]him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Ch. 1. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 1 we are told the source and object of this Revelation and are given an introductory vision of the coming of the Son of man in glory, amidst the seven candlesticks with the seven stars in his right hand.

2. An unveiling of those things which have been hidden.

3. Jesus Christ.

4. The interpreting angel.

5. The spirit of prophecy.

6. The scriptural number, signifying completeness, totality.

7. That is, the spirit in its perfect, complete, universal energy.

8. A faithful witness, because all things known of the Father he faithfully gave to his disciples.

9. Because the first to rise to die no more.

10. The unconverted after judgment day.

11. The seven arms united in one shaft, symbolizing the churches of God all united in Christ.

12. That is, in the midst of his people, the churches.

13. The robe or attire of the King-Priest.

7 Behold, [o]he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, [p]and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall [10]wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 I am [q]Ăl'phȧ and Ō'me-gȧ, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I Jŏhn, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and [r]in the kingdom and patience of Jē'şus Chrīst, was in the isle that is called Păt'mos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jē'şus Chrīst.

10 I [s]was in the Spirit on [t]the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Ăl'phȧ and Ō'me-gȧ, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven [6]churches which are in Ā'şiȧ; unto Ēph'ĕ-sŭs, and unto Smȳr'nȧ, and unto Pēr'ga-mŏs, and unto Thȳ-a-tī'rȧ, and unto Sär'dis, and unto Phĭl-a-dĕl'phĭ-ȧ, and unto La-ŏd-ĭ-çē'ȧ.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, [u]I saw seven [11]golden candlesticks;

13 And in the [12]midst of the seven candlesticks [v]one like unto the Son of man, clothed [w]with a garment down to the [13]foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

Ref. Revelation. Chapter 1.

a. For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. (Jno. 12:49.)

b. I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. (Rev. 22:16.)

c. That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life. (I Jno. 1:1.)

d. But he said, Yea, rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it. (Lu. 11:28.)

e. And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book; for the time is at hand. (Rev. 22:10.) Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. (Rev. 3:11.) And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. (Rom. 13:11.)

f. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3:14.) Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever. (Heb. 13:8.) Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the Lord, the first, and with the last; I am he. (Is. 41:4.)

g. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.)

h. Upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. (Zech. 3:9.)

i. Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true. (Jno. 8:14.) But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. (Jno. 5:36, 37.) I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession. (I Tim. 6:13.) And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God. (Rev. 3:14.)

j. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead. (Col. 1:18.)

k. And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. (Rev. 7:14.) And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia! for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. (Rev. 19:6.) Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and the Lord of lords. (I Tim. 6:15.) Also I will make him my first-born, higher than the kings of the earth. (Ps. 89:27.) The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret. (Dan. 2:47.)

l. A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. (Jno. 13:34.) As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love. (Jno. 15:9.) I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me. (Gal. 2:20.)

m. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered him without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God! (Heb. 9:14.)

n. To whom be honor and power everlasting. Amen. (I Tim. 6:16.)

o. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days. (Dan. 7:13.)

p. And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced. (Jno. 19:37.)

q. I the Lord, the first, and with the last; I am he. (Is. 41:4.)

r. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. (Rom. 8:17.)

s. While they made ready, he fell into a trance. (Acts 10:10.) I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) such an one caught up to the third heaven. (II Cor. 12:2.) And immediately I was in the Spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. (Rev. 4:2.) Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. (Rev. 7:3.) And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God. (Rev. 21:10.)

t. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them. (Acts 20:7.)

u. And thou shalt make the seven lamps thereof: and they shall light the lamps thereof, that they may give light over against it. (Ex. 25:37.) And I said, I have looked, and, behold, a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof. (Zech. 4:2.)

v. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. (Dan. 7:13.)

w. Then I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz: His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like

14 His head and his hairs were white [14]like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes [15]were as a flame of fire;

15 And [z]his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and [y]his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars: and [z]out of his mouth went a sharp [16]twoedged sword: [aa]and his countenance was as the sun shining in his [17]strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. [bb]And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; [cc]I am the first and the last:

18 [dd]I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and [ee]have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the [ff]angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAPTER 2.

What is commanded to be written to the angels, that is, the ministers of the churches.

1 [1]Unto the angel of the church of [2]Ĕph'ĕ-sŭs write; These things saith [3]he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, [4]who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 I [a]know [5]thy works, and thy labour, and thy [6]patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and [b]thou hast tried them [c]which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast [6]patience, and for my name's sake [7]hast laboured, and hast [d]not fainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy [8]first love.

14. Sig. purity and glory.

15. That is, searching and penetrating like a flame of fire.

16. Typical of its penetrating power or ability to divide asunder the good and evil.

17. Unclouded, unrestrained power.

Ch. 2. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 2 is given Christ's message to the churches in the form of seven epistles, each commencing with "I know thy works," typifying the absolute certainty and reliability and knowableness of the Christian religion.

2. Famed for the temple of Diana, one of the seven wonders of the world; the city where Paul preached for three years.

3. Christ.

4. The Messiah.

5. Expressive of absolute knowledge of the religion of Christ.

6. Preserving endurance.

7. Lit., hast not wearied with labor.

8. That is, their Christian love had given place to a lifeless orthodoxy.

9. From what height and privileges.

10. That is, the works as a result of thy first love.

11. Coming in special judgment.

12. Will take away the church from Ephesus and put it elsewhere.

13. Observe the stress of hate that is put upon the deeds and not upon the men.

14. The ear of faith.

15. Everlasting life with Christ.

16. The third heaven, the immediate presence of God.

17. In grace.

18. To blaspheme is to vilify, to revile, to speak evil of, to implicate as impious, to impute evil to the character of God.

19. Things mentioned above.

20. Tested.

21. The death of the lost contrasted with the life in death of the saved.

22. The part of a trap on which the bait was placed.

5 Remember therefore from [9]whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the [10]first works; [e]or else I [11]will come unto thee quickly, and will [12]remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest [13]the deeds of the Nĭc-o-lā'i-tanes, which I also hate.

7 [f]He that hath an [14]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give [g]to eat of [h]the tree of [15]life, which is in the midst of the [16]paradise of God.

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyr'-nā write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou [i]art [17]rich) and I know the [18]blasphemy of [j]them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Sā'tan.

10 Fear [k]none of [19]those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be [20]tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou [l]faithful unto death, and I will give thee [m]a crown of life.

11 He that hath an [14]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the [n]second [21]death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pĕr'ga-mŏs write; These things saith he [o]which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Sā'tan's seat is: and thou [p]holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein An'ti-pās was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, [q]where Sā'tan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of [r]Bā'laam, who taught Bā'lăc to cast a [22]stumblingblock before the children of Is'ra-el, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, [t]and to commit fornication.

in color to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude. (Dan. 10:5, 6.)

x. [The feet of the four living creatures] sparkled like the color of burnished brass. (Ez. 1:7.)

y. Behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the noise of many waters. (Ez. 43:2.)

z. And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword. (Is. 49:2.) And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. (Eph. 6:17.) For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword. (Heb. 4:12.)

aa. At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun. (Acts 26:13.)

bb. Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright. (Dan. 8:18.)

cc. I the Lord, the first, and with the last; I am he. (Is. 41:4.) Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his Redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God. (Is. 44:6.)

dd. Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him. (Rom. 6:9.)

ee. Unto God the Lord belong the issues from death. (Ps. 68:20.)

ff. The priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts. (Mal. 2:7.)

Chapter 2.

a. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish. (Ps. 1:6.)

b. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. (I Jno. 4:1.)

c. But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.)

d. And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.)

e. They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons (41). Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. (Mat. 21:41, 43.) What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. (Mk. 12:9.) But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken; The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers. (Lu. 12:45, 46.)

f. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. (Mat. 11:15.)

g. In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (Rev. 22:2.)

h. And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (Gen. 2:9.) She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her. (Prov. 3:18.) The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise. (Prov. 11:30.) Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life. (Prov. 13:12.) A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit. (Prov. 15:4.)

i. So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God. (Lu. 12:21.)

j. Behold, thou art called a Jew, and restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God. (Rom. 2:17.)

k. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. (Mat. 10:22.)

l. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. (Mat. 24:13.)

m. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. (Js. 1:12.)

n. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. (Rev. 20:14.)

o. And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword; and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength. (Rev. 1:16.)

p. Prove all things: hold fast that which is good. (I Thess. 5:21.) Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 1:13.) But Christ as a Son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. (Heb. 3:6.) Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for he is faithful that promised. (Heb. 10:23.)

q. They sacrificed unto devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not. (Dt. 32:17.)

r. Behold, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the Lord in the matter of Peor, and there was a plague among the congregation of the Lord. (Num. 31:16.) It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul. (Acts 15:25.)

t. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. (I Cor. 6:13.)

CHRIST KNOCKING AT THE DOOR.—Carl Schoner.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nĭc-o-lā'ī-tanes, which thing I hate.
16 [u]Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and [v]will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.
17 He that hath an [1]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone [w]a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.
18 And unto the angel of the church in Thў-a-tī'rà write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;
19 I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.
20 Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman [x]Jĕz'e-bĕl, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.
21 And I gave her space [y]to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.
22 Behold, I will cast her into a [23]bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.
23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth [z]the reins and hearts: and [aa]I will give unto every one of you [24]according to your works.
24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thў-a-tī'rà, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the [bb]depths of Sā'tan, as they speak; [cc]I will put upon you none other burden.
25 But that which ye have already hold fast till I come.
26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth [dd]my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:
27 And [ee]he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father.
28 And I will give him the morning [25]star.
29 He that hath an [1]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

23. The place of her sin shall be the place of her punishment.

24. While saved by faith, the measure of the reward is by work.

25. Christ, the morning star.

Ch. 3. A. D. 96.

1 And unto the angel of the church in Sär'dis write; These things saith he that hath the seven [1]Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, [a]and art dead.
2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.
3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and [2]repent. [b]If therefore thou shalt [c]not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.
4 Thou hast [d]a few names even in Sär'dis which have not [e]defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me [f]in white: for they are worthy.

1. The spirit in its perfection, wholeness, completeness.

2. To recognize your sinful ways and reverse the life.

u. If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land. (II Chr. 7:14.) But if ye turn unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them, though there were of you cast out unto the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to set my name there. (Neh. 1:9.) Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. (Ps. 34:14.) The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise. (Ps. 51:17.) Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted. (Is. 31:6.) Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Is. 55:6, 7.) From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. (Mat. 4:17.) And they went out, and preached that men should repent. (Mk. 6:12.)

v. And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming. (II Thess. 2:8.) But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.) And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword; and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength. (Rev. 1:16.) And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God (15). And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh. (Rev. 19:15, 21.)

w. His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written that no man knew but he himself. (Rev. 19:12.) Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God; and I will write upon him my new name. (Rev. 3:12.)

x. And it came to pass, as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, that he took to wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Zidonians, and went and served Baal, and worshipped him. (I Ks. 16:31.)

y. Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? (Rom. 2:4.)

z. Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins. (Ps. 7:9.) Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart. (Ps. 26:2.) O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me. (Ps. 139:1.) But, O Lord of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. (Jer. 11:20.) And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God. (Lu. 16:15.) And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen. (Acts 1:24.) And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God. (Rom. 8:27.) For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.)

aa. Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work. (Ps. 62:12.) For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. (Mat. 16:27.) Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. (Gal. 6:7.) Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. (Rom. 14:12.) For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. (II Cor. 5:10.) And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened; and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. (Rev. 20:12.)

bb. Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices. (II Cor. 2:11.)

cc. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things. (Acts 15:28.)

dd. Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. (Jno. 6:29.)

ee. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:8, 9.) Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. (Dan. 7:22.)

Chapter 3.

a. And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins. (Eph. 2:1.)

b. And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. (Lu. 12:39.)

c. Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up. (Mat. 24:42, 43.) Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh. (Mat. 25:13.) Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. (Mk. 13:33.) For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night (2). Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober. (I Thess. 5:2, 6.) But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up. (II Pet. 3:10.) Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame. (Rev. 16:15.)

d. The number of the names together were about an hundred and twenty. (Acts 1:15.)

e. Others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. (Jude 23.)

f. I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, clothed with white robes (9). What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? (Rev. 7:9, 13.) And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. (Rev. 19:14.) Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment. (Ecc. 9:8.)

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white [s]raiment; and I will not [g]blot out his name out of the book of life, but [h]I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an [4]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 [5]And to the angel of the church in Phĭl-a-dĕl'phi-a write; These things saith he [i]that is holy, he that is true, [j]he that hath [k]the key of Dā'vid, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; [l]and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee [m]an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Sā'tan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, [n]I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, [o]I also will keep thee from the hour of [6]temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and [p]I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new [q]Je-ru'sa-lĕm, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and [r]I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an [4]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 [7]And unto the angel of the church of the La-ŏd-i-çē'ans write: These things saith the [8]Amen, the faithful and true [t]witness, the beginning of the creation of God;

15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold [8]or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, [u]I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

3. The whiteness of the heavenly glory.

4. An ear of faith.

5. In vs. 7-13 is presented the faithful and blameless church.

6. The Greek word for temptation means the presenting of agreeable and desirable inducements before the mind in order to induce to sin.

7. In vs. 14-22 is a description of the church at Laodicea, rich in worldly things but poor in faith.

8. That is, the lukewarm Christian is harder to win than the cold.

9. An allusion to Christ's knocking at the door of the heart of one who professes to love him, yet who keeps the door closed against him.

Ch. 4. A. D. 96.

1. In this ch. is given a vision of God's throne in heaven, with Christ, the Lamb, in front and the four and twenty elders seated in a circle around it.

2. After the revelation given in chs. 2 and 3.

3. In vs. 7-11 is an account of the cherubim and the four and twenty elders surounding the throne of God.

18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and [v]white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19 [w]As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, [x]I stand at [9]the door, and knock: [y]if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that [z]overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22 He that hath an [4]ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER 4.

John seeth the throne of God in heaven.

1 [1]After [2]this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately [a]I was in the spirit: and, behold, [b]a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: [c]and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: [d]and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was [e]a sea of glass like unto crystal: and [f]in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind.

7 [3]And the [g]first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast

---

g. Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous. (Ps. 69:28.)

h. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. (Mat. 10:32.)

i. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. (Is. 6:3.) But ye denied the Holy One and the Just. (Acts 3:14.)

j. I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. (Jno. 14:6.) We are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. (I Jno. 5:20.)

k. And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. (Is. 22:22.) The Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David. (Lu. 1:32.)

l. Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again; he shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening. (Job 12:14.)

m. Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and the door was opened unto me of the Lord. (II Cor. 2:12.)

n. Kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. (Is. 49:23.)

o. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (II Pet. 2:9.)

p. And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads. (Rev. 14:1.)

q. But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all. (Gal. 4:26.) But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels. (Heb. 12:22.)

r. And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads. (Rev. 22:4.)

s. For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us. (II Cor. 1:20.)

t. Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and a commander to the people. (Is. 55:4.)

u. There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches. (Prov. 13:7.) And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: in all my labors they shall find none iniquity in me that were sin. (Hos. 12:8.)

v. If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. (II Cor. 5:3.)

w. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty. (Job 5:17.) My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction. (Prov. 3:11.) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him; For whom the Lord loved he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. (Heb. 12:5, 6.)

x. I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night. (Song 5:2.) Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Is. 1:18.)

y. Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. (Jno. 14:23.)

z. But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. (Prov. 4:18.) Who will render to every man according to his deeds. (Rom. 2:6.) Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong. (I Cor. 16:13.) And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Gal. 6:9.) Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ. (Phil. 1:6.) He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. (Rev. 22:11.)

Chapter 4.

a. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet. (Rev. 1:10.)

b. I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. (Is. 6:1.) A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary. (Jer. 17:12.)

c. As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. (Ez. 1:28.)

d. He made his seven lamps of pure gold. (Ex. 37:23.) The candlesticks with their lamps, that they should burn after the manner before the oracle, of pure gold. (II Chr. 4:20.)

e. He made the laver of brass. (Ex. 38:8.) I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire. (Rev. 15:2.)

f. Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. (Ez. 1:5.)

g. As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four beasts had each of them [h]six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER 5.

1 The book sealed with seven seals: 9 which only the Lamb that was slain is worthy to open. 12 Therefore the elders praise him, and confess that he redeemed them with his blood.

1 [1]And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne [2]a book [a]written within and on the backside, sealed with [b]seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able [c]to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, [d]the Lion of the tribe of Jū'dā, [e]the Root of Dā'vid, hath [f3]prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and, lo, in the [4]midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a [g]Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven [h]eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the [5]book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 [6]And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of [i7]odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 And they sung [j]a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast [k]redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and [l]tongue, and people, and nation;

10 And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was [m]ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And [n]every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, [o]Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the [p]throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 6.

The opening of the seals in order.

1 [1]And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold [a]a [2]white horse: and [b]he that sat on him had a bow; and [c]a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

Ch. 5. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 5 the great book sealed with seven seals is brought forth and none found worthy to break the seals save the Lamb, slain from the foundation of the world.

2. The record or title-deed of man's inheritance.

3. Conquered.

4. Not on the throne but in the midst of the entire company.

5. The book of title-deeds mentioned in v. 1.

6. In vs. 8-14 is a series of songs of praise to the Lamb.

7. Incense.

Ch. 6. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 6 the first six of the seven seals are opened by the Lamb. There are hardly any two interpreters or Christian scholars who fully agree on the meaning of the six seals here opened.

2. Symbol of victory.

man, and the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle. (Ez. 1:10.)

h. Above it stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. (Is. 6:2.)

Chapter 5.

a. And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein. (Ez. 2:9.)

b. But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end. (Dan. 12:4.)

c. For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? (Rom. 11:34.)

d. Judah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up; he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up? The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be. (Gen. 49:9, 10.) For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Judah. (Heb. 7:14.)

e. There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots (1). In that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people. (Is. 11:1, 10.)

f. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him. (Heb. 7:25.)

g. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! (Jno. 1:29.)

h. For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven: they are the eyes of the Lord, which run to and fro through the whole earth. (Zech. 4:10.)

i. Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. (Ps. 141:2.) And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. (Rev. 8:3, 4.)

j. He hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God. (Ps. 40:3.) And they sung as it were a song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth. (Rev. 14:3.) Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. (Is. 42:10.)

k. But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. (II Pet. 2:1.) Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. (Acts 20:28.) Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. (Rom. 3:24.) For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's. (I Cor. 6:20.) Ye are bought with a price: be not ye the servants of men. (I Cor. 7:23.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. (Eph. 1:7.) In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. (Col. 1:14.) Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us. (Heb. 9:12.) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. (I Pet. 1:18, 19.) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

l. And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves. (Rev. 11:9.) Then an herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages. (Dan. 3:4.) And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive, and whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down. (Dan. 5:19.)

m. The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the holy place. (Ps. 68:17.) Thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. (Dan. 7:10.) To an innumerable company of angels. (Heb. 12:22.)

n. That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth. (Phil. 2:10.)

o. Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen. (Eph. 3:21.)

p. That all men should honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father which hath sent him. (Jno. 5:23.)

Chapter 6.

a. In the third chariot white horses. (Zech. 6:3.) I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True. (Rev. 19:11.)

b. Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O Most Mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty. And in thy majesty ride prosperously, because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things. Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee. (Ps. 45:3-5.)

c. And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. (Rev. 14:14.)

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was [3]red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a [4]black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and [d]see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a [5]pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, [c]to kill with sword, and [f]with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under [g]the altar the [h]souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the [i]testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, [j]How [6]long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, [k]that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, [l]lo, there was a great earthquake; and the [m]sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

14 And the [n]heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and [o]every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, [p]hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day [q]of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

3. Sig. war.

4. Want, famine, adversity.

5. Death.

6. Not a lit. utterance but the breathing of the soul's desires.

CHAPTER 7.

Ch. 7. A. D. 96.

3 An angel sealeth the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number of them that were sealed.

1 [1]And after these things I saw four angels [a]standing on the four corners of the earth, [b]holding the four winds of the earth, that [c]the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the [d]servants of our God [e]in their foreheads.

4 And [f]I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an [g]hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Īs'ra-el.

5 Of the tribe of Jū'dà were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reu'ben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Găd were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Ā'sẽr were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nĕp'tha-lĭm were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manăs'sēs were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Sĭm'e-on were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Lē'vī were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Īs'sa-char were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zăb'u-lon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Jō'sẽph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-min were sealed twelve thousand.

9 [2]After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, [h]of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, [i]clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Sal-

1. In vs. 1-8 the very winds are stilled while 144,000 of the Old Testament saints are sealed.

2. In vs. 9, 10 the multitude of New Testament saints are declared to be beyond numbering.

d. And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads. (Rev. 9:4.)

e. For thus saith the Lord God; How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast? (Ez. 14:21.)

f. I will also send wild beasts among you. (Lev. 26:22.)

g. The sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God. (Rev. 9:13.)

h. I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast. (Rev. 20:4.)

i. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner. (II Tim. 1:8.)

j. Then the angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years? (Zech. 1:12.)

k. God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect. (Heb. 11:40.)

l. And there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great. (Rev. 16:18.)

m. The sun and the moon shall be darkened. (Joel 3:15.)

n. And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed; but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail. (Heb. 1:12.)

o. I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly. (Jer. 4:24.) And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. (Rev. 16:20.) For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee. (Is. 54:10.) So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. (Ez. 38:20.) The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burned at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein. (Nah. 1:5.)

p. And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth. (Is. 2:19.)

q. The day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come. (Is. 63:4.) Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble. But he shall be saved out of it. (Jer. 30:7.) Alas for the day! for the day of the Lord is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come. (Joel 1:15.) The great day of the Lord is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly. (Zeph. 1:14.)

Chapter 7.

a. The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them. (Ps. 34:7.)

b. I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea. (Dan. 7:2.)

c. And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree. (Rev. 9:4.)

d. And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof. (Ez. 9:4.) Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. (Eph. 4:30.)

e. And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads. (Rev. 22:4.)

f. And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousands: and I heard the number of them. (Rev. 9:16.)

g. And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads. (Rev. 14:1.)

h. And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof; for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. (Rev. 5:9.)

i. He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment. (Rev. 3:5.)

vation [j]to our God [k]which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And [l]all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These [m]are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed [n]their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore [3]are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell [o]among them.

16 They [p]shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; [q]neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne [r]shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God [s]shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER 8.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels had seven trumpets given them. 6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow.

1 And when he had opened the seventh seal, there [1]was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And [a]I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another [b]angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him [c]much incense, that he should offer it with [d]the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And [e]the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, [f]and an earthquake.

3. Because they have their robes washed white in the blood of the Lamb.

Ch. 8. A. D. 96.

1. When the Lamb opened the seventh seal, the entire inhabitants of heaven remained silent for half an hour, in contrast to the great demonstration at the opening of the other seals.

2. Thus the divine mercy was greater than the divine wrath of justice.

3. Symbolical of apostasy.

Ch. 9. A. D. 96.

1. The sounding of the trumpet of woe.

2. The depth of perdition.

3. Thus is indicated that divine limitation is placed over the powers of evil.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, [g]and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the [2]third part of [h]trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

11 And the name of the star is called [3]Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And [j]the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabiters of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER 9.

The sounding of the fifth angel.

1 And the fifth [1]angel sounded, and [a]I saw a star fell from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of [b]the [2]bottomless pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke [d]locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded [3]them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not [e]the seal of God in their foreheads.

---

j. Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy blessing is upon thy people. (Ps. 3:8.) I, even I, am the Lord; and besides me there is no Saviour. (Is. 43:11.)

k. And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, for ever and ever. (Rev. 5:13.)

l. In the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts, full of eyes before and behind. (Rev. 4:6.)

m. Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God. (Acts 14:22.)

n. The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (I Jno. 1:7.)

o. The Lord will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence. And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain. (Is. 4:5, 6.)

p. They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them; for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. (Is. 49:10.)

q. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. (Ps. 121:6.)

r. The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. (Ps. 23:1.) They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. (Ps. 36:8.)

s. He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 25:8.)

Chapter 8.

a. And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these glad tidings. (Lu. 1:19.)

b. And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. (Acts 7:30.)

c. And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savor. (Eph. 5:2.)

d. The four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odors, which are the prayers of saints. (Rev. 5:8.)

e. Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice. (Ps. 141:2.)

f. Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was wroth. (II Sam. 22:8.)

g. I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. (Ez. 38:22.)

h. The day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he shall be brought low: And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan. (Is. 2:12, 13.)

i. Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast. (Ez. 14:19.)

j. For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine. (Is. 13:10.)

Chapter 9.

a. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.)

b. They besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep. (Lu. 8:31.)

c. A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong; there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years of many generations. (Joel 2:2.)

d. Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, tomorrow will I bring the locusts into thy coast. (Ex. 10:4.)

e. And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; [g]and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and [h]their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and [i]their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 [j]And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hē'brew tongue is A-băd'don, but in the Greek tongue hath his name A-pŏll'yon.

12 [5]One [k]woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound [l]in the great river Eū-phrā'tēs.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the army [m]of the horsemen were two [6]hundred thousand thousand: [n]and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: [o]and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in [7]their tails: [p]for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues [q]yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not [r]worship devils, and [s]idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER 10.

1 A strong angel appeareth with a book in his hand. 9 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

1 And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: [a]and a rainbow was upon his head, and [b]his face was as it were the sun, and his feet [c]as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: [d]and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 [1]And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven [e]thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, [f]Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And sware by him that [g]liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer:

7 But [h]in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said

4. About their natural period. from May to September.

5. The locust.

6. 200,000,000.

7. A Satanic resemblance.

the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof. (Ez. 9:4.) Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. (Rev. 7:3.)

f. The beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them. (Rev. 11:7.)

g. Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy captains as the great grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. (Nah. 3:17.)

h. I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things. (Dan. 7:8.)

i. For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek teeth of a great lion. (Joel 1:6.)

j. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. (Eph. 2:2.)

k. And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabiters of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound! (Rev. 8:13.)

l. And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared. (Rev. 16:12.)

m. And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armor, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords. (Ez. 38:4.)

n. And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel. (Rev. 7:4.)

o. Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind: Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions; yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it. (Is. 5:28, 29.)

p. The ancient and honorable, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail. (Is. 9:15.)

q. For I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves, and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the latter days; because ye will do evil in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger through the work of your hands. (Dt. 31:29.) And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands. (Jer. 1:16.) Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. (Mic. 5:13.)

r. And they shall no more offer their sacrifices unto devils, after whom they have gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations. (Lev. 17:7.)

s. Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands. (Ps. 115:4.)

Chapter 10.

a. As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake. (Ez. 1:28.)

b. And was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. (Mat. 17:2.)

c. And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters. (Rev. 1:15.)

d. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Mat. 28:18.)

e. And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake. (Rev. 8:5.)

f. And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision; for it shall be for many days. (Dan. 8:26.)

g. But the Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation. (Jer. 10:10.)

h. And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Rev. 11:15.)

unto me, [i]Take it, and [z]eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER 11.

3 The two witnesses prophesy. 15 The seventh trumpet soundeth.

2. Symbolical of prophecy from within.

1 [1]And there was given me [a]a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, [b]and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; [c]for it is given unto the Gĕn'tīleş: and the holy city shall they [d]tread under foot [c]forty and two months.

3 And I will give power unto my two [f]witnesses, [g]and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the [h]two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, [i]fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: [j]and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These [k]have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and [l]have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they [m]shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless [n]pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of [o]the great city, which spiritually is called Sŏd'om and Ē'gўpt, where [p]also our Lord [2]was crucified.

9 And [q]they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half [r]the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. [s]And they ascended up to heaven [t]in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, [u]and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second woe is past; and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded; and there [v]were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Chrīst; [w]and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, [x]and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament; and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

Ch. 11. A. D. 96.

1. This ch. tells of the announcement of the third woe; also of the seventh trumpet, which ushered in Christ's kingdom with great thanksgiving on the part of the twenty-four elders.

2. Indicating Jerusalem.

i. Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts. (Jer. 15:16.) Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel. So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll. (Ez. 3:1, 2.)

Chapter 11.

a. I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand. (Zech. 2:1.)

b. And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balak, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zippor. (Num. 23:18.)

c. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. (Lu. 21:24.)

d. And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them. (Dan. 8:10.)

e. And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months. (Rev. 13:5.)

f. And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. (Rev. 20:4.)

g. And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. (Rev. 19:10.)

h. But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God: I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever. (Ps. 52:8.) The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken. (Jer. 11:16.)

i. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth. (Hos. 6:5.) And Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty. Again also he sent unto him another captain of fifty with his fifty. And he answered and said unto him, O man of God, thus hath the king said, Come down quickly. And Elijah answered and said unto them, If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And the fire of God came down from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty. (II Ks. 1:10-12.) Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. (Jer. 5:14.)

j. If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men; then the Lord hath not sent me. (Num. 16:29.)

k. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. (Js. 5:16.)

l. And the Lord spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch out thine hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone. (Ex. 7:19.)

m. Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I shall be perfected. (Lu. 13:32.)

n. I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them. (Dan. 7:21.)

o. Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city. (Rev. 14:8.)

p. Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate. (Heb. 13:12.)

q. The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. (Rev. 17:15.)

r. Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you. (Ez. 37:5.)

s. Thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God. (Is. 14:13.)

t. Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows? (Is. 60:8.) A cloud received him out of their sight. (Acts 1:9.)

u. The great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. (Rev. 16:19.)

v. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the Lord in the holy mount at Jerusalem. (Is. 27:13.)

w. And in the days of these kings shall the rod of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. (Dan. 2:44.)

x. I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. (Dan. 7:9, 10.)

CHAPTER 12.

Of the woman clothed with the sun.

1 [1]And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, travailing [a]in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold [b]a great [2]red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and [c]seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And [d]his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, [e]and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man child, [f]who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Mī'chaĕl [g]and his angels fought against the [h]dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And [i]the great dragon was cast out, [j]that old serpent, called the Dĕv'il, and Sā'tan, which deceiveth the whole world: [k]he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Chrīst: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [l]which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And [m]they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; [n]and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because [o]he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the [2]dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 And to the woman were given two [2]wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished [p]for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent [q]cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, [r]and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jē'sus Chrīst.

Ch. 12. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 12 is given a vision of the woman and her child persecuted by the great dragon, which is supposed to typify the persecution of Israel and the elect church by the beast.

2. Fire colored — indicating his slaughterous character and his hellish origin—alluding to the serpent of Eden.

3. An allusion to Israel's sojourn in the wilderness; also the flight into Egypt of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

CHAPTER 13.

A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns, to whom the dragon giveth his power.

1 [1]And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a [a]beast [2]rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And [b]the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and [c]all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped [3]the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him [d]a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty [4]and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in [5]blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, [e]and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him [f]to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and

Ch. 13. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 13 is an account of the vision of the beast with seven heads, typifying the Roman empire.

2. In vs. 1-10 is a description of the beast which has risen from the sea.

3. By retaining and practicing many forms of paganism and idolatry.

4. 1,260 days.

5. That is, to revile, to speak evil of, to vilify, to implicate as impious, to impute evil to the character of God.

Chapter 12.

a. Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man-child. (Is. 66:7.)

b. So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet-colored beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. (Rev. 17:3.)

c. And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth. And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space (9, 10). And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. (Rev. 17:9, 10, 12.)

d. They had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails. (Rev. 9:10.) For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell. (Is. 14:13-15.)

e. It waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them. (Dan. 8:10.)

f. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.)

g. And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book. (Dan. 12:1.)

h. He laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years. (Rev. 20:2.)

i. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. (Lu. 10:18.)

j. Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? (1). And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die. (Gen. 3:1, 4.)

k. The fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. (Rev. 9:1.)

l. Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought? (Job 1:9.)

m. Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us. (Rom. 8:37.)

n. If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. (Lu. 14:26.)

o. And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer. (Rev. 10:6.)

p. They shall be given into his hand until the time and times and the dividing of time. (Dan. 7:25.)

q. So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him. (Is. 59:19.)

r. I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. (Gen. 3:15.)

Chapter 13.

a. Daniel spake, and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea (2). After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diversed from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. (Dan. 7:2, 7.)

b. After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. (Dan. 7:6.)

c. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition. (II Thess. 2:3.)

d. And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done. (Dan. 11:36.)

e. The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us. (Jno. 1:14.) In him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. (Col. 2:9.)

f. I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them. (Dan. 7:21.)

power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, [g]whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb [h]slain from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He [i]that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: [j]he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 [a]And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And [k]he doeth great wonders, [l]so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth, by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, [m]and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, [n]or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER 14.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Sion with his company. 8 The fall of Babylon.

1 [1]And I looked, and, lo, [a]a Lamb stood on the mount Sī'ŏn, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, [b]having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; [c]for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, [d]being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And [e]in their mouth was found no guile: for [f]they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 [2]And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, [g]having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: [h]and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, [3]Băb'ў-lon [i]is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same [j]shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with [k]fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And [l]the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here [m]is the patience of the saints: here are [n]they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jē'sus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead [o]which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, [p]that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud,

6. In vs 11-14 is a description of the two-horned beast, typical of the clergy.

Ch. 14. A. D. 96.

1. In this ch. is an account of the vision of the Lamb of Zion, surrounded by 144,000, singing to him; also the announcement of the fall of Babylon, and the doom of the beast-worshiper.

2. In vs. 6-13 is a description of the three angels hovering in midheaven over Jerusalem.

3. First mentioned; identical with the harlot or apostate church.

g. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire. (Rev. 20:15.)

h. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! (Jno. 1:29.)

i. Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. (Is. 33:1.)

j. Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. (Mat. 26:52.)

k. Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders. (II Thess. 2:9.)

l. Elijah answered, If I be a man of God, then let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee and thy fifty. And there came down fire from heaven, and consumed him and his fifty. (II Ks. 1:10.)

m. I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image. (Rev. 20:4.)

n. I saw them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass. (Rev. 15:2.)

Chapter 14.

a. The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! (Jno. 1:29.)

b. Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. (Rev. 7:3.)

c. I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. (II Cor. 11:2.)

d. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. (Js. 1:18.)

e. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile. (Ps. 32:2.) The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth. (Zeph. 3:13.)

f. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. (Eph. 5:27.)

g. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptĭzing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Mat. 28:19.)

h. Thou, even thou, art Lord alone: thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. (Neh. 9:6.) By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. (Ps. 33:6.)

i. Behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen. (Is. 21:9.) Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed. (Jer. 51:8.)

j. In the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red; it is full of mixture; and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them. (Ps. 75:8.)

k. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone. (Rev. 19:20.) And the devil, that deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever (10). And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. (Rev. 20:10, 14.) And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. (Ez. 38:22.) And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels. (II Thess. 1:7.)

l. It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever. (Is. 34:10.)

m. He is the patience and the faith of the saints. (Rev. 13:10.)

n. The dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ. (Rev. 12:17.)

o. If Christ be not raised, Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished. (I Cor. 15:17, 18.) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first. (I Thess. 4:16.)

p. The righteous shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their and upon the cloud one sat like unto the [q]Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust [r]in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest [s]of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, [t]which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20 And [u]the winepress was trodden without [v]the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER 15.

The seven angels with the seven last plagues.

1 [1]And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, [a]seven angels having the seven last plagues; for in them is filled [2]up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a [b]sea of [c]glass mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3 And they sing [d]the song of Mō'şeş the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, [e]Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4 Who [f]shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for [g]all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy [3]judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and, behold, [h]the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed [i]in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And [j]one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And [k]the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and [4]no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER 16.

The angels pour out their vials full of wrath.

1 [1]And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial [a]upon the [2]earth; and [b]there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; and [c]it became as the blood of a dead man: [d]and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, [e]Thou art righteous, O Lord, [f]which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For [g]they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, [h]true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat, and [3]blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the [i]fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And [3]blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Eū-phrā'tēş; and [j]the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw [k]three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of [l]the [4]dragon, and out of the mouth of the [5]beast, and out of the mouth of the false [6]prophet.

14 For [m]they are the spirits of devils, working [7]miracles, [n]which go forth unto the kings of the earth [o]and of the whole world, to gather them to the [p]battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, [q]lest he [8]walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hē'brew tongue Ar-ma-gĕd'-don.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, [9]It is done.

18 And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such [r]as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And [s]the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Băb'y-lon [t]came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men [10]blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAPTER 17.

The woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand, sitteth upon the beast.

1 [1]And there came [a]one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of [b]the great [2]whore that [c]sitteth upon many waters:

2 With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and [d]the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit into [e]the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a [f]scarlet coloured beast, full of [g]names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and [h]decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, [i]MYSTERY, BĂB'Y-LON [j]THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jē'sus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 [3]And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are [4]fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the [k]ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have [l]one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 [m]These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: [n]for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, [o]The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, [p]are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, [q]these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate [r]and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

17 [s]For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their king-

CHAPTER 18.

2 Babylon is fallen. 20 The saints rejoice for the judgments of God upon her.

1 [1]And after these [2]things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; [a]and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, [b]Bäb'ў-lon the great is fallen, is fallen, and [c]is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and [d]a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, [e]Come out of her, my people, that ye be not [3]partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 For [f]her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 [g]Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double.

7 [h]How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire: [i]for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And [j]the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived [4]deliciously with her, shall [k]bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, [l]Alas, alas that great city Bäb'ў-lon, that mighty city! for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And [m]the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and [n]souls of men.

14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17 For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And [o]every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

18 And [p]cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city!

19 And [q]they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 Rejoice [r]over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for [s]God hath [5]avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, [t]Thus with violence shall that great city Bäb'ў-lon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And [u]the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

Ch. 18. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 18 is announced the fall of Babylon, and God's people are called out of her. The merchants and kings of the earth, who traffic on her riches, mourn at the loss, while the faithful of God rejoice at her fall.

2. After the return from the wilderness, to see the harlot.

3. Quoted from Jer. 51:45.

4. Luxuriously, indulgently.

5. Reaped the reward of her work.

t. In the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets. (Rev. 10:7.)

Chapter 18.

a. And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory. (Ez. 43:2.)

b. Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed. (Jer. 51:8.)

c. Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation. (Jer. 50:39.)

d. I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water; and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the Lord of hosts. (Is. 14:23.)

e. And the men said unto Lot, Hast thou here any besides? son-in-law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, bring them out of this place. (Gen. 19:12.) Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord. (Is. 52:11.) Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the Lord's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence. (Jer. 51:6.) Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. (II Cor. 6:17.)

f. Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me. (Jon. 1:2.)

g. O daughter of Babylon, who art to be destroyed; happy shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us. (Ps. 137:8.)

h. Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God. (Ez. 28.2)

i. Their Redeemer is strong; The Lord of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. (Jer. 50:34.)

j. Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee. (Ez. 26:16.)

k. At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations. (Jer. 50:46.)

l. And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground. (Is. 21:9.)

m. Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin. (Ez. 27:27.)

n. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy market. (Ez. 27:13.)

o. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for your strength is laid waste. (Is. 23:14.)

p. And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes. (Ez. 27:30.)

q. And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled dust upon their heads toward heaven. (Job 2:12.)

r. Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof. Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein; then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice Before the Lord; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth. (Ps. 96:11-13.)

s. And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? (Lu. 18:7.)

t. And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah. (Jer. 51:64.)

u. The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the heart ceaseth. (Is. 24:8.)

GOLDEN GATE, JERUSALEM.

24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that [v]were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER 19.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints. 7 The marriage of the Lamb. 10 The angel will not be worshipped.

1 [1]And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Ăl-le-lū'ià; [a]Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath [2]avenged [b]the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Ăl-le-lū'ià. And [c]her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And [d]the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, [e]Amen; Ăl-le-lū'ià.

5 And the voice came out of the [3]throne, saying, [f]Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And [g]I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Ăl-le-lū'ià: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us [h]be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for [i]the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 And [j]to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for [k]the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he [4]saith unto me, Write, Blessed [l]are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I [m]fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren [n]that have the testimony of Jē'şus: worship God: for the testimony of Jē'şus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 [5]And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was [o]called [6]Faithful and True, and in [p]righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a [q]name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 And [r]he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called [s]The [7]Word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, [t]clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and [u]he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, [v]KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER 20.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years. 6 The first resurrection. 12 The last and general resurrection.

1 [1]And I saw an angel [2]come down from heaven, [a]having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on [b]the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Dĕv'il, and Sā'tan, and bound [3]him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and

Ch. 19. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 19 is an account of the marriage of the Lamb, after which the beast and false prophets are cast into the lake of fire, and kings and their followers slain by the sword out of Christ's mouth.

2. That is, avenge the blood of his servants shed by her hand.

3. The voice of the throne.

4. One of the angels.

5. In vs. 12-21 is announced the final overthrow of the armies of the wicked.

6. That is, a faithful impersonation of the living truth.

7. The incarnate, the word was made flesh and dwelt among men.

Ch. 20. A. D. 96.

1. In ch. 20 the vision is of Satan bound for 1,000 years. The fruit of the first resurrection reigned with Christ during that period, after which Satan was again loosed for a little while, but was soon bound again (vs. 14, 15) and cast into the lake of fire, when occurred the general resurrection and last judgment.

2. In vs. 1-6 is the announcement of the millennium.

3. Not only in influence, but was personally bound.

v. As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth. (Jer. 51:49.)

Chapter 19.

a. And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. (Rev. 7:10.)

b. Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people; for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people. (Dt. 32:43.)

c. It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever. (Is. 34:10.)

d. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold. (Rev. 4:4.)

e. Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord. And the people did according to this promise. (Neh. 5:13.)

f. Behold, bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, which by night stand in the house of the Lord. (Ps. 134:1.)

g. And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings. (Ez. 1:24.)

h. Saying, O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel. (Is. 44:23.)

i. For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. (II Cor. 11:2.)

j. The king's daughter is all glorious within; her clothing is of wrought gold. (Ps. 45:13.) I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk. (Ez. 16:10.)

k. Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy. (Ps. 132:9.)

l. And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. (Lu. 14:15.)

m. And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which showed me these things. (Rev. 22:8.)

n. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself; he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. (I Jno. 5:10.)

o. And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God. (Rev. 3:14.)

p. But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. (Is. 11:4.)

q. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. (Is. 9:6.)

r. Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat? I have trodden the wine-press alone; and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment. (Is. 63:2, 3.)

s. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. (Jno. 1:1.)

t. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. (Mat. 28:3.)

u. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. (Ps. 2:9.)

v. Yea, all kings shall fall down before him; all nations shall serve him. (Ps. 72:11.) Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. (I Tim. 6:15.)

Chapter 20.

a. I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore. Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. (Rev. 1:18.)

b. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day. (Jude 6.)

shut him up, and [c]set a seal upon him, that [d]he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I [e]saw [4]thrones, and they sat upon them, and [f]judgment was given unto them: and I saw [g]the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jē'şus, and for the word of God, and [h]which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and [i]reigned with Chrīst a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This [j]is the first [5]resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such [k]the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of [l]God and of Chrīst, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 [7]And when the thousand [6]years are expired, Sā'tan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall [m]go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, [n]Gŏg and Mā'gŏg, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And [o]they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 [8]And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; [p]and there was found no place for them.

12 And [q]I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another [r]book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And [s]death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

4. A new and better condition to be established.

5. The first resurrection is of the soul.

6. An expression of time.

7. In vs. 7-10 the final rebellion of Satan is brought to a close by his destruction.

8. In vs. 11-15 is an announcement of the final reward, the resurrection, and the vanishing earth.

CHAPTER 21.

1 A new heaven and a new earth. 10 The heavenly Jerusalem, with a full description thereof. 23 The glory of God is her light.

Ch. 21. A. D. 96.

1 [1]And [a]I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more [b]sea.

2 And I Jŏhn saw [c]the holy city, new Je-rų'sa-lĕm, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared [d]as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, [e]the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And [f]God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and [g]there shall be no more death, [h]neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 [2]And [i]he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, [j]I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, It is done. I am Āl'phā and Ō'me-gā, the beginning and the end. [k]I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He [l]that overcometh shall inherit all things; and [m]I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

1. In ch. 21 is an announcement of the new heaven and the new earth and a vision of the new Jerusalem. Chs. 21 and 22 are descriptive of the consummated kingdom of God and the saints on the new earth.

2. In vs. 5-8 is an announcement of the blessedness of the new conditions.

c. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel. (Dan. 6:17.)

d. For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty. (Rev. 16:14.)

e. And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. (Mat. 19:28.)

f. Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? (I Cor. 6:2.)

g. And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held. (Rev. 6:9.)

h. And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. (Rev. 13:12.)

i. If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.)

j. And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just. (Lu. 14:14.) If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead. (Phil. 3:11.) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first. (I Thess. 4:16.)

k. But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Rev. 21:8.)

l. But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves. (Is. 61:6.)

m. And the Lord said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it. (Job 1:7.)

n. Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him. (Ez. 38:2.)

o. And he shall pass through Judah; he shall overflow and go over; he shall reach even to the neck: and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel. (Is. 8:8.)

p. Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. (Dan. 2:35.)

q. For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son. (Jno. 5:22.)

r. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. (Dan. 7:10.)

s. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. (I Cor. 15:26.)

Chapter 21.

a. For, behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. (Is. 65:17.) Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. (II Pet. 3:13.)

b. But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. (Is. 57:20.)

c. Awake! awake! put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean. (Is. 52:1.) For thy Maker is thine husband; The Lord of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel; The God of the whole earth shall he be called. (Is. 54:5.)

d. I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. (Is. 61:10.)

e. What! know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh. (I Cor. 6:16.)

f. He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it. (Is. 25:8.)

g. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death (26). So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. (I Cor. 15:26, 54.)

h. And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. (Is. 35:10.)

i. And immediately I was in the Spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. (Rev. 4:2.)

j. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (II Cor. 5:17.)

k. Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. (Is. 12:3.) In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. (Jno. 7:37.)

l. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together (17). He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things? (Rom. 8:17, 32.)

m. And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. (Zech. 8:8.)

EASTER MORNING.

8 But [n]the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 [3]And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the [4]Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Je-ru'sa-lĕm, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the [o]glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Is'ra-el:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and [p]in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me [q]had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth [5]foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand [6]furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 [r]And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolyte; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And [s]I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 And the [t]city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And [u]the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [v]there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And [w]there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book [x]of life.

3. In vs. 9 27 is a description of the capital of the heavenly earth or of the new world the new Jerusalem.

4. The church.

5. With equal faces.

6. 375 miles square.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life. 5 The light of the city of God is himself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped. 18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

Ch. 22. A. D. 96.

1 [1]And he shewed me a [a]pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the [2]throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the [b]tree of life, which bare twelve manner [3]of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And [c]there shall be no more curse: but the [d]throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:

4 And [e]they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for [f]the Lord God giveth them light: and they [g]shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord [h]God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

1. In ch. 22 are described the river and tree of life and the many blessings in store for the redeemed.

2. The royal seat of God the Father, the Eternal King.

3. Twelve crops annually.

n. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind. (I Cor. 6:9.)

o. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled. (Rev. 15:8.) Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. (Is. 60:1.) And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory. (Ez. 43:2.)

p. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Mat. 16:18.) And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. (Eph. 2:20.)

q. And he brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. (Ez. 40:3.) I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand. (Zech. 2:1.)

r. O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted! behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colors, and lay thy foundations with sapphires. (Is. 54:11.)

s. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. (Jno. 4:23.)

t. The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. (Is. 60:19.)

u. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. (Is. 60:3.)

v. Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. (Is. 60:20.)

w. And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. (Is. 35:8.)

x. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. (Lu. 10:20.) He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. (Rev. 3:5.)

Chapter 22.

a. There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High. (Ps. 46:4.) And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be. (Zech. 14:8.)

b. And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (Gen. 2:9.) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God. (Rev. 2:7.)

c. And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction; but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited. (Zech. 14:11.)

d. It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The Lord is there. (Ez. 48:35.)

e. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. (Mat. 5:8.) Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. (I Jno. 3:2.)

f. For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light. (Ps. 36:9.) For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly. (Ps. 84:11.)

g. And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. (Dan. 7:27.) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us. (II Tim. 2:12.)

h. God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets. (Heb. 1:1.)

8 And I Jŏhn saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And [i]he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He [j]that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward [k]is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 I am [l]Ăl'phà and Ō'me-gà, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed [m]are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without are [n]dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

4. An unrepentant heart with its doom.

5. As the new dispensation, the dispensation of grace through Christ our Lord, began with a blessing, so it closes with a benediction.

16 [o]I Jē'şus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the [p]root and the offspring of Dā'vid, and [q]the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. [r]And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [s]If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the [t]plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God [t]shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely [u]I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jē'şus.

21 The [5]grace of our Lord Jē'şus Chrīst be with you all. Amen.

i. But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. (Dan. 12:4.)

j. Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein. (Hos. 14:9.) But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived. (II Tim. 3:13.)

k. Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him. (Is. 40:10.)

l. Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his Redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God. (Is. 44:6.)

m. Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. (Dan. 12:12.)

n. But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Rev. 21:8.) Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind. (I Cor. 6:9.) Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness. (Gal. 5:19.) But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. (Mat. 8:12.)

o. Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him. (I Pet. 3:22.)

p. And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots. (Is. 11:1.) Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. (Jer. 23:5.)

q. I shall see him, but not now; I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth. (Num. 24:17.)

r. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. (Is. 55:1.)

s. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it. (Dt. 12:32.)

t. And the Lord said unto Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book. (Ex. 32:33.)

u. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many: and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. (Heb. 9:28.)
